INTRODUCTION.

THE American Manuscripts preserved at the Royal Institution, London, sometimes spoken of as the Carleton or Dorchester Papers, are, briefly, the Head Quarters Papers of the successive British commanders in chief in the American War of Independence and are thus described on a flyleaf of the first volume:—

“AMERICAN OFFICIAL DOCUMENTS”

“by JOHN SYMMONS, Esq., of Paddington House, “MDCCCIV.”

“These papers belong’d to Mr. M. Morgann, Secretary “to Sir Guy Carleton (since Lord Dorchester), during “the last years of the American War, and consist of “many curious and unique documents relative to the “transactions of those times. By him they were “given in 1798 to John Symmons and by Mr.
“Symmons to the Royal Institution, 1804.

“Maurice Morgann died March 28, 1802, aged 76.

“For an eloquent memorial of him see Dr. Chas.
“Sir Eg. Brydges’s Censura Literaria, Vol. 4, p. 178.

“Wm. H[arris] Aug. 27, 1811.”

In the library of Harvard are a few transcripts of these papers made by Mr. Jared Sparks. They were also consulted by the historian George Bancroft. The attention of the late Mr. B. F. Stevens was early called to these papers in the course of his researches for his comprehensive catalogue of manuscripts relating to the American Revolution, and he immediately set to work to examine, catalogue, and collate them with his other historical material.

The complete collection comprises 58 bound volumes and 4 cases or rolls—62 in all. They are bound with a certain regard to subjects. The dates thus overlap, and the papers themselves frequently appear in duplicate. On the decision therefore to include these MSS. in this series of Reports, and arrangements having been made with Mr. Stevens to prepare the calendar, it was thought preferable to present the same in chronological order by the aid of his slip index. An idea of the collection in its original form, however, may be gathered from the brief title to each volume as here quoted:—

- Vol. 1. Correspondence between Sir Wm. Howe, Lord Barrington, Sir Geo. Osborne and Capt. Mackenzie, American War, 1775 to 1777.
- Vol. 2. Correspondence between Sir Wm. Howe and the Treasury Office, 1775 to 1777.

missions to Sir Guy Carleton, &c., 1777 and 1782.
- (Case) 62. Letters Patent to Sir Guy Carleton and Rear-Adml.
Digby as Commissioners, 21 March 1782.

It will be seen from the foregoing list that the larger proportion of these manuscripts concerns the later period of the war, more than one half in reality being dated in the years 1782 and 1783. This is probably accounted for by the large number of accounts, returns, lists, pay-rolls, pay-warrants and similar papers, which in that period of the suspension of hostilities pending negotiations for peace might naturally accumulate in the hands of the last commander—Sir Guy Carleton. The earlier papers, during the command of Sir William Howe, are largely copies or duplicate signed letters, which, it is supposed, on his leaving America in May, 1778, he transferred to his successor, Sir Henry Clinton. With Sir Henry Clinton's appointment, Philadelphia was abandoned and the army established at New York, which, from that date (June, 1778), remained its Head Quarters till the last of the British troops sailed thence in December, 1783.

In attempting a review of the whole of the collection of which the present volume forms a part, attention may be called first to the fact that while the official correspondence of the Commander-in-Chief with the Secretary of State and with the War Office is also in the Public Record Office, his instructions to his subordinate officers and their letters to him are not generally found elsewhere than in this collection, and afford many valuable and interesting details of the war. As the Southern Colonies remained longest in the British interest, and were the great hope of the Government, the correspondence is largest with the commanding officers of the different posts there. Colonel or Brigadier-General Augustine Prevost being commander of the forces in Florida dates his correspondence first of all from Saint Augustine; afterwards, being ordered to co-operate with Lieut.-Col. Archibald Campbell and Captain Hyde Parker in the military and naval expedition to capture Savannah, Georgia, in the winter of 1778-9, he successfully effected the junction and established himself in that garrison, maintaining it against the combined attack of the Americans under Gen. Lincoln and the French under Comte D'Estaing in the autumn of the same year. Georgia was reckoned amongst the most loyal of the colonies, and was the only one in which the royal civil government was actually re-established, the Governor (Sir James Wright) and the crown officers being sent over from England to resume their functions. The letters of both Prevost and Wright are continual requests for military reinforcements. In 1781, the Governor writes:—"500 troops might save the Province."—"The Province is ruined and lost for want of a little assistance."—"There is great loyalty. Many have come into Savannah and taken arms; many more are hiding in the swamps to avoid the enemy, and had they had the protection which it would have been the best policy to have given them, the province would soon have been able to defend itself." Again, in July, 1782, on receiving orders that Savannah was to be evacuated, he fears the Commander-in-Chief is not well acquainted with the situation of affairs in Georgia to order such a step to be taken—"4 or 500 men could have effectually held this important province." But, as Sir Guy Carleton pointed out, "the evacuation was not a matter of choice but of desperate necessity in consequence of an unsuccessful war."

The third expedition to the southward, commanded by Sir Henry Clinton in person and by Admiral Arbuthnot, which sailed from New York for Charlestown, South Carolina, in December, 1779, and from which Sir Henry returned in June, 1780, leaving Earl Cornwallis in command, opens up correspondence with that General and with Maj.-Gen. Alexander Leslie, Lord Rawdon, Lt.-Col. Nisbet Balfour, Brig.-Generals McArthur and O'Hara, Lt.-Col. Alured Clarke, and other officers. The letters from or to Earl Cornwallis are largely repeated in the Public Record Office or are printed in the two volumes which Mr. Stevens edited and published some years ago entitled "The Clinton-Cornwallis Controversy, or, The Campaign in Virginia, 1780-1781." After the surrender of York Town, General Leslie was appointed, in October, 1781, to take command of "all hitherto held by Earl Cornwallis," and the letters written by him from Charlestown are especially interesting. Preparations had been made for restoring the civil government also in South Carolina and several of the civil servants had been sent from England, but the distracted state of the country necessitated military authority and Leslie could only suggest their employment on the Board of Police. Instructions were later received by Sir Henry Clinton from the Treasury to place them, for allowances, on the military chest. As regards the sentiments of this province, Lt.-Col. Balfour, then commandant at Charlestown, reports in July, 1781:—"The revolt is universal—the minds of the people bent on their former principles, and the efforts of friends feeble and pusillanimous—the country must be ruined without a single advantage hereafter to be reaped from the boasted loyalty and extensive possessions enjoyed in South Carolina."

The slowness with which news travelled in these days is forcibly brought out in the fact that arrangements were being made throughout the month of April, 1782, to detach troops from New York and Charlestown under General O'Hara for the relief of Jamaica, in ignorance of Rodney's great victory over the French on the 12th of April, and it was not till the 3rd of May that Leslie at Charlestown appears to have heard of the event.

There are many letters and papers referring to the evacuation of Charlestown, where Leslie remained till towards the end of 1782, the post being finally occupied by the Americans on the 17th December.

The correspondence with West Florida is maintained with Brig.-Gen. John Campbell who commanded there, and with the Governor, Peter Chester, till, in May, 1781, Pensacola was obliged to surrender to the Spanish General, Don Bernardo de Galvez. General Campbell was allowed to sail to New York and there are numerous papers relative to the adjustment of accounts and payment of the Waldeck and Provincial Troops which had served with him as well as to a dispute with Galvez over the detention of prisoners. There is a curious Spanish document from Don Bernardo conferring upon an Indian Chief a commission and decoration with the small medal of merit. It is written on parchment with a painted red and yellow border and a brilliantly coloured coat of arms, two sides, wherein may be easily recognized the castle and lion of Spain.

Governor Patrick Tonyn, of East Florida, appears indefatigable in his efforts to save his province for the King; and in 1778 and 1779 particularly, to defend St. Augustine from threatened attacks of the Americans and Indians, his corps of Rangers being a continual bone of contention with the military authority—Brigadier Prevost (see pp. 193, 197-199, 216, etc.). In later years his labours to make the province an asylum for the homeless or propertyless loyalists of North and South Carolina and Georgia are well shown in this collection. Great numbers did actually remove thither and by the exertions of the Governor and of Brigadier McArthur, in command of the troops, were provided with lands, provisions, tools, etc., only to find by the articles of the treaty of peace that the province was eventually to be ceded to the King of Spain.

To the north of New York the main post was of course Halifax, the only one, indeed, after Boston and Rhode Island were abandoned, and accordingly the letters from the successive commanding officers—Maj.-Gen. Eyre Massey, Brig.-Gen. Francis Maclean, Lt.-Col. James Bruce, Lt.-Col. John Campbell, Maj.-Gen. James Paterson and Brig.-Gen. Fox, as well as from Lt.-Gov. Hughes and Governor Parr are frequent and full of detail. The military affairs of the island, the fortifications of Halifax, and the fact of its being a base of supplies, are all dealt with in this correspondence, until with the advent of Governor Parr and the close of the war, the removal to Nova Scotia and the settlement there of the loyalists and the disbanded Provincial, German, or other troops became the engrossing topic.

An interesting side-study is that of Penobscot. General Sir Henry Clinton being ordered in September, 1778 (see p. 284), by the Home Government to take post on that river with the idea of erecting a province to which the loyal adherents of the crown might ultimately repair, instructed Gen. Maclean at Halifax, in the following year, to organize an expedition, which, with a naval detachment from New York, might carry the plan into effect. Maclean himself commanded the expedition, assisted by Capt. Andrew Barkley of H.M.S. Blonde, and the timely appearance of Sir George Collier on the scene resulted in the destruction of the American naval forces. An attack being apprehended on Nova Scotia, Maclean returned thither, leaving Lt.-Col. John Campbell of the 74th to occupy the post at Penobscot. He remained there till June, 1781, when, on the death of Maclean, he took the command at Halifax, from which place, on Maj.-Gen. Paterson's arrival in August, 1782, he was directed to return to Penobscot, and to strengthen and fortify it with a "view to an establishment of greater consequence." In October, 1782, he is stated to have under him 1,000 men, but in June, 1783, he was allowed, according to his request, to return to England, the German troops were withdrawn, assistance was provided for those loyalists who wished to remove to Nova Scotia, and by October the last of the British troops and stores were withdrawn and the post. "with what American artillery should be found therein," was delivered over to the American authorities.

Several papers relate to the Island of St. John (afterwards Prince Edward Island) even though, as is stated, Sir Henry did not consider it within his command. It is closely connected with Nova Scotia, though, again, Brig. MacLean says that he had no instructions whatever relative to it as connected with his command. The letters are from Phillips Callbeck, President of the Council and commander of the island, Timothy Hierlihy, major commandant of the Independent Companies, Capt. Spry of the Engineers, Lt.-Gov. Desbrisay, and, after June, 1780, from the Governor, Walter Patterson.

The colliery on Cape Breton Island is frequently mentioned in connexion with the military stores at Halifax and New York.

A few papers relate to Bermuda and the Bahamas,

It was to be expected that the case of the loyal adherents to the Crown would be largely represented in these papers. While most of the Crown Officers of the various provinces and many of the wealthier loyalists repaired to England and taxed the time and resources of the Treasury, many more remained behind. The embodying of the loyalists into the provincial corps developed with the war until, at its close, leaving out of the question those which came under the administration of General Haldimand in Canada, there were more than twenty regiments under the commander at New York. These included the three battalions of Delancey's Brigade, the New York Volunteers commanded by Lt.-Col. George Turnbull, the three battalions of the New Jersey Volunteers under Cortland Skinner, the Pennsylvania Loyalists under William Allen, Maryland Loyalists under James Chalmers, King's American Regiment under Edmund Fanning, Beverley Robinson's Loyal American Regiment, Tarleton's British Legion, Simcoe's Queen's Rangers, and the corps of Guides and Pioneers, also under Beverley Robinson. The bi-monthly pay rolls of these for 1782 and 1783 are in many cases complete. They give the names of the officers, but not of the men. Quarterly lists of the widows of those officers who fell in the service, with the amounts paid to each, appear under the control of Beverley Robinson of New York and of Robert Alexander of Maryland. There are also numerous accounts and papers of Alexander Innes, Inspector-General of the Provincial Forces. The disbanding of the regiments and settlement in Nova Scotia have been already referred to. Some of the officers were transferred to the regular army, while three of the corps—Fanning's King's American Regiment, Tarleton's Cavalry, and Simcoe's Queen's Rangers were placed upon the British establishment.

But besides the numerous loyalists in military service or who obtained such posts as were available in the city of New York, a large and increasing number drifted within the lines, as the confiscation acts of the various States or local animosity drove them from farms and townships, who could only be described as "distressed refugees." The problem of dealing with these persons, who became thus dependent on the army for protection, housing, rations, and fuel, was met by establishing an office under the authority of Colonel Roger Morris with the title of occupants, even to the number of rooms or of acres appointed. As the removals of the loyalists to Canada, Nova Scotia, or the Bahamas began to take place, the sums paid for support naturally decreased and there are several lists of names of the persons so removing. William Franklin, the royal governor of New Jersey, son of Dr. Franklin, was very active in all these matters, and organized and presided over a board called the "Board of Associated Loyalists."

“Inspector of the Claims of Refugees” at a salary of 450*l.* sterling or 25*s.* a day New York currency, to whom all applications were referred. Col. Morris had been a member of the Council of the Colony of New York, and, in the previous French war, one of the aids of General Braddock. His wife, Mary, daughter of Frederick Phillipse, was one of the few women in the war attainted of treason, in order to include her property in the Confiscation Act. The reversionary interest of the estate, however, being accounted recoverable, it was, according to Lorenzo Sabine, disposed of in 1809 by her son to John Jacob Astor of New York. Refugee applicants were required to state their losses, services, and needs, in writing, to the Commander-in-Chief or other officer, which in the form of petitions or memorials were then certified or recommended by a loyalist of good standing. If approved of, they were either supplied by the Commander-in-Chief’s order with a sum of money and so disposed of, or were placed on the quarterly list for rations or fuel or a stated allowance. By a statement signed by Col. Morris on the 31st of January, 1783, of the warrants granted to him from 8 July to 23 December of the previous year, more than 12,000*l.* sterling was thus appropriated. After Sir Guy Carleton’s arrival Col. Morris appears to be replaced by a Board consisting of Beverley Robinson of New York, Samuel Shoemaker of Pennsylvania, and Robert Alexander of Maryland, appointed “to consider the circumstances and claims” of these loyalists. The list of persons recommended by them for support for the first quarter in 1783, January to March, called for the sum of £9,500 New York Currency, or more than £5,000 sterling, for the second quarter £7,374 New York currency, and for the third quarter £5,471. These amounts do not appear to include the allowances to more prominent loyalists nor salaries or sums paid for services rendered, all of which were settled by special warrants from the commander in chief direct, and which amounted to some thousands of pounds more. The houses vacated by the Americans in 1776 were classed as derelict property and, for the city proper, were in the care of the vestry, Philip J. Livingston being appointed superintendent of such property on Long Island. These were apportioned to the King’s service or to the housing of the various loyalists and refugees. Some of the returns are explicit as to the names of the original proprietors and to the then present

In the year 1781 an enquiry was instituted into the expenditure of the different departments of the army, resulting in much correspondence, the deliberations of a board of officers, and a number of muster rolls showing the numbers of drivers, waggons, carts, horses, clerks, storekeepers, artificers, and labourers employed under the Quarter Master General, Commissary General, Barrack Master General, Waggon Master General, and in the Engineers' and Forage Departments.

A letter from the Treasury, 6 September, 1782, directs a pension for Maurice Morgann, Sir Guy Carleton's secretary, in whose possession these papers were left, "of 250*l.* out of the civil list revenues, a further sum of 250*l.* out of the extraordinaries of the army to continue as long as he should be employed in his present service, and a sum of 250*l.* to reimburse him the expenses of his equipment."

As another person intimately connected with the Royal Institution, the name of Benjamin Thompson, Count Rumford, should not be omitted. He appears in these papers twice in 1781, in his capacity of Under Secretary of State, writing by direction of Lord George Germain, and, later, in 1782 and 1783, as commanding the regiment of King's American Dragoons and in forming plans for some light infantry companies to be attached thereto, as well as for a corps of volunteers to be raised out of the Provincial Forces to serve in the West Indies. On his return to England in 1783 he appears to have taken pains to represent to the Government the case of the provincial officers, as he recounts his proceedings to Sir Guy Carleton on 6 July, 1783. A paper entitled: "Precis of all the correspondence between the Secretary of State and the Commander-in-Chief relative to the Provincial Forces, with other authentic information upon that subject"—containing connecting remarks and marginal notes and endorsed "B.T., 23 June, 1783," is also attributed to him, Amongst other papers which might be particularly noticed are the Orderly Book of Sir William Howe at Boston and Halifax, from 17 June, 1775, to 26 May, 1776 (see page 41 of this report); an Army List of the British, Foreign, and Provincial troops serving under Clinton, printed at New York by Macdonald and Cameron in 1779; a set of coroner's inquests in that city from April to November, 1783; the almost daily reports of the numbers of the vessels entered and cleared from Nov., 1782, to Nov., 1783, and some returns of the Provost; some lists of American prisoners; a book of negroes embarked at New York from April to Nov., 1783, having been previously inspected and registered; correspondence, accounts and pay warrants for the German troops of Anhalt, Anspach, Brunswick, Hesse Hanau, Hesse-Cassel and Waldeck, as well as bi-monthly accounts for many of the British regiments. A personal touch is given by some few tradesmen's accounts to Sir Guy Carleton, for groceries, tailoring, domestic servants' wages, and clothing for an orphan or two. Tea varies from 10s. to 24s. a pound, powder sugar 1s. 8d., macaroni 5s. 6d., sago 6s., truffles 1l. 16s. 0d. a pound, white pepper 8s., ham and Gloucester cheese both 3s. a pound; a bottle of mushrooms 12s., of capers 10s., of mustard 6s. Lemons are 8s. a dozen, a ball of twine usually 2s. and a large bottle of rose water 14s. His barber's bill for two months, November 24, 1782, to January 26, 1783, appears at 2l. 8s. 6d.—powder being 3s. a pound, and a pot of pomatum 6s., a toothbrush 2s. 6d. A hair-ribbon appears elsewhere as 6s., thread stockings at 6s. 9d. and a yard of white satin 1l. For some festivity, apparently, there is a bill for the loan of 142 dozen pieces of china, glass and earthenware at 1s. per dozen, and for the use of a "glass upurn" 18s. 8d. is charged. Damaged in use are 38 items.

Having thus indicated some of the features of the whole of the collection, a few words remain to be said on the present volume.

By the chronological arrangement already mentioned this comprises the papers to the end of July, 1779.

Where it has been ascertained that any particular paper is also in the Public Record Office a reference to the series, volume and page is given. Similarly, reference is made to the Haldimand Collection in the British Museum.

The letters from the Treasury give some idea of the great pressure on that Board in furnishing the stores, provisions, forage, fuel, and money required by the forces (specie being sent out to keep down the exchange) hampered as their lordships were by lack of conveyance—"the country drained of ships for transport purposes" (pp. 37 and 46)—by combinations of workmen, carelessness of paymasters, confusion of accounts and by fraudulent contractors in supplying bad bread or flour, as well as by the dangers and uncertainties of the sea voyage. It may be interesting to note here that John Robinson, the secretary to the Board during Lord North's administration, was, by the marriage of his daughter, connected with the Marquis of Abergavenny, whose collection of manuscripts, calendared by this Commission in 1887, 10th Report, Appendix VI., comprises a number of letters from and to Mr. Robinson, largely political, but many having reference to American affairs.

Numerous papers in this volume relate to the captivity of the Troops of Convention, as the army of General Burgoyne after its surrender at Saratoga on 17 October, 1777, was called. The two letters of Burgoyne to Howe upon his capitulation are given here in full (pp. 140, 143). The friction between the subsequent commanding officer—Major-Gen. Phillips—and the United States authorities and Major-Gen. Heath, while at Cambridge in 1778, is well told from the British point of view in the various letters. On page 298 is Sir Henry Clinton's formal requisition to Gen. Washington on behalf of the troops. Their chagrin, disappointment, and distress for want of money and necessaries, when, instead of the exchange so fully expected, they received from Congress orders to march to Virginia, are shown in the months of October, November and December, 1778, beginning on page 319.

Sir William Howe's Orderly Book, the correspondence of Brigadier Prevost at St. Augustine and Savannah, of Governor Tonyn, of General John Campbell at Pensacola, the papers relating to Halifax, the expedition to Penobscot, and, generally, the memorials and petitions of loyalist refugees, have already been referred to. The War Office correspondence is departmental, relating chiefly to commissions, promotions, and leaves of absence for the officers of the army, and to the dispatch or recall of regiments. That with the Secretary of State—Lord

George Germain—being duplicated in the Public Record Office is here only briefly noted. In dealing with the correspondence with General Washington reference has been made to the volume and page of Sparks's Writings of Washington, if the particular letter is there found printed.

The preparation of this calendar was well advanced in the lifetime of the late Mr. B. F. Stevens. This volume has been seen through the press by his successor, Mr. H. J. Brown.

LORD WESTMEATH to [].

1771, July 20. Merion Square.—“Dear Sir, I at last received by the last packets the inclosed letter which tho' not as satisfactory as I should have wished I think you do well to send to your Brother that he may see I have done everything in my power, and at the same time the steps he is to take to obtain the place he wishes at the Council Board. Lord Hillsborough as you will see by his letter, to whom I had wrote long ago (since it was immediately after you mentioned the affair to me) committed a mistake in directing his answer intended for me, to some other person; as I saw his mistake by a former letter which I had from him I wrote to him a second time. I am endeed very sorry not to have been more successfull; for it would make me very happy to have it in my power to serve your Brother and to convince you of the true regard with which I am, dear Sir, your most obedient humble servant, Westmeath.”

P.S.—I hope to have soon the pleasure of hearing from you and that you will be able to send me at least a part of the arrears due by the People of Kittobar.

GOV. JOSIAH MARTIN to ALEXANDER McLEOD.

1775, July 4. Fort Johnston.—Acknowledges letter received yesterday by Mr. McDonald of Kingborough.

“It is impossible for me to express my respect for the gentlemen who have cultivated the good dispositions that are manifested by the Highlanders throughout this province in this time of unnatural revolt, and I can only promise that I shall faithfully represent their merits to the King; assuring myself, that when time and occasion shall call for their aid, they will furnish me with abundant testimonials still more powerful to do them honour before his Majesty. I perfectly agree in your sentiments of the propriety of the good and faithful Highlanders forbearing any open declarations, until there is a necessity to call them into action, and they are amply provided to take the field with dignity and effect; the necessaries for which I have not omitted to apply for, nor to represent the expediency of maintaining a correspondence with the chiefs to the eastward.

“I am much obliged to you, sir, for your hint with respect to Mr. F. Campbell, to whom I have just now written a letter, that I hope may produce good effect.

“The part you have taken, sir, upon the present occasion, does you the highest honour, and cannot fail to recommend you in the most effectual manner to his Majesty's favour; you may rely upon my faithful representations of it, and of my best disposition to render you every service in my power. I concur in your opinion of your services being more useful here than anywhere else, and I have concerted a plan with Mr. McDonald (for which I beg leave to refer you to him) of making use of your influence here, as well for your own advantage as that of our royal master; and which I shall be happy to find meets with your approbation. Do me the honour to commend me to your lady and family in particular, and in general to all the good and faithful Highland people in whom I have the firmest confidence, and for whom I have ever felt peculiar regard and attachment."

LORD BARRINGTON to LT.-GEN. GAGE.

1775, July 24. War Office.—Acknowledges dispatches. Will give directions that Capt. Hutcheson, appointed Assistant Deputy Quarter Master General, and Major William Dunbar, appointed Major of brigade, shall receive pay from 12 June last. Will consider Mr. Mallet's request. Desires the certificate of officers who have commanded at the outposts from 25 December 1773 to 24 June 1774. Sends list of promotions.

Copy. Vol. 6. No. 186. 1 page.

LORD BARRINGTON to LT.-GEN. GAGE.

1775, July 28. War Office.—Acknowledges letters of 25 June. "I have it in command to signify to you his Majesty's entire approbation of the firmness and spirit which distinguished the troops in the late action; at the same time permit me to express my extreme concern for the heavy loss sustained." Directions to transmit the general monthly returns by frequent opportunities, also a distinct return of the troops lately assembled under his command at Boston, including all detachments made. Sends list of promotions. P.S.—Recommends to his consideration whether he should not be provided with more shoes, shirts, stockings, &c., which the troops might wish to purchase. In that case he is to make use of Mr. Coffin or indicate such other mode of supplying them as he shall think most expedient, sending the minutest details of everything requisite.

Copy. Vol. 6. No. 187. 2 pages.

LORD BARRINGTON to LT.-GEN. GAGE.

1775, July 28. War Office.—The King has agreed to the whole list of promotions recommended. “Troops who have acted with that valor, which was exerted so much to the honor of the British name on the 17th of last month, deserve everything that can be done for them.” If through accident any person recommended to an ensigncy should have been under sixteen years of age, the King must be informed of it that the commission may be recalled. Sir Charles Thompson having voluntarily resigned the 15th regiment, the King has been pleased to bestow the command on Col. Pigot, whose gallant services in the late action have well deserved this mark of favour. P.S.—The King not intending that Major Bruce shall succeed Brigadier Pigot as lieutenant-col. of the 38th, a proper major is to be recommended for that commission.

JOHN ROBINSON to MAJ.-GEN. WILLIAM HOWE.

1775, September 9. Whitehall Treasury Chambers.—“Sir, As it is apprehended that General Gage may have left Boston on a leave of absence to return to England before this can arrive in America, I am directed by the Lords Commissioners of his Majesty's Treasury to acquaint you it having been represented to them that Colonel James Robertson, Barrack Master General, had applied to Messieurs John and George Erving, merchants, at Boston, for the providing and importing into Boston sundry articles in the schedule herein inclosed marked Letter A, for the service and use of the Army, and that Messieurs Ervings had directed their correspondents here to execute such commission which they had endeavored to do but could not; their Lordships, altho' no information hereon had been sent to them, thought it right to direct due enquiry to be made into this business; and upon such inquiry their Lordships have judged it expedient to order such stores to be provided: I am therefore directed to acquaint you that several of the stores mentioned in the Schedule A are now shipped according to an invoice marked Letter B, on board the ship "Friendship," James Holmes, master, under sailing orders to go to Spithead, and from thence to come under convoy of one of his Majesty's ships of war consigned to the order of the officer commanding his Majesty's forces at Boston or elsewhere, as he shall direct her to proceed, and as will appear by the Charter Party, a copy of which shall be sent by the ship. You will observe by my former dispatches to General Gage of the 30th June and 26th of July last, and by the remarks on the Schedule A, that the articles of coals and oats had been before provided by the Board.

"Their Lordships having since taken into consideration what may be further wanted for the Army, have ordered thirty watch coats to be sent out for the use of each battalion, which will come by the same ship, and have also ordered the several articles in the paper marked Letter C to be provided with all possible expedition. This last order is not so forward as to enable me to inform you more particularly than I have endeavored to do by the remarks on the Paper C, but I hope soon to do it.

"In General Gage's dispatch of the 8th of July he transmits his account of warrants for the quarter commencing the first day of April, and ending the 30th of June, amounting to £31,121 Os. 2½d., and in his letter of the 22nd advises of his requisition to the agent for the contractors for remitting money for the pay, &c. of the troops in America for £20,000 for the extraordinary expenses of the army in the ensuing quarter, but mentions nothing else. Their Lordships hope, however, that by the steps they have taken the wants of the army will in some measure be supplied, and that many conveniences and comforts will be provided for the troops; and they direct me to repeat to you what has been before said in my several dispatches, to which I beg leave to refer you, that you will give the earliest notice to this Board of the requisitions you may find it proper to make for any supplies whether of money, provisions, forage, or any other necessary whatever; it being their Lordships' earnest wish to give every aid in their power towards carrying on the service.

"It was yesterday represented to their Lordships by Lord Barrington, enclosing to me a letter from General Gage of the 26th of July, that the officers suffer an inconvenience arising from the present difficulties in obtaining cash for their bills on the respective agents of the regiments here. This mode was established for the conveniency as well as for the advantage of the officers; but on the representation made by General Gage, by his letter of the 19th May last, of the difficulty he met with in raising cash for his bills, it was foreseen here that the inconvenience now complained of must arise to the officers serving in America. Their Lordships therefore ordered me then to endeavor to obviate it; I tried to do so, but the officers' subsistence having a little before been issued to the agents here, it could not be remedied at that time. Directions were, however, given that this inconvenience should be provided against in future; and I have the pleasure to acquaint you that in the last issue on the 25th of August care has been taken at the Pay Office to issue to the contractors for remitting money to America the sum of £450 per regiment for the pay of the officers serving in America, to be issued by them in specie to the deputy paymaster at Boston to answer their demands, and which sum it is alleged is sufficient for this purpose; the remaining sum of about £250 per regiment being paid to the agents here to enable them to pay the officers of each regiment who may be absent on the recruiting service or otherwise. This inconveniency therefore it is hoped will be remedied on the arrival of the specie which has been lately sent out (of which advise was given to General Gage by my dispatch of the 7th of July last) and by the directions which have been given herein.

“To pursue the mode laid down in that dispatch and to keep you amply supplied with cash for the extraordinary services of the army under the present difficulties and disadvantages in procuring cash for bills, their Lordships have issued to the contractors the sum of £20,000 on the last requisition made the 22nd of July by General Gage, and have directed them to send it out in specie by the first ship of war that will be ready after it can be so provided. This sum, with the £20,000 you will have received by this time by the ‘Raven,’ and the £30,000 that is on board the ‘Cerberus’ on account of the extraordinaries, besides the sums sent in specie on account of the subsistence, will, it is hoped, be an ample supply; and I have their Lordships’ orders to desire that during the time these disadvantages in exchange subsist you will avoid as much as possible drawing bills for the money that may be wanted for the extraordinary service of the army, but in lieu thereof that you will from time to time make requisitions to their lordships for the money which you apprehend will be necessary and wanted for this service for each ensuing quarter, so that my lords may have timely notice to issue the same, and order the contractors to send it out in specie. Directions have likewise been given to the contractors to take due care to keep the Deputy Paymaster supplied with sufficient specie for the payment of the subsistence to the officers and private men; so that, upon the whole, it is hoped there will be no deficiency. I have the honor,” &c.

JOHN ROBINSON TO MAJ.-GEN. WILLIAM HOWE.

1775, September 25. Whitehall, Treasury Chambers.—He will receive this letter by the storeship "Friendship," Mr. Holmes, who has orders to deliver his cargo and await orders. Sends inclosed an invoice of the lading to be disposed of as thought proper for the comfort and use of the army. The oznaburgs and thread are to supply the sheets which have not been made here for the bedding, the remainder of which will be sent by the first ship after it can be got completed. The hatchets on board are shipped by Mr. Harley, the contractor, for Quebec. If desired Mr. Holmes may be taken into the transport service. P.S.—Mr. Trotter, the contractor with the War Office for the beds, has not sent an account of the bedding shipped on the "Friendship." It will be sent by the first opportunity.

JOHN ROBINSON to [MAJ.-GEN. WILLIAM HOWE].

1775, October 1. Treasury Chambers.—“In a former letter to you I acquainted you that the Lords of his Majesty's Treasury had, in pursuance of General Gage's requisition, issued the sum of twenty thousand pounds, and directed the remitters to send it by the first ship of war that should sail to America. That sum has now been put on board the 'Centurion,' Capt. Brathwaite, and I hope it will arrive safe. General Gage, by a subsequent requisition, has desired that the remitters' agent might provide a further sum of forty thousand pounds, and has transmitted to the Board notice of this requisition. In consequence of which and of the several bills which have been drawn, the remitters have applied for a further imprest, and their Lordships have accordingly issued to them fifty thousand pounds. From these large issues, and the sums before sent out in specie, there remain no doubt but that you must have a very ample supply in your military chest for the extraordinary and contingent service of the army, which their Lordships have had anxiously in view since they were informed of the difficulties that attended the getting specie for bills. The representations which General Gage made of the impossibility to obtain money for bills and the distresses which it has been reported the army was put to from such difficulty are however not a little irreconcilable with the having actually obtained these sums; and I am directed to observe to you that it is a matter of some surprize how Mr. Apthorpe, the agent to the remitters at Boston, who also appears to be deputy paymaster, should have since been able to procure at one time upwards of thirty-five thousand pounds in specie for bills, and on this late occasion, the further sum of forty thousand pounds in two or three days, and after he, also, had represented the impracticability of obtaining money for bills, and the necessity of sending out specie, for it is very striking that in two days after General Gage's requisition to him, he as deputy paymaster should transmit receipts for the forty thousand pounds as money actually paid into the military chest in that period. From this mode of going on, both in drawing bills and sending out the money in specie a double remittance would be made. The contractors therefore will not send out this last issue of fifty thousand pounds, but keep it here for the purpose of discharging the bills so drawn upon them. Their Lordships have been informed that the difference in exchange in receiving specie in America for bills drawn upon England had been for some time 15 per cent. to the disadvantage of Government, but that upon a bill of seven thousand pounds drawn in favor of Mr. Apthorpe's house in London and some other bills of the last sett which were drawn from Boston, it has suddenly risen to 23 per cent., a loss which I am to remark falls most heavy upon Government, as, for the purpose of exchange alone, near one fourth part of their supplies are swallowed up. These circumstances, together with the great disadvantage which at present subsists in the exchange, induce their Lordships to direct me to desire your attention to the present mode of drawing bills for the extraordinary and contingent services of the army, and to repeat the request that during the time the exchange shall remain so high, you will not permit bills to be drawn upon them for these services except upon the most pressing occasions and in cases of necessity, but that you will pursue the method of requisition immediately to their Lordships for such supplies of money as well as every other necessary which you may want in the manner desired by my former dispatches, and give their Lordships notice thereof in due time that you may be amply supplied by their issues to the remitters to be paid by them into the military chest. I have lately from time to time advised you of the several ships that have been sent out with stores for the use of the army, and I now send you a copy of a letter from Messrs. Mure, Son and Atkinson to me with a duplicate of their letter and inclosures, and also a copy of the invoice of bedding shipped by Mr. Trotter by order of the War Office on board the 'Friendship,' James Holmes, master, of which I before advised you, with a copy of his charter party, two bills of lading, and a correct copy of the invoice of goods shipped by Mr. Harley marked Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 4. The other store ships will be coming out to you every two or three days, and I have already wrote the letters and given the private signals (of which I send you copies inclosed in the papers marked No. 5, 6 and 7) to the several ships in the paper marked No. 8. I shall do the same to the other ships as they come out, and Messrs. Mure, Son and Atkinson will advise you of their cargo &c. by each ship.

"The 'Thames,' David Laird, master (who is also a lieutenant in the navy), I am informed is a ship of some force, pierced for guns, well found and capable of being fitted out as an armed vessel for any purposes. Mr. Laird is also well known to many gentlemen in the navy, and particularly to Sir George Pococke, under whom he served at the Havanna. We were not apprized before he sailed that that ship could have been taken into the service as she was destined for the West Indies, but Messrs. Mure, Son and Atkinson have to-day offered her if Government should want her, as an armed vessel, and from the best accounts I can get she may probably be made useful to the service, and cannot have a more active and better officer to command her. I have apprized Admiral Shuldham of this and submitted it to his consideration.

The 'Thames' has sailed without any such orders, but they will be sent after her by the first store ship that shall sail."

LORD BARRINGTON to MAJ.-GEN. HOWE, or Officer commanding His Majesty's Forces in North America, at Boston.

1775, November 14. War Office.—The 15th and 37th regiments intended for service in the spring have received orders to embark on the 1st of next month, together with the 53rd, 54th, and 57th regiments. They embark agreeable to their old numbers, viz. 477. The three last-mentioned corps, as soon as they come on the British establishment, are to be augmented to the same numbers as the regiments now under his command, viz. each battalion to 811 men. The 28th and 7 companies of the 46th regiments, having been prevented by stress of weather from pursuing their voyage, are to wait until they can proceed with the regiments from Corke. The "Argo" transport, with the remaining three companies of the 46th, has not been heard of since the 20th of October, when she parted from the other transports in a storm. A hospital staff attends these 7 regiments. The appointment of all the mates as well in the medical as chirurgical department, is left generally to the Hospital Board. Has not received a return of the distribution of the officers' tents sent the beginning of March last.

1775, December 17. Boston.—“No man feels more sensibly for the honour of a soldier than myself, and I am distressed to think that an officer of your rank and long services should imagine himself injured by any neglect whatever. I found Captain Montessor Chief Engineer in this Department and you in Nova Scotia, his conduct hitherto has merited my utmost approbation, and I never can entertain a thought of superseding him in his appointment without some very sufficient cause, besides the service in Nova Scotia is of the last importance, and no place requires more the presence of an experienced officer.”

MAJ.-GEN. WILLIAM HOWE to BRIG.-GEN. MASSEY.

1775, December 19. Boston.—Extracts. His appointment as brigadier-general.

“The troops you found in Nova Scotia with the 27th regiment will remain under your command until further orders from me.

“I am well assured you will not omit communicating with the governor and the commodore of his Majesty's ships when there may be any matter in agitation wherein they are particularly concerned.

“The defence of the dockyard must be your first object, in which you will no doubt receive material assistance from the ships of war.

“Your next attention in course will be directed to the town of Halifax, wherein I apprehend that fortifying the Citadel Hill is absolutely necessary, from whence you will draw a collateral defence to the dockyard. I could also recommend an entrenchment with block-houses at the isthmus leading to the town, placing abatis in front, and as it may be proper to have block-houses in other situations in the spring, I would advise there being prepared in the winter in order for fixing them when the seasons permit.

“Respecting your gaining intelligence of the rebel movements on your side of the Bay of Fundy, I should recommend your taking proper persons into pay for that purpose, rather than by the mode you propose, of having a number of parties upon the road, which would be attended with inconvenience at this season. But I desire to be understood that intention is not to prevent your sending parties for intelligence, or to attack or harass an enemy in their approach to the town, and I beg leave to mention Lieut.-Col. Goreham, who will be of great utility to you from his knowledge of the country in every respect.

“His Excellency Governor Legge, having undertaken to treat with and secure the attachment and assistance of the Mickmack and St. John's River Indians for the defence of the province when called upon, you will, if he should request it, order a small quantity of powder and lead to be delivered for their winter hunting, and promise such presents as may be judged needfull, to be sent from thence in the spring, to bind them to their engagement, but you will not otherwise interfere with his excellency in the management of this service than in such manner as he may require.

“You will appoint such assistants and overseers as may be deemed necessary to attend the Engineers’ Department.

“I beg the strictest attention may be given to the discipline of the young corps, allowing a sufficient quantity of ammunition for the men to fire at marks.

“Herewith enclosed you will receive copies of instructions that have been given to Lieut.-Col. Goreham, which you will be pleased to observe where there is nothing contrary to mine of this date.

“In consequence of your recommendation I have appointed Mr. Studholme to be your major of brigade with the usual pay, and you will appoint whom you judge fit your secretary at one dollar per day, during your command in Nova Scotia.

“Having perused your Surveyor General’s report of the three forts of Annapolis, Cumberland and Edward I should wish they were prepared to a certain degree as soon as it can be done, by stockading and having their parapets and ditches cleared.

“The barracks also to be made fit for the proportion of men necessary for their defence, which I suppose may be for Annapolis about one hundred, Cumberland one hundred, and Edward thirty or forty, as you think proper, and if two or three large guns could be transported to ye two large forts, any attempts the rebels could make upon them in that situation would I trust prove fruitless.

“In these repairs you will be pleased to consult Captain Spry, taking care that no unnecessary expense be incurred in this business; but having no knowledge of their situation and consequence I desire to leave to your discretion every expedient for the possession and defence of them.

“You will be pleased to observe that the troops in Newfoundland are under the command and direction of the Governor of ye Island for the time being.

“In answer to particular parts of your letters I am to acquaint you that the women belonging to the troops under your command may be victualled, giving two women the allowance of one man, but this is not to be allowed unless from an absolute necessity.

“You are pleased to say you have stopped working at the lines upon the Citadel Hill on a supposition that the plan was too expensive to which I cannot make any answer, having received no estimate from Captain Spry, notwithstanding my orders sent to him for that purpose, but from the idea I have of the necessity for a work in that situation for the defence of the town and dock yard as before mentioned, I should wish you to proceed upon it with all dispatch, by block houses having curtains between them well pallsaded, or a strong stockade by way of curtain may answer perhaps as well. The block houses to have cannon and to contain fifty men in each of them.”

THOMAS NIXON to JOHN ROBINSON.

1776, March 1, Friday evening. No. 60, Lombard Street.— “ Since I had the honor of conversing with you this morning on the subject of supplying provision to the cattle for the voyage from St. Mary's to the place of delivery, being informed by my Lord Howe yesterday that he did not expect it could be sent by him from the north ports of America in the victualling ships to be sent to bring the cattle, I have been considering of the proper means whereby I should be able to perform this necessary service. I perceive one most essential circumstance which requires immediate dispatch and occasions me to interrupt you by this letter, viz :—
 that is to consider of grinding the corn. That you may excuse this liberty I acquaint you in the first place that Florida is so levelled a country that there is no fall of water in any place that I have heard of on the most strict enquiry, which is the reason that no water mills have been erected. In the next place corn used in Florida is either ground by negroes on the plantations or by those kept for domestic uses, therefore none is to be bought ground in a market. The only expedient then left for this service is to erect a windmill or two horse mills on my arrival, as it is not possible to conceive that mill wrights and millstones, the iron work and many other necessarys are to be had in so infant a colony. 'Tis necessary (as I mean to be on that absolute certainty the utility of the service requires) to take out with me from London the most essential parts of a wind mill or horse mill with an ingenious workman capable of placing them together, so that the frames being properly markt and numbered they may in a very few days be erected by this means. I think the King's service will not be subject to any risk of provision for the voyage, for the maize is so extremely hard the cattle will not eat it unless 'tis broken.
 If this should strike you in same light it will be absolutely necessary to give immediate orders to the different workmen employed in this kind of business to be expedited with all possible dispatch. If the variety of affairs of great importance under your management should prevent your taking this petite affair under your direction I will then undertake it myself, leaving the terms of buying the corn on commission or contracting to future consideration, but as the construction of the mill will require two or three weeks at least scarce a day should be lost on so material an object, especially in looking at it as to its cost 'tis a trifle, and as to its consequence it is extremely great. I do most sincerely intend to render the King all the service that is in my power, and my zeal will apologize to you sir for being so importunate. I conceive it would be most essentially conducive to the recovery of the sick both in the fleet and army to have fresh provisions as soon after their arrival as possible, therefore as my duty requires me to be in Florida a month before the troops are in America, in course my departure from England should be forwarded by all means. If you sir are desirous to see me on this subject I will wait on you at any hour or place you may appoint."

JOHN ROBINSON to GENERAL HOWE.

1776, April 12. Treasury Chambers.—On his Excellency's representation that it had become necessary to send out the transports armed which brought provisions, the Treasury find it necessary to alter the mode of supply as they could not engage gentlemen to arm ships at great expense, risk the cargoes, or ensure them at high premiums. They are obliged to contract for the delivery of the provisions to a Commissary at Cork, who will ship them from time to time. Necessity of appointing a Commissary with deputies and assistants to receive them in America. These gentlemen go to Boston as soon as possible; Mr. Chamier will lay his commission before the General. Specifies some of the supplies ready. These ships will be kept for this service going to and from Cork. The "Greyhound" and "Milford" carry out £120,000 for pay and subsistence. Endorsed:—Duplicate. . . . Recd. at Staten Isld. July 27. Original recd. 1st June, by the Canceaux at Halifax. JOHN ROBINSON to GEN. HOWE.

1776, May 1. Treasury Chambers.—A long letter on the measures of the Treasury to supply provisions for the army. The country drained of ships for transport purposes. Lack of constant and regular returns of quantities received and persons victualled. As to the question of bad flour, Messrs. Nesbitt were called before the Board and alleged in their defence that there was no other than American flour in the market here, which they were under a necessity of sending, that it was good when shipped but from its being kept so long it might fail, though their agent says he could sell all the flour rejected by the Army Commissaries at an advanced price, but since other flour could be had they have sent the best kiln-dried English flour. They have been ordered to send 4,000 barrels to supply deficiencies. Hay too bulky a commodity to be sent. It should be obtained from Nova Scotia, Rhode Island and Long Island. The proposal of Mr. Nixon to supply cattle from E. Florida is left to his Excellency's judgment. Contracts made for rum. Concerning the military chest, the traffic in bills and Mr. Apthorpe's actions. Directions on the making out of the accounts distinguishing between Extraordinaries and subsistence. Frequent states to be remitted home. "Lord Cornwallis carried out with him £40,000 for Extraordinary services and £20,000 for the pay and subsistence of the troops, it is hoped therefore that he will have no occasion to call on you for any supply of cash, and 150,000 pounds has been sent to Quebec by General Burgoyne for extraordinaries, besides the subsistence of the Army there till the 24th of October next, and besides £40,000 with which they were supplied at Quebec before the close of winter, and the £22,000 sent thither also lately by the 'Triton' man-of-war." It is hoped coal may be supplied from Cape Breton. The ill-success in attempts to send out live stock is unfortunate, but does not proceed from want of attention.

JOHN ROBINSON TO GENERAL HOWE.

1776, May 2. Treasury Chambers.—Since yesterday advice has been received of his quitting Boston. Sends therefore triplicates of recent dispatches. An express is sent to Cork with orders for the victualling transports to proceed to Halifax and thence follow his army wherever it shall be. “Our concern and distress is almost inexpressible on finding from your returns to Lord George Germain that no ships had reached you from England, and that from your accounts received from the West India Islands, there was reason to believe all the victualling transports had been blown off the coast of America and obliged to take shelter there, an event that has proved most unfortunate, but has been out of the reach of human power to prevent. I am directed by the Lords Commissioners of his Majesty’s Treasury to inform you that by the express to Cork orders are repeated to send off the provision ships to you with the utmost expedition.”

JOHN ROBINSON TO GENERAL HOWE.

1776, June 24. Whitehall.—It gives their Lordships great concern that their endeavours to supply the army in the ample manner proposed should have been attended with so little success, and they are surprised that only one of the ships sailing between 28 August and 11 Nov. last, and which carried provisions with them for near 3 months for 12,000 men, should have arrived. It is some relief, however, to hear that several sent this spring are arrived. The whole set of ships appropriated for the first quarter are sailed and those for the second are now loading at Corke with provisions for 36,000. Convoys are sent with the victuallers; their destination is Halifax to receive there directions where to follow him. The country exhausted of ships which can be spared from trade, and the price of tonnage has been raised to 12s. 6d. per ton. The latest ships sent have English flour, not American. His wishes as to biscuit and beef have been attended to. Arrangement is made to send out before 1st September every species of provisions and complete rations for 36,000 men until 1 May 1777. Thereafter their Lordships hope he may obtain supplies from America itself. Further supplies of sour krout to be sent. £150,000 sent with this convoy notwithstanding the very large balances in the Deputy Paymaster's hands. “Their Lordships distrust not Mr. Apthorpe, but the balance of his account is very great and the circumstances attending such account, together with the mode of stating it, by carrying on his credit for payments down to 26 April, and not charging to his debit the large remittances sent him since the 8th of October last, altho' he has passed Paymasters Receipt therefor, as well as for the bills drawn by him is very alarming." With regard to Capt. Braithwaite's expectation of 2 per cent. for conveying money from Boston to Halifax, it is a question of favour, not of right, and 1 per cent. only is to be allowed him. 845 bat horses provided. Oats also sent. Contract entered into with Mr. Anthony Merry to again try to supply him with live stock. Endorsed :—Reed. 11th March by the Thames. 3 enclosures.

Enclosing Observations on Mr. Apthorpe's accounts, and, State of Balances, 20 June 1776.

LORD NORTH to GENERAL HOWE.

1776, June 25. Bushy Park.—“The Treasury Letter, which you will receive by the convoy of the Second Division of the Hessians, will have stated to you so fully every step that has been taken by the Board for supplying your army with cash and provisions, that it is almost unnecessary to give you the trouble of reading any more on the subject. I wish however to say a word upon the money which has been remitted to the Deputy Paymaster attending the forces under your command.”

A statement follows showing the total received by Mr. Apthorpe as £840,776 6s. “From this immense sum, . . . no deduction is to be made except £50,000, the amount of the temporary warrants you mention in your last letters to the Treasury, and the expences of the army since that day in April to which Mr. Apthorpe made up his last account. Whatever sum these deductions may amount to the remainder in the deputy paymaster's hands will be very considerable indeed. I have not the least reason to mistrust Mr. Apthorpe or Mr. Barrow, who I suppose has by this time joined the army and acts for himself; but yet when I consider the extent and importance of the trust, I cannot help recommending to you to keep a watchful eye upon the state of your military chest and to direct the deputy paymaster's cash and accounts frequently to be examined and reported to you.

“It would, perhaps, have been safer to have furnished the military chest with smaller sums at a time, but, as we thought it would be most convenient to you to have a large supply at the opening of the campaign, and were not sure of having many other opportunities equally good of sending money to America, we have chosen to be very liberal in our first remittances. We hope that the cash already sent will be nearly sufficient for the rest of the campaign, as we shall not be able to furnish much more in the course of this summer. We will nevertheless endeavour to send you further, but smaller, supplies of money from time to time as opportunities shall present themselves.

“We expect before the end of August to have shipped from England and Ireland a sufficient quantity of provisions to feed your army (computed at 36,000 men) till May 1777. We will send out some more sour krout towards the end of the year, but I am afraid that there is some danger of your not being supplied with it in time, as the cabbages will not be ripe enough to make it till the month of September, and last year's experience has taught us the uncertainty of navigating the American seas after that time. Your army is, I doubt, now grown too large for us to supply it with porter, in the same proportion that we did last year. We hope, however, to assist you with it to a certain degree, so as to contribute materially to the comfort of the soldiers during their winter quarters, for which we trust that you will during the summer have been able to secure a sufficient quantity of coals from Cape Breton.

"As we were not certain that the failure of our live cattle last year did not proceed from the hurry in which they were shipped from the season of the year, and the bad weather they met with in their voyage, we listened to a proposal which was made to us of furnishing your army with some live cattle from Mogador, in ships fitted up for that purpose, and under the direction of a gentleman, used to convey live cattle from Africa to the West Indies, some difficulties having arisen, and put an end to the Mogador scheme, after five ships had been taken up, we thought the best thing we could do for the public was to send them to you with live cattle from Wales, having previously insured the cargoes. These five vessels, consisting of one armed ship (the 'Resolution,' Capt. Hawker), and four transports will have joined you before this letter, and have delivered into your hands a letter from the Secretary of the Treasury, by which you will find that, after having delivered their cargoes, they are to remain under your command to employ as you shall judge most beneficial for the service of the army. Should you have any prospect of procuring live cattle from any quarter, you will find these ships well fitted to receive them, and we flatter ourselves that they will be of use to you at all events.

"I will now take my leave of you with my most hearty wishes for your success. War and peace, the honor and happiness of Great Britain and of British America are entrusted to Lord Howe and to you, and never were such great concerns placed in better hands. We know that the justice of the British arms will be maintained, and that, if tranquility is restored to America, it will be in such a manner as to do credit to all those who are concerned in it. The prosperous beginning of the campaign affords a fairer prospect of seeing an end put to the American disturbances than we could have flattered ourselves with a few months ago."

INTERVIEW with GENERAL WASHINGTON.

1776, July 20. Staten Island.—Paper, not signed nor addressed, but apparently Col. Paterson's account of his interview with Washington.

“On being presented to G. W. I informed him that I had the honor to wait upon him from G. H. to acknowledge the receipt of his letter inclosing a narrative of transactions in Canada, with resolves of the Congress in consequence, that G. H. was surprised to find that some misapprehension in want of form had been the cause of G. W.'s not receiving his letter upon this subject of the 11th inst., and that I had that letter to present to him.

“G. W. with many expressions of great politeness and respect to G. H. said he could not possibly or consistently with his former declarations receive in the situation he held any letter addressed to him in a private character. This brought on a conversation too trifling to repeat, as it turned merely upon opinion with regard to form. At the close of it I expressed my apprehensions that all intercourse must consequently be cut off between us, but that my first and principal duty was to communicate to him the contents of that letter, which I immediately did. He was desirous to have it in writing, but that I begged leave to decline, as he had thought proper to refuse the original. That G. W. expressed some concern at the idea of all communication being at an end, as he was fully convinced how much we had already suffered for want of that free intercourse subsisting among all civilized nations though at war, and took this opportunity of complaining of our treatment of their prisoners taken at Charles Town heights. This charge, as it was totally unexpected, so it was easy to confute, as I could boldly affirm, from my own knowledge upon the spot, that every degree of humanity and tenderness was exerted upon that occasion to the unfortunate people who fell into our hands. As I was about to take my leave I told the General I could not resist the temptation before me of exceeding the limits of my commission by taking the liberty of pointing out the King's most gracious disposition towards the Americans so strongly manifested in the powers he had granted and the choice he had made of persons unconnected with ministerial arrangements, to whom his Majesty had thought proper to delegate the full and free execution of those great powers. After some pause G. W. answered this by expressing with the greatest politeness his sentiments of the high characters employed upon this very important occasion, and said something of the cause depending being a matter of right, to which when I replied that taking up the subject upon that ground was much too wide a field for the present occasion, the General heartily concurred with me, and with a great deal of marked attention and civility permitted me to take my leave.”

JOHN GEORGE LORENTZ to CAPTAIN MACKENZIE.

1776, August 17. Staten Island.—Has returned from the “Charming Nelly,” where Mr. Barrow, the treasurer, has handed to him £4,546 6s. 7d. in Spanish money and a note for £453 13s. 5d., saying he had no more dollars or gold. It will be seen whether the troops will be contented—is doubtful, as the money is very heavy. For the bills of exchange he is referred to headquarters.

JOHN GEORGE LORENTZ to SIR GEORGE OSBORN.

1776, August 19. Staten Island.—Sends statement of the subsistence money required for the Hessian troops on Staten Island for each month, so closely reckoned that not a guinea remains for extraordinary expenses. The total sum from April to September will amount to £52,035 6s. sterling, of which he has only had from Mr. Barrow £4,546 6s. 7d. and a note for £453 13s. 5d. Begs more to satisfy the troops, one half in guineas and the other in silver, as they are unwilling to take the Spanish rix dolores. Annexed is an “Etat General” of subsistence for one month, enumerating the different companies and regiments, the total amounting to £8,228. Also an “Etat” for the hospital for the same period, amounting to £444 11s.

Copy. Vol. 1. No. 158. 4 pages.

LT.-COL. SIR GEORGE OSBORN to CAPTAIN MACKENZIE.

1776, August 19. “Royal George” Transport.—“Enclosed I send you as satisfactory answer to your letter of yesterday as it is possible for me to obtain. The pay bill for one day Monsr. Lorentz will absolutely not give. He says he is under an oath not to divulge what pay each particular rank receives. According to the English pay he gives a calculation for each regiment per month, which I likewise enclose with a separate one (as you desire) for the Etat Major. Mr. Barrow must sooner or later pin Mr. Lorentz down to the very exact sum each regiment would want even supposed complete. At present we are entirely in the dark to know how many men they have lost since Col. Faucett inspected them at Bremer Lehe. This calculation you will observe gives no stoppages for provisions.

“I have seen Mr. Apthorp concerning my own pay, who informed me that, as I have the Treasury’s permission to receive it either here or at home, my mode will be to apply for the General’s warrant quarterly for that purpose. If you would give me the proper form for such application you would much oblige.”

Copy. Vol. 1. No. 144. 1 page.

Mr. GORDON, Commissary at Corke, to JOHN ROBINSON.

1776, August 20.—“I received your favor of the 10th inst. this moment and am shocked to death almost at the thoughts of the bread in the Howe, Minerva, Lonsdale, and Lord Lewisham being bad, unfit for use, mouldy and shipped in bags short of weight, and I am obliged to you, Sir, for the very early information, but if my life was at stake and could be saved with more care I could not take it in everything I have to do relative to the provisions. I have kept a part of every parcel of bread shipped from hence, and it is perfectly good yet, but the Minerva’s cargo was brought from England and remained in her and was not landed here, and when I get from you the particular accounts of General Howe’s complaint I will answer your letter as full as possible. Be assured never less than three people besides myself examine every parcel of bread, &c., and after all I examine each species of provision myself. It leaves me then in good order, and except it be made of bad materials what will not keep, which I cannot discover by my taste or smell, or by soaking in water, it should keep twelve months. I even take several captains of ships at times to examine the bread, and Major Lushington and all my assistants are perfect judges of bread, and I have eat a great deal of bread myself in the service and know very well what it should be, and if I passed a bag that was not good I should be hanged above all men alive, as it is impossible to have better assistants than I have. If I mistake not the Minerva’s bread came from the same person as that in the Tartar, which I condemned and which is yet in store. I have condemned this day 575 barrels of flour which came on board the Elizabeth from Chichester. I have also condemned some town bread here at the baker’s and prevented the delivery of it in Corke to the agents who complained to me of it, and complaints will be made to the magistrates here of their mixing sand with it.”

JOHN GEORGE LORENTZ TO CAPTAIN MACKENZIE.

1776, August 24. Staten Island.—Repeats the statements in his letter to "Col. Chevalier Osborne" of the 18th. "The troops not customed to the loss of a farthing on her subsistence money by changing them maked great difficulty to accept these dollars. I had a good deal of trouble to pay out this money, because they were believing the English troops are paid in guineas at 21s., Spanish dollars at 4½s. Our troops are before regularly paid by month and this always by advance, viz.: the 20th of the foregoing month, and I have certain assurances from the Paymaster-General, Mr. Righby at London, to have sent orders here and for paying all the money for our troops against my particular receipts and acquittances regularly by month on account of the whole establishment which will be settled in the Treasury at London with our Minister there. Upon my letter to Colonel Osborn I had to this very moment not any answer and by the want of money I find me forced Sir, to trouble you, begging instantly the favour to give me any notice how to get this money and to content our troops.

“I am a little incommoded by my legs and send my son for the answer, which will assure you of the respect with which I am constantly, Sir, etc.”

COLONEL AUGUSTINE PREVOST to GEN. HOWE.

1776, September 9. St. Augustine.—“Sir, I have the honor to enclose to your Excellency the monthly return of the garrison.

“Since my arrival at this place I have not been honored with any orders, the one which brought me here I have had the honor to send you in original and was relative to the disciplining of the troops, but this Province being insulted by the rebels I find myself under a necessity to keep them (sic) recruits at works and to repair the neglected fortifications of this place, the soldiers of the old corps being most detached on the frontiers, where I cannot yet trust the recruits for want of commissioned and non-commissioned officer.

“The party which was on St. Mary has been obliged by a strong one of the rebels to abandon that river and to retire on the south side of St. John’s river; the schooner that was there, not being able to protect them, had retreated. As there is no naval force, it makes the defence of so extensive a river very difficult. They took lately a serjeant and 5 men of the party reinforced to 100 men, which has determined the Governor to hire and send there an armed shallop to support the party, to which I added one officer and 35 men, besides 12 upon the tender of the “Otter” that is to go there, besides some rangers and Indians. If they arrive before the depredations are made, they will prevent their planters to leave their plantations, their harvest, &c., to come here with their negroes without provisions, which is the project of the rebels, as they know we are not able to support them, having only 3 or 4 months’ for the garrison.

“It would be of great utility for me to have your orders and not depend entirely from a Civil Governor and Council. I am sensible if this garrison don’t receive the same favor as the rest of the army it is because we are not immediately under your eyes, but we shall contrive to deserve as well as them.”

MURE, SON and ATKINSON to GENERAL HOWE.

1776, September 14. London.—Lay before him a general state of the operations under their care. Enumerate and explain several lists they enclose of transports conveying provisions, oats, furniture and clothing for the troops. [Similar lists seem to be transmitted by Mr. Robinson in his letter of 22 October.] “The ships wanted have been collected from every part of the kingdom and from Holland, and fitted to receive an armament. Their cannon was all to be cast, their gunpowder and gunners' stores to be made, and this in a variety of places, where alone many distinct parts of the armament were to be had, and the whole was to be assembled at Cork, under all the delays of contrary winds, perverseness of sailors not under military control, &c., &c., which are incident to such an undertaking. The whole would however have arrived at Cork by the last week in August but for a westerly wind which prevailed from the 25th July till that time, and which detained in the Downs the ammunition and stores for 8 of the out post ships which were otherwise ready at Cork. We mention these circumstances only for the purpose of shewing that if any inconvenience arises from the lateness of the season it has not been in our power to prevent it, and beg leave to add that from the information we have received of the state of things at Cork, it seems probable that the dispatch of the ships may be further delayed without any fault of the Commissary, for the workmen there as well as here are as much addicted to combinations for raising their wages and are upon the whole very unmanageable tho' rather less so by the last advices than before."

Remarks on the oatships, on the supplies of sourkrout, porter, small salad seed and vinegar.

"On the 17th August we received directions to provide the barrack furniture described in a return about that time received as wanted for 25,000 men, and that we should for the present send out about 2,500 chaldrons of coals and the same quantity in January. We were afterwards on the 30th of August directed to provide clothing for 5,000 provincials, and a pair of thick milled woollen mittens for every man in both armies; and to take up and arm shipping sufficient to carry the whole, together with the camp equipage, shoes, stockings, and linen for the next campaign, as far as the agents could get them ready. In contradiction of all the clamours of faction respecting the decay of manufactures, &c., it is an absolute truth that there is scarce an article of all these things to be found ready made, that the price of everything is increased and still rising, and that we are obliged to obtain goods of all sorts from the makers as matter of favour and preference, whilst their workmen are universally engaged in combinations and all the licentiousness arising from a superabundance of employment. We have taken the steps which appeared to us most likely to secure what is wanted in the shortest time possible, and hope that nothing of the clothing kind except trifles will remain on shore at the end of this month."

. . . As the War Office can only give us one single party of recruits for the whole of these ships we have agreed for extra seamen to be put on board so as to raise the complement of men to about $2\frac{1}{2}$ to a gun for everything under six pounders, and three men to a gun for six pounders. The price of coals in this place is rendered so extravagant by the port duties that it was at first intended only to ballast the ships slightly with coals, and to supply the rest from the out ports by ships hired by the run.

Some disappointments have arisen in getting ships upon that footing, so the ships here are to be given a little more than the ballast absolutely necessary in coals and the remainder is to be sent from Burry River near Swansea on the coast of Glamorgan-shire by some of the early victuallers and store ships arrived at Cork from Quebec and ordered over to Burry River for that purpose, and it seems probable that the January supply will be sent through the same channel."

1776, September 19. Ship "Fanny."—"May it please your Excellency, when I was lately at Philadelphia I informed Congress that your Excellency was pleased to offer an exchange of Lord Sterling and myself for officers of equal rank; whereupon they voted that Major-General Prescott and Brigadier-General McDonald should be exchanged for us, and issued orders for their being sent towards New York for that purpose, which I doubt not has been done, and the exchange might immediately be made, provided we were on shore to see it expedited. I must therefore intreat your Excellency to permit us to go on shore with a flag in order to get this business accomplished. Your Excellency may be assured we shall avoid every kind of connection with the American troops or army, further than is necessary for this purpose, and that in case any difficulties should arise to prevent the exchange taking place, we will immediately return again to such place as your Excellency will be pleased to appoint."

LT.-COL: SIR GEORGE OSBORN to GENERAL HOWE.

1776, September 25. Camp, York Island.—Has made a muster and inspection of the 1st division of the Hessians and found their arms and accoutrements in good order. They are equipped with necessaries sufficient to last till the opening of the next campaign. It is Gen. de Heister's intention to send for from Hesse with the recruits of the next year what may later be wanting. Has procured medicines to supply their hospitals till Gen. Knyphausen's arrival. The clothing of many of the regiments begins to wear out, and without a representation from London to Hesse they have no assurance of being new clothed next spring. If they remain in the field late in the year they will find their need of blankets.

LT.-COL. SIR GEORGE OSBORN to CAPTAIN MCKENZIE.

1776, October 8. Camp of the Guards, York Island.—As he has reason to believe that the monies issued to Genl. Heister have not been applied to the payment of the different regiments but appropriated by their treasurer, Monsr. Lorentz, to the Colonels of the several brigades only, apprehends that if General Howe were to desire that the Hessian soldiers should be settled with up to the last muster, the 24th September, receiving an acknowledgment from each regiment for their deductions for King's provision, it would be the means of stopping several claims which may in future give much trouble, and prevent a large sum of money being always ready (as is now the case) to purchase up the provisions of the country we are in possession of, and supplying open markets which are daily held at all their Brigades.

JOHN ROBINSON to GEN. SIR WM. HOWE.

1776, October 22. Whitehall.—Sends duplicate of a letter of 10 August in respect to allowance of spruce beer to the army as more conducive to health. The intention is therefore dropped of sending out a greater quantity of porter. Sourkrout is being sent as it can be prepared. Refers to letter of Mure, Son and Atkinson, and various returns. Messrs. Nesbitt have been ordered to replace the bread said to be bad. Sends extract of Mr. Commissary Gordon's reply. The bread was ordered to be of the same sort as the very best King's bread. It is hoped this cannot occur again. However, the commissaries should be instructed to take the mark and numbers of the packages by which the particular contractor can be traced and the matter if necessary inquired into. The ships at Corke have been delayed by combinations amongst the workmen, but most of all by the sailors. When they are all sailed they will bring to him a supply of provisions for 36,000 men for 12 months. Transports to be sent back to Cork. Mr. Apthorpe's observations are far from being satisfactory. He seems to wish to confound the business by his observations about the exchange. Their Lordships are very sensible that it is for the advantage of government to draw bills of exchange when money can be had for such bills at par, but their objections were to the manner practised in drawing bills at Boston and the apparent business carried on in it, in sending out specie from hence (sic), to be advanced to Mr. Apthorpe for bills, at a great and disadvantageous exchange, and so going on, in circulation; and that Mr. Apthorpe should be drawing bills on the contractors at the same time that all the subsistence was actually sending out in specie; and also while their Lordships were issuing and sending out in specie, money to meet his Excellency's requisitions. He further confuses by not distinguishing the bills for subsistence or extraordinaries on the requisitions. A reply as to coals is awaited before taking any further steps.

ROYAL WARRANT TO PAY.

1776, October 23. St. James's.—Warrant for the pay of the general and staff officers in North America. Addressed to Richard Rigby, Paymaster General. Gen. Gage as Commander-in-chief is made out at £10 a day; Carleton, Haldimand, Howe, Clinton, Burgoyne, Earl Percy, Valentine Jones, and Cornwallis as major-generals at £2 10s.; Colonels Prescott, James Grant, Eyre Massey, John Vaughan, Francis Smith, James Agnew and Alex. Leslie, as brigadier-generals at £1 10s.; Capt. Wm. Dunbar as major of brigade at 10s.; Capt. Urquhart as town major at Boston at 5s.; Joseph Goldthwaite as barrack master at 10s.; Lt. Ramsay as town adjutant at Boston at 4s.; and John Jones as chaplain at 6s. 8d. These are all for different periods, most of them down to 24 December, 1775. Total £11,511 6s. 8d.

SIR GEORGE OSBORN TO CAPTAIN MCKENZIE.

1776, October 28. Camp of the Guards.—Sir George Osborn presents his compliments to Capt. McKenzie and has just received an application in form from General de Heister for another £15,000 in advance to be sent to Mr. Lorentz for the pay of the Hessian troops.

Sir George hopes to be able to send Mr. Mackenzie the muster rolls very soon, as his servant has been gone some days to New York for that purpose. Mr. Barrow will be then able to ascertain the exact sums which will be wanting every muster, and Monsr. De Heister has consented to have the whole settled every two months. The Waldeck Regiment is upon an entire separate establishment, and will ask their pay to be separately issued to their order.

As this will probably be the last sums issued to Monsr. Lorentz upon account, Sir George will be obliged to Capt. Mackenzie if he will acquaint him when the general's warrant is issued for that purpose.

P.S.—I don't at present recollect what sums have already been issued to Monsr. Lorentz, the claim at present made for £15,000 I apprehend to be two months' subsistence, not allowing however for a deduction of King's provisions.

Enclosure:—

Paper containing extract of a letter from Gen. Fraser dated Edinburgh 22 October, and at the foot a note from Messrs. Ross and Gray dated Conduit Street, 29 October, sending that extract. Gen. Fraser states that though clothing and arms were amply furnished, such was the hurry of embarkation that many of the recruits did not join till two days or even one day before embarking, and it was impossible to clothe or arm them. Arms and clothing were sent off in transports, great part of them being captured.

LT.-COL. SIR GEORGE OSBORN TO GEN. SIR WM. HOWE.

1776, October 29. Camp of the Guards.—Has just now received an application from Lieut.-General de Heister for the allowance of bat and forage for the last division of the Hessian troops, alleging that they had been in march, and were at sea at the time that the bounty of the 100 days was given to the 1st division under his immediate command, and that a distinction may be made in the number of rations allowed to the full colonel from that given by the quarter-master general in which there is no rank specified between the brigadier and lieut.-colonel.

“Whenever I shall have leisure from my duty in the brigade of guards, I propose under the order I had the honour to receive from your Excellency in New York Island to visit and muster the brigades lately arrived with Monsr. de Kniphausen as well as the Waldeck Regiment.

“I have the pleasure to acquaint you that a very large supply of every sort of necessaries for the Hessian troops are arrived with their second division, shoes, shirts, and cloth, both white and blue, to repair their clothing.

“As the Waldeck regiment is upon a separate establishment in every respect to the Hessian troops, and independent of the command of General Heister, I beg the favour of knowing whether the orders I may have the honour of receiving from your Excellency from time to time will not include both apprehending that they will claim to be put exactly on the same footing. Lieut.-Colonel Hanxleden commanding the Waldeck regiment will acquaint me to-morrow what sums of money he wishes to have upon account until the establishment of the whole of the foreign troops may be settled up to the Christmas muster next.”

G. STUDHOLME, Major of Brigade, to MAJ.-GEN. MASSEY.

1776, November 6. Fort Edward, Windsor.—“Fort Edward stands on an advantageous eminence and was intended to command both Newport and the River St. Croix, but from the great distance, and the rapidity of the tide, which would facilitate vessels very much in passing by, it cannot entirely answer either of those purposes, but as a post to give protection to the inhabitants (in case of an invasion) it is an exceeding good one and is convenient to the principal avenues from the country. The great inconveniences of its situation are three hills to the westward within cannon shot, which command the fort and enfilade some of its defences, but this cannot be very material as the parapet is only three feet thick which plainly shews it was never intended to hold out against a regular siege, but when finished will prove a compleat defence against musquetry.

“The fort is a regular square with four bastions, whose capital measures about 200 feet; it stands upon the top of the hill which gives it a natural and gradued glacis of about 1800 feet. The ditch is 7 feet deep and 24 broad. The parapet is 7 feet high from the brim, but the banquet is not yet begun, and the want of it renders great part of the works useless. The curtains are 104 feet, the flanks 29, and the faces 90, and along the scarp there is a complete palisade.

“The fort contains barracks (when finished) that will lodge six officers and about 150 men, and hospital that with convenience will hold 26 patients; a powder magazine nearly finished which will contain above one hundred barrels, and litterage sufficient to store about a year's provision.

“The most material works now wanting for the defence of the fort is the finishing of the ditch, the sloping of the glacis, the clearing of the wall, and fixing the drawbridge and gate.”

P.S.—“I hope very soon that Major Batt will enable me to send you an exact report of Fort Cumberland.”

EDWARD WINSLOW to CAPTAIN MACKENZIE.

1776, November 13. New York.—“A report has been made of the quantity and quality of the goods in my care, by which you perceive that many of them, such as baizes, flannels, caps, mittens, and gloves, are calculated for this season, shoes (of which I have twelve large hogsheads) are not to be procured at any price, and are much wanted by the Army. I therefore conclude that it (sic) a matter of real importance that a distribution be made as soon as possible. I have repeatedly applied to Lord Percy to summon a meeting of the Board of General Officers, for this purpose. I dare not apply again. I have also conversed with all the gentlemen of the Board who are now in the city, but, as his Lordship declines calling a meeting, they will not concern themselves. Will not General Howe (in consideration of the inconveniences which attend assembling the General Officers at this time) give some orders relative to the issuing such goods as may be now wanted? I have all the returns by which the Board were regulated at Halifax, and shall immediately obey any directions which I may receive.

“The molasses and essence of spruce I have delivered to a Mr. Honfield who brews for the army, he contracts to deliver me such quantity of good beer as it will produce, on demand. This is the only method I could contrive to save the molasses, as many of the hogsheads (by frequent removals) were irreparably injured, and the shifting it into other casks, would have been attended with considerable expence and waste.

“In this and some other instances I have reluctantly proceeded without proper authority, but I flatter myself I shall not be censured, when it [is] considered that my motive is only to preserve those things which would otherwise be entirely lost.

“Mr. Bridgham (who will deliver you this) is one of the persons appointed at Halifax to inspect the cargo of the Renown, the other (Mr. Saltonstall) I dismissed at Staten Island, and paid him by order of Captain Balfour 5s. per day, which you afterwards reimbursed me. Mr. Bridgham was employed on the same terms, but has received nothing. His family is lately arrived from Halifax and he is in want of money. An order for his pay would much oblige him. Had it been in my power I would have advanced it without troubling you now. I am, &c.”

10 puncheons, quantity 1,000 gallons molasses. 1 cask, quantity 333lbs. essence of spruce. 7 hogsheads, quantity 7,000lbs. tobacco. 8,000 yards white baize. 4,000 flannel waistcoats. 7,000 pairs of mitts and gloves. 1 trunk, containing necessaries for making the waistcoats. 2,362 pairs of shoes. A ship came in yesterday or the day before with many other articles.

PRISONERS.

Narrative of Captain W. Home, Royal Fusiliers, of his treatment when prisoner. Not dated, but found with other papers about this date. On condition of being allowed to make choice of Reading in Pennsylvania for their residence he and others gave their parole. After remaining ten months at Reading, where they were frequently insulted, they were removed contrary to agreement to Lebanon, although it was previously known there was no accommodation for them in that place. The committee of that place wrote to Congress asking that they might be removed. On complaining of the insults and threats they received, the person who had charge of them answered that he was sorry for it, but durst not interfere lest he himself should be treated in the same manner. At last they were told they might be allowed choice of another place so long as it was not Reading or Lancaster. They replied to the effect that they had already been moved from the place of their choice and were determined neither to say nor sign anything until they were set down in a place where they could be accommodated and live like gentlemen. The person to whom this was addressed acknowledged that they were in the right. Being thus freed from the former parole their desire of taking active part in the service of their country made them attempt to make their escape. Their enemies, since that time, to vindicate themselves from the imputation of neglect, have thrown many illiberal and unjust reflections on them.

GENERAL HOWE to GENERAL WASHINGTON.

1776, December 5. New York.—“Sir, The persons mentioned in the inclosed list are sent in exchange for the officers and others against whom their names are placed, being of equal rank and station, altho' this partial mode of releasing a few at a time upon parole is by no means the mode of exchange which from your assurances I had a right to expect. The soldier has always a stronger plea for this justice than the officer, as his sufferings and wants from the nature of his situation must be felt in a higher degree, which I am sorry to own is too much the case with those in my possession from causes that cannot be removed.

“The repeated applications I have made on this head, and the indulgencies lately given to expedite an exchange as far as possible, need no comment. Humanity still urges me to one more, and that it is in favor of your sick and wounded, who, wanting accommodation, refreshments, and attendance, which the town or country in its present situation do not afford, or the surgeons of the King’s army can give, are objects of real compassion. At the same time give me leave to observe that every measure in my power has been taken to alleviate their sufferings, and shall be continued, until you have had a reasonable warning to provide more effectually for their relief. The consequences will of course be hurtful to every feeling mind, but necessity must justify the measure, it is, Sir, to you only that I can apply for a performance of the agreements you have entered into, and since your honour and humanity are equally concerned in this compliance, I shall on that account also be sorry to find my expectations disappointed.—With due respect, I am, Sir, your most obedient servant.”

MONSIEUR LORENTZ to SIR GEORGE OSBORN.

1776, December 12. New York.—“Sir, It is with the greatest pleasure and thankfulness that I remember me your kindness of procuring us the last warrant from the 4th Nov. for 15,000 pounds sterling to pay the subsistence money for our troops.

"I then believed our accounts would be settled before the end of the year; but many of our regiments being so very far from one another, and finding myself in want of the establishments of the Artillery General Staff Commissariat and Hospital, without knowing where they are to be had, there is not much hope that this affair will be finished this year.

"I paid the regiments that are gone away to the end of the year, and furnished all our Second Division the time since she arrived here, with money. Hence you may conclude, Sir, that the stock can't now be otherwise than very small. However, his Excellency, Lieut.-General de Heister has lately given orders to all our regiments that they should pay the duty to the soldiers every five days in ready money.

"Tis for that reason I see myself obliged to come to you, Sir, and beseech you, Sir, and beseech you that you may request his Excellency General Howe to grant us another temporary warrant of £30,000, considering that we have had only 45,000 pounds in all for our whole corps, and yet the Second Division has nothing received in account of her subsistence money. By doing us this favour you will get rid for a good while of the petitions that will be made to you for money every day.

"If you would be so kind to let me know, whether you think to let pass our troops muster at the end of this month, you would oblige by it very extraordinary.—Sir, &c."

LORD BARRINGTON to GENERAL HOWE.

1776, December 24. War Office.—Some doubts having arisen here on claims made by the Landgrave of Hesse Cassel relating to higher pay said to be due to the Chasseurs, etc., asks for intelligence to enable him to do justice if the claim is well founded. It is represented that the Chasseurs do not precisely answer to the Light Infantry in the British Service, but have always been considered as of a higher rank. Sends copy of Faucitt's letter on the subject. Asks what number of Anspessades there are among the Hessians and rate of their pay.

GEN. HOWE to GOVERNOR ARBUTHNOT.

1777, January 7. New York.—“The clothing sent out for the Corps which Governor Legge attempted to raise is the same as is designed for the Provincials in general, wherefore I request you will be so good as to acquaint M. G. Massey that the effective men of Goreham's may be provided out of this clothing, giving receipts for the same, and I should think it would be necessary to appoint some person to have it in particular charge and to keep a regular account of the issues for the satisfaction of Government.

“It is signified to me by the Lords of the Treasury that the Nova Scotia Volunteers should be subsisted in the same manner as McLean's and Goreham's.”

Copy. Vol. 29. No. 11. 1 page.

GEN. SIR WILLIAM HOWE to MAJ.-GEN. EYRE MASSEY.

1777, January 7. New York.—“The bat and forage money last granted to the troops here was intended as an extra gratuity to them, not only in consideration of their past fatigues in a campaign unusually long, but as they were likely to continue in some degree during the whole winter. If the liberty I have taken was to be extended to Halifax, the troops at St. Augustine and Pensacola might think themselves equally entitled, wherefore I cannot possibly grant the request of Major Souter, Captains McDonald and Ramsay.

“I must desire that you will by every opportunity send me returns of the troops under your command, always distinguishing their stations and including Governor Legge's corps equally with others. It is signified to me by the Lords of the Treasury that the men of this corps should be subsisted in the same manner as McLean's and Goreham's.

“The clothing that was sent out for them, and which I understand by Governor Arbutnot had arrived, will answer equally well for Goreham’s Corps, and I have wrote to the Governor on the subject.

“I am obliged to you for your care of Mr. Bunyan and if you find him a useful and deserving man I can have no objection to your continuing him in any post wherein he can be serviceable.”

MESSRS. MURE, SON & ATKINSON to JOSHUA LORING, JUNR.

1777, January 14. London.—They write to the General by this conveyance that he (Loring) will undertake in their names for any quantity of rum he may require. The ships will carry about 1,800 puncheons at each trip and they can make at least three trips a season. They will still add to them, because if not wanted to carry rum they may be loaded home with sugar. As they expect the General may call upon them for more than one-fourth of the whole supply they request him to engage in their names for whatever he shall require.

JOHN ROBINSON to GEN. SIR WILLIAM HOWE.

1777, January 14. Whitehall, Treasury Chambers.—Acknowledges letters. It is a singular satisfaction to their Lordships to hear that the supplies of provisions are ample and satisfactory except the defect of the bread and part of the flour. The number and particular mark of such packages should always be given and with a certified survey. As the Commissary at Corke has strongly and repeatedly certified to the Board the good quality and fitness of the bread it is apprehended these articles must have suffered on the voyage from the packages not being adequate and proper. Impossibility at that time of getting staves for casks.

This inconveniency is now in part remedied. As his Excellency's present situation enables him to carry on the bakery no more bread need now be sent. No provisions are to be sent but what are of the first quality and perfectly sound, and all risk (except danger and damage on the voyage) is to be at the hazard of the contractors. A fleet of transports will be sent out in the spring. Sends list of ships sailed since those of which advice has been received of arrival. It is probable owing to the long detention at Cork many ships may not reach Canada this year. Paper No. 2 contains list of the Canada victuallers and their cargoes of which no account has been received of arrival at Quebec. No. 3 is a copy of the orders sent to Halifax. General Massey is allowed to take out of the "Union" £12,000, part of the money on board. Captain Jacob's demand of 2 per cent. for carrying the money from Halifax to New York is not allowed any more than Captain Braithwaite's was. No. 4 contains an account of the four store-ships for Canada. If these ships come to New York he is to appropriate what is necessary of both stores and provisions. Perhaps he might find an opportunity of sending to Canada the camp equipage and regimental stores. Orders are given as per list No. 5 to provide camp equipage for 8,000 Provincials, and clothing for 3,000 more as per list No. 6. Mr. Chamier states he is purchasing salt, pork, flour and other articles. Their Lordships have no objection if this is by his Excellency's particular orders, but if the Commissary makes purchases to any large extent there will be a double provision and risk of waste. The contracts for rum are left to his judgment. Regrets failure of endeavours to furnish by Lt. Hawker fresh provisions and draught horses. Sends minute of the Board paper No. 7 as to the military chest. Mr. Apthorpe continues to draw bills without explaining whether for subsistence or extraordinaries, notwithstanding repeated directions to make such distinction. To dispose if possible at New York of the tar oil which Mr. Chamier finds useless.

1777, January 20. New York.—"I have the honour of your Excellency's letter of 30th August, 1776, giving a particular account of the situation of the province under your command in respect to the enemies of Government, who seem to pervade the whole continent.

"I have also received the fullest accounts from Mr. Stuart of the Indian nations and their dispositions. His influence with these people, added to your own strength, will, I hope, keep West Florida in quietness; and to give you the clearest idea of my conceptions on this head I have enclosed a copy of my letter to Mr. Stuart, and do refer you to the copy of another sent to Governor Tonym, which I have put under cover to Mr. Stuart, from both which your Excellency will collect my sentiments regarding the Floridas, and know upon what you are to build your security.

"My principal recommendation is, that a perfect good understanding may be supported between the different branches of power, and that the most effectual exertions may be made for the suppression of the enemies, as well as for the preservation of his Majesty's government.

"I am perfectly satisfied of your Excellency's zeal to promote those desirable ends, and have the honour to be, &c.

SIR GEORGE OSBORN TO CAPTAIN MACKENZIE.

1777, January 25. Rariton Landing.—Returns estimates sent him to sign. Has taken notice in the general estimate that the pay of the general officers and hospitals as well as the commissariat is not brought to account. The reason always has been that the Hessians have ever wished to set up a claim for an establishment of Hospital and Commissariat. Has no authority from the "Nottes concernant l'argent de levée" and the "Etats" laid before Parliament. Has no instructions concerning the artillery, which they wish to have paid equal to the British, for which purposes encloses a letter to Lord George Germain, to be sealed and forwarded if approved. P.S.—An estimate for the Waldeck Regiment ought to go home and be signed with those of the Hessians.

MONSR. LORENTZ to CAPTAIN MACKENZIE.

1777, February 2. New York.—Answer. The Hessian regiments at Rhode Island are provided with money sufficient to the end of this month. Six thousand seven hundred and sixty-seven pounds sterling were sent 12th January by the "Greyhound" frigate. Not a farthing should be paid by the general on account of this month or before, but if any is required next month 300 to 340 pounds sterling should be paid to each regiment, for which he will take receipts.

JOHN ROBINSON, Secy., to GEN. SIR WILLIAM HOWE.

1777, March 5. Treasury Chambers.—State of Lord North's health prevents him writing. "It gave Lord North the greatest satisfaction to hear from you that the army under your command are amply and comfortably provided for, and I am thoroughly persuaded that Lord North hath nothing more at heart than to contribute everything in his power to your and their enjoyment of every necessary. I have taken the liberty to explain this fully to Major Balfour, and permit me to add that nothing will give me greater pleasure than your signifying to me whereinsoever I can aid or be of any service.

"The account you give his Lordship that the rage of rebellion of late is considerably abated, and the belief you express that so many of the people are well affected and inclined to take the benefit of the proclamation was no less agreeable, for nothing whatever is more ardently the wish or could give higher satisfaction to Lord North than to see this war terminate with honour to this country and in a happy union with his parent State. Your successes have much promoted this desirable end, and his Lordship and your countrymen rested satisfied in your best endeavours to complete happily what you have so well begun. God grant that blessing; you will have the assistance of every exertion from this country with cheerfulness, but its means in men are not equal to its spirit or readiness to procure and pay for them. I am sorry that you will find this from your dispatches, but what can be done will be, and that all happiness and every success may attend you and Lord Howe is the prayer and wish of the nation, and of none more sincerely, believe me, than of, Sir &c."

LORD BARRINGTON to GEN. SIR WILLIAM HOWE.

1777, March 13. War Office.—Signifies the King's pleasure that enquiries should be made into the surrender of the garrisons of Chamblee and St. John's and a report sent to him (Barrington). Enquiry has been delayed until exchange of prisoners had taken place. Had the garrisons when released returned to Canada, Sir Guy Carleton would of course have received the King's instructions on this head, but they have become part of Howe's army. In case the garrison made prisoners at Ticonderoga join his troops he must also enquire into the loss of that fort.

SIR GEORGE OSBORN to CAPTAIN MACKENZIE.

1777, March 13. Rariton, near Brunswick.—“Sir, Overleaf I have the honour of copying for the General's inspection an answer from the Board of Treasury [see 1 November 1776,] which I received by the last packets concerning the pay of the Hessian troops. The only present difficulty therefore remaining I apprehend to be the pay of the Foreign Artillery, Hospital, and Commissariate. I wrote at Christmas to Lord Geo. Germain upon the subject; till the arrival of his answer I apprehend we must still issue a certain sum upon account for these purposes. With respect to the direct pay of the several regiments, Mr. Lorentz may now be able to make out a regular estimate for every muster including two months, and the foreign accounts may be brought into a narrow compass. If you will be so good as to see Mr. Lorentz upon this subject I shall esteem myself greatly obliged."

FRANCIS LEGGE, GOVERNOR of Nova Scotia, to LORD GEORGE GERMAIN.

Memorial. That in 1775 he received orders to raise a corps of 1000 men in Nova Scotia and Newfoundland. That his bills on the Treasury were protested. That later he received orders to limit the corps to 500. That only two companies have received pay since July last, and no clothing, arms, or accoutrements have arrived. Prays that the King's promise of pay, etc., be fulfilled, and their future duty be the defence of Nova Scotia.

JOHN GEORGE LORENTZ to CAPT. ROBERT MACKENZIE.

1777, March 28. New York.—Sends by bearer of this letter six packets with 986 Hessian letters directed to Mr. Buttmeister, agent at the Hague. Insists they be delivered unopened. Complains this has not always been done, and begs that all post offices in England be recommended to forbid their being opened. Sixth packet, which contains letters to the Landgrave, particularly requires care.

Copy. Vol. 1. No. 168. 1 page.

SIR GEORGE OSBORN to CAPT. MACKENZIE.

1777, March 30. Rariton, near Brunswick.—“Dear Sir, As I apprehend it has escaped your notice to procure from the Waldeck Regiment an estimate of their pay, such as was delivered in from the Hessians up to last Christmas, I beg leave to suggest to you, whether it will not be the shortest method to have the Waldeck estimate included with the Foreign Forces we expect, and make one for the Hessians to Midsummer, another of the other of the Foreign Troops.

“By the Treaty Great Britain is to pay the Landgrave five pounds for every dead man and the wounded and disabled in proportion. If you was to procure the General’s order for a return of dead and disabled before the opening of the campaign, and be so good as to forward it to me, I shall be much obliged, as well as to favour me with the notice when you apprehend another packet may sail for England.”

JOHN ROBINSON to GENL. SIR WILLIAM HOWE.

1777, April 8. Treasury Chambers.—Concerning Mr. Chamier's complaints of bad quality of bread and provisions. Mr. Gordon furnishes proofs that the damage, if any, proceeds from other causes than inherent bad quality. It is asserted that the cargoes when landed were left exposed to the weather on the wharfs—it is even stated that after the bread and flour had got wet it was sold and bought again by the Commissaries and served out to the troops. An immediate enquiry to be instituted.

Endorsed, Received by the Eagle 16th August.

N.D. [1777, May.]—Paper not signed nor dated, endorsed :— “Commerce up y^e Mississippi and an account of the interruption to trade by the Spaniards.” “A dispute hath lately broke forth between us and our neighbour the Spanish Governor of Orleans, which may be productive of some altercation between the two Courts; he having seized and confiscated all the vessels with their merchandize, and imprisoning the seamen then on board, which had a communication with the shore of the Island of Orleans, either by having spars placed from the shore to the vessels, or plank from the vessels to the shore; and some he seized who were at anchor at some distance. All this was momentary done, without any previous notice, on a supposition of their carrying on a contraband trade, a trade that hath for years past (on their paying a small share of the profits) been connived at, and even this Governor who hath not been long appointed to the Government, had connived at it, until this period. He had some time before given the fullest indulgence to the commerce of France, from the Islands, and elsewhere, to the prejudice of our trade; and in other respects was civil to our merchants and passengers, going into the territories of Spain. It is certain that this violent measure of the Spanish Governor at the time of profound peace with them has proceeded from some pique to individuals and not from any orders from his Court, for no vessel had arrived in the Mississippi, from any port in Spain, since the departure of our ships richly laden from the Mississippi to England; therefore if any such order had been given him prior to their departure, such order would have been carried into execution, as they had rich cargoes on board, and were in a similar situation with the other vessels, having usually the same communication with the shore. So well understood was the liberty of trading on board our own vessels in the river, that several of the principal merchants had converted their vessels into warehouses and were visited by the natives on all occasions. It sometimes happened that goods were seized, and even then great indulgence was shown to the person loosing his effects. This was the situation of our commerce before this period, and until an indulgence was given to the French, which I consider neither Spain or Great Britain had a right to tolerate if the spirit of the treaty is maintained; but I perceive that there is a strong inclination to injure the interest of our Country in the point of commerce for some time before this happened. Gunpowder was actually shipp'd and sent up the River Mississippi to be forwarded by the way of the Ohio to the Americans, and I am credibly informed it was also sent to Philadelphia by a vessel fitted out by one Pollock from New Orleans, to Welling and Morris, which vessel arrived safe. Many things clearly prove that these have an inclination to assist the Americans in their revolt. Gov. Chester sends a particular account to England by the packet and two gentlemen of his council are to go immediately to New Orleans to make particular enquiry into this affair, and to demand restitution of the vessels, &c."

LT.-COL. WILLIAM STELL to GEN. SIR WILLIAM HOWE.

1777, June 3. Pensacola.—The civil and military are on very good terms. Lt.-Colonel Dickson and himself agree in every sentiment. Sends list of corps, &c. [the 16th and two battalions of the Royal Artillery].

“I am now to lay before your Excellency a transaction that happened about the middle of April at New Orleans, the armed sloop ‘West Florida,’ commanded by Lieut. Burdon, sent from Jamaica by Admiral Gayton for the service of the lakes and in particular for the defence of that part of the province, having seized some small vessels with wine, tobacco, &c. on board. Upon this intelligence the Spanish Governor was so offended that on pretence of our having interrupted the usual intercourse and hospitality which he alledges he wished to be kept up between the two provinces, and an infringement of the free navigation of the lakes to Spanish subjects, directly sent up and down the River Mississippi, and seized all the English vessels within his reach, it is said to the value of near fifteen thousand pounds sterling, and next morning published a proclamation, copy of which I enclose for your Excellency’s perusal. This hasty proceeding, it is supposed, the Governor of New Orleans would have been glad it had not happened, as he has since relaxed from that severity first announced by the proclamation, but it seems by the Spanish law there is no withdrawing the prosecution after certain forms are gone through, the Governor has given up his own share of the seizures.

“A few days after this Capt. Loyd in his Majesty’s sloop of war ‘Attalanta’ arrived in the River Mississippi and forthwith demanded a release of the ships, cargoes and men seized, which the Governor refused, acquainting him by letter that it was not in his power as they had been regularly condemned by the Spanish laws for being on the contraband trade. The material points in dispute are two. First, whether he has a right to seize vessels and cargo afloat, should it be proved they had landed any part of their cargo. Second, whether they have a right to seize or even search vessels on the river upon suspicion. These two points are looked upon so essential for this province that Governor Chester with the advice of his council has taken the resolution to send in a few days two gentlemen of that Board to Orleans, with a long letter on the subject. These gentlemen are to enquire minutely into everything that has happened and endeavour to settle these two points if possible.”

BRIG.-GEN. AUGUSTINE PREVOST to GEN. SIR WILLIAM HOWE.

1777, June 14. St. Augustine.—Will attend to directions as to his conduct with the Governors of East and West Florida and Mr. Stuart. Sends copy of his letter to Mr. Stuart. Difficulty of penetrating into West Florida a reason for its safety. "This province can in the space of a few days be invaded either by land or by water by an army well supplied with artillery, provisions, &c., but nothing of that kind can be expected at Pensacola." The threatened invasion of the rebels has been baffled and they are now returned into Georgia. Little dependence can be placed on the Indians; is afraid the activity of the emissaries of the rebels amongst them has had too much influence. Suggests the raising of a troop of 50 good Rangers on horseback, who, being armed with their rifles or carabines and a good sword fixed to the saddle, could occasionally either engage on horseback or on foot. The keeping of horses is no material expense. Grass is to be had at all times, and a little corn when they are on duty would be sufficient in case of an engagement. Being kept as a reserve they would occasionally assist where necessary or pursue with great advantage. Major Prevost grieves much that he had not a small party of that kind with him in his last skirmish with the rebel horse, as few of them could have escaped, having a deep river to pass after they were defeated. The Rangers and Indians who were with him at the time not being looked upon as being under the major's command, when urged by him to pursue said their horses were too much fatigued. The Indians, entirely intent on plunder, thought of nothing but securing all the horses they could find and the King's troops, many of them barefoot and greatly fatigued and overcome with excessive heat, could not attempt to come up with people who fled with all possible swiftness and were on horseback. Expense of barracks and fortifications. News of capture of a brig bound to this place with Indian goods.

JOHN ROBINSON to [GEN. SIR WILLIAM HOWE].

1777, August 6. Treasury Chambers.—Sends papers relative to the rum contract. “By the letter from Messrs. Mure, Son & Atkinson it is stated that they were attempting the insurances at 12 guineas per cent. premium, they have since informed the Board that they have insured a part of the rum contracted for by you at that premium, but that this is only the risk of the cargo thither, and not on the return of the ship, which brings another risque and will occasion a further expence in insurance for the voyage. This account together with the papers will assist your Excellency in forming your judgement on the matter, and my Lords desire that you will thereon agree with the agent for the contractors at such price as shall appear to you to be reasonable according to the circumstances existing at the time of making the contract and according to the current rate of exchange, and pay them for the same agreeably to the minutes instead of taking cash from the military chest, they have agreed to accept of bills for payment from the agent of the remitters at the current rate of exchange.”

CAPTAIN ROBERT MACKENZIE to [ALFRED] CLIFTON.

1777, October 7. Head-quarters, near German Town.—“Sir, I had the honor to lay your queries before the Commander-in-Chief, and to receive his sentiments respecting your proposal of raising a corps.

“It is understood that this corps is to consist of Roman Catholics only on a presumption that they will prefer serving under an officer to whom they are naturally attached, and not interfere with other levies; the Commander-in-Chief therefore means that in raising it you do engage none others but of the Roman Catholick Community. I am also directed to desire you will be pleased previous to your entering upon this business, to make known the number of men you think upon a moderate computation can be engaged for immediate service, and agreeable thereto to recommend a captain, lieutenant and ensign, for every fifty-seven men, which, including non-commissioned officers, will compose a company.

“The engagement of the men must be for two years, or during the continuance of the rebellion in North America, if required, they will receive pay, provisions, arms, and cloathing as soon as it can be got round from New York, in the same manner as his Majesty’s regular troops, of course they are under the same order and discipline. The non-commissioned officers and men will be intituled to lands agreeable to the King’s proclamation at the close of the last war.

“The men are to be approved by an officer who will be appointed for that purpose, and will commence pay from the date of their attestations, the officers also will receive pay according to their success in recruiting, and the full proportion of the different ranks is as follows:—A captain, thirty men; a lieutenant, fifteen men; an ensign, twelve men. A bounty of five dollars in specie will be given to every man approved of. I hope the above will satisfy all your doubts.”

CAPTAIN ROBERT MACKENZIE to LT.-COL. GEORGE CLARK, Barrack Master General.

1777, October 8. Head Quarters, near German Town.—“Sir, A complaint has been preferred by Dr. Catherwood, Surgeon of the Hospital at St. Augustine, to Dr. Adair, Director-General, and transmitted from the War Office to the Commander-in-Chief, that on account of the orders given by the Barrack Master General to the Barrack Master at St. Augustine, ‘not to interfere with the Hospitals,’ he could not be accommodated with several trifling articles, such as spades, shovels, picks, &c., which might promote the cleanliness of the wards or rooms allotted for the sick men. I am directed by the Commander-in-Chief to desire you will give such orders on this head as may remedy the inconvenience above stated, and in the meantime, it will be requested of Brigadier-General Prevost to see that the Hospital does not suffer for want of those things, untill your instructions may arrive."

LT.-GEN. JOHN BURGoyNE TO GEN. SIR WM. HOWE.

1777, October 20.—Separate and private. Conscious that the precision of my orders both in the letter and spirit left me no latitude in abandoning my communications on the 13th of September, that the corps of troops I commanded was in the interest of government a corps to be hazarded for the great purpose of forcing a junction, or at least of making a powerful diversion in your favor, by employing the forces that otherwise would join General Washington, convinced that I can justify myself to my profession and to the world upon these points, I am in no pain concerning them. What I feel upon the unfortunate issue of my efforts is more easily to be conceived than described. For your private consideration, I have to add to the circumstances of my public letter, others of a very melancholy nature, viz.: a scandalous defection of the Indians, a desertion or timidity worse than desertion of provincials and Canadians, a very few individuals excepted, and a strong disposition in the Germans to be prisoners rather than endure hard blows. Had all my troops been British, I, in my conscience, believe I should have made my way through Mr. Gates's army. At Saratoga, destitute as I was of provisions I was not without resources to have opened a passage to Ticonderoga had my whole army been in a temper for hardy enterprise—even British troops declined. The utmost that the officers gave me to hope from the complection of their men, was, that they would fight, upon that ground if attacked. The Germans fell short of that—it was notorious that they mean to have given one fire and then have clubbed their arms.

In short, my army would not fight and could not subsist; and under those circumstances I have made a treaty that saves them to the State for the next campaign, either by enabling the Mother Country to send forth the force at home in proportion to what she will receive from their return, or by your retaining them here, negotiating an exchange.

Should you resolve upon the former measure, I trust you will order transports and convoy to Boston without delay. Should you be enabled and disposed to execute the latter, I confide in your justice and friendship not to leave me unexchanged, altho' in all events, I think my honor and my life in great measure depends upon my return to England for some months. I think it not impossible that the persons who are most bound to vindicate me will be the first to attack my reputation, those for whom I cheerfully undertook a forlorn hope, and who would have crushed me had I remained inactive, I expect to find my accusers for rashness. These men know I have it in my power to justify my conduct, and it is a duty to myself and my profession not to be absent when occasion calls upon me to produce that justification. As to my life, I am free from wounds, tho' my person you may imagine has not been spared, but my mind is broken down by agitation and my body with fatigue, and both are very unfit to endure the rigour of an American winter, at least in a northern part.

Gates has offered to send a ship of truce to me to England to be commanded by Brig.-Gen. Glover, who it seems is a seaman. I have told him I could give no answer without consulting you.

Upon the whole, my dear Sir, I request you to consider thoroughly my situation; let no personal inclination of mine interfere with what you think right for the King's service. I have sacrificed much, I am ready to sacrifice all to it, honour excepted. I think it necessary to give my own account of my own conduct at home, and to precede the troops if it can be done with propriety. Be you my judge as my superior and my friend, and decide either upon Gates's proposal, or to send a frigate to receive me or direct my stay.

It is not a time to talk of private calamities. I have lost in Frazer a zealous friend, another, and of a most uncommon kind, in my aide-de-camp, Francis Clarke. Phillips still remains to me, and I beg to recommend him and his application to your notice as one of the most gallant and able officers now in being, and his exchange is most desirable.

All particulars relating to the proceedings between the 13th September and 13 October shall be sent you at large by Lord Petersham's conveyance.

The treatment of the officers and troops in general is of so extraordinary a nature in point of generosity that I must suppose it proceeds from some other motive than mere kindness of disposition.

The terms obtained first surprizes me. The conduct of Gates in showing me his Army afterwards surprized me more. I have now as many witnesses as I have men in the Army to the number of the enemy.

I know not upon what I am to congratulate you, no intelligence having been received by me, but my hopes and wishes are as ever ardent for your glory and happiness.—I am, with the utmost respect and affection, &c.

P.S.—Forgive all confusion and inaccuracy. Upon reconsideration I am inclined to think Gates's proposal of a ship unacceptable; and in that case shall attend your decision for a frigate to precede or to accompany the troops, unless exchanged and enabled to serve under you to the southward during the winter.

LIEUT.-GEN. JOHN BURGoyNE to GEN. SIR WM. HOWE.

1777, October 25. Albany.—I had the honour to write to your Excellency by Lt. Vallancy five days ago and to transmit a copy of the Convention which the disappointments and distresses of the time; an investment of near seventeen thousand men; and impending famine, compelled me to conclude with Mr. Gates.

I have directed Lord Petersham, who is proceeding to England, to leave a copy of my public dispatch with Sir Henry Clinton in order to its being transmitted to you and a duplicate of the Convention. You will see by the dispatch a detail of all events, and I trust the peremptory orders, under which I acted considered, you will construe what has happened not to be faults, but honourable misfortunes.

Gates' army, upon a nearer inspection, might finally be called twenty thousand men, upon a paper state, but rating them as we should our own for action, the solid, effective, well-armed rank and file, amounted the Day of Convention to nearer seventeen than sixteen thousand, a considerable part of them it is said were Militia, but they were Militia of the Green Mountains and Hampshire Grants, which I am sorry to have occasion to say are equal to any of their troops.

It is now demonstrable that even a relief from famine would not have effected my junction with Sir H. Clinton. His strength and his situation were not such as to oblige Gates to desist, and my force was much inadequate, and the country much too strong to cut my way thro' the whole. If my proceedings are considered in one point of view, that of having kept in employment till the 17th October a force that joined with Mr. Washington in operation against your Excellency, might have given him superiority and decided the fate of ye war, my fall is not to be regretted, it has been a just and defensible sacrifice to the great objects of the public service; but if ministers blame me for this devotion of myself and troops upon the principle, and spirit, and letter of their measures and their orders, and such ingratitude in Cabinets is not uncommon—I am called upon by the acutest feelings of personal honour to exhibit my defence to my profession and to the world.

I therefore address myself to you, Sir, as an officer best able to judge of my anxieties by possessing the nicest sensations of professional honour in your own breast, and I further address you as my friend, to furnish me with means to effect my passage to England for these great personal purposes. I put my health as an inferior consideration tho' I really believe in my present state of mind and body an American winter, at best in the Boston climate, would finish everything with me,—should your mind go with the propriety of my application, I likewise entreat your written approbation of it. Should the season of ye year make the entrance of Boston difficult for a separate frigate for me, or for transports for the whole or any part of the troops, should you determine upon their return, I conceive an objection would not be made to the embarkation taking place at Rhode Island but that negotiation must be between your excellency and Mr. Washington. I mentioned in my letter by Vallancey the proposal of Gates for a flag of truce to carry me home, and I requested your sentiments with great doubts of my own. I am inclined still to look upon it as the last resource, and rest in confidence that if you approve of the measure Lord Howe will dispatch a frigate for me, as expeditiously as may be, my very profound and very sincere respects attend his Lordship. I would have writ to him personally had I known where he was.

I set out immediately for Boston, where I shall spare no pains for the arrangement and convenience of the troops till your orders arrive.

Mr. Gates has consented to some exchanges, by which I have recovered all the captains who were prisoners of war and some who were prisoners of Convention. I enclose a copy, which I hope you will approve.

There are many vacancies of commissions. I cannot digest the recommendations in absence from the army, but shall send them in an open letter by an express from Boston. I dare say that measure will not be objected to by the enemy. I hold the army to be now under your Excellency's orders, and it is for you to decide upon the promotions.

I am with the truest respect and attachment, &c.

P.S.—Should Vallancey be set out I hope for a short answer to this letter by a drum to pass it unsealed thro' the enemy. I beg permission to recommend to your Excellency's protection the case of Major Ackland, who was first wounded at Hubberton, and now languishes under his wounds received the 7th inst. and prisoner here. His behaviour has been that of a high-spirited soldier of fortune, his rank and estate you know put him upon a high class as a patriot volunteer. Mr. Gates has got Ethan Allen in his head and will exchange no field officer unless he is given up. Any exchange for Ackland therefore must be negotiated with Mr. Washington. If your Excellency should have reasons against that measure Ackland and myself will be much obliged to you if you would procure him leave to return to England upon his parole, whenever he shall be in a state to undertake the journey.

J. GALLOWAY to CAPTAIN ROBERT MACKENSIE (sic).

1777, October 25. Philadelphia.—“Dear Sir, Did not indisposition prevent I should have done myself the pleasure to have called on you as well to enquire after your health as on the following business.

“A few days after coming to the city with Lord Cornwallis he requested that I would undertake to administer the oaths of allegiance to such persons as should come in under Sir William Howe’s late proclamation. But as it was impossible for me to comply with his Lordship’s request and perform a variety of other matters which seemed to be expected of me, he desired I would appoint some person to do it under my superintendance. I accordingly appointed Mr. Enoch Story who has conducted himself much to my satisfaction in that and many other things desired to be done by His Excellency Sir William Howe.

“It will now naturally suggest itself to you that it will be necessary to give Mr. Story a commission authorizing him to administer such qualifications and that to give solemnity as well as validity to the oaths administered. Indeed without it all that is done will be void. The commission must bear date the 29th of September the day before he entered upon the business.

“You will be so obliging as to communicate this business to his Excellency, that such order may be taken in it, as he shall think proper.

“I am informed by Mr. Story that such numbers crowd in upon him to-day as will render it impossible to qualifie them all. In which case, I should be glad to know, whether it will not be proper to continue to administer the oaths to all such as shall apply, for a day or two, notwithstanding the expiration of the proclamation.—I am, &c.”

ANDREW ELLIOT TO GENERAL SIR WILLIAM HOWE.

1777, October 27. Superintendent's Office, New York.—
"Afraid of an ill-timed acknowledgment I have delayed offering your Excellency my warmest thanks for the appointment with which you was pleased to honor me.

"I have the honor to inclose copies of the method pursued and forms used in the execution of the Superintendent's duty, if anything has been neglected or done contrary to your Excellency's wish and intention, I shall immediately on receiving your orders, obey them.

"The returns are delivered to Sir Henry Clinton agreeable to instructions.

"As soon as the embargo is taken off every merchant ship in this port will be crowding to Philadelphia. If your Excellency wishes to prevent this, I must beg to be favored with your orders as soon as possible, the season of the year making it necessary for the supplies wanted to go directly for Philadelphia. Should your Excellency chuse to limit the number of vessells it will be necessary to send licences or for Sir Henry Clinton to grant them for the limited number. If there are any articles you would not chuse to have carried to Philadelphia, when your pleasure is known care shall be taken to prevent their being exported.

"To avoid as much as possible intruding on Your Excellency's time, I have wrote to Mr. Strachy on the subject of trade, requesting him to lay before you at a proper time what he may judge worthy your attention."

BRIG.-GEN. AUGUSTINE PREVOST to SIR WILLIAM HOWE.

1777, November 1. St. Augustine.—Acknowledges letter, recruits, Indian presents and camp equipage by Capt. Chinnery of the "Daphne." "What I wrote to Mr. Superintendent Stuart was in no manner whatever as orders and directions to act contrary to his own opinion. I meant to urge his activity for the protection of the Cherokees, who were threatened with destruction for their attachment to the royal cause. I am sorry to hear that his agents amongst the Creeks have been obliged to fly to Pensacola, as the activity of one Galphin and his interest in some of the towns, has raised a party amongst them which threatened their lives and robbed them of great part of their effects. I beg leave to mention that nothing seems more conducive to retain the Indians in the interest of government than the confidence they have that in case of an attack made on them, or even the appearance of it, steps will be taken to defeat the attempt by making an immediate diversion on the lower and nearest settlements. I have desired Mr. Stuart to give them that assurance. At the same time it is my duty to represent the want of most necessary preparations for such an attack, that the money mentioned by Captain Mackenzie to be sent by the 'Daphne' has not been sent, that there are no pack saddles and but few pack horses to be had, that the difficulties of sending troops by water for want of proper vessels, and naval force rendered both precarious and difficult. However every thing that can be done for their protection will not be neglected as far as lays in my power to forward it.

“Governor Tonyn having represented to the Ministry the necessity to raise some Rangers has received approbation to that measure and draws upon the Treasury for their pay; they amount to about one hundred and thirty, some of them are now stationed on St. Mary’s River, the rest wherever they please to go, they have a lieut.-colonel, a major, four captains, four lieutenants, one surgeon, and one mate, but are under no kind of regulation or restriction; they receive cloathing, one shilling per day and provisions, and are allowed what they plunder. If a troop such as I took the liberty of mentioning in a former letter had been raised, it would be of more effectual service than double the number that are now in pay on such a footing.”

J. MONEY, acting as Qr.-Master-Genl. to Gen. Burgoyne's army, to GEN. SIR WM. HOWE.

1777, November 4. Hartford.—“Since I have been a prisoner and on my parole at this place, several applications have been made to me by the prisoners cantoned at the farm houses in this neighbourhood for cloaths, shoes, &c., I think it my duty to inform you of it, as their distress will be great if they have no supply before winter, particularly those belonging to Gen. Burgoyne's army that were taken previous to the Convention. Many of them have no coats and very few blankets; here are also many sailors taken on Hudson's river, destitute of cloathing, &c.

“I need not perhaps inform your Excellency that the officers taken at Stillwater, the 7th of October, are not comprehended in the Convention for the Northern Army. We should be glad to be in the first exchange of prisoners that takes place, if it does not interfere with any arrangement your Excellency has made.”

GENERAL SIR WILLIAM HOWE to GENERAL WASHINGTON.

1777, November 6. Philadelphia.—“I have repeatedly demanded of you a releasement of prisoners equivalent to those you have received. . . . The officers I have already permitted to return to their homes on account of some peculiarity in their situations, and other indulgences, needless to mention, must sufficiently have evinced my desire to relieve the whole; and, when this previous point before mentioned is adjusted by our respective Commissaries, I shall readily agree to make the exchange as general as possible, and to the return of all such officers and men as may afterwards remain unexchanged on either side, under obvious and reasonable conditions. Those at present prisoners with me are ready to be delivered on the shortest notice, and it rests solely with you to justify me in doing it.” Asks returns of prisoners and their situation that their wants may be supplied. Complains of Mr. Boudinot’s (American Commissary) inattention. “I am also to call upon you to redress the grievances of several among them, who I am well informed are most injuriously and unjustifiably loaded with irons.” (Printed in Sparks’s Washington, V. 518.)

ELIAS BOUDINOT, Commissary General of Prisoners, to the COMMISSARY of PRISONERS in the British Army in Philadelphia.

1777, November 12. Camp.—Hessian prisoners in New Jersey require clothes and provisions. Complaints have been received by Washington that his men who were made prisoners are insufficiently fed, while full supplies are granted to British prisoners. Fears prisoners sent to Massachusetts Bay to be embarked for Europe will suffer from want of flour, and would wish passports for vessels to go from Maryland or Virginia to Boston with a load. Would have made the application sooner, but has been long absent from camp.

GENERAL WASHINGTON to GENERAL SIR WILLIAM HOWE.

1777, November 14. Head Quarters.—"I am sorry to find, by the tenor of your letter of the 6th instant, that we still unhappily differ in our ideas of those just and reasonable terms upon which a general exchange of prisoners might take place . . . I am induced to accede to your proposition . . . that the officers, who are prisoners of war, on both sides should be released" on parole and will await his answer. But thinks exchange the more eligible mode. Asks some explanations. Encloses paper with regard to the charge against Mr. Boudinot. Asks particulars of any cases of persons injuriously loaded with irons. Counter grievances of treatment of American prisoners. Report of inhumanity of Mr. Cunningham, provost martial, etc. (Printed in Sparks's Washington, V. 147.)

O. FOWLES and other American Officers to GENERAL SIR WILLIAM HOWE.

1777, November 17. State House, Philadelphia.—Memorial in answer to his message. State their complaints:—that though sometimes granted, the privilege of walking in the enclosed yard adjoining the House is frequently denied. That it is with great difficulty wives, relations or friends can see them. That though they cannot justly complain of the quality of provisions the deficiency is great, the sick are allowed to remain too long and money does not reach them. Mention that the officers of the Delaware frigate were confined in a small room without water or provisions.

2 copies. Vol. 3. Nos. 77 and 88. 5 pages each.

GENERAL SIR WILLIAM HOWE to ANDREW ELLIOT.

1777, November 18. Philadelphia.—Approves arrangements. Necessity for the embargo ceasing. Application is to be made to Sir Henry Clinton and the Commodore that the port of New York be made open. Rhode Island should depend on New York for its supplies.

GENERAL SIR WILLIAM HOWE to O. FOWLES.

1777, November 24. Philadelphia.—Answer that the officers were deprived of liberty of walking in the yard to prevent a second escape, but if the principal officers will be responsible for the security of the lower class every proper indulgence will be allowed. That the same allowance of provisions was made as is issued to British officers when on board transports, if insufficient they were at full liberty to purchase more. It is found that money sent to them was not sealed and may have been purloined. As to the treatment complained of by the officers of the "Delaware" it is entirely new to him, but is informed there was no suffering, as the prisoners were supplied by the inhabitants.

LT.-GEN. BURGOYNE to GEN. SIR WILLIAM HOWE.

1777, November 26.—In consequence of his sentiments relative to the difficulty of the transports making the port of Boston at this advanced season, has applied to Genl. Washington for his consent or that of Congress to embark the troops at Rhode Island or some port in the Sound. Can hardly conceive any objections, but should any arise and the troops be obliged to wait the passage of the transports to Boston, has requested passports for himself and suite to embark on a separate frigate at Rhode Island, both his business and health requiring his return to England. Submits with great earnestness a list of recommendations to the vacant commissions of this army. An addition to the letter explains that the rule followed as to lieutenantancies has been to recommend two in each regiment to regimental succession where the ensigns have deserved it, and afterwards to consider the eldest ensigns of the army and officers who have particularly distinguished themselves, among the latter of which is classed Mr. Cox of the Artillery. The serjeant-majors are recommended for ensigncies upon his personal observation of distinguished conduct before the enemy. Lord Balcarres is in point of seniority the 2nd Major of the army, Major Irvyn of the 47th is the eldest, but Lord Balcarres commanded the Light Infantry thro' the whole campaign with great distinction, after the wound of Brigr. Frazer in the action of the 7th October, the command of the whole advanced corps devolved to his Lordship, and his gallant defence of the post which covered the right flank of the camp, and which was stormed with great impetuosity, saved the army. Capt. Lt. Scott was promised a company for voluntarily undertaking a difficult and dangerous piece of service.

GEN. SIR WM. HOWE TO GENERAL WASHINGTON.

1777, November 26. Philadelphia.—Will never agree to a partial exchange of prisoners till he (Gen. Washington) has on his part fulfilled the cartel agreed on. It rests with him whether an exchange takes place or not, and he is therefore responsible for the inconvenience which the officers and men on both sides are put to. The provisions issued to prisoners on board men-of-war or transports is uniformly the same as that issued to British troops. Will allow a commissary with supplies for the prisoners at Philadelphia and expects in return passports for persons to carry supplies to the British prisoners, &c., &c. (Printed in Sparks's Washington, V. 519.)

MAJ.-GEN. EYRE MASSEY to GEN. SIR WILLIAM HOWE.

1777, November 26. Halifax.—Major Small having set out with a detachment to St. Johns River to meet the garrison of Fort Cumberland and to proceed to Machias and destroy that nest of pirates and afterwards to go to the Eastern Coast of New England towards Gouldsbury to cause an alarm in favour of Gen. Burgoyne, and as he failed in that expedition, sends him to explain the reason. Sir George Collier was the cause of the failure, which could not have happened had he (Sir George) told his intentions. Highly approves the Major's corps. He carries proceedings of court-martial against Lieut.-Col. Goreham and Major Batt. Does not like the people or place one bit better than he did.

GEN. SIR WILLIAM HOWE to LIEUT.-COL. JOSEPH GORHAM.

1777, November 27. Philadelphia.—Acknowledges letters of 6 June. Promotions made accordingly. "The orders you have given for cloathing from England must be considered as an act of your own, having received no powers from me for so doing. The cloathing sent out for Governor Legge's corps was deemed, upon its reduction, sufficient to supply both for this year, and Major-General Massey has my orders on that head. For this reason you may conclude I cannot furnish you with money to make good your engagements to Alderman Harley."

Copy. Vol. 29. No. 26. 1 page.

GEN. SIR WILLIAM HOWE to MAJ.-GEN. EYRE MASSEY.

1777, November 27. Philadelphia.—Hopes the clothing sent for Legge's corps will be sufficient for it and Goreham's. Asks an exact return of the issues. Application made by Goreham for his off-reckonings is not admissible.

LORD BARRINGTON to GEN. SIR WILLIAM HOWE.

1777, November 28. War Office.—Sends memorial of Ross and Gray with a copy of a letter from Major Gordon of the 26th respecting a sum of £348 6s. said to have been paid for officers' tents. Asks that enquiry be made. Also transmits a memorial of the officers of eight companies in the 14th. Desires information. Sends further the accounts of debts of sundry recruits embarked for the 8th regt. in Canada but sent from Montserrat to New York and incorporated into his (Howe's) army. As these debts were intended to be discharged by stoppages out of the subsistence of the men directions are to be given to the regimental paymasters for that purpose.

GENERAL WASHINGTON to GENERAL SIR WILLIAM HOWE.

1777, November 28. Headquarters.—Accedes to his proposition and has directed measures to be taken for releasing all the British officers "upon the condition you mention." "At the same time I wish that a more extensive relief had been agreeable to you." Mr. Boudinot sent to examine into state and wants of the prisoners at Philadelphia. Passports shall be granted for Commissaries. "When Major Stockton was first captured, I believe that he, and one or two officers taken with him, suffered the treatment which you mention. This was without my privity or consent. As soon as I was apprized of it, relief was ordered. But surely this event, which happened so long ago, will not authorize the charges in your letter of the 6th. In a word, I shall be happy, as I ever have been, to render the situation of all prisoners in my hands as comfortable as I can, and nothing will induce me to depart from this rule, but a contrary line of conduct to those in your possession. Captivity of itself is sufficiently grievous, and it is cruel to add to its distresses." (Printed in Sparks's Washington, V. 175.)

GEN. SIR WILLIAM HOWE to JOHN ROBINSON.

1777, November 30. Philadelphia.—Sends the Commissary General's report on the rum contract. Declines the determination of a point so apparently out of his power. Hopes the interests of Messrs. Mure will be adjusted at home on equitable terms. "I beg leave to mention a circumstance for their Lordship's information, relative to the two Provincial Corps first raised in America after the commencement of the present rebellion, viz: The Royal Highland Emigrants and Royal Fencible Americans, commanded by Lieut.-Cols. McLean and Goreham.

“As their Lordships thought proper to make provision for the clothing of the provincial troops, it was not my intention that any of those corps should have connections with off reckonings, or be supplied otherwise than from the King’s stores.

“Lieut.-Col. McLean’s corps being a national one, and raised during the command of General Gage, the Lieut.-Col. ordered out his clothing from Britain, and in consequence of an order from the Treasury to Sir Guy Carleton, he received off reckonings to the 11th of June 1776, inclusive, by my warrant dated the 31st December 1776; the second battalion of the corps was commissioned by me, and separated from the first under the command of Major John Small, who, by pursuing the same measures, may very probably make the same demand.

“Lieut.-Col. Goreham from this precedent has, I understand, commissioned his clothing from Alderman Harley, which was expected out this autumn to the 24th June 1776. I ordered payment for all the clothing bought for this corps; for the present year, the clothing sent out for Governor Legge’s proposed regiment to Halifax was deemed sufficient for both; and it was my intention to have provided for the next from the stores sent out for this purpose; however, I understand Lieut.-Col. Goreham has undertaken to provide for himself, wherefore I should be pleased to have their Lordships’ directions, whether they would chuse the off reckonings to be allowed to those corps upon the proper certificates, or that the original cost of the clothing so ordered, should be paid on account of Government.”

Enclosure:—

Intelligence received from France.

As soon as it was known that General Howe would proceed for Philadelphia the chief supporters of the rebellion withdrew and called in their agents who had been employed in different provinces, who are to remain in Philadelphia pretending to be excellent friends to Government; they are to give intelligence as a Coup de Main is to be attempted on Philadelphia and New York at the same time as soon as the frost sets in, if Burgoyne's army could be beat back, which they had no doubt of accomplishing. Alas! it is worse than that. Willin and Morris, of Philadelphia, who have been the chief agents for establishing correspondencies for arms, ammunition, &c., all over Europe, and in the Dutch and French Islands, have called to Philadelphia Sam. Inglis and Marshall from Virginia, who have been considerable buyers of tobacco for the Congress under Willin and Morris; these with several others are to remain in that city, the first a Philadelphian, the last a Scotchman. The pay given those people is high beyond conception. I here find they have a number of Americans, English, Scotch and Irish, as well as two or three foreigners; my friend says they don't mind destroying the two cities, but would be glad to burn them.

GEN. SIR WILLIAM HOWE to LT.-GEN. BURGOYNE.

1777, December 19. Philadelphia.—“I have received the Honor of your Letter of the 26th Novr. with several Enclosures by a Flag of Truce.

“Flattering myself you will obtain Liberty for the Embarkation of the Troops at Rhode Island, and that you will have received my Letter from hence by the Convoy to the Transports, I am only to repeat my Wishes for your speedy Removal to England, either at the Time the Troops embark, or in a separate Frigate, if you should be permitted to carry them to Rhode Island; but in Case of Refusal to that Proposition, you will be so good to give the necessary directions to General Phillips (to whom I write by this Opportunity) to desire he will wait to return to England with them.

“His Request to me is to go to Canada to settle some Accounts there; but as it is requisite a General Officer should go home with the Troops, I must beg he will not think of Canada before that Service is accomplished. The Season is now too far advanced for his thinking of such a Journey this Winter, and he will be as early there from England in the Spring as he can possibly be from New York, even if he got permission to take York in his Way to Canada.

“I return herewith a List of Promotions with the Commissions which are given according to your Recommendations, excepting only Lieut. Geo. Foster of the Marines, which from a late Letter from the Secretary of State respecting the two Services, I am informed the King considers them as separate, and does not approve of their coming into the Army. I have therefore given the 2^d Lieutenancy of the 21st, vice Turnbull, to Mr. Gordon from the half-pay, who has been very strongly recommended to me, which I hope you will approve and believe, that I shall ever be happy to pay the most entire Obedience to your Commands."

P.S.—Finding the Commissions cannot be completed in time for this Conveyance, they will be sent to the respective Agents in England.

GEN. SIR WM. HOWE to GEN. WASHINGTON.

1777, December 21. Philadelphia.—Awaits promised list of prisoners. "I hope you will excuse my compliance with your request of the 14th inst. for granting passports to vessels carrying provisions and fuel for the troops under the articles of the convention, conceiving it would not be possible to prevent the passports from being improperly used, and being hopeful that the troops may be permitted to embark at Rhode Island, agreeably to Gen. Burgoyne's request, which will make such provision unnecessary. The transports designed for that service sailed from hence some time ago. In consequence of a former letter from you, a vessel was ordered to be laden at New York, and to proceed with flour to Boston for the troops. This want being supplied, I trust that fuel may be procured without any great inconvenience, or a necessity for passports from me, even though the troops should not embark so soon as I expect." MAJ.-GEN. EYRE MASSEY to GENERAL SIR WILLIAM HOWE.

1778, January 2. Halifax.—“The 22^d November we received here the disagreeable news from Quebec, of General Burgoyne’s misfortune: soon after the Lieutenant Governor and Council sat, and wrote me a letter to apply for the removal of the Rebel Prisoners.

“I wrote to Sir George Collier to inform him, as it was reported that General Burgoyne’s Army were brought Prisoners to Boston: I gave it as my opinion; the sooner the Prisoners were sent from this the better, that they might be exchanged: the Lieut^t Governor wrote to me to make the requisition, which I refus'd, as I had your Orders to receive them on shore: but would give them up when requir'd by the Commanding Naval Officer. But thus have they been delay'd from early in November to this day and it is hard to say how much longer. I am quite happy to remain in any Command, your Excellency is pleas'd to have prescribed to me; but why am I to be left with an Officer; that does everything in his power, to retard the Service and make me unhappy, by such frequent delays.

“Brigade Major Studholme's & M^r Franklin's Expedition from Saint John's to Machias, was stop'd by Captain Fœtus of the Vulture; telling them, he had Orders from Sir George Collier not to assist them.

“With the concurrence of the Lieut^t Governor I order'd Major Small to reinforce that Detachment; & the reason Sir George Collier prevented Captain Fœtus from cooperating with Major Studholme, was that Sir George wanted the whole honour of destroying Machias with his Ships: the failure of which has given fresh spirits to the Rebels.

“Major Small will inform your Excellency of every Particular During the General Court Martial. I thought it highly necessary to send Major Souter to take the Command of Fort Cumberland he went in very severe weather, and is now return'd; after performing that disagreeable journey with great cheerfulness and effected with the greatest judgement; everything I wish'd. He has reported to me the vast expense of that Post, & what little use it is of, for the protection of this Province. As there are sixty Yorkshire families there, who are without doubt good Subjects, and would all be destroy'd were we to abandon that Post, which is my only reason for continuing it: in the last War it was usefull to the French as they came there from Canada by the Bay of Verte.

“Since Captain Barron was taken Prisoner, I appointed Captain Collett an Assistant Engineer; but on Captain Spry's Complaint of the extraordinary expences of that Gentleman; I have sent one there of Captain Spry's recommending: so that I hope the works will go on the better.

“I reported to your Excellency that I had sent Captain Spry there this Summer to push on the Works: and as the whole of Lieut^t Col. Goreham's Corps is there I beg your permission to withdraw the Light Infantry Company of Marines, which I ordered there, when the place was invested: and which I did not think I could recall without your permission, after having reported it to you.

“Without doubt if Major Studholme can keep his ground at Saint John's which he tells me he will do, this Province must be safe from any harm by the Bay of Fundy; as it is exactly opposite Anapolis.

“I hope your Excellency approv'd of my continuing the Coal Works.

“When I heard of the number of small pirates, that were on the Coast, I sent the Deputy Quarter Master General to apply to Sir George Collier to protect the Coal vessels; he sent me word the Albany was at Causo: she might as well be in England: I then purchased a small arm'd sloop, which I call the Howe and sent her & the Gage, which brought in all the vessels except one.

“Sir George Collier told the Officer that commanded the Howe, that General Massey may send them out, but the first Man of War would take their Prizes from them: this has damp'd the Officers, & I have mention'd to my Lord George Germain, to pray he will send me Two Letters of marque.

“I beg to report to you the Gage took one of these little Pirates, which mounted twelve swivels, and had taken many Merchant men on this Coast.

“I have officer'd and mann'd those two little vessels mostly with Governor Legge's Corps.

“As I return'd you Captain Shaw's Commission, which has had a good effect: you will please to send me a Commission for Captain Daniel Cunningham, who has got half his Company: and an Adjutant's Commission for Lieut^t Thos. Green, who now acts by my Order.

“Notwithstanding my complaints of Sir George Collier's conduct: Major Small will do me the justice to say he never heard me speak a disrespectfull thing of Sir George Collier since he interfer'd & settled matters: and I promis'd you I would not trouble myself about him: but, Dear Sir, how unkind Lord Howe is, not to send here some other Officer.

“My Lord in his Letter said there must be a publick hearing; I do not care how soon; but I cannot be insulted, by any Man, for so I must call it, when my letters to you are dated from the 20th November to this date; for so long ago, has he informed me, a Ship of War was to sail for the Grand Army; & five have been fix'd & counterorder'd since.

“I have had the honour to be under your immediate Command; I therefore appeal for my perseverance in every point of Duty.

“I am at this time high up in Rank & have not a Colonel's Command here.

“Do not be surpris'd if your Excellency sees me in the Howe sloop: for either Sir George Collier must be recall'd or myself for I can never serve with any Man who occasions such delays to the King's Service in time of Rebellion.

“I again repeat to your Excellency that I am ready to serve my King, wherever you order me.

“As my Lord Howe is pleas'd to say, Sir George Collier must have a publick hearing, I say for that; it is by no means the method to conquer the Rebels, no more than it was for a two Decker, to cut out of Sheep's Gut River ten little Lumber boats, which were sold for thirty Pounds each; & leave a large French Mast Ship there, in which there are Masts that would sell for Three hundred Pounds each, at Portsmouth, which the present Master of the Gage offer'd to effect, and bring to this Port.

"The Troops under my Command are furnish'd with most excellent provisions.

"The King's Molasses have been expended for some time.

"As I this moment have heard, the Cabbot is to sail in the morning, I hope you will pardon me, for not writing this letter myself, and also forgive the contents."

LIEUT.-COL. JOS. GOREHAM to CAPT. ROBERT MACKENZIE.

1778, January 3. Fort Cumberland.—Sees from Sir William Howe's letter the determined line and footing the clothing is fixed on. Relies on consideration of Government. Requests reimbursement of money advanced before they received Provincial clothing. Would be glad to know if the officers are to pay for their uniform clothing. Will write to Admiral Harley and countermand order. Should it arrive will take the steps recommended, otherwise thinks they might be disposed of at private sale in this province. Narrates that Alderman Harley early in 1776 shipped goods to the value of £800 for the regiment. The ship being driven on to the Western Islands and condemned; the goods were carried to England reshipped and arrived at Halifax. Some mischievous person having hinted to Maj.-Gen. Massey that there were goods for trade concealed under that direction they were given no convoy and were captured. Receiving a very peculiar letter from Gen. Massey, he sent him Alderman Harley's invoice consisting of leggings, shoes, shirts, &c. never more wanting in the regiment. As they were insured loses only the charge—not £50. Lt. Sutherland acquaints him there are alterations relative to the pay of the regiment. Will rectify what he has done before and comply with whatever regulations are made.

LIEUT.-COL. JOS. GOREHAM to CAPT. ROBERT MCKENZIE.

1778, January 3. Fort Cumberland.—Thanks for promotions in the corps and for intentions regarding his son. The names of two of the officers promoted should be Samuel Denny Street instead of William Denny Street and Joseph William Goreham instead of Joseph Amherst Goreham. His second son is Amherst Goreham. Should be glad if he could succeed his brother. Mr. Dixon is the eldest volunteer in the regiment and has been some time on the River St. John's and Machias command. His father is an inhabitant of this country and served in the late war, and from his particular services recommends the son to a vacancy. The next is a son of Capt. Burns, who came about a year since from England and entered the corps. Is about 15 years of age and would make a good officer.

MAJOR-GEN. EYRE MASSEY to CAPTAIN ROBERT MACKENZIE.

1778, January 8. Halifax.—“Dear Sir,—As I have given Sir W. Howe so many letters, that I know I shall have his Curses, but let him remark, they are from the 20 November I therefore enclose you three Returns, which you may shew him or not, as you like, as my ambition is to shew my desire to please him.

“I am happy to tell you, I think our Friend Hall on the mending hand, I wish for the Benefit of us all, you had sent him to me sooner, for he was fairly worn out in the Service, before he arriv'd here.

“As he is the pen of a ready writer, and my Eyes the worse for use, I refer all matters to him, but must tell you as well as I have my Commander in Chief that I am heartily tir'd of my Command here; we never hear any good news, and nothing but the cursedest Lies that can be sent about, and never hear from the Grand Army.”

MAJ.-GEN. EYRE MASSEY to [GEN. SIR WILLIAM HOWE].

1778, January 10. Halifax.—Has given Major-Commandant Small 4 months' leave of absence. He has done as much as man could do to establish a useful corps. Introduces Captain Maclean, who will deliver his dispatches. "I have ordered three sloops and a schooner with coals to go with this convoy which have been ready to sail for eight and twenty days; I would have sent you more, could I have got vessels. I beg you will not suffer any Contracts to be made for Coals without my knowing of it first; as there are proposals going from this, that will not answer. At this time there are twelve hundred Chaldrons dug up, which Captain Clarke will ship at the same rate he has done. I think it necessary to inform your Excellency, that the Pyrates which have done all the mischief on the Coast of this Province, appear as fishing boats, and have concealed arms; and all the Sea Officers have said, that Lord Howe has desir'd that they shall not be molested; for they take the Merchant men, which the Ships of War speedily retake: in this situation appear'd the Pyrate which the 'Gage' lately took. This, please to keep to yourself, as I got this intelligence from the Master of the 'Gage,' who is the best Pilot for the Eastern Coast, as well as Guide, in case of a landing; and whom I have found faithfull upon all occasions."

MAJ.-GEN. EYRE MASSEY to GEN. SIR WILLIAM HOWE.

1778, January 12. Halifax.—"Last night arrived here the 'Favourite' Brig a Cartel from Boston, which has brought most of the Officers of the 'Fox,' Cornet Grant and four Men of y^e 16th Dragoons, and some of Fraser's Officers with a few Men, the whole in great distress for Clothing. Mr. Oglive of Fraser's Regt. deliv'd me the enclosed from Lt.-Col. Campbel, which he prayed I would open. I did in the presence of Major Small, and as I had Captain Baron and Doctor Cullen exchang'd, and that through a Correspondence with General Ward, who I knew last War, I have now inform'd him, that if he orders Lt.-Col. Campbell on board any Frigate cruising in Boston Bay, sends him to Rhode Island or to Halifax, I have pledg'd my Honor, your Excellency will send Lt.-Col. Ethen Allen in Exchange for him, which be so kind as to order.

“By the ‘Favourite’ last night I find Lt.-Gen. Burgoyne and his Army are still at Cambridge.

“Why Sir George Collier does not send the Flag of Truce to Boston he best knows, but he has neither consult'd the Lieut.-Governor on that or anything else, my plan was for the Cartel to have Remained under the Convoy in the Bay, and sent a Boat, that if there was not Man for Man given up, she should return to Halifax, or go to the Grand Army. Upon Resolution of my last letter to your Excellency wherein I hint to you the great mischief that is done on this Coast, by the fishing Boats having a Protection, I most humbly pray, you will not think me impertinent in such a Report, I did not mean to say his Lordship showed the least countenance to such Reptiles, but to shew the necessity of more small vessels here.

“I have order'd Lieut. Needham to Cloth the Men who arriv'd last night, which are about thirty. I ought to send your Excellency the Returns of those people, but cannot get it as the Cabot is just under way.”

CAPTAIN ROBERT MACKENZIE to HUGH FERGUSON.

1778, January 16. Fryday.—The General in a letter to Washington has taken notice of that part of Mr. Boudinot's letter respecting the restrictions upon the supply of provisions to the British prisoners. He has also in a former letter desired that no flags might pass by water to this place from above or below ; and the General expects you will repeat this in your answer to Mr. Boudinot's letter which is enclosed.

If you will call upon me before dinner, you shall see the letter to General Washington, which will explain to you Sir William Howe's ideas.

COMMISSARY GENERAL JONATHAN CLARKE to LIEUT.-GENERAL JOHN BURGoyNE.

1778, January 17. Cambridge.—I have the honor to acquaint your Excellency that I have received from Mr. Charles Miller an account of provisions furnished the troops of the Convention (including the charges referred to in the last account) amounting in the whole to £37,494 lawful money of the State of Massachusetts.

I beg leave to observe upon the account:—That the proposal I had the honor to submit to you and Major-General Heath of estimating the ration at a certain fixed price is rejected.

That altho' it's acknowledged this whole account has been paid for in the currency of the country and your Excellency has been assured that it was intended that the State should gain no advantage by the supplies of your army, yet any abatement upon presumption of the account being paid in solid coin is also refused.

That according to the price at which the provision is charged, if paid in solid coin, will amount to one shilling and ninepence sterling per ration.

As the price is so exceeding great I beg leave to submit to your Excellency whether it will not be best to return the same quantity of provisions to the United States which I understand General Heath is ready to accept of.

GENERAL SIR WILLIAM HOWE TO JONATHAN MALLET.

1778, January 19. Philadelphia.—Acknowledges letter of 29th December, with enclosure. Desires him to attend to passing Hessian accounts in same form and similar in other respects to the British. Agreeable to treaty he is also to furnish medicines. Any plan he may think fit for payment of the lower servants in their hospitals will doubtless meet with approval. Expenses of their hospital previous to their arrival at Staten Island, August 1776, he may not settle. Vouchers necessary. “As the Hessian Hospitals are to be supplied by us with all necessary Articles, etc., it will be I hope needless for Mr. Lorentz to receive more Money by Warrant upon that Account, nor do I perfectly understand how it comes that you have not informed Sir Henry Clinton that you was to provide Stores, etc., for their Hospitals which you could not I think be ignorant of from my former Directions to you on that Head.”

GENERAL WASHINGTON to GENERAL SIR WILLIAM HOWE.

1778, January 20. Head Quarters.—Acknowledges letter of 8th. Is inclined to think Mr. Eyre's conduct not so discreet as it should have been. Cannot wonder at any insults as the accounts generally received of treatment of American prisoners are replete with indignities, &c. If Mr. Eyre is not considered a prisoner expects some gentleman in return. The conduct of the officer who followed the flag of truce was reprehensible.

GENERAL SIR WILLIAM HOWE to [ANDREW ELLIOT].

1778, January 22. Philadelphia.—Acknowledges receipt of letters of 5 and 6 January. Approves his conduct. Explains his refusal to admit of any exportation not admissible by Act of Parliament. Upon same principle approves his (Elliot's) refusal to merchants to carry cargoes to Nova Scotia and the Floridas, unless in absolute want. In the case of the brig "Betsy," as it is now in the court of Vice Admiralty it is too late to enter into the contention. "One of my principal objects in appointing you to the Office of Superintendent, was to prevent the Conveyance of necessaries to the Rebel Army, or to the Inhabitants in Rebellion in the Neighbourhood of New York. The Proclamation I thought proper to issue on that occasion, was calculated to assist and enforce the purposes of the restraining Act, by providing, conformably to the Spirit thereof, against such clandestine attempts to illicit Trade, as were either clearly beyond the Cognizance or probably would not fall within the immediate Notice of the Navy in the harbour of New York. It was also calculated for the detection and seizure of such prohibited Articles as might from the smallness of the object, escape the Vigilance, or not be deemed worth the attention of the Captains of Men of War. . . I thought it necessary in my Official Instructions to caution you concerning Seizures and Confiscations, and absolutely to prohibit the latter until you should, upon Report of the particular Circumstances have received my directions thereon. . . Your Conduct in the Case of the 'Betsy' is a proof that you do not suffer your Interest to come in Competition with an object of public Concern; and I approve much of your endeavours to prevent any Dispute upon the Occasion with the Officers of the Navy."

JOHN STUART to GENERAL SIR WILLIAM HOWE.

1778, February 4. Pensacola.—Received letter of 12th July. Communicated it to Gov. Chester, who issued the enclosed proclamation. Has given instructions to all who have not given in lists of their stock of rum. The bad behaviour of the Creeks obliged him to withdraw all traders from that nation. This alarmed the friendly Indians, who came to confer on the subject. It was arranged that they should not be diverted from their winter's hunting, but leave word where they would be found in any emergency. Immediately after the Upper Creeks had left 600 of the well-affected towns of the Lower Creeks with all their traders arrived with Messrs. Holmes and Scott. They were accompanied by a deputation from the Cupitalis. "At our Meeting I reprehended the Ingratitude of the Cupitalis Oakfuskus & Towns which misbehaved, and at the same Time applauded the Behaviour of the Cowetalis and other friendly Towns. These called upon the Deputies to stand forth and answer for themselves, the Principal came forward but was so abashed that he could not utter one word, another fellow came forward and said "That their Eyes were now opened, that they were sorry for what they had done, that they were sent to ask Forgiveness and that Traders might be permitted to go amongst them," when I represented the Necessity of their receiving the Commissaries as a Preliminary without which we could not possibly come to an Understanding.

"After many private Conferences with the Deputies the principal named Hycoat offered to accompany M^r M^cIntosh back to the Nation, provided the Traders could be suffered to return to the Nation with a Supply of Goods, I thought best however to dispatch him with one of the Interpreters, promising that if he returned with agreeable Accounts, the Traders should be permitted to return.

"About the middle of last Month M^r M^cGillivray assistant Commissary arrived here with a Message from the Oakfuske Chiefs, declaring their Sorrow for their Behaviour, and desiring to be forgiven, & that the rest of the Nation might not be punished for their Fault, that they had no Objection to receive any beloved Man except M^r Tait, who was obnoxious to them, in answer to which I invited them down to Confer with me, as the only way of coming to a thorough good Understanding and M^r M^cGillivray returned fully persuaded that they would accept of the Invitation, I have since received Information that the Rebel Agent Galphin has sent three Men as Traders with about twelve pieces of Strouds into some of the Rebel Towns.

"Two days ago I had a Message from the Ketchita Chief who was here as a Deputy acquainting me that since his Return he had gained over the principal disaffected Chiefs, & that they were making a strong Party to seize the Rebel Traders & bring them here, & that I might expect good News from him very soon.

"Many of the Creeks remain here the whole Winter for the sake of Provision, & ever since November about five hundred Cherokees have lived here, which besides the Parties which come upon Business have caused a very great Expence of Presents and Provisions, which still continues.

“The Provisions which your Excellency was pleased to order here by the ‘Sarah & Elizabeth Foote,’ & which arrived with the ‘Daphne’ came in good Time, for without this Supply I cou’d not have continued to feed the Indians, as my Stock was entirely exhausted.

“Agreeable to your Excellency’s Directions I have appointed Mr. Kirkland my Deputy for the District of the Seminollu Creeks with an Appointment of fifteen shillings Sterling p Day, & last Week he set out on a Tour through his District, with several of their Leading Men who had been here to visit me. They are extremely well disposed Indians & ready to be employed when called upon. Mr. Kirkland has Instructions to call a Meeting of the Chiefs for which purpose I have supplied him with a Quantity of Presents, the object of which is to engage those Indians to be ready when called upon to enter upon Action, he is to carry a few Head Men with him to St. Augustine, and if any plan is concerted by Gen. Prevost, he is immediately to summon his Indians who amount to a thousand Gun Men by the best Accounts.

“The Cherokees were perfectly well affected & notwithstanding the severe Chastisement which they lately received, are ready to act when called upon, they came here in a naked and forlorn Condition, I have plentifully relieved them & they are now upon the point of returning into their Nation. They will be immediately followed by Mr. Cameron, who will hold them prepared for any Service which may be required of them, I have lately received Assurances from those who live near and pretend to be in Friendship with the Rebels that they wish for an Opportunity of acting which they will embrace whenever it offers.

“The Chactaws & Chackasaws continue perfectly well disposed parties from both Nations are now scouting upon the Mississipi under the Direction of their Commissaries & some white Persons employed for that purpose.

“As the Creeks are daily returning from hunting, I shall most probably by next Packet be enabled to lay before your Excellency more agreeable Accounts of them. The London Ships with Supplies for the Trade have not as yet arrived, I sincerely wish that they may escape the Rebel Privateers who are in wait for them, their falling into the hands of the Rebels, at this Time wou’d create much trouble. The Creeks are a mercenary People, Conveniency & Safety are the great Ties that Bind them. From the imperfect Accounts which we have received by Land from the Rebel Provinces and from Jamaica, we conclude the last Campaign to be most successful & glorious, upon which I beg leave to offer your Excellency my most sincere Compliments of Congratulation.”

JOSHUA LORING, Commissary of Prisoners, to GENERAL SIR WILLIAM HOWE.

1778, February 7. New York.—“ I beg leave to inform your Excellency that Mr. Boudinot, Commissary of the Rebel Prisoners, came to New York by permission of Sir Henry Clinton a few days ago, to visit the Prisoners and settle his acco^t with Mr. Pintard, I have been with him thro' the Hospitals, Sugar House and Provost, and he is perfectly satisfied in the Treatment they meet with. By him I learn that nothing prevents a general Exchange but a wrong Impression Mr. Washington has reced respecting the seventeen Hundred men which your Excellency sent home last Winter on parole and which from the interview we had he thinks can be settled and offers on his return to Jersey to obtain Mr. Washington's Leave for me to wait on your Excellency for that purpose, and being of Opinion that the present is a very favorable Opportunity, I shall embrace it the moment I receive their permission, and your Excellency may depend on the greatest Caution and Attention in this Business.”

1778, February 10. New York.—“I did myself the Honor to write your Excellency on the 8th inst., informing you of my having an interview with Mr. Boudinot Commissary for Rebel Prisoners, since which he has been to visit the Officers on Parole on Long Island, and is willing to pay their Board, provided we will reimburse what has been paid for our Officers on the same Occasion.

“He is perfectly satisfied respecting the Men your Excellency sent home on Parole and thinks Mr. Washington can no longer dispute the payment of them as his own Officers have assured Mr. Boudinot that by their particular desire the Men were suffered to go out, and in their opinion, they should be accounted for.

“I could wish for many Reasons the Exchanges of those on Parole might not take place 'till I have the Honor of seeing your Excellency as from this interview together with such Vouchers as I have in my possession respecting these Men, I am of opinion (with deference to your Excellency) that a more Beneficial one might be effected.”

1778, February 18. New York.—Appreciation of letter of the 22nd. Acknowledges his error in writing about the "Betsy." Assures of the thorough unanimity with the Navy and other departments. As to Gardiner's appointment as Wharf Officer at Staten Island, it was the only effectual mode that could be devised to stop supplies going from there to the rebels. All goods carried to Staten Island must now be landed at Coles Ferry under Gardner's immediate inspection, whence if agreeing with my permission they are to be transported by land only to the different inhabitants to whom they belong. Subjoined is a paper containing alterations it has been found necessary to adopt since his first plan of proceeding.

JOHN POTTS.

1778, February 18. Philadelphia.—That on being taken prisoner by the rebels he was stripped of clothes, watch, money and books and marched to Lord Stirling's quarters, who, on complaint being made of such usage, answered it was a maxim taken from the British troops. That he was sent to Washington's quarters at Valley Forge, kept 4 days without food, was sent thence to Lancaster where the bread served to them was very bad. That he had seen a rebel paper, which gave an account of a chimney taking fire by reason of its being foul, but a suspicion arising that it had been done by the British prisoners there the rebel soldiers with bayonets killed 8 and wounded 18 of them.

GOV. PATRICK TONYN TO GENERAL SIR WILLIAM HOWE.

1778, February 24. St. Augustine.—“I have the Honor to inform your Excellency that since the Defeat of the Rebels in May last this Province has remained unmolested. The 60th Reg^t is improved and the Rangers are properly trained for Service with the Indians and are fit for scouring the Woods.

“The Rebels in Georgia continue to persecute the Friends of Government they strip them of their Property & expel them the Province Mr. Galphin their Superintendant has been too successfull in spreading Disaffection amongst the Creek Indians. Mr. Stuart no doubt has informed your Excellency of the late Disturbances and that Affairs now wear a better Aspect.

“I am Sir most assiduous in keeping in Humour & well disposed those in my Neighbourhood, they are useful and ready to go into Georgia, indeed rather desirous of being employed. I have a Considerable Number of them in Town and I expect more Daily. They and the Rangers guard the Frontiers and occasionally make Incursions into the Province of Georgia, they will be particularly serviceable in Case of a Fresh Invasion of this Province which is threatened.

“The Superintendant seems desirous of drawing all the Indians towards Pensacola, they are no doubt within Mr. Stuart's Province, but Sir, I feel great Inconvenience from the Want of the Service of those who were employed by me last Spring, and I submit to your Excellency whether they might not at all Times be beneficially engaged in infesting the Southern Frontiers of Georgia. The Rangers accompanying them wou'd prevent their butchering the innocent and harmless.

“General Prevost, Sir, tells me, that he intends writing to your Excellency concerning the Rangers, this obliges me to trouble your Excellency with a few Observations concerning, which otherwise I shou'd not have mentioned.

“In 1776, when continual Inroads & Depredations were made upon our Settlements upon St Mary’s River, a Post was formed of the King’s Troops upon that River and Lieut Grant of His Majesty’s Schooner St John & an armed Sloop were stationed there. The Rebels with an inconsiderable Force advanced toward the River, broke up the Settlements & your Excellency was informed the Troops and armed Vessels retired, although the Detachment was under the Command of a spirited & judicious Officer Captain Graham now a Major.

“For the purpose of making Incursions into Georgia to procure Intelligence & Provisions and scouring the woods, I formed Woodsmen into Companies of Rangers, they are entirely a provincial Establishment, & under my Command, but Sir, I have always told the Brigadier they were in the King’s Pay, and for his Service and whatever he desired shou’d be performed, that in the most extensive View I had the King’s Service alone at Heart and hoped ever to act in Concert and Harmony with him. For my Sentiments on this Subject, I beg leave to refer your Excellency to Brigadier General Prevosts Letter & my Answer which I take the Liberty to enclose to your Excellency.

“Mr. Brown Sir, whom I commissioned a Provincial Lieut Col^l that he might have a rank superior to a Major Robinson of South Carolina is a Gent^l of Education and Fortune. He was early persecuted by the Rebels for his Principles & has evinced a most exemplary & daring Spirit by going into the Indian Nation to animate the Savages against the Rebels by warmly engaging in the King’s Service. He Commanded the Indians & Rangers at the taking of Fort M^cIntosh, when they were engaged for some Hours before the Regulars came up. He dislodged a Party of the Rebels who had taken Post near St John’s River, he advanced and attacked their Main Body who were in the Act and Moment of a Flight before Major Prevosts Corps arrived, on whose appearance they dispersed & fled. His Spirit and Conduct were much commended by Major Prevost in a Letter to the Brigadier General although for what reason I know not, I cou’d not procure a Copy of that Paragraph, nor has the General thought proper to mention to Mr. Brown the Approbation of your Excellency, which you was pleased to signify in your Letter to him. This, Sir, has hurt Mr. Brown, but he is determined that no Usage shall divert his Attention from the main Object, and I am confident Honour is his great Pursuit, and that whatever Representations of Mr. Brown & the Rangers, General Prevost may make to your Excellency, I could not have found a more proper Person than Mr. Brown is for that Service and although I honour Regular Troops, I will venture to assert, that had there been no Rangers in the Province the King’s Service wou’d have suffered considerably. We shou’d not have had three Thousand Head of Cattle brought from Georgia for the Supply of fresh Meat to this Town and Garrison, and I cou’d hardly have employed the Indians to lay waste Georgia, butchering indiscriminately Men, Women & Children, which wou’d have been the Case had they acted by themselves. Although I mean no Reflection upon Regular Troops in whose honour I have an Interest; I will venture to affirm, that the Regulars in this Garrison, when sent forth on an Expedition into the Woods must act to disadvantage without Rangers.

“I have long meditated taking Possession of Georgia, which I assure your Excellency would be easily effected, and were the Forces in the Floridas properly exerted in conjunction with the Indians great advantage would be derived from it, but I find the Brigadier General not disposed to such Measures without positive Orders from your Excellency.

“The Upper Creek Indians from our indeterminate Conduct towards them, have not been able to form a firm Resolution in what manner they shou’d act, & a few Towns of them are lost to the King’s Service.

“The Cherokees for want of timely Support have been drove out of their country & mostly dispersed.

“The lower Creeks that are within my Reach, and the Seminolies, who domiciliate in this Neighbourhood have been preserved firm to Government & have cooperated whenever I called upon them, and have frequently sent to me Deputations for Intelligence & to enquire if I required their Services.

“I shall esteem it an Honour and Happiness if my Sentiments Correspond with your Excellency’s, and I shall ever pay the greatest Attention to your Excellency’s Suggestions.

“By Intelligence on which I can depend I am informed near four Hundred German Deserters and Prisoners from your Excellency’s Army are arrived in Georgia and are incorporated in one of the Rebel Corps.

“Lieut^t-Col^l Brown has my Directions to send proper Persons to assimilate amongst these People.

“Some German Refugees from Georgia that are in our Rangers have undertaken to effectuate it. They are instructed to persuade them to march in a Body with their Arms, and they will conduct them to our advanced Posts, or to concert with them upon any possible Project to quit the Rebel Service. I have promised them a favorable Reception and Reward. I trust your Excellency will approve of it and in Case the Plan succeeds that they may be pardoned. The enclosed Copy of a Letter from Lieut^t-Col^l Brown from St. Mary’s River will acquaint your Excellency with some circumstances relative thereto.”

BRIG.-GEN. PREVOST TO GEN. SIR WILLIAM HOWE.

1778, March 2. St. Augustine.—Transmits copies of his letters of the 1st of November and 12th of February with several enclosures, the monthly returns, and many letters from Pensacola. Captain McIntosh has leave to go to New York. Sends memorials of Capt. Miller and Lt. Sutherland. Lt. Barrow, 16th, has leave to go to New York. “The reports of the preparations of the Rebels against this place have subsided lately, I can not think that as long as their Ports are shut up by our Frigates, they can design any attempt against this place the distressing the Settlements on the river St. John is not so easily prevented as small struggling parties could effect it, and cannot be so easily discovered but the parties of Indians which now and then go to War against them and pass that way, deter them from the attempt. Your Excellency will have received the latest accounts of the State of Indian affairs by the ‘Daphne,’ by the letters I had from Mr. Stuart about the same time the ‘Daphne’ sailed from Pensacola, he had great hopes of bringing the Creeks to reason and to give him a proper satisfaction for the insult offered to his Agents amongst them. . . . A Serjeant of the Royal Emigrants with three privates and a Soldier of the 14th who were prisoners amongst the Rebels, having been returned in exchange for some of the Prisoners made at Fort McIntosh, I ordered one of the Paymasters here to subsist them and supply them with what they wanted, I have sent them under the care of Lieut. Barrow, who has the Account of what money has been advanced to them, that the same may be credited by the Paymasters and repaid to the Agents of the 60th Regiment, as it has been necessary to issue provisions to the Rangers raised in East and West Florida by Governor Tonyn and Mr. Superintendent Stuart; I beg to receive your Excellency’s commands to know in what manner those extra rations are to be accounted for, whether to the Contractors at the Contract price or to the Commissary at the usual stoppage of two pence half-penny, no stoppages have as yet been made.” Requests bat and forage money for the troops in this district as living is very expensive.

P.S.—“I this moment received information that Rebels are Arming their Gallies in order I suppose to prevent our Men-of-War taking in water at St. Mary’s river, where they can do it with more expedition than here.”

MAJ.-GEN. EYRE MASSEY to GEN. SIR WILLIAM HOWE.

1778, March 15. Halifax.—Has found all manner of goods brought here from the old country instantly purchased and sent to the rebellious colonies. Is certain nothing can prevent it but honest men in the revenue and a few small armed vessels upon the coast. Fort Howe on St. John's River a great safe-guard to the province. Fort Cumberland attended with many expenses. Commissions desired for Legge's corps. "By the last Accounts I had from Mr. Studholme he has great hopes of gaining the good Will of the St. Johns Indians as you desired me not to interfere with Indians I have communicated that Part to Lt. Governor Arbuthnot that tribe of Indians was led by Allen, who has been proclaim'd here by the Govr. and Council, and 200£ offer'd for his head. The 16 instant, Captain Fitzherbert arrives here, for to take the Command, I am now content to remain here, with 100 men or to Serve in any part of the King's Dominions and now return you ten thousand thanks, for I shall ever be happy with any Man that will carry on the Service with Spirit for this shall be the last time I shall ever mention Sir George Collier and beg ten thousand Pardons for taking up your time so much as I have done, For surely, Sir, I could not serve with any Man, who could Act so vile a part, for after the Lieut. Governor and I had fix'd every appointment with good Guides at a great Expense for a Grand Stroke and while Major Small was prancing at St. John's River, the place of Rendezvous for the Troops from Cumberland and Windsor Sir George Collier stole out of Halifax, made a futile Attack at Machias, was most shamefully drove from thence, and as he publish'd a great number of Manifestos which coming to Major Small's hand, thought in honor he could not proceed—which prevented the Eastern Coast of New England from being Alarm'd which was my orders to Major Small, and which if they had been executed might have prevented the Misfortunes that attend'd Lt. Genl. Burgoyne's Army, for it was at that critical time." March 25th.—Capt. Fitzherbert agrees to having a small schooner at the N.W. corner to prevent smuggling to the rebellious colonies.

GEN. SIR WILLIAM HOWE to JOHN ROBINSON.

1778, March 16. Philadelphia.—“This accompanies my Official Letter of Requisition of the same Date for £500,000 Sterling on Acco^t of Extraordinaries during the Approaching Campaign. One Inducement for Requiring so large a Sum at this Time, is the additional Supplies which I may be called upon to furnish for the Troops under the Convention of Saratoga, in Case by the Perfidy of the Rebels they should not be permitted to embark, which there is too much Reason to suspect. One hundred thousand Pounds have been already remitted to Gen^l Burgoyne, in order to obviate any Obstacles that may be started to his Departure, which Money can remove. Besides I judge it advisable to make this further Requisition before the opening of the Campaign, that His Majesty's Service may not run the risk of suffering by a Want of this necessary Article, in any Events which may arise, as well as to support the Value of Government Bills against the Combination of the Merch^{ts} who are Watchful to take the Advantage of every temporary Scarcity to lower the Exchange, which I am informed by the Contractor's Agents is the Case at this Time. In this last Article I have directed the Contractor's Agents to give their Constituents the necessary Advices by every Opportunity, as it often depends upon Circumstances, which do not fall under my Notice.

“I have the Honor to enclose a State of the Military Chest at this Place to the 1st Ins^t. which is all the Information respecting Money I have it in my Power to transmit at present, and I wish I could ascertain this Part of my Duty more to their Lordships satisfaction."

1778, March 18. St. Augustine.—Has only time to mention Colonel Kirkland's application for leave to go to New York on private affairs and to lay before his Excellency a project for an invasion into Georgia and western frontiers of South Carolina. Observes that the time for preparation is too short, "the consequence would be to arrive in that Country in the very Season when sickness and fever abound, that if a plan of that kind or anything of near the same purpose was to be adopted, the Winter season is the most proper for many reasons, the Troops could proceed with Safety and ease to themselves, the Rivers have less water, the Swamps with which the Country abounds are drier and more easily passed, the Rebels in all probability will then be less provided and their inducement to submission of course greater. To answer the object and to insure success the Men-of-War on this Station should be ordered to co-operate with the troops, Money and a few small field pieces should be sent as well as provisions, and if any troops could be added to the numbers to be sent from this district, they ought to arrive in the course of next Autumn; with respect to the Indians and the great dependance which the Colonel puts upon their assistance, I am afraid to be rather Sanguine, however many of their parties might harass the frontiers, and contribute to the success of the expedition."

GOV. PATRICK TONYN to GENERAL SIR WILLIAM HOWE.

1778, March 18. St. Augustine.—Mr. Kirkland has had a conversation with Mr. Stuart upon a project to bring the Chactaw Indians to act with the forces of this province. He conveys this letter. Some light field artillery will be serviceable here. Store of provisions greatly short of quantity he had reason to expect but has suffered no great embarrassment on that account.

1778, March 19. Philadelphia.—That a passport, to convey provisions, had been issued for the shallop "Polly," Isaiah Robinson, master, manned with 3 hands. On arrival of the shallop it was found that Mr. Robinson was in fact captain of the "Andrew Doria" frigate and Capt. Nathl. Galt of the "Argus" gun boat one of the shallop's hands. As Captains Robinson and Galt appeared in assumed characters they were detained agreeably to established rules of war.

GOV. PETER CHESTER to MAJ.-GEN. AUGUSTINE PREVOST.

1778, March 21. Pensacola.—“ In the month of January last, one James Willing of Philadelphia, Robert George, and Thomas McIntyre, the first a Captain the other two Lieutenants in the Rebel Army, left Fort Pitt with about 35 Men, and on their way down the Ohio, and Mississippi, were joined by a Banditti, making in the whole about 100.

“ This body after having passed two parties of White Men, and Indians undiscovered (which Colonel Stuart had posted in different parts on the banks of the Mississippi, to prevent the Rebels penetrating by that Rout into the Colony) arrived at the Natchez on the 20th of last Month at Night, and nearly at the same time, by sending different detachments into the Country, surprized all the Magistrates and people of influence in that settlement who after some days Conference entered into an engagement of Neutrality with the Rebels; they then proceeded down the River taking with them the Negroes and property of a Mr. Hutchins and himself a Prisoner he being particularly obnoxious to them.

“ An advanced party on the 23^d ult^{mo} in the morning surprized a Ship called the ‘ Rebecca ’ at Manchack mounted with sixteen carriage Guns, four pounders, besides Swivels, and made the Inhabitants of that Settlement prisoners on their Parole: The main body soon after joined by three or four People of the Natchez settlement, and a number of French and Spanish Batteau Men and other Banditti laid waste all the Settlements from Point Coupe to Manchack, burning several houses and seizing upon all the Negroes and property of the Inhabitants, a very few excepted with this booty a party of them have proceeded to New Orleans, where it is said their plunder is to be disposed of at Public Auction, by one Oliver Pollock, who has declared himself an Agent for the Congress. They also seized a Brig called the ‘ Neptune ’ loaded for Jamaica about 11 leagues below New Orleans, and by the last accounts had increased their numbers to between three and four hundred.

“ Upon this information, I sent Captain Ferguson of His Majesty's Sloop of War ‘ Sylph ’ to the Mississippi in order to intercept any of the Vessels they may have taken in attempting to get to Sea, and to demand Restitution from the Governor of Louisiana of all British property, brought by the Rebels into his Colony, and I have remonstrated against his giving them any protection or furnishing them with supplies.

“ I have also requested Capt. Nunn of the ‘ Hound ’ Sloop of War lately arrived here to join the ‘ Sylph,’ in the Mississippi, and desired that one of the Sloops may proceed to Manchack, to prevent their Return up the River and obstruct the passage of a body of Rebels, who it is reported consist of 2,000 (others say 3,000) men and were to follow this party from Fort Pitt, under the command of Colonel George Morgan in that Service, and are expected to arrive here in May.

“The Inhabitants of the Natchez have sent to me, desiring the assistance of 100 men from this Garrison, and promising with this support to break their Neutrality, and join the troops against the Rebels, but I found upon consulting Lieut.-Colonel Stiell and other Officers of the Garrison, that such a Detachment could not be spared from hence, without endangering the safety of this place, should the Rebels come against it in any force. I have had the like application from the Inhabitants of Mobile to reinforce that Post, the loss of which would greatly distress us here and cut off our supply of Fresh Provisions, however it is not thought prudent to detach a Man from our present Strength ; altho. I have the measure much at heart, and if Willing should be prevented, by the King’s Ships in the Mississippi, from getting to Sea, and return to take post at the Natchez, He will continue with his Banditti to Keep possession of that Country, unless the Chaetaw Indians and what white men can be procured in their Nation, March against him.

“Colonel Stuart has sent one of his Commissaries upon this service, and expects the Indians are all in motion, however we find after the great expence which it has cost Government in supporting these Savages, that they cannot be depended upon ; one of his Commissaries Mr. Alexander Cammeron having declared to me in Council, that he did not think the Indiaus were to be depended upon, or could be brought to act, unless they had troops sent with them.

“I am endeavouring, if we can find Men to raise a Provincial Corps under the Command of John McGillivray Esquire, who has greater influence about Mobile, and with the Traders in the Indian Country, than any other Person in the Province : I however still doubt, whether he will be able to collect more than 100 Men, and that they will not agree to be embodied longer than for the Expedition to the Natchez ; so that should this Party of the Rebels be drove out of the Colony and no Men Kept up at the Natchez in future, to support the Inhabitants ; they will not only abandon that Settlement but all the Inhabitants on the banks of the Mississippi, and in the Western parts of the Province, will in my opinion, also, remove, least a second plundering party should come against them, and which one hundred troops would have prevented.

“There is great ground to believe the Rebels are meditating an attack upon us with considerable force, as I have intelligence from Mr. Rocheblave, Commandant of the Illinois Country, also by a Deserter who arrived in the Province in February last, that there were a great number of large Batteau’s lying in the Ohio at Fort Pitt, intended for some Expedition which must be against this Colony. I have therefore to request that you will send us what number of troops you can spare, at least to return the three Companies of the Sixteenth Regiment, which will not only enable Lieutenant Colonel Stiell, to make a Vigorous defence here, but afford to send such a Detachment to Mobile as will secure that Post, from falling into the hands of the Enemy.

"I have so short notice of the present opportunity that it will not be in my power to write to Governor Tonyn, I therefore beg you will communicate the Contents of this letter to his Excellency."

BRIG.-GEN. AUGUSTINE PREVOST TO SIR WILLIAM HOWE.

1778, March 21. St. Augustine.—Colonel Kirkland detained by contrary winds. “An account arrived last night to the Governor that the Corps of Rangers which he keeps the Command of, had in a late excursion surprized a small Post on the Altamaha River, the report says there were three Officers and twenty men in the fort, one of the former and three men were killed, the rest are taken prisoners and brought here, as it was an expedition fitted and ordered I suppose by the Governor, he will I conceive acquaint your Excellency with all the particulars; as I never considered the destruction of that Post as an object of any consequence, and that its distant Situation from our frontiers did not render it the least detrimental to us; but as I had very good reason to think, that if they had not had that Post ready built, they would have had another on the Sattilla River, forty miles nearer to us (a plan which they have had long in agitation, and which would have prevented our success in the excursions for Cattle) I was on that account induced to leave them unmolested untill a more extensive plan and some more favorable circumstance offered to strike a blow which might be attended with some advantage; for which purpose I take the liberty to solicit your Excellency’s determination with respect to that truly independent Corps of Rangers, and whether or not I ought to have any controul over them.”

1778, March 31. St. Augustine.—Report of rebel invasion gradually subsides. Communicates all intelligence to Prevost. "Captain Fanshawe has cheerfully given every assistance and has ordered Captain Jordan of the 'Galatea' to protect the province, Lieut. Ellis of the 'Hinchenbrook,' and Captain Mowbray of the 'Rebecca' will scour the inland passage, and frustrate the designs of the Rebels, and I hope destroy the Gallies. I ordered Lieutenant Colonel Brown of the Rangers to penetrate as a Corps of observation the province of Georgia. He with a party of Rangers and a few Indians with very little loss has taken by assault Fort Barrington with twenty-three prisoners, and destroyed the cannon and burned the Fort." Begs to mention Mr. Johnson a son of Dr. Johnson of Georgia, who first entered the fort. Major Gardner delivers this letter.

GOV. PATRICK TONYN TO GENERAL SIR WILLIAM HOWE.

1778, April 4. St. Augustine.—Private and secret. “Mr. Drayton the late Chief Justice being at the head of a faction against administration; I have been obliged to suspend . . . sic a second time, but the seeds of discontent are not eradicated.

“Great pains has been taken to prejudice the mind of General Prevost against my measures, and nothing but a fixed resolution not to differ with him could have prevented a breach and induced me to put up with rough indignities.

“What I chiefly regret, Sir, is his backwardness in supporting the Rangers or assisting with a few regular Troops.

“He would not co-operate in a plan of Captain Fanshawe’s to enable His Majesty’s Frigates to water in Saint Mary River, nor has defensive works been made at Saint John River, the Lines at the Barrier of this Town are suffered to moulder down, and are much damaged since they were put into order.

“I have, Sir, taken the Liberty to mention to your Excellency my sentiments concerning the conquest of Georgia, I am confident it might be easily effectuated, at least a road might be opened between this and the back Settlements of the Southern provinces, where there are many well affected to His Majesty.

“I apprehend, Sir, that Brigadier General Prevost is greatly influenced by his brother Major Prevost, who fell in with Drayton’s faction. It will be of use, if this could be remedied, to His Majesty’s Service; there is only three companies here incomplete of the 2^d Battalion, to which he belongs, of the 60th Regiment. I have felt unfavourable expressions impressed by his conversations on the manner of the operations carried on against the rebels, and I think I have heard Major Gardner express as much being impressed upon him. I would not Sir mention this to your Excellency, but from the desirable motive to preserve harmony with General Prevost.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 8. No. 47. Copy, No. 48. 4 and 3 pages.

BRIG.-GEN. AUGUSTINE PREVOST TO SIR WILLIAM HOWE.

1778, April 5. St. Augustine.—“I think it my duty to represent to your Excellency that notwithstanding my sincere wishes to maintain the strictest cordiality with the Governor of this Province, inconveniences daily arise from his assuming the sole command of the Rangers stationed on the frontiers of this Province and their being independant of the person who by the King’s orders ought to have the Supreme Military command, prevents me from carrying on his Majesty’s Service as I could wish, for want of that unanimity and harmony of the different branches of the Military in concurring to the public advantage.

“I take the liberty therefore to request your Excellency’s commands on that head and to be made acquainted whether the rank of Lt. Colonel Brown (a young man who commands the Rangers) intitles him to command the Majors of the King’s Troops, as it has been made a matter of doubt whether the Governor could at present give him a legal commission for that purpose.

“As the Men of War and Privateers bring in prisoners constantly both Rebels and French and Governor Tonyn was desirous that they should be kept in the Fort, the danger that might arise from a surprize of the only Magazine of Arms, Ammunition, Artillery and Provisions, and that the stench of a number of Prisoners, confined in such a place in this hot country might occasion epidemical distempers ; and notwithstanding the Governor's assertion that the Fort was his, and would say so to your Excellency, I could not think of admitting but very few in it, at the same time I must observe that such a number of disaffected people in a place where there are no accommodations nor places of security for them might become dangerous, and as it appears from the information of some people who lately made their escape from Georgia and some intercepted letters from South Carolina, that the Rebels have in view to attack this place, and that their General who commands in the Southern Colonies is come to Savannah for that purpose :—Should the accounts prove true I should be obliged to hire Vessels to carry them off. I shall not fail to transmit to your Excellency the earliest information that can be depended upon of the motions of the enemy and their designs.”

Leave of absence to Major Gardner. Want of money. The captain of the “Lizard” declines to take on board the prisoners taken on the Altamaha and convey them to New York. Engineer desired.

LIEUT.-COLONEL BROWN TO GENERAL PATRICK TONYN.

1778, April 6. Fort Tonym.—Intelligence, brought by a Quaker, of Washington having met with a total defeat and his scattered troops reduced to the last extremity. Counter report of an attack on General Howe who had 12,000 killed, himself escaping by skating up on the ice. “The rangers from South Carolina inform me, the North Carolina Provincials, and Thompsons Regiment of South Carolina Light Horse, have marched to the Northward. The present force of South Carolina is supposed to consist 2,000, and of Georgia five hundred and sixty. The Charlestown fleet was in a great degree manned by draughts from the different regiments to act as marines. The Forts at Sullivans Island, and on the river are Kept in good repair. At the Fort at Beaufort they have mounted Twenty one pieces of Cannon. . . . At Cat Island, the Rebels have six, nine and twelve pounders for the defence of the passage. From Savannah the Rangers have brought me intelligence, that Whites turbulent Gentry have a second time broke open the stores, compeled their Officers to give them Rum—hurra'd for His Majesty, and drank success to his Troops. Twenty were sent to Tybee to Garrison the Island, who boarded a French Snow laden with rice and Indigo, and have conveyed her 'tis supposed to New York or Augustine. A Fire broke out in Savannah a short time after our affair at Fort Barrington, destroyed a public Store with cloathing, ammunition &c. &c. and ten houses—the Court house narrowly escaped as it was fired in three places. The Rebel General (Howe) told one of his Colonels that they were so perpetually harrass^d in Georgia, he apprehended before Summer it would be a King's Province. . . . The Gallies are laying manned entirely with Governor Wright's Negroes at the following places—One at Sapelo high point—One at Sunbury—one at Ossabaw opposite to Shannons point, and the other at Savannah. Two vessels, a Ship and a Brig with rice and Indigo are laying in the Mouth of Ogechee river without a gun. Three at Beaufort with the same Cargoes—a Ship and two Brigs, one the property of John Hancock, the other a Frenchman. I have sent to acquaint Captain Jordan of the 'Galatea' with every material occurrence. One hundred and twenty plantations with the Negroes, and Stock will be peremptorily sold."

GOV. PATRICK TONYN to GENERAL SIR WILLIAM HOWE.

1778, April 6. St. Augustine.—1,700 Indians promise to be at St. Mary's next Moon. . . . looks for directions. . . . "Upon the invasion in '76, these Indians came down readily, drove back the rebels and penetrated the province of Georgia. In '77 a part of them were at taking Fort McIntosh and another party of them at the affair of Nassau in May. I was obliged, Sir, to check their impetuosity, and have been at great pains to keep them well disposed to act against the rebels. . . . I will not trouble your Excellency with innumrating the amazing expence of their maintenance or with conjectures concerning the motives from which they act, or the capriciousness of their temper, or the necessity of employing them in some shape. Your Excellency must perceive numberless inconveniencys from acting always on the defensive. With this Garrison the Rangers and Indians, the province of Georgia may be taken in possession, which will give a fair opportunity to the loyalists in South Carolina to show themselves, if they are what they have pretended to be, and if they prove as numerous as hath been given out, I should apprehend that province would soon be compelled to subjection and to own their allegiance to the King. . . . Eleven men of the Battalion formed out of prisoners conducted by a Pilot have surprized a French Vessel off Tyby, that was ready to sail laden with rice and indigo and have brought her into St. John's River, a french artillery officer now a rebel Captain, was on board, I have sent him to Monsieur D'Britigni and his Corps of Officers prisoners in the Stathouse. . . only two field pieces six pounds caliber are in this Garrison."

LT.-GEN. JOHN BURGoyNE to GEN. SIR WM. HOWE.

1778, April 9. Rhode Island.—Maj.-Gen. Heath insists that the payment of expenses of the Convention Troops must be in solid coin. Arrangement come to. Is disappointed that the contents of the military chest only amounts to £56,000 and of that some is to be returned to New York. Anxiously solicits four months' subsistence for the troops according to an estimate sent. Asks bat and forage money for the officers. Concerning brigadiers. Suggested disposition of the troops if exchanged. Recommends Gen. Phillips, &c. P.S.—Explains some enclosed cyphers for correspondence with Phillips.

LIEUT.-GENERAL JOHN BURGoyNE to GENERAL
SIR WILLIAM HOWE.

1778, April 9. Rhode Island. 2nd letter.—Finds since his despatch of this morning, he cannot send an exact account of expenditure of the army lately under his command. Care has been taken to keep separate the subsistence and extraordinaries. Finds also there is an idea that further payment of provisions in kind may be more prejudicial to Government than even an exorbitant rate in hard money. Believes notion that ready money received here is remitted to France is a mistake. Thinks subsistence for troops will amount to £25,000. P.S.—Apologises for not writing in his own hand.

THOMAS BROWN to BRIG.-GEN. AUGUSTINE PREVOST.

1778, April 10. Fort Tonym.—"I have the honor to acquaint you that Messrs Tyrer and York arrived this day with a few friends.

"They inform me that the Loyalists upon the point of assembling, thought proper to postpone their insurrection to a more favourable opportunity, as the rebels upon receiving intelligence of the March of Murphy and Gregory's party had embodied themselves in every district; for as the loyalists are very indifferently provided with Arms and Ammunition, they are under a necessity of disarming the Rebels by surprize.

"Mr. Robert Cunningham an active loyalist of the first influence in South Carolina, acquaints me that 2,500 Men between the forks of Saluda and Broadriver are ready to accompany me on any Service whenever orders are sent for that purpose.

“One thousand men upon the south fork with a considerable party in the Congarees and on the Ridge, have offered their Service.

“Sixteen hundred upon the rivers Pedee, Inneree and the line with twelve hundred upon Green river (North Carolina) contiguous to the Northern frontiers are ready to embody themselves and act within North and South Carolina whenever required.

“The Crops of Corn for two years last past these people have preserved for his Majesty’s Service.

“The inviolable fidelity and attachment of the Men above mentioned, the various instances they have given of their zeal and affection for his Majesty’s person and government, place the truth of their professions beyond a doubt, to most of those loyalists I am known, and with all their principals personally acquainted.

“By the assistance of those Men so powerful a diversion might be effected in favor of General Howe, that the Rebels would be effectually prevented from sending their quotas of troops to Washington as their attention would be engaged by their more immediate concerns.

“The regular provincial establishment in South Carolina consists at present of 2,000 men.

“It is reported that 450 of Thompson’s rangers were drowned off Charlestown and that Andrew Williamson (a quondam cattle driver in General Grant’s campaign), and late Commanding Officer against the Cherokees was mortally wounded by some person unknown within 3 miles of Charlestown.

“By a letter from Capt. Mowbray I have received the following intelligence—April 13th.

“The new created General Elbert is on his march with about 700 Men, and 2 thirds of the Militia was at the Altamaha last night, he has seven field pieces with him.

“The Galleys and Transports are advanced to Sapello, and that his intentions are to destroy Fort Tonym.

“It is confidently reported that 800 men are on their march from the back parts of the Carolinas as friends, and whether this Armament is to stop them or take you, time will tell, this is so confidently affirmed, that it is beyond a doubt; I wish you success, we will endeavour on our parts to give the Gallies their deserts.

“Poor Ellis is no more, he was unfortunately drowned on the 8th instant in crossing the sound, after being on the boat’s bottom five hours; I escaped by swimming upon an oar with great difficulty.

“I am, &c., (sig^d.) J. MOWBRAY.

“The number of Elbert’s party consists of three hundred men—upon receiving information of the march of the Carolinians, he set off from Savannah for the Altamaha, in order to intercept or harrass them on their march.

“Part of the South Carolina and Georgia Militia marched to Ogechee and returned.”

MAJ.-GEN. ROBERT PIGOT to GEN. SIR WILLIAM HOWE.

1778, April 10. Newport.—“ General Burgoyne writes fully to you on the Subject of the Money, on the Agreements he made with General Heath for Payment of Fuel, &c., and for receiving Provisions in lieu of what was issued for the Use of the Troops.

“The Rebel Commissary is come here to receive about £27,000 in Money, and to settle with Major Morrison for Provisions issued to the 1st March, which he is pretty near able to pay by the Quantity sent by Sir Henry Clinton for the Use of those Troops. After paying the Rebel Commissary £27,000 there remains £60,000 in Mr. Molesworth's Hands, of which I have sent £20,000 to New York for their immediate Necessities; To General Burgoyne's Paymaster for Subsistence and Extraordinaries for that Army £20,000. The Rest I have kept for our own Use. I understand that a considerable Sum is wanted for General Burgoyne's Army, there being many Warrants to pay and a great Sum in Arrear to the Brunswick Troops and Artillery, all these Matters the General will acquaint you with, and of the Necessity there is for an immediate Supply. Sir Henry Clinton not having sent me any Directions and only referred me to your Letter, I have acted as I thought was best by giving each Army a little; which I hope you will approve of. I have received Orders for to pay 165 Days Bat and Forage Money to the Hessians as well as to the rest of the Garrison, and I find that the Hessian Paymaster has sent a distribution for their Staff here, and therein charges for three Major-Generals and their Aid de Camps as I imagine it is with your Knowledge and Approbation, I shall not object to signing their Warrant. General Sullivan is arrived at Providence to succeed General Spencer in the Command, and we hear two Regiments are coming upon the Coast in the room of the Bay Troops, whose Time expired the 31st March, and are gone home. Several of the Inhabitants from the Narraganzet Shore are come over to us, and enlisted with Col^o. Wightman and Days are fixed for bringing off more of them. Negroes likewise come to us for protection, their Masters wanting them to enlist in a Regiment raising at Boston upon Terms of granting them their Freedom after three Years Service. I think it my Duty to inform you that Mr. Clarke who was lately with you at Philadelphia is of Opinion that it would be better to pay hard Money when you conveniently can than send Provisions to Boston, for that it will be immediately carted away to General Washington's Army, who stand in great Need of Salt Provisions, whereas the hard Money coming amongst them depreciates greatly their Paper."

Recommends Mr. Hickson for an Ensigny. "General Burgoyne appears in better Health and Spirits than I expected. I have the Honor to be with Great Truth," &c.

LIEUT.-GENERAL JOHN BURGoyNE.

Received, 1778, April 14. Paper brought by Mrs. Higgins.

“Copies of the Dispatches from Gener^l Burgoyne to the Congress were transmitted to you Sir, from York Town, the Generals Aid de Camp returned to Cambridge the 19th Inst. with three Resolves.

“1st To abide by the Resolve of 8th Jan^y relative to the Suspension of the Embarkation of the Troops.

“2nd. To permit General Burgoyne to go to England on Account of his Health, and by the most expeditious Route, &c. &c.

“3rd. To permit Capt. Willoe to return to Canada by the Route of Halifax.

“General Burgoyne immediately applied to General Heath for Passports for himself and Family, but was told that it did not appear that the Vote of Congress in his Favor cancelled the old Vote of December last; whereby he is ordered to be detained, together with the Troops ’till all Accounts were settled and paid in Specie; and General Heath added an observation that General Washington in his letter to Sir W^m. Howe had declined taking any Cognizance of that Business by His Commissaries; and that he took for granted no Settlement was made at that meeting. He has also repeatedly insinuated that it would be impossible to support the Troops without an immediate payment in Money, as the Cash of this State was exhausted.

“It was strongly insisted on the other Side, that it was most unjust to fetter the Vote of the Congress, which was plain and unconditional, with a former Vote to which it had no Reference; that the Congress, by using the words ‘on Account of Health’ and ‘most expeditious Route’ evidently marked their design of the General’s Departure without Delay;—that nevertheless if the Accounts were produced in such a State, as that they could be justified in signing them, and were produced expeditiously, he would consent.

“General Burgoyne could not refuse paying for the Provisions, provided the charge was just for two Reasons.

“1st. The Enemy would have declared the Breach of the Treaty to be directly made on our side, which they only call suspended on theirs, and however unjustly would have put it out of the Power of Government to ratify it.

“2nd. Any Scarcity of Provisions tho’ but for a week would increase the Desertion of the Troops, which has already been alarming at some Periods, tho’ I am far from believing the Majority of Deserters to have gone off with any other view than to assist themselves by work and meaning to return.

“It being thought that the most economical Measure for Government was to repay the Provisions in kind, it was proposed to land from the Transports the Quantities destined for the Troops on their Voyage, which was agreed to, and a Requisition has been made to Captain Dalrymple accordingly but the Weather having been bad no answer is returned.

“Requisition has also been made to Capt. Dalrymple to land the Money Chest, General Heath having given an Engagement for its safe Delivery. Should he have none on board (which yet is not known) the Troops will be in great Distress for Pay, and every part of the Public Service suffer, and in that Case the most speedy Supply to the Amount formerly mentioned by Sir William Howe to Clarke, and Lord Howe to Geddes, is requested from Rhode Island, or elsewhere.”

“The Suspence of General Burgoyne in Regard to his personal Embarkation, and the Vexation such unheard of cavilling excites are lost in the greater Objects that Regard the Public. It was thought no way could be found less subjected to inconvenience than the present to convey these Matters to you, Sir, and the person who will deliver this, has further Communication to make by word of Mouth.”

GENERAL SIR WILLIAM HOWE TO JOHN ROBINSON.

1778, April 19. Philadelphia.—Acknowledges letters.

“The Accompts of Messrs. Nesbitt, Drummond and Franks for Provisions furnished by their Agent, to subsist Prisoners in Virginia, Maryland, and the upper Parts of Pennsylvania, are ordered to be laid before the Commissary General for his Inspection, and upon his Report they will be liquidated and settled to the latest Period. Their Lordships Directions in regard to a proper Contract being made for furnishing the Prisoners in future will be submitted to my Successor in the Command ; at the same Time I may remark that the late Resolutions of the Rebels, respecting the Support of Prisoners in their Possession, leave little Cause to think that Commissaries for the Crown will be able to act among them.” . . .

“Upon the Receipt of the enclosed State of Cash for Extraordinaries from the Remitters Agents, by which it appears that after Money is issued from the Treasury to pay all the Bills drawn, there will be only a Balance of £241,502 to complete the Requisitions already made, I have thought proper to make another of the 16th Instant for £400,000, supposing the present Balance may be raised here by Bills of Exchange, for which Reasons I humbly submit to their Lordships the Expediency of sending the Amount of this last Requisition in Specie from England, and a Proportion of it as soon as possible.”

BRIG.-GEN. AUGUSTINE PREVOST to GOV. PETER CHESTER.

1778, April 20. St. Augustine.—“The daring invasion of the Rebels who have committed such depredations on the Mississippi, gives reason to suspect that if it had not been on a firm persuasion on their part of being joined by many of the inhabitants on that river, and the lukewarmness of the rest, they would not have adventured on such an attempt; therefore if the disposition of the inhabitants was or is doubtful, I should apprehend that a Post on that river (or perhaps more) might have been the means of preventing the mischief that has been done and I must now leave it to your Excellency’s determination whether in the present circumstances it will not be too late to send so small a party as the State of the Garrison may admit of sending and whether the dependance on the Inhabitants of the Natchez is sufficient to authorize sending a body of troops to their assistance and future support; I write to Colonel Stiell accordingly with regard to the application for a detachment from this Garrison; it is a measure which many reasons render impracticable at this present juncture that the Rebels are assembling in force on the Altamaha and that a Spirit of defection seems to have seized great numbers of the inhabitants of the neighbouring Colonies who want only to be supported to retaliate on the Authors of their misfortunes the many ill treatments they have received for their loyalty and attachment to Government; a timely assistance may encourage that Spirit and be the means of restoring some of the Southern Colonies to His Majesty’s Government; there are neither transports nor a convoy at this place to send you any reinforcement, the want of money is another difficulty.”

“I shall suggest to Colonel Stiell the propriety (that in case a reduction of his Garrison is admissable by contracting his works) of affording the necessary assistance to the distressed inhabitants of the river Mississippi. I have little doubt but the Spaniards will discountenance the Rebels and return the property carried to New Orleans to the legitimate Owners; in which case Mr. Willing may soon be made to repent of his rashness and be brought to condign punishment.

"I should apprehend that Mr. Rocheblave the Commandant at the Illinois might easily be induced to send some of his militia from Fort or Poste Vincennes to assist in the protection of the inhabitants who remain loyal to Government and will be willing to assist in punishing the invaders and restoring peace and tranquillity in that part of the Country; he ought also to be very watchfull of any attempts that may be made hereafter by the Rebels and harrass them in their way down should they come again, your application to him on that head might have that effect."

GENERAL SIR WILLIAM HOWE TO LIEUT.-COLONEL STIELL.

1778, April 22. Philadelphia.—Acknowledges receipt of letter dated 3rd June last. Conduct of Spanish Governor at New Orleans seems very extraordinary. Defence of West Florida must principally depend upon harmony between civil and military branches. Lt. Byrd appointed to vacancy caused by Capt. Paulis' succession. This letter will probably be his last, as he is permitted to leave his command. To address Sir Henry Clinton in future.

Enclosing [Sir W. Howe] to Maj.-Gen. Dalling, see 24 April 1777.

GEN. SIR. WM. HOWE to MAJOR-GEN. SIR ROBERT PIGOT.

1778, April 26. Philadelphia.—Acknowledges letter of 10th by the “Camilla” accompanied by letter from Gen. Burgoyne. Sends his sentiments to Phillips as to future supplies of money and provisions. Thinks provisions should be sent, provided they can be received at Boston and distributed by the British Commissary, but until these supplies are sent round payment should be made in cash for whatever may be issued. Will write to Sir Henry Clinton. Is not empowered to grant pay to the supernumerary Hessian Major-Generals until the King’s pleasure is known. Commissions of Officers promoted in the new corps are not to be issued until the corps are formed. Mr. Payne the apothecary to come to this place. The Commanding Officer at New York will have directions to encourage the sending supplies to Rhode Island. His own resignation. Sir Henry Clinton is to succeed.

P.S.—Sends copy of a letter from Lord G. Germain respecting Mr. Elam. Mr. Morrison, Deputy Commissary General, to come here or to New York by first opportunity.

GEN. SIR WILLIAM HOWE to MAJOR-GEN. PHILLIPS.

1778, April 26. Philadelphia.—Has received his letter of the 4th inst. announcing General Burgoyne’s departure and of his being left in charge of the Troops of Convention. On resigning will give copies of papers to Sir H. Clinton. Is informed by General Burgoyne that the expenses incurred on the march from Saratoga and all charges for extraordinaries are settled and paid to a late period, and the £20,000 has been left with him (Phillips) on account of subsistence. Will recommend to Sir Henry Clinton to send further supplies of money till provisions can be sent. To oppose any overtures to disperse the troops or remove them to a distance from Boston, not only from the inconvenience of conveying supplies but from the stipulation in the convention. Hopes that with the late settlement of accounts and engagements to settle future demands, preparations for their departure may take place. Has not authority to grant bat and forage money, but lodging money may be paid. Brigadiers to continue as at present. General Burgoyne will solicit in England continuance of their pay. Allows him a Secretary. Subsistence to be kept separate from extraordinaries in the accounts.

Memorial of Geo. Dawkins and Ed. Lane on behalf of themselves and other refugees from South Carolina. That having forced their way into a province in allegiance to H.M. where they desire to render themselves serviceable and having signified their desire of being considered as part of the 2nd Battalion of Provincial Forces raised for service in South Carolina to which desire he was pleased to agree as far as present circumstances would admit, they thank him for the reception and hope to regain their possessions. Are satisfied to remain on the footing of refugees embodied under command of the Honble. Col. John Stuart and shall rely on his representations to secure what Lord William Campbell intended—the same pay as provincials in South Carolina had in the late war. Will subject themselves to his (Prevost's) command, but pray their officers may be chosen from amongst themselves.

GOVERNOR PATRICK TONYN TO GEN. SIR WILLIAM HOWE.

1778, April 28. St. Augustine.—Refers to message from the lower Creeks that a large body of Indians were to come down at this time. Perrymount is arrived and says a hundred Indians are following him to Saint Mary's. That seventeen hundred were on the point of accompanying him when Messrs. Tait and Mackintosh delivered a Talk from the Superintendent that all was peace. Perrymount came to ask if it was peace or war. Will endeavour to get them to help in guarding the frontiers. "Our scouting party of Rangers have conducted, Sir, into this province near four hundred loyalists, that have mostly been forced to Shelter in the woods in Carolina and Georgia. Brigadier General Prevost proposes to embody them; I approve of the plan, and shall give every assistance in my power."

J. DE BIRNIERE to LIEUT.-GOV. HENRY HAMILTON.

1778, April 29. Preston, Lancashire.—“In passing thro’ Dublin lately I had the pleasure of seeing your brother. . . . I did not expect when I left Detroit to have so long delayed my return, altho’ my inclination is as much as ever bent on that manner of disposing of myself, the late turn of Affairs in America leave me less hopes than formerly, of being able to accomplish my wish.

“I passed the greatest part of a year, since I have been home, at Lisburn, recruiting; where you have a great many friends, particularly the Miss Closes, and Doctor Jones’s family; who spoke frequently of you, and with the greatest affection, as well as many others.

“Should I return to Detroit I shall bring with me an acquaintance of yours, whom perhaps you scarcely remember, Dr. Jones’s third daughter, now my wife, who notwithstanding her extream youth, when you knew her, retains the most affectionate remembrance of your kindness to her, and is as desirous, as I am, of seeing you at Detroit.

“I have lately got a Company in a new regiment, called the Liverpool Volunteers, raised by that town, on the late threatening posture of Affairs; which are yet in as equivocal a Situation as ever. The Nation in general have been disappointed in not being already at war with France—I believe not disagreeably tho’ Altho’ every appearance at this instant portends it,—such as Camps forming in both England and Ireland; and fleets collecting: yet there are some who say there will be no war. Those who have no better information can only judge by appearances, and they are hostile.

“A few days ago I opened a paper the Duplicate of which I left with you sealed. It was a will, I had the precaution to make on my leaving Detroit. It contained an instance of imprudence, done with a good intention, that amazed its author; for that part of it escaped my memory. I beg as the greatest favor, that you may destroy the will without opening it, as soon as possible, I should be uneasy were it in any other hands than yours. Were I with you to explain my motive, I should shew it you; but in the present case, the matter being only interesting to myself, I should not wish it to be seen; nor is it worth troubling you with and I am perfectly assured that you will do with it, as I request, that is commit it to the flames. And also do me the favor to let me hear from you after. Don’t take it ill that I should trouble you with a repetition of this request by another conveyance, perhaps more than one for fear of miscarriage. How does Perdiac? I must beg the favor of you to establish his emancipation at the age of 21 by a record in the Office of your province, if necessary, for I shall never myself claim him; but the will being no more, in case of my death, others might. This my request is no doubt sufficient without a regular power of Attorney.

“Be so good as give my Compliments to my friends Mr. Hay, and Comodore Grant and Believe me with the most sincere attatchment and esteem. Dear Sir, your faithfull and Obedient Servant.”

1778, April 29. St. Augustine.—That the want of supplies of money lays him under the greatest inconvenience. The great increase of public expenses arising from the support of the unfortunate refugees from the neighbouring colonies will require an addition to the sum to be sent last July, as the opportunities of sending are so scarce and bills on New York or Philadelphia are seldom or never negotiable and those on the Treasury not without some loss. GOV. PATRICK TONYN to GEN. SIR WILLIAM HOWE.

1778, May 1. St. Augustine.—“In support of the authority with which his Majesty has been graciously pleased to honor me with, in justice to Lieutenant Colonel Brown's merit and as it may in future be of use to His Majesty's Service, I beg leave to mention, to your Excellency, the following circumstances relative to the Rank of provincial troops.

“Upon being informed, Sir, that the rebels were marching to St. Mary's river, I waited upon Brigadier General Prevost, and communicated the intelligence I had received. The Brigadier General determined to send a detachment of the Kings Troops to support Lieutenant Colonel Brown who with the Rangers was stationed at a Fort they had thrown up on St. Mary's river, the northern boundary of this province. When the detachment was on the march to St. John's river, the Brigadier General told me, he would send no Officer of the Garrison to be commanded by Lieutenant Colonel Brown, and that the King's Troops should not pass St. John's River, that Mr. Brown might stay at St. Mary's, and when the rebels had drove him and the Rangers from thence, they would find the King's Troops at St. John's.

.. That the public service might not suffer by any misapprehensions of the King's Servants, I gave up for a time what I thought my right, and by letter desired Lieutenant Colonel Brown to give up the command; although by his Majesty's orders expressed in the Articles of War, he was entitled according to his Rank.

“Upon presenting this letter to the Brigadier General for his perusal he ordered the detachment to march to St. Mary's, and upon hearing of the Hinchbrook and Rebecca being taken by the Rebels he recalled them.

“Lt. Colonel Brown desires to resign his Commission. I cannot accept of his resignation at this alarming crisis, and he still continues to act. I have the honor to enclose copies of my letter and General Prevost's to Major Glazier, and Lt.-Colonel Brown's.

“I have in several letters had the honor to mention to your Excellency Mr. Brown's conduct and services: facts, Sir, speak for themselves. His warm zeal for His Majesty's Service, his intrepid resolution and activity claim singular attention. He is a Gentleman of family and of liberal and genteel education. He received a very considerable patrimony which is greatly reduced by the rebels. He suffered unparalled insults and injuries from them in Georgia, and since he has been in this province he has undergone great hardships, and submitted to great drudgery and fatigue in his Majesty's service.

“I only beg leave to observe, Sir, that I became acquainted with Mr. Brown, as a persecuted Refugee, I felt for his suffering and admired his spirit. I appointed him to command the Rangers and such of the Indians as occasionally might act with them, because I thought him the best qualified, and indeed the only person that I could get at the time, and should he now give up his commission, I know not another person, who is fit for supplying his place.”

MAJ.-GEN. BARON DE RIEDESEL to MAJ.-GEN. PHILLIPS.

1778, May 2. Cambridge.—"In Consequence of your Order of the 1st May, that the Commanding Officers of Regiments and Corps should send in a return of those Officers who wished to be exchanged; and their reasons for it, . . . I have made an enquiry among the Officers of the Regiment of Brunswick, and although there are several who might be induced by family Considerations to wish to return to Europe, they rather prefer submitting to some temporal inconveniences in common with their men, than to separate themselves from them. . . . There are here a few men of the Regiment of Dragoons under the Command of Capt. Schlagenteuffel, and Lieutenant Bourneman, whom I wish to be exchanged, particularly as there is a Detachment of Upwards of 60 men in Canada under the Command of a Sub-Lieutenant only. I should esteem it as a favor if you would be so good as to effect the exchange of this small body of men, whom Capt. Schlagenteuffel may carry back to Canada, and there take the Command of the whole, which would then make a considerable body, and render the Accounts of the Regt. more regular. . . .

"Should my request be granted, this small body, might be sent to Canada by the Ships which bring the Baggage of the Army, and which most probably will return there."

“The Purveyor having gone from Saratoga to Canada, General Burgoyne ordered me to take the charge of the Hospital Accounts and to employ a Clerke. The time of acting promised to be so short and the state of affairs appeared so improper to apply for an allowance to this appointment that I declined mentioning it to the General.

“As the duty is attended with a good deal of trouble and some expense, I have to request you will be so good as to take it into consideration and grant such allowance as you may think proper.”

1778, May 9. Cambridge.—Lt.-Col. Sutherland being desirous to go to Europe for the recovery of his health Major Mersereau, the American Deputy Commissary, has proposed an exchange between him and Col. Webb, now a prisoner in New York, with such other officer or officers as shall make such an exchange equal, and that both should have liberty to go out on parole, one to Europe, the other to Boston or Connecticut, until an actual exchange takes place.

MAJ.-GEN. BARON DE RIEDESEL to GEN. SIR WM. HOWE.

1778, May 12. Cambridge.—“Sir, I take the Liberty of returning my humble thanks to your Excellency for the Letter with which I was honoured.” Thanks for generous declaration relative to an impartial exchange of prisoners of war. This assurance has satisfied the German officers who were much alarmed at Gates’ answer to Burgoyne that “he could exchange any British Officers, but no Germans, without particular leave from Congress.” Gates denies this answer, though it is an undoubted fact. Several Brunswick soldiers have absented themselves, some having enlisted in the American service, intending to join Howe’s army, and others have reached New York. Entreats his Excellency that they may be brought together at one place and be furnished with money, &c. (the expenses of which he will repay) and that they may be put under the direction of a Hessian officer. Would esteem it a favour if these people could be sent to Canada, where there are 1,400 men of the troops of the Duke of Brunswick. Orders on this head will prevent these men enlisting into the service of other nations.

Signed letter. Vol. 9. No. 117. 2 pages.

LORD BARRINGTON to GENERAL SIR WILLIAM HOWE.

1778, May 14. War Office.—Has laid before the King copies of his correspondence with Major-General Tryon. His Majesty approves his reasoning that local commissions on the spot will take place of all commissions for similar rank though upon the establishment of the army if bearing subsequent date. That General Tryon should not serve under officers in America to whom he would be senior in the line at large, the King has granted him a commission as Major General in America only, bearing date 1 Jan., 1776. He is to be employed in any line of service Howe thinks proper. The Secretary of State will take care of any Hessian invalids sent to England to be conveyed to Cassel.

[GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON] to MAJ.-GEN. EYRE MASSEY.

1778, May 15. Philadelphia.—“As the 70th Reg^t with those of Maclean and Campbell, may be daily expected to strengthen the Garrison of Halifax; I am to desire, that upon the application of the Commanding Officer of His Majesty’s Ships at that place on the arrival of the several Regiments above mentioned, You will permit the Battalion of Marines now there to Embark for Europe.

“Having directed Major Gen^l Robertson to carry a Plan into Execution for working the Colliery on Spanish River at Cape Breton, in order to obtain a supply of Coals for the Garrisons of the Middle Provinces; and as such of the Transports as are not wanted for the conveyance of the Marines to England, may be usefully employed in transporting the Coals to New York, You will consult with the Officer Commanding the King’s Ships at Halifax, with regard to the time and manner of their being sent to Louisburg for that purpose; as well as Co-operate, as far as may be in your power, in every measure that may tend to fullfil the intention of this business.

“I could Wish that on the arrival of the Regiments before mentioned at Halifax, You found it convenient to Yourself to join this Army, where Your Services, as we have but few Major Generals, might be essential, leaving Colonel Maclean in Your present Command.” P.S.—If however, You still Continue in Your desire of going to Europe, I can have no objection; and You have my leave to go thither upon the arrival of Col^l Maclean, who, as I have already said, You will in that case leave in the Command at Halifax.

GOV. PATRICK TONYN to GENERAL SIR WILLIAM HOWE.

1778, May 15. Philadelphia.—“Since I had the honour of writing to your Excellency, we have had various reports of the rebels of Carolina and Georgia’s intentions, to invade this province with considerable force.

“It is now past a doubt from the best information ordered by the Continental Congress, and the enclosures I have the honor to convey will prove that the design is not without foundation, and the progress they have made towards the execution.

“They are of opinion in Carolina that they have nothing to apprehend from the King’s troops from the North; and encouraged by this notion they are to employ their whole strength against this province, reserving a small force for their own defence; the artillery and mortars they bring have lately arrived in a vessel from France.

“I am endeavouring to repair our unfortunate loss of the ‘Hinchbrooke’ and ‘Rebecca’ by the construction of Gallies and floating Batteries, to mount twenty four pounders; these may be provided out of the Fort, which I wish to avoid as it reduces the number for its defence; I have mentioned this to Lord Viscount Howe more particularly and have requested of his Lordship, if he can spare me some to reinstate them it will be very convenient.

“All the Indians agree in confirming the peaceable talk given out to the Creek Nation by M^r Stuart’s Agents, and some of them aver, a talk to the very same effect, was given to the confidential men in private by the Superintendent at Pensacola.

“The bad effects of this talk is now most sensibly felt here. The Indians that are come do not exceed a hundred. They also tell me the same measure has been recommended by Mr. Stuart to the Ocony King, Cowkeeper and all the Seminolies. Thus the object, formed by the rebels, is attained, to make the Indians neutral, as they failed in their attempts to persuade them to take a decisive part against his Majesty's loyal Subjects.

"I shall notwithstanding exert my utmost to bring them down, I will despatch expresses to the Commissaries in the Nation, to Mr. Stuart; and to the Indians to invite them to fall upon the rebels and co-operate with us.

"I have issued a proclamation desiring all the Inhabitants who are not incorporated to take arms and be aiding and assisting in every capacity to His Majesty's service.

"The Brigadier General has embodied two hundred and fifty of the Refugees lately come into the province under the care and direction of his Brother Major Prevost, who is to discipline them.

"General Prevost and myself are making all possible preparations for the enemies reception."

1778, May 18. War Office.—Acknowledges letters. Sir James Murray approved for a majority of the Edinburgh regiment. In case he should purchase in America his Majesty has given him his option between the two commissions. Lt. Munro named for a company in the Glasgow regiment. Is sorry that recruits unfit for service should have joined the army. As many of the men were sent off as soon as enlisted it is almost impossible but that some should be embarked whose defects had not been discovered. Believes every recruit has been examined by a field officer and surgeon previous to embarkation (one parcel excepted that were sent from the north) and care will be taken in future to prevent the same inconveniences.

MAJ.-GEN. JAMES ROBERTSON to GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1778, May 24. New York.—Has consulted with Commodore Hotham as to providing fuel from the mines of Cape Breton (Spanish River) for the troops. The Commodore must receive orders from Lord Howe before detaching any ship. In the probability of a French war submits some considerations. That there are about two hundred families French and Acadian on the island all inveterately in the French interest who by allying themselves with the Americans might cut off the supply and destroy the transports. Suggests that 200 soldiers and some labourers should be sent from the continent under an experienced officer and man of business. If speedily gone into, 6,000 chaldrons might be brought here in 8,000 tons of transports the season being too late to make two trips.

[MAJ.-GEN. WM. PHILLIPS to SIR HENRY CLINTON.]

1778, June 1.—A long paper, not signed nor addressed, but endorsed "Maj.-Gen. Phillips." "There seems in our present situation to be but three modes of acting in regard to the Troops. First: To declare the Convention at an end. Second: To exchange all the Officers that are already gone away on Parole, as also all the Officers and soldiers dispersed over America who are Prisoners of War, and to keep the present situation of the Troops of Convention entire waiting for future events. Third: To exchange all the Officers, British and German, except a certain number to be left in charge of each Corps." Discusses the third. "The strength of every Corps is so very considerably reduced as to render them no longer objects of consideration as Battalions and I apprehend it would be more eligible for the Service to have the Staff of each Corps and the greater part of the Officers exchanged and sent, the British to Europe and the Germans to Canada, where they might absolutely form afresh the several Battalions to which they belong and by degrees the King again would have the Service of the several Corps, which at present are totally broken and separated from the Army. In this case the present and future strength of the Convention Troops might be considered as Detachments from the Several Regiments or as Supernumerarys." Suggestions for drafting the men of the eight Canada companies and arrangements for the Germans. "As the American Congress seem determined not to release the soldiers this Plan may probably seem calculated to render futile their intention of distressing the Army. The Soldiers will be undoubtedly lost, but the Expense will be saved and the Regiments brought again upon an Establishment. . . Further . . . the Officers will be ruined if they remain in the present situation." Supposing one of the three modes is adopted gives three sentences to be used in writing to him which he will understand. Fears letter or letters have been stopped. "It is not possible for me to describe the very severe disappointment I have received by the Cartel breaking off. I had imbibed hopes of serving under you this Campaign, and that at the head of these unfortunate Troops, I should have done you service. These hopes are over and bitterness and sorrow are again my portion . . . Captain England writ me an account of Thomson, Waterbury and four Colonels being sent out, and a desire that Reidesel and I should go in on Parole, but I imagine it has been refused. I really think after such Conduct you have no reason to keep terms with these People . . . Collier has informed me that upon my receiving a letter from you signed with your Christian Name at length as Henry Clinton, I was then to conclude that all further negotiation for a General Exchange was over and I was at liberty to write to you in application of a Partial Exchange . . . You cannot doubt my wishes for your success and honour. Would to Heaven I could serve with you. I think you would now and then like to talk with me. My friendship for you is unalterable. Do for me what you can, but do not anything improper for me . . . I leave myself in your hands and at all Events let me hear from you. Affectionately yours."

BRIG.-GEN. AUGUSTINE PREVOST to GEN. SIR WM. HOWE.

1778, June 5. St. Augustine.—"Lieut.-Colonel Stiell informs me of his having sent a detachment of the Garrison at Pensacola consisting of Seventy five Men to go and take post at the Man-shack on the river Mississippi; this party was joined by a small body of loyal Carolina refugees in that Province, that two of their parties had had an Encounter with some of the Rebels, who they entirely defeated near the Natchez and that they were very busy in adding Fortifications to Pensacola to secure it of any insult against the threatened Invasion.

"By our last advices the body of Carolina and Georgian troops, reported to be two thousand two hundred and fifty Men who were coming to invade this Province have halted on the other side of the Altamaha river, the preparations with the Augmentation of our Forces, I suppose has deterred them from proceeding in their operations, intentions was to let them advance as far as St. Mary and by no means save them any trouble, there we should have begun to oppose them and disputed our ground every step. Governor Tonym's Rangers was to have opposed their passage over that river and were to be supported by about two hundred and fifty loyal Carolinians, part of them Light horse Men, Commanded at present by Major Prevost of the Second Battalion of the Sixtieth Regiment, who with great trouble and perseverance has embodied and introduced a little order and discipline amongst them, the retreat of this body was secured by a small Fortification on the Northside of the river St. John, and that post by an armed Vessel; on the Southside of this river, I have erected Batteries at such places as it was probable and practicable for them to cross the river, supported by two detachments of the Regulars, and ten miles behind them, I proposed taking post with all the Men from this Garrison, leaving only the number to garrison the Fort. This last body would be so situated as to be able to secure the retreat of the whole, or to fall upon them whenever they should attempt to form.—In that situation, I expect (should they still persist in advancing) to retard their March, and if the Naval force prepared by Governor Tonym is properly stationed in the river, then I am persuaded they will do little or no hurt to the Province as what is between St. Mary and St. John was abandoned before I came here.

“I have besides a number of Negroes employed to repair the Lines, making of Redoubts and finishing the Outworks of the Fort, in short I hope to oblige them to make a Siege, consequently to bring heavy Artillery which is very troublesome, if they cannot effect to bring it by Water.” Want of money.

JOHN McNAMARA HAYES to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1778, June 10. New York.—“Sir, Agreeable to my Instructions from Lieutenant-General Burgoyne, I applied in the course of the Winter to Mr. Gates for the removal of the remainder of the Hospital left under my care to New York—Many difficulties arising in consequence of charges of the most exorbitant nature being made, my endeavours were not attended with Success—however, upon a new Application, and that referred to Mr. Washington, I at length obtained his permission, thro’ Mr. Gates, without any other restriction, than that of returning an equal Number of Men in ten days after my Arrival in New York—On the 3rd instant I embarked 110 Men, (50 of whom are disabled) on board of two Sloops at Albany, and on the 7th arrived here, when I waited on Major-General Jones, with the proper returns, and informed him of the nature of my engagement. I am unhappy in not finding your Excellency here, whose humanity would relieve those brave unfortunate sufferers from the rod of Tyranny and Persecution, which they and myself were for these months past experiencing without distinction; and had not management and a little dexterity on my part taken place I fear his Majesty would have lost some brave and usefull Soldiers. I have applied to Mr. Gates for a further ease of my Engagement, till I could know your Excellency’s pleasure; and therefore take the liberty of praying your Excellency will be pleased to order a Number of Prisoners of equal Rank to be sent for those Men, I have brought with me here. It will be the means of relieving their distresses, being mostly naked, and a Considerable Saving to Government.”

Has obtained leave for his own exchange with Mr. McHenry, should his Excellency approve.

1778, June 10. Cambridge.—“Enclosing monthly returns for May. Requesting his answer about officers who desire to be exchanged, and in future general exchanges begging Sir H. to think of the detached troops of G. Burgoyne’s army. Respecting Lord Balcarres’s exchange. Relative to bat and forage money, mentioned by G. Burgoyne to Sir Wm. Howe. That he had given his parole for the re-delivery of prisoners of war who had been confined in prisons and guard-ships [at Boston], and who were now in barracks with the Convention troops. In case Captain Campbell, 62nd, and Captain Ramsay, 21st, should be appointed Majors in the new corps recommending the successions to go in the regiments, and Mr. Thos. Hill, nephew of Col. Hill, for an ensigncy in the 9th Regiment. A 2nd-lieutenancy, 21st, submitted through Earl Balcarres. He has received accounts of several vacancies in the troops under his command, but not upon sufficient authority to report them—will take the earliest opportunity of doing that—when confirmed—and hoping they may be bestowed on that Army.”

MAJ.-GEN. EYRE MASSEY to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1778, June 13. Halifax.—Acknowledges letter of 15th May. Will co-operate with Major-General Robertson as to the colliery. “I received the honour of a letter from you, directing Lieutenant Colonel Hierlihy’s Independent Companies, to be forwarded to the Island of Saint John’s; while they remained here, and there being at the time so much ice in the gut of Canso, that they could not pass, information was brought to me that two Pirates were preparing to make an attack on the Colliery, set fire to the Mines, and destroy the Wharfs, with all the tools at Spanish River: upon which I made application to Captain Fielding who Commands the Royal Navy here, who with the greatest cheerfulness ordered a King’s Ship, and I sent Lieutenant Colonel Hierlihy, with such of his Independent Companies as were in health, with two pieces of Cannon for the protection of the Works at Spanish River. . . . By his Report I find he got there time enough; and he shall remain there, till I hear further from you. In my Reports to Sir William Howe I have mentioned the great utility of having taken post, at the entrance of Saint John’s River, which is commanded by my Major of Brigade Studholm . . . in his last Report he tells me, he is likely to regain the affections of the Saint John’s Indians, who had entirely left the English interest: and may be of great use to us if there is a French War.” Has recalled the Light Infantry Company for embarkation. Has “taken Post at Cobequid, which adds much to the tranquility of the Province. As Lieutenant John Solomon of the Loyal Nova Scotia Volunteers, has got the complement of Men fixed on by Sir William Howe, I have appointed him to a Company from the 1st June, and therefore beg you will please to send me a Commission for him: a Lieutenancy for Mr. Trake (?) Bulkely; and an Ensigny for Mr. Foster Hutchinson; the latter is the son of Judge Hutchinson, who is a Refugee here, from Boston and is in great distress. Upon the arrival of Colonel McLean, I shall with pleasure obey your Excellency’s Orders.” P.S.—Sends “Memorial of Doctor Jeffry who has taken unusu’l pains in the execution of his Duty here, had all the Soldiers’ Wives and Children of the Army under his Care, and by my orders Inoculated above 500 Children, since which he had all the Rebel Prisoners under his Care with Yallow Fever and horrid Disorders, I think he Merits the Attention of your Excellency as he was promis'd to be provided for by General Howe."

BRIG.-GEN. AUGUSTINE PREVOST to GEN. SIR WM. HOWE.

1778, June 13. St. Augustine.—By latest accounts the rebels are yet on the north side of the river Altamaha and supposed to be joined by the last division of the Militia of Georgia and to amount to 1,900 men. The division of the S. Carolina Militia is no longer expected, as it appears that the disaffected spirit of the frontier inhabitants gives them so much uneasiness as to require a corps of observation to watch their motions. Is under little apprehension of the enemy being able to effect anything of consequence through the difficulties they will meet with. Repeats request for bat and forage money. Want of provisions. Has drawn bills on him for £373 6s. 8d., and requests him to order payment as stipulated.

MAJ.-GEN. WILLIAM PHILLIPS to GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1778, June 14. Cambridge.—Encloses a return of officers of the Troops of Convention of Saratoga, for whom he has given his parole for endeavouring to procure their being exchanged. Only Captain Shrimpton, of the 62nd Regiment, goes by special permission. Hopes his reasons for putting Lieut. Poole England's name down to be exchanged will be approved. The names of the Deputy-Quartermaster-General and Deputy-Adjutant-General of the German troops with the aide-de-camp of Major-General Riedesel are inserted at the special request of the General, and as a mark of respect and attention to him personally. Captain O'Connell alone goes to Europe, the rest, except Captain Willoe, who has been sent to Canada, remain with their general. Hopes his Excellency will approve these officers being exchanged.

Requests that he will direct the officer or commissary who regulates these private exchanges to procure certificates from the American Commissary-General of Prisoners, and that these certificates or copies may be sent to him, otherwise he will be long ignorant on the subject.

MAJ.-GEN. WILLIAM PHILLIPS TO GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1778, June 14. Cambridge.—“I have just now received the enclosed paper from Major General Heath.

“When the agreement was making for supplying the Troops of the Convention with Provisions, I made a particular exception against what appeared to me an unjustifiable article, the paying for the Transport of Provisions by land, other than in the Current Money circulating at present in this Country, namely, Paper Dollars. Major General Pigot was pleased to adopt my sentiments upon this Subject, and Major General Heath did not absolutely insist upon it, but sent to the American Congress for orders, which he has signified to me to have received by the inclosed paper.

“It is to be observed that in this inclosed Paper the word Prisoners is twice mentioned, first “who surrendered Prisoners under the ‘Convention of Saratoga,’ next, ‘Convention Prisoners.’

“I think it my Duty to represent to your Excellency, that the American Congress, as well as many others of the Americans, have industriously used the word Prisoners as explanatory of the situation of the Troops of the Convention. Lieutenant General Burgoyne always asserted the Contrary—that we were not Prisoners—I have ever both in sentiment and conduct done the same. Whether the Troops of the Convention being called Prisoners by the American Officers and the American Congress proceeds from accident, from pride, from assurance or from policy, I am as Senior Officer of the Troops of the Convention, under a necessity of protesting against the term. By the Treaty of Convention of Saratoga, we were to have a safe passage to Europe, and to march through the Country to the Port of Boston under the protection of the parties with whom the Treaty was formed and executed, we have Considered ourselves as passengers under the sanction and virtue of a Treaty, not as Prisoners.”

GENERAL HALDIMAND to the Commander of his Majesty's Forces at New York [CLINTON].

1778, July 5. Quebec.—Several persons belonging to Province of New York and neighbouring colonies who last campaign formed Lieut.-Genl. Burgoyne's army, being desirous of getting nearer their families and habitations, embrace the opportunity of a vessel going to New York to effect this design. As since their arrival in the province they have behaved in a manner becoming honest men, doubts not they will have every assistance in his power. Enclosed are abstracts of the subsistence paid and advanced by Sir G. Carleton and himself, no information having been received from Burgoyne of what was to be paid for their services.

BRIG.-GEN. AUGUSTINE PREVOST to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1778, July 11. Cowford, St. John's River.—Acknowledges dispatches. Congratulations on appointment. The rebels have advanced to this side of St. Mary's river. Has therefore repaired to this place, leaving directions for troops to post themselves in various situations. The garrison left in charge of Lt.-Col. Fuser, of the 60th regiment.

“Major Prevost the Field Officer next in seniority and who had been some time on th'other side endeavouring to bring the South Carolina Royalists into some kind of order was reinforced with One hundred and Seventy Regulars with direction to advance towards St. Mary as near as he could prudently venture in order to favor the retreat of Governor Tonyu's Rangers, to cover a few Inhabitants on the Branches of Nassau in bringing off their effects, and if a favorable opportunity offered to check or cutt off any partys the Enemys might push forward and to throw every other obstacles possible in their way to advance. The Rangers, who probably were never so numerous as represented, were by this time reduced by desertion and otherwise to fifty or Sixty Men, and as their situation was such as only made them liable to be cutt off without affording any prospect of advantage, to ballance this risk they were directed to fall back on Major Prevost who was appointed to take the command on that side of St. Johns. This the Rangers with some reluctance, founded on the Idea that they were not under my Command, complied with, and at length effected their junction with Major Prevost very critically indeed, for a Select Corps of Rebels to the number of one hundred and twenty, composed of Officers and Volunteers that had been sent out on purpose to cut them off came up with their rear, so that they had just time to save themselves in the swamp occupyd by Major Prevost. The Rebels pressing eagerly for the pass in order to cut the Rangers from it were immediately check'd by the appearance of a Light Company posted there, and soon afterwards retreated with as much speed as they advanced. As the Major did not know how this body might be sustain'd he did not judge prudent to hazard an obstinate pursuit and indeed as his Carolinian Cavalry were at some little distance posted in his rear the rebels being all well mounted were soon out of his reach; they left however eleven dead on the Spot, their wounded were carried off. Our loss was of the 60th one Private Killed, one Wounded, and of the Rangers, one Captain, one Lientenant, one Private wounded—this happened on the 30th Ult^o. Since when the Rebels have kept themselves close at and near the post formerly occupy'd by the Rangers.

“The principal object for which Major Prevost was advanced being effected as far as circumstances wou'd permit, and finding it difficult to maintain a proper communication with him at the distance of Twenty-three Miles, from the Smalness of our Number, he was directed to fall back to a Strong Situation within Six Miles of this place and from thence to endeavour by smal Scouts to gain intelligence of the motion of the Ennemies and to allarm and harrass them as much as possible. In this way our partys hitherto have been pretty successful, carrying off at different times with some prisoners about Ninety horses besides disabling many more, and by firing at their Sentries keeping them in constant alarms.

“I cannot take upon me to say with certainty whether the Rebels will advance or not—if they do I think now that the ‘Perseus’ and ‘Otter’ are arrived to our assistance in guarding the coast I may venture to assure your Excellency that we shall preserve the Province until reinforcements arrive, when I hope we shall be able to attempt something further. The Rebel land forces do not exceed 2,500 to 3,000 Men, their Naval now near the mouth of St. Marys consists of five Gallies, two Flatts and two petty angers carrying about 30 pieces of Canon of from 18 to 4-pounders, besides boats carrying Swivels, some Small crafts with Provisions and Stores and Man'd in all with 350 Men.

“With regard to Governor Tonyn, tho' I cannot say that he ever treated me on that footing of Confidence or Candour that I thought my Rank claimed or my Zeal for his Majesty's Service Merited, yet our disputes never arose to a height productive of any misfortune to the Province. Wild Schemes I believe he has sometimes entertained of conquering Georgia, of which as he wished to reap all the glory he would not have deminished by communicating any part of his Plans to me, and which indeed if he had I must have objected to first because my Orders positively restricted me to a defensive Plan and next because our force or resources of any kind did by no means point out the propriety of a contrary line of conduct or hither to afford any feasible prospect of success to an Offensive even if any thing had been left at my discretion. His Rangers he also wished to keep distinct from my Command for I apprehend more reasons than one, but among others that under his Orders only they might proceed to acquiring the undivided glory of the conquest of Georgia, but since by this invasion of the rebels, these high ideas have been at least suspended, even the predatory Incursions of his Rangers unmeaning in any publick view, he had agreed before the arrival of your Excellency's or Sir William Howe's dispatches to put the remains of this corps under my orders during the present emergencies and we are now for any thing I know to the contrary on very good terms."

Recommends his brother Major Prevost for the rank of lieutenant-colonel. He had served 23 years, and by disappointment had retired on half-pay. On the present disturbances he purchased in again and while he is serving, his wife and children, plundered of their effects, are kept in a species of confinement in the Jerseys, liable every instant to indignity.

1778, July 20. Cambridge.—Report. On the accounts of provisions supplied the Troops of Convention from 1 March to 30 June. Transmits an abstract of the provisions received, for which he has given monthly receipts. By the continental accounts just exhibited there appears an overcharge of 240 lbs. of bread, 940 lbs. of beef, 135 lbs. of pork, 16 of rice and 4 of candles; 1,910 lbs. of flour, 3,682 of beef, 1,133 of pork and 380 of rice are charged as wastage, which is unprecedented; the pay of the continental commissaries and their rations and rum are also charged. Bread for the hospital at Watertown in November last is included and the provisions for the prisoners stationed on Prospect Hill which should not be brought against the Troops of the Saratoga Convention.

Signed copy. Vol. 9. No. 47. 3 pages.

LT. GEORGE VALLANCEY, Assistant Quarter-Master-General, to MAJ.-GEN. WILLIAM PHILLIPS.

1778, July 21. Cambridge.—Report. On the American Quarter-Master-General's accounts for the Troops of Convention from March to June. Objects to 12 articles for transporting provisions, &c., the Commissary-General in charging by the ration being supposed to include all expenses, as in previous accounts; to back charges, the accounts to December being finally settled and paid by Burgoyne; to charges for guards, escorts for prisoners etc., that being an American expense; to a back charge by Mr. Chase for procuring quarters for officers as he has never known Mr. Chase do any business with the troops and Major Hopkins is paid for such duties; to charges for teaming and carting wood while the market price of wood includes all transportation; and to charges for wages and rations for persons employed in the American Quarter-Master-General's Dept. as unnecessary. Out of 41 articles he would only allow 5 as of a proper nature, amounting to £15,918 4s. 3d. No vouchers of any kind have been produced.

GOV. PATRICK TONYN to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1778, July 25. St. Augustine.—Refers to the enclosures. "From the best Accounts the rebel forces appear to have been about eight hundred with their Gallies and armed Vessels, and between two and three thousand land forces, of which one half were Carolinians, under the command of the rebel Generals Howe and Williamson; the other regulars and Militia from Georgia immediately under the command of their rebel Governor Houstone, mostly forced into the Service, and many were enticed by the prospect of plunder thrown out as a bait by their Governor Houstone's Proclamation.

"In twelve days after our provincial naval forces were stationed in St. Johns river so as effectually to secure it, Captain Elphinstone of the 'Perseus,' and with the 'Otter' arrived off this Coast, and soon after nigh five hundred Seminoly Indians advanced within a days march of the Enemy and a short distance from the King's forces."

The rebels have relinquished their designs and retreated. The Seminoly Indians have ever shown their attachment to his Majesty. They are ready to return in the fall to attack the Georgians should I require it. Report that a French fleet has arrived in the "Chesapeak" from Toulon.

BRIG.-GEN. AUGUSTINE PREVOST to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1778, July 26. St. Augustine.—“The Rebel Army has repassed St. Mary’s River. They effected it with great expedition and tho’ every step was taken by Major Prevost to harrass and attack their Rear, only few of his advanced parties were able to exchange a few shots with a large body of horse which they had pushed forwards to cover their Retreat; these after having two Men killed retreated also with all possible hurry and were over the River before the parties that were in pursuit could come up with them, owing to the difficulties of the roads that had been destroy’d, the heavy rains and the intense heat of the weather; the conveniency of putting their artillery and heavy baggage on board of their Galleys greatly facilitated their Retreat, and that of their horses is seldom retarded by Rivers as they don’t hesitate to plunge into the Water and swim across.

“Measures had been taken to enable Captain Elphinston of the ‘Perseus’ to attempt the destruction of the Naval force of the Rebels or to make a diversion on the Coast of Georgia, the retreat of the Rebels in part prevented this last plan, the former may prove difficult on account of the difficulty of adventuring our Galleys and the Sloop of War into the inland navigation without a possibility of the ‘Perseus’ affording them the necessary protection, however a Number of Men are embarked and in readiness to proceed if Cap^t Elphinstone thinks it of the least utility in the execution of his project, he will at least have it in his power with the assistance of Cap^t Moncrieffe the Engineer to ascertain the properest place for establishing a Post at or near the mouth of St. Mary’s River.”

Requests bat and forage money for the Regulars. Sends list of the Carolina officers. Capt. Shaw of his battalion appointed Assistant Deputy Quarter-Master-General. As there are two troops of Light Horse among the Carolina Royalists submits what extraordinary allowance ought to be made to them as hitherto the property of their horses, saddles and arms have been their own.

JOHN ROBINSON to DANIEL WIER.

1778, July 27. Whitehall, Treasury Chambers.— . . . The great increase of the numbers victualled at Philadelphia added to the large and unexpected demand for the support of General Burgoyne's army . . . has decided their Lordships to dispatch the remainder of the provisions of the last year's contract, 6 sail of ships with part of the new contract and 12 sail more which had waited some time for the dry provisions detained by contrary winds in the British Channel. Only 8 ships will then remain to be further dispatched till the return of some victuallers which are earnestly desired. Begs to be constantly advised of the rations drawn and the stock in hand. Messrs. Mure and Atkinson are directed to send out oats. The deficiency reported in the cargoes does not seem to exceed the natural waste and shrinkage in measure of grain so long on board in such a voyage, but an enquiry will be made. The vinegar so long detained for want of conveyance was shipped last November. Mr. Burfoot is exempted from duties on rum contracted for.

MAJ.-GEN. EYRE MASSEY to [GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON].

1778, August 20. Halifax.—Received last letter 12th June. Sent 8 vessels for a supply of coals for this place. Arrival of Capt. Maclane with 3 regiments. The engineer has set about barracks for the new corps. Has fortified this place. Waits to hear if he approves of Lt.-Col. Hierlyhey's detention at Spanish River. Arrival of staff of a surgeon, apothecary and four mates. "Mr. Marshall produced the King's Commission, but told me Mr. Adair said he only was sent here in case of being wanted. I answered him, no Man that produced the King's Commission to me, should remain Idle for he must do his Duty; but as Doctor Jeffries with two Mates has done all this Duty, I have put him in orders as Purveyor and Surgeon untill your Excellency's Pleasure is known, this Gentleman was left with 200 Sick and wounded when the Grand Army left this the 10th June; I sent them to join their different Regiments, as fast as I could: after that, he has had the Care of all the Rebel Prisoners, besides all the different detachments that have come in here since I commanded, which Duty he discharged with Chearfulness, and I declare it by my word, I never have had a Complaint. One of His Mates a worthy good Lad, I have sent to Spanish River to take care of all the Working Men at the Colliery, and to be Surgeon to Lieut.-Col. Hierlihey's Corps, as he asked for him before I sent him off, for which I have given him a Warrant untill your Excellency's pleasure is known. His name is Clarke. I could not turn off good Loyal Men who had done their duty in the King's Service, by any Mistakes at home." Col. Maclane appointed as brigadier. Forwards letter from Haldimand. P.S.—Had a letter from Lord G. Germain; "it contains no orders but desires I may supply the inhabitants of Halifax with coals, a measure I ever pursued since I commanded this province."

MAJ.-GEN. W. PHILLIPS to GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1778, August 21. Cambridge.—Sends this letter by Brig-Gen. Wilkinson of the Americans. Has received no letters from him. The Troops are remarkably healthy, the British at this place and Rutland, the Germans entire at Cambridge. By some unknown means the clothing from Canada is not arrived. Has requested leave from Washington to send an officer to know what is to be expected. Will be forced to apply to New York, as the soldiers are naked. Impatiently waiting answer from Gt. Britain relative to ratification of the Treaty of Convention. The intention of a general exchange of prisoners being reported over leaves no hopes of serving. Will send returns for July and August the first opportunity. Will be glad to receive answers to such public matters as he has written upon. Concerning succession to vacancies.

MAJ.-GEN. WM. PHILLIPS to GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1778, August 27. Cambridge.—Yesterday received a packet from General Washington dated the 16th and containing a letter from him (Sir Henry) of 18th July. Appreciation of the favour of the request made for passport to pay a visit to New York. Gen. Washington's answer. Cannot judge how far it may be proper for an application to Congress. Believes there must have been a prior letter which he has not received. Would like a duplicate of that letter, as it may contain answers to several passages particularly relating to vacancies. Sends paper for succession to Capt. Montgomery. The troops are beginning to suffer for want of clothing. Congress has given no answer yet to his request for an officer to go to Canada about the matter.

From an impossibility of supplying the troops with necessaries in this country they have occasionally sent to Rhode Island. Lt. Campbell, Ass.-Q.M.G. embarked for this purpose on a vessel which ran aground, has proceeded to New York, begs a flag of truce to carry him and necessaries back. Should the ratification of the Convention so eagerly awaited be prevented precautions should be taken for the convenience and safety of the men. Withdraws request as to vacant ensigny on the 21st.

1778, September 6. Halifax.—Has been appointed Lt.-Governor of Nova Scotia. The Council of this province has requested that the departure of the Marine Battalion for England might be delayed. Communicated this to Major-General Massey, who has thought proper to stop them until further intelligence of the French fleet is received. Hopes this measure will be approved.

MAJ.-GEN. EYRE MASSEY to [GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON].

1778, September 6. Halifax.—The corps of Marines had been embarked for some days. Adl. Byron, Capt. Fielding and himself had resolved they should sail this day, but Lord Howe has ordered them to be detained. Had given up the command to Brig. Maclane, but will resume it to-day. Thinks troops already in Halifax are sufficient to defend it. 600 rebel and French prisoners are here.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 21. No. 22. 2 pages.

MAJ.-GEN. WM. PHILLIPS to MAJ.-GEN. WM. HEATH.

1778, September 7. Cambridge.—Is still of opinion Mr. Clarke should go to New York to accelerate the settlement of accounts, but if it is not thought proper to send him, Mr. Geddes will be sent.

[GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON] to MAJ.-GEN. EYRE MASSEY, OF Officer Commanding His Majesty's Forces at Halifax.

1778, September 8. New York, Head Quarters.—“Having long since directed Major Hierlyhy with his Corps to proceed to the Island of St. John's, where they were to be Stationed for the defence and security of that Post, I could have wished they had not been detained at Spanish River; as I took it for granted you would have been able to spare a sufficient Number of Men from Halifax for the Protection of the Coal Mines at that Place, and I am therefore to desire that you will order Major Hierlyhy to proceed forthwith with his Corps to St. John's, agreeable to the Orders he received before his Departure from hence.

“As I understood by your Letter of the 13th of June, that upon Colonel McLean's Arrival at Halifax you meant to join me here, it is probable I may see you soon, . . . but if your affairs require your Presence in Europe, I can have no objection to your returning thither by the first Opportunity.

“I am just now returned from Rhode Island, for the Relief of which Place besieged by a considerable Body of Rebels I embarked about 14 days ago, but found on my arrival that the Enemy had Evacuated it the Evening before.

“Colonel Butler with a Body of Indians and others, assembled under his Command, has destroyed a Number of Settlements upon the Frontiers of Pennsylvania, and repulsed what Force the Rebels had collected to oppose him.

“The French Fleet, which has been for a considerable while upon this Coast, and for a time assisted the Rebels in their attempts to reduce Rhode Island, has, I am afraid, got into Boston.”

Will consider the recommendations for successions. Lt.-Col. Gunning to be allowed to go to Europe.

MAJ.-GEN. WILLIAM PHILLIPS TO MAJ.-GEN. WM. HEATH.

1778, September 12. Cambridge.—Recapitulates the points of Mr. Commissary Clarke's report [20 July]. As to the rations delivered to prisoners of war:—"It cannot fail to strike your imagination immediately, that I have nothing to do with Prisoners of War—I received a number of them into my care at the request of the Commissary of Prisoners and with your consent. I did this as a relief to your Prisons and Prison Ships and as an act of humanity to the Prisoners of War, but I never stipulated for the delivery or Payment of Provisions for them, and so clear was I in the impropriety of my interfering in matter of provisions for these Men, that at their arrival on Prospect Hill, I gave orders for all accounts of Provisions, &c., &c. to be kept separate, as having nothing to do with those issued to the Troops of the Convention." As to the form of the accounts "Maj.-Gen. Phillips Dr. to the United States" has no objection to become the nominal debtor for provisions issued by the commissaries, but requests that they be charged against him by Maj.-Gen. Heath or by the American Commissaries, as he cannot acknowledge any such power as the United States of America. Desires at any rate that he will sign the accounts for which purpose he returns the originals.

MAJOR-GENERAL WILLIAM PHILLIPS to BRIG.-GEN. JAMES HAMILTON.

1778, September 14. Cambridge.—That the season for cold weather advances. That in consequence of General Heath's seeming resolution not to suffer an officer to go over the Lakes, all idea of receiving the baggage or clothing from Canada must be given up. Mr. Commissary Gen. Clarke is going to New York and he (Phillips) proposes to send the Commander in Chief a report of the state of the troops. Desires him to consult with the several commanding officers of corps. What sort of clothing may be cheapest and easiest provided. What necessaries will be absolutely required.

LT.-COL. JOHN LIND to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1778, September 15. Cambridge.—“I am exceedingly sorry to be under the necessity of troubling you on this occasion, but Major-General Phillips's proceedings with Respect to my Behaviour and authority founded on my letter of the 8th Inst. makes it absolutely necessary for me to apply to your Ex^y for a Gen^l Court Martial to clear up my Conduct on this occasion, more espetially as by the Major-General's orders I am Debar'd seeing him but through the Brigadier-General, when the late Deputy Chaplain is paid every attention too, his reasons and report heard on the Strength of which I am so severely Censured in public orders without being heard, which I can't help thinking is a very extraordinary proceeding towards a Lieut-Col. Comm^d a Regiment? which I flatter myself you will easily perceive by the anex't Copy of The Orders of the Major-General and Letters pass'd between the late Deputy Chaplain and me, which I beg leave to refer to for my present Justification. With respect to Mr. Brown he never was put in orders by me or any report made, tho intended at the particualar request of three field officers. The moment I was made Sensible of the impropriety of appointing him, I made my excuse, and have the honor to be, Sir, Your most Humble and most obedient Servant.

Signed letter. Vol. 9. No. 90; with papers annexed 81 to 89.

Annexed:—

LT.-COL. LIND to the REVEREND MR. BRUDENELL.

1778, September 8. Cambridge.—1st letter.—“It being necessary the 20th Regiment should have a Chaplain or Deputy to do the Duty at Rutland, I have desired Captain Rollinson to appoint Mr. Brown to act as such till further orders, and given the Paymaster directions to pay you for the time you have acted, and am, Sir, Your most Obedient Humble Servant.”

REV. ED. BRUDENELL to LT.-COL. LIND.

N.D.—2nd letter.—Has read with great surprise his letter. If it is merely residence which is thought necessary remembers Mr. Mungan while deputy chaplain resided chiefly at Quebec. Must report his dismissal to Maj.-Gen. Phillips. Desires answer.

LT.-COL. LIND to the REV. E. BRUDENELL.

1778, September 13th. Cambridge.—Answer to letter of yesterday. . . “on the Regiment’s going from hence and your remaining behind without saying anything to me or taking any Steps towards getting somebody to do the duty. . . I look’t upon it as my Duty to provide another, after waiting upwards of a Month, without seeing or hearing from you.” . . . “Mr. Mungan looked on me as Commanding Officer of the 20th Regt. and had my leave and Sir Guy Carleton’s through me for what he did.” . . .

REV. E. BRUDENELL to LT.-COL. LIND.

1778, September 13. Cambridge.—That his servant on delivering the letter attended to know if there was any answer but was told he need not wait. Concluded no answer was meant and laid his letter before Maj.-Gen. Phillips. Readily allows he failed in attention, politeness, and even duty, on the regiment moving but from no want of respect. Acknowledges himself liable to censure,

THOMAS BIBBY, Dep. Adj.-Gen. to LT.-COL. LIND.

1778, September 13. Cambridge.—3rd letter.—Sends copy of the General Orders and of letter to Capt. Rollinson.

MAJOR-GENERAL PHILLIPS. General Orders.

Marked No. 1.—His disapproval of Lt.-Col. Lind's letter—that it marks a want of respect due to the commanding officer who should have been consulted—that Mr. Brown, nominated, being a minister of the Church of Scotland, cannot properly serve as chaplain to a regiment which is of the English Church—that two chaplains are actually resident at Rutland, and Divine service celebrated under a General Parade—that Mr. Brudenell's character is called in question and report must be made from the regiment.

THOMAS BIBBY, Dep. Adj.-Gen., to CAPT. ROLLINSON, commanding the 20th Regiment at Rutland.

1778, September 13. Cambridge.—Maj.-Gen. Phillips desires a report whether Mr. Brudenell has failed in duty or incurred censure, also whether the Regiment does not attend Divine service regularly, and if they reported the necessity of the deputy chaplain residing there.

LT.-COL. JOHN LIND to BRIG.-GEN. JAMES HAMILTON.

1778, September 14. Cambridge.—“In obedience to the orders of the 13th wherein I am so severely Censured, without being heard, I must refer the Major-General to my letter of the above date to the Rev^d Mr. Brudenell, a copy of which I here inclose, being in Consequence of the above orders and reasons given which I had not the smallest Idea off, or that any expressions I had made use of in my letter of the 8th Ins^t could be so strained, I may be allowed a Gen^l Court Martial to Justify my Conduct, at the same time you may acquaint the Major-General I never had any intention to fail in my respect to him, or to attack in the smallest degree Mr. Brudenell's Character as a Clergyman.”

LT.-COL. JOHN LIND to BRIG.-GEN. JAMES HAMILTON.

1778, September 19. Cambridge.—“In consequence of my letter of the 14th Ins^t I beg to know the Major-General's Answer as soon as possible, as Mr. Clarke informed me he was to go the latter end of the week for N. York.”

BRIG.-GEN. JAMES HAMILTON to LT.-COL. JOHN LIND.

1778, September 19. Cambridge.—“I this moment received your note of this Day's date and was so far in my way to shew you Major-General's Phillips' Letter of the 17th Ins^t which I received yesterday at dinner-time in as far as related to your application for a Gen^l Court Martial. But on reflection have sent you the whole to peruse, hoping by it to put a stop to any public hearing, a subject I wish was done away, at the same time beg leave to acquaint you that Major-General Phillips has no objection to Transmitt to the Commander-in-Chief whatever you have to say on the Subject."

LT.-COL. JOHN LIND to BRIG.-GEN. JAMES HAMILTON.

1778, September 19. Cambridge.—"I this moment received yours of the 19th and should have been happy at Complying with the Maj^r-General's Intentions had I known them; or been made Sensible of them before the orders were given out. It is now too late. I shall therefore . . . appeal to a Gen^l Court Martial . . . and shall send the Comm^r-in-Chief a Copy of the orders, with the letters that passed between the late Deputy Chaplain, yourself, and me, without saying anything further in my Justification." (See also p. 306. Proceedings of Court Martial with papers annexed.)

BRIG.-GEN. AUGUSTINE PREVOST to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1778, September 16. St. Augustine.—Transmits duplicates of last letters. Affairs of this Province with respect to rebels nearly in the same situation, excepting some depredations committed at Smyrna by a privateer and the loss of the "Otter" sloop, who being sent to intercept her was stranded in a gale of wind on Cape Cañaverál. The loss is serious, as a naval force is absolutely necessary for the defence of this Province and to prevent the Southern Colonies receiving supplies from the French, Dutch, and Spanish settlements. Requests men-of-war and a supply of field pieces, muskets and ammunition. Provisions needed. Insufficiency of the supplies sent by the contractors. The flour though lately arrived is bad. "The propriety of having a Post at the mouth of St. Mary's river for the protection of his Majesty's Ships of war and the vessels armed by the Province being strongly urged by Captain Elphinstone—I have ordered the Engineer Captain Moncrief to take a Survey of the fittest place for the purpose, the want of Provisions which never can be sent over the different Bars and removed without great risk of loss and certain waste does not permit at present the execution of the plan, he has proposed its expediency however being very obvious, I would proceed to it as soon as the present objection is removed some heavy Guns and a couple of eight inches howitzers will be requisite, will be much wanted the Governor having already taken six twenty four pounders for the Provincial Naval Armament, if more were to be taken, it might be of great prejudice. The presents for the Indians being nearly exhausted, I could wish that some might be sent, their friendship to us in great part depends upon it, our Superiority would fix them—in the late invasion of this Province, when the numbers of the Enemy were reported to be so considerable they did not appear to be very forward to assist as probably they conceived that this Province would only be the prelude to their destruction of course they remained as it were neuter 'till the retreat of the Enemy having relieved them from their fears, they then came very readily to offer their Services and to receive the presents which their good will and friendship merited in their opinion." Begs warrants for holding General Courts Martial and for Judge Advocate. Has not received any orders or instructions relative to his conduct in this Province except for disciplining the two new battalions. Has acted on the defensive. This would be a favourable time for an attack on Georgia if he could keep it.

MAJ.-GEN. WILLIAM HEATH to MAJ.-GEN. WM. PHILLIPS.

1778, September 17. Head Quarters, Boston.—“Yours of the 14th (sic) enclosing the Accounts, Mr. Commissary Clarke's report and your own Remarks came duly to hand, and would have been sooner answered had not more important concerns prevented.

“As to any accidental mistake in the Accounts I apprehend that Messrs. Clarke and Richardson fully investigated the matter at their late interviews and corrected whatever they found wrong in that respect.

“As to the charge of wastage I think it must appear just: the Provisions are purchased by our Commissaries for the Troops of the Convention with as much care as for our own, and you are charged at the same rate; if therefore a wastage happens by the shrinking or drying of the several Species of Provisions, or in weighing them in small quantities, which I think you will allow, will always happen, it is consonant both will reason and justice that you should pay for such wastage. If in a judgment of Equity the charge for Wastage is greater than can be reasonably supposed, it deserves consideration, and not otherwise, and of this those acquainted with the issuing of Provisions are the most competent Judges.

“The Charges of Rations for our Commissaries and Clerks who are employed for the sole purpose of serving the Troops of the Convention, is not higher than the Rations charged to the Troops, neither are there more Rations charged to you for those Officers than they are respectively entitled to in the American Army, and I know of no Rule or Reason why they ought to be more or less; if there are more of those Officers employed than are necessary for the regular delivery of the Provisions, on your representation they shall be reduced, and this I have several times mentioned to the Commissary.

“The Rations delivered to the Hospital in Watertown in November last were omitted in the first Account, and are as much due as any other part of the Accounts yet unsettled, and for ought I can conceive, are now inserted with equal propriety, as their validity cannot admit of a doubt.

“In regard to the Rations supplied the Prisoners of War, I was informed by Major Merserau that you assured him that if the Prisoners of War were permitted to remove from the Guard Ship to Prospect Hill you would be accountable for the Provisions which they received and upon no other consideration should I have consented to their removal; I have however ordered those Supplies to be transferred to a separate account.

“The Title of the Accounts was not inserted by mistake or to ensnare you, and although you may affect not to know or acknowledge any such power as the United States yet surely your present situation, and the recognition of these Independant States by some of the first Powers in Europe, must be such demonstrative evidence as not to leave a doubt on your mind, although you may decline an acknowledgement of it.

“The appellations being the established Stile and Title of these States, there dignity is not to be waved to gratify the feelings of any Man, or Power whatever. The former Accounts bore the same Title, and I never heard that either Lieutenant General Burgoyne or Sir Wm. Howe conceived them to be indecent.

“As our Commissaries always Contract for Provisions and settle their Accounts in their own Names, I can see no Necessity for my signing their Accounts, and as I never have heretofore in any instance done it, you will excuse my not beginning to do it in the present instance.”

Copy. Vol. 9. No. 38. 2 pages.

MAJ.-GEN. WILLIAM HEATH to MAJ.-GEN. WM. PHILLIPS.

1778, September 17. Boston.—“Yours of the 14th (sic) respecting the Deputy Quarter Master General's Accounts is before me.

“ That there are very considerable charges for the transporting of Provisions is certain and they are also equally just. Whenever it is necessary to remove Provisions from any of the Magazines for the purpose of supplying the Troops of the Convention, they most certainly ought to be at the expence of it. The Provisions being nigh the Troops of the Convention on their first arrival at Cambridge was fortunate for the Government of Britain in avoiding the expence of transportation ; but this is by no means to be plead as a president, when transportation is unavoidable.”

“ With respect to any Charges for Wood in the Month of December which were omitted in the former Accounts, I refer you to my observations respecting the Provisions furnished to the Hospital in November last which are applicable in this present Case.

“ As to the Charges for Teaming and carting Wood, they are not greater than necessity has required, and with all their exertions you are fully sensible that the necessity of the Troops for Fuel have scarcely been supplied.

“ As the Troops of the Convention were removed back for the Conveniences of the Country rather than themselves I ordered the Ass^t. Q. M. Genl. to furnish the number of Waggons allowed to our own Troops, free of expence, and that whatever Waggons over and above that number were wanted for the Officers or Troops were to be charged at the usual Rates and they were charged accordingly.

“ I do not know that more persons are employed in the Q. M. General's Department than are necessary for the procurement and delivery of Fuel, if it is your Opinion that there are, any which you suppose unnecessary shall be discharged, but I apprehend upon enquiry you will find that the several Persons who are employed are necessary in the several Spheres in which they act.

“ The Persons who attended Officers of the Convention to Philadelphia did it at the request of General Burgoyne with his assurance that all expences should be paid, and whenever any of our Officers were sent no charge of Wages has been made for them—a Charge is made for the time for a Mr. Peck, who is not an Officer, and was engaged specially to attend an Officer of the Convention to Philadelphia, I know of no Reason why the United States should pay for his time while on that Service.

“ Upon the whole having paid attention to the several objections and remarks that you have made and replied thereto, I think you must be satisfied that the Accounts are just ; I have therefore returned them and desire that immediate Measures may be taken for the settlement of them.”

MAJOR-GEN. RIEDESEL TO MAJOR-GEN. WILLIAM PHILLIPS.

1778, September 18. Cambridge.—Received letter of yesterday, and also order relative to requirements of German troops. Communicated a copy of orders to Brig.-Gen. de Gall. Will send his answer soon as received. Called a Council respecting requirements of Brunswick troops. Gives his opinion that extraordinary expenses should fall on the Sovereign in whose service the troops are employed. If Clinton will not provide the winter clothing he must purchase it himself at the cost of the Duke of Brunswick and await representations made at home. Sends two returns specifying the number of blankets he would wish to have in order to make coats for one part of the corps, and the number of yards of blue or other coloured cloth necessary to make long breeches for the whole. The articles mentioned under No. 1 in the annexed memorial cannot be purchased at the expense of the Duke.

Signed letter. Vol. 9. No. 69. 4 pages.

Annexed,

1778, September 18. Cambridge.—Memorial, end wanting.

That in consequence of his letter, he summoned the commanding officers of the Brunswick troops. They return their sincere thanks and offer four particulars for consideration.

1st. That as the troops passed through England in 1776 they received a blanket and a cap to each man as an extraordinary gift. That the blankets have been constantly used or carried on the soldiers' backs and are now almost useless. It cannot be expected that the Duke of Brunswick will allow now what was at first a gift; they therefore send return of the number requisite for the men on Winter Hill. 2nd. That Sir Guy Carleton ordered each man, on account of the severe cold in Canada, a long blanket coat, a pair of long breeches, a cap covering the shoulders, and a pair of gloves. These are in a serviceable condition, but are in Canada. 3. That the men have slept on the boards without straw and many without a blanket. Though the Americans issue out straw it is spoiled in a very short time. Would like them to have mattresses stuffed with straw, and a return is sent specifying the quantity of coarse linen desired. 4th. A return is sent of necessaries desired by captains of companies for their men, which he begs Mr. Commissary Clarke may procure from New York.

Original. Vol. 9. No. 72. 6 pages.

GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON to GENERAL WASHINGTON.

1778, September 19. New York.—“Nothing but His Majesty's positive Instructions, of which I send you an Extract, could have induced me to trouble you or the American Congress again on the Subject of the Troops detained in New England in direct Contravention of the Treaty entered into at Saratoga. The Neglect of the Requisitions already made on this Subject is altogether unprecedented among Parties at War. I now however repeat the Demand that the Convention of Saratoga be fulfilled; and offer by express and recent Authority from the King received since the Date of the late Requisition made by His Majesty's Commissioners to renew in his Majesty's Name all the Conditions stipulated by Lieut. General Burgoyne in Respect to the Troops serving under his Command.

“In this I mean to discharge my duty not only to the King whose Orders I obey; But to the unhappy People likewise whose Affairs are committed to you, and who I hope will have the Candour to acquit me of the Consequences that must follow from the new System of War you are pleased to introduce. I have the Honor to be, Sir, your most obedient and most humble Servant.”

Copy. Vol. 8. No. 137. 2 pages.

Enclosing Lord G. Germain to Sir H. Clinton, 12 June 1778.

Copy also in Vol. 8. No. 151. 1 page.

MAJ.-GEN. WILLIAM PHILLIPS to MAJ.-GEN. WM. HEATH.

1778, September 20. Cambridge.—“I find by your observations on my remarks that these accounts, must, as I have imagined, go to our Superiors to be finally settled—the sooner they are sent the better—I shall not create any delay. As you decline signing the Accounts as the Military Officer in Command in the Massachusetts Bay, I will propose to you that my name, also, be omitted. Let the Accounts be headed for Provisions issued to the British Commissaries, and for Fuel, &c., &c., delivered the British Assistant Quarter Master General for use of the Troops of the Convention of Saratoga.

“Under this description the Accounts may go in, which I most heartily desire.”

Copy. Vol. 9. No. 51. 1 page.

MAJ.-GEN. RIEDESEL to MAJ.-GEN. WILLIAM PHILLIPS.

1778, September 20. Cambridge.—Forwards the representation and the lists, corrected and altered in the way found necessary yesterday. The lists of the Hanau Regiment will follow as soon as Brig.-Gen. Gall sends them.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 9. No. 68. 1 page.

LIEUT.-COLONEL JOHN CAMPBELL and LIEUT.-COLONEL JAMES BRUCE to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1778, September 21. Halifax.—That as the regiments under their command have been at great expense in providing camp equipage and in coming over to America, as well as unexpectedly being ordered to encamp, they beg the usual allowance of bat and forage money.

Signed letters in the Public Record Office, America and W. Indies 134, fo: 235; 589, fos. 45, 50; copy 306, fo. 256.

MAJ.-GEN. WILLIAM HEATH to MAJ.-GEN. WM. PHILLIPS.

1778, September 21. Head Quarters, Boston.—. . . “Although there is not the least necessity of my signing the Accounts yet I think there is a strict propriety that you, as Senior Officer of the Troops of the Convention of Saratoga, should be made chargeable with the supplies furnished to those Troops.”

Copy. Vol. 9. No. 39. 1 page.

MAJ.-GEN. EYRE MASSEY to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1778, September 22. Halifax.—Transmits proceedings of a General Court Martial. Promotions in the Emigrants corps. The Dep. Q.M.G. has pushed on the coal business. Halifax strong enough to resist any force. 100 days bat and forage money offered to the reinforcement has been rejected. "Sixty-nine Rebel Prisoners sent here from Newfoundland, amongst them is William Taylor, Secretary to Hancock, by whom I learn Thos. Boilston, a Merc^t who was at Boston, a very rich Man, who had many Notes from Gen^l. Officers with your Army, and wanted to go home to pass these Notes, as well as to get his Money out of the English Fund, which I hear is above £80,000, and Mr. Bethume is just in the same way, I think it my Duty to inform You of this; I now wait with great Impatience to hear, from your Excellency or my Lord Howe, as indeed my Health would not allow me to delay longer in America."

LORD BARRINGTON to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1778, September 24. War Office.—Major-Generals Charles Grey and Jas. Grant having requested leave to return to Great Britain the matter is referred to him.

Duplicate signed letter. Vol. 6. No. 65. 1 page.

MAJOR-GENERAL WILLIAM PHILLIPS.

1778, September 24. Cambridge.—The quantity of provisions charged in the Continental accounts for August agrees with the quantity delivered. Overcharges of provisions on former accounts are in some measure corrected and in part accounted for by rations for their commissaries and labourers, part of it deducted from the foot of the account and part of it remains unanswered which will probably be accounted for by wastage. Wastage is regulated in a very uncertain manner. Whatever is found wanting in the public stores at the expiration of each month is supposed to be wasted and therefore charged to the Troops of Convention.

Signed letter. Vol. 9. No. 46. 1 page.

[GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON] to RICHARD HUGHES,
Lieut.-Gov. of Nova Scotia.

1778, September 24. New York.—Acknowledges letter of 6th. Intends sending two battalions to replace the marines. These may leave for England on the arrival of the former at Halifax.

Copy. Vol. 21. No. 11. 1 page.

GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON to [BRIG.-GEN. MACLEAN].

1778, September 24. New York.—Appointing him, on his arrival in Nova Scotia and taking the command in place of Maj.-Gen. Massey, to the local rank of brigadier in that province only. Submits advisability of a battery and close work near Point Pleasant, to command that landing, an abbatis to join the works—from the 10 gun battery to Citadel Hill, etc., to secure against attempts by land. As the marines are wanted in Europe he will request the Admiral for an opportunity to send two battalions to relieve them: on their arrival he can have no objection to the departure of the marines for England.

Copy. Vol. 21. No. 10. 2 pages.

[GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON] to MAJ.-GEN. EYRE MASSEY.

1778, September 24. New York, Head Quarters.—With letter of 13th June, he received the Engineer's report of the defences of Halifax. Submits to him and Brigadier Maclean the suggestions as given above.

MAJ.-GEN. WILLIAM PHILLIPS to MAJ.-GEN. HEATH.

1778, September 25. Cambridge.—Sends report upon the provision accounts, including those for the month of August.

“You will receive, also, a letter I have thought it my Duty to write upon the Subject.

“As I am still desirous that every Attention to publick faith on my part should be observed, I now propose to you that Mr. Clarke be allowed to go to New York where the present subject regarding these accounts may be submitted from me to Sir Henry Clinton, and if His Excellency shall see proper to direct me to receive your accounts under the Title of United States of America, I shall obey his Orders with the respect and attention due to His Majestys Commander in Chief in America.

"I have no objection to Mr. Clarke taking Copies of these Accounts, which may lead to explanation and serve perhaps to shorten the time of settling. But I can neither certify to any examination of them or sign them."

Copy. Vol. 9. No. 53. 1 page.

BRIG.-GEN. AUGUSTINE PREVOST TO SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1778, September 25. St. Augustine.—Transmits duplicate of last letter and accounts of expenditures and monthly returns of this District, wherein the Rangers are not included, as he cannot procure a proper return. These Rangers under Lt.-Col. Brown "receive no pay . . . without being of service they subsist upon the King's provisions . . . the few who have horses keep them to go plundering into Georgia whenever they can form a party . . . the rank of Lt.-Col. given to Mr. Brown by the Governor prevents me from the means of reducing them to some order and regulation. Lt.-Col. Fuser is often sick, and the other officers being all majors could not take the command from him . . . in the late invasion of the rebels, for want of his not complying with Major Prevost's orders . . . the corps of Rangers had been very nearly cut off by a party of the Rebel Horse, who past in a manner pell-mell with them all the advanced parties of the Major's posts and might have surprised the camp but for a check by some of the regulars. Lt.-Col. Brown tenacious of his rank, the legality of which I am not acquainted with, had been repeatedly desired to join the Major, large parties had been sent to cover and protect his retreat, he never chose to comply till the moment that he might have occasioned the loss of the advanced Corps of the Army if they had been less alert than they were. As it appears rather hard that old officers should be commanded by a young man entirely unacquainted with military matters, though otherwise zealous and deserving, I beg to be informed by your Excellency whether he is entitled to his rank, in which case I would request that the Majors of this Garrison, who are all old officers, might be ordered to serve as lieutenant-colonels" . . . Ensign Schodde abandoned by the Indians had joined a party of Rangers under Captain Moore, who had been betrayed to the enemy, wounded and murdered. Ensign Schodde having escaped has come hither with a party of Creeks. Provisions needed. Money required for the Carolina Royalists. The want of Col. Innes or a proper person to command that corps. Sends memorial from Major Allaz. Repeats the solicitations of 26th July.

GOVERNOR PATRICK TONYN to GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1778, September 26. St. Augustine.—The naval force has returned to St. John's River and Prévost sends Captain Moncrief's plan for a post to secure St. Mary's harbour. Has requested of Lord Howe an establishment for the protection of rivers and coast. Invasion of this province said to be concerting by Congress. It is also in contemplation to attack the Creek Nation, and Col. Williamson is collecting troops in Carolina for that expedition in case it takes place in preference. The rebel generals Howe and Elbert are gone to the north to receive instructions, etc Genl. Mackintosh is appointed to lead an army to reduce West Florida; his reported check by the Indians wants confirmation. The Indians have made incursions into rebel provinces; they do not molest women and children, but attack men in arms. Has begged gunpowder of Lord Howe. Capt. Monerief desired to give assistance in forwarding some boats building for protection. P.S.—As the Brigadier sends state of the provisions for the garrison, mentions that the inhabitants are in a still lower condition.

BRIG.-GEN. AUGUSTINE PREVOST to GEN. CLINTON.

1778, September 30. St. Augustine.—Letters received; "the directions relative to the Carolina Royalists shall be duly observed, those with respect to the Rangers I shall communicate to the Governor, to whom they look for pay, &c. . . ."

"The extraordinary pay of the Refugees has been given in consequence of a letter from General Howe to Colonel Stuart, the paragraph relative to which I herewith send; the extraordinary Services expected of them, the extraordinary price of all necessaries rendered it necessary to allow them a higher pay. The Rangers in this Province had one shilling promised them per day. Colonel Stuart gave the same to those he had raised and requested me to take care of these people that came here, the Memorial of the Carolina Royalists, mention'd their desire of coming into the Service on the terms offered them by Lord William Campbell, but were willing untill that could be settled, to be on the same footing with the troops raised by Colonel Stuart. I submitted the same to General Howe in my letter of 27th April last, and gave my reasons for thinking it right to shew a particular mark of attention and favour to people who had abandoned everything dear to them to evince their zeal for the King's Service; your Excellency was pleased to approve of what I had done without any particular restrictions; unless that of the Stoppage for Provisions, to which they with some reluctance have submitted; I shall endeavour to make them sensible of the propriety of your reasons for reducing their pay still more and soothe them if possible with the indulgence intended not to make them pay for provisions in future;—the extraordinary expences attending the supplying of them, the horses, saddles &c. absolutely necessary will of course swell my public Accounts considerably, which will make it requisite to have more money by the first convenient opportunity."

With regard to articles wanted, has sent some memoranda by Capt. Shaw, whom he recommends. Recommends Ensign McKenzie to succeed Lt. Keppel, and his son George M. Prevost to succeed Ensign McKenzie.

Signed letter. Vol. 8. No. 145. 3 pages.

Enclosing General Howe to John Stuart, see 13 Jan. 1777.

GOVERNOR PATRICK TONYN to GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1778, September 30. St. Augustine.—“Last night I had the honour of receiving your Excellency's letter of 25th August enclosing a copy of a letter to Brigadier-General Prevost relative to the pay of the Provincial Troops in this province: the contents of which I shall consider and endeavour some time hence to convince your Excellency that they are not so expensive to Government as Dragoons, as they act in that capacity.

“I beg leave only at present to observe that the state of the province when the rangers were raised absolutely required their assistance for the defence of our frontiers, that I communicated the measure to Sir William Howe, who refused to pay them, although he approved of the establishment, that Lord George Germain approved of their being raised and since of their being augmented, that they receive no enlisting money, have no Barracks or Quarters, are encamped always on the frontiers, are on perpetual service, they furnish and maintain their horses, and horse accoutrements, each at their own expence, and receive only one shilling by the Day.

“They have, Sir, been very useful in this province, and I am humbly of opinion in the present situation of Affairs that without great prejudice to the King's Service and endangering the security of the Plantations, I cannot discharge them; but I shall endeavour to establish them on any footing that will correspond with your Excellency's sentiments, and if the Horse be taken into the scale, your Excellency will find they are on terms more reasonable than was imagined.

“I beg leave, Sir, further to surmise that should the rebels attack the Indian Nations that it will be expedient in order to preserve their attachment, that an attack be made upon Georgia."

MARTHA'S VINEYARD.

1778, September.—“An Account of the Number of Neat Cattle Delivered Major-General Gray (sic) by the Sceleet men of the Town of Tisbury for the use of the Brittish Garrisons at Newport & New York in September 1778. No. 8. BRIG.-GEN. JAMES HAMILTON TO MAJ.-GEN. PHILLIPS.

1778, September 16. Cambridge.—“In consequence of your General Orders, Lt.-Col. Lind . . . looks upon himself as severely censured . . . and begs leave to apply to Sir Henry Clinton for a General Court Martial to clear up his conduct.”

No. 10. MAJ.-GEN. PHILLIPS to BRIG.-GEN. JAMES HAMILTON.

1778, September 17. Cambridge.—Acknowledges letter. Comments on the Lt.-Col.'s letter to the Brigadier on the words "without being heard," that he does not know what the Lt.-Col. understood by the copy of the General Orders sent him previous to being made publick. It was intended as a civility, a means for his speaking—the only way of being heard. Recapitulates order of the letters. Had Lt.-Col. Lind reported the conduct of the Deputy Chaplain it should not have passed without reprehension. The Deputy Chaplain's letter of apology and the copy of orders remained for near two days with Lt.-Col. Lind previous to the orders becoming public. If he (Phillips) has a right to have offered to his consideration the dismissing of a deputy chaplain, Lt.-Col. Lind has failed in respect and duty.

No. 11. CAPT. ROLLINSON to LT. BIBBY, D.A.G.

1778, September 20. Rutland.—Has assembled the officers ; they have nothing to say against the Rev. Mr. Brudenell. The regiment has not attended Divine service regularly, as Mr. Money (the only chaplain here) has been indisposed. Did not report to Lt.-Col. Lind, being certain he was well acquainted with the fact.

WILLIAM SPRY TO CAPTAIN PHILIP (sic) CALLBECK.

1778, October 1. Halifax.—Certified true copy, Halifax, 27 January, 1780, by W. Spry, commanding engineer. The island of St. John being included in Maj.-Gen. Massey's command, has received orders to take charge, as commanding engineer, of the fortifications and military buildings. Directs him as assistant engineer to report present state of the works and what he proposes to be done this fall and next spring. To send also a demand of such materials as he may want. Imagines the lumber may be got cheapest on the Island or from Pictow. Sends by the ship that takes Capt. Hierlihy's company to St. John's, two 12-pounders, some intrenching tools and two puncheons of rum. To take Capt. Hierlihy to his assistance as overseer.

MAJ.-GEN. WM. PHILLIPS TO GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1778, October 2. Cambridge.—That Captain Willoe had been sent to Canada for clothing and baggage for the troops, but nothing further is known. Has tried in vain for permission for an officer to go over the Lakes to Canada, but the season has advanced towards winter without any hope of success either of intelligence or clothing. Sends for his inspection and orders reports, returns, letters and papers as to clothing and blankets. However the expense may be arranged it is positively necessary the demand should be complied with. Relies on his Excellency's goodness that a flag of truce may be directed to carry these stores to Boston. Has understood that a number of articles of clothing purchased from subscriptions in Great Britain are frequently sent to New York; hopes these troops may share. Hopes to send an officer to explain this matter, but should he be refused this by Maj.-Gen. Heath must trust to Mr. Clarke's intelligence. Has received notice of exchange of officers of 53rd Regiment, also German officers; all these have gone to Rhode Island except those German officers thought necessary to be left in charge of the soldiers; sends the certificates. Sends estimate of cash required. From 25th June to the 24th December there will be due from forty to fifty thousand pounds. Begg answers to letters. Submits a copy of his letter to the Secretary at War and memorial on behalf of officers.

MAJ.-GEN. WM. PHILLIPS to GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1778, October 20. Cambridge.—“ Since I had the honour of addressing Your Excellency by Mr. Clarke an Account is received of the Cloathing Ships from Canada being arrived at Rhode Island.

“ The necessary Passports are gone for the security of the Vessels entering Boston Harbour, and I shall expect them in a few days.

“ I must request, Sir, that the Commissions for Cloathing, &c., with which Mr. Clark was charged may still go on, as it will be quicker made up, and better adapted for the present instant than the regular Cloathing which may by this means be fitted to the Soldiers by degrees and regularly.

“ The system of the Germans differs from ours, and I have, therefore, desired Major-General Reidesel to write to Mr. Clark upon the Subject of his Cloathing Commissions. But we hope in general that Donation Cloathing may be given to the whole. And this leads me to observe that the Officers live in anxious hope of forage Money or some equal allowance, for I do assure you, Sir, their necessary Expences are so great that it will be impossible for them to support without some assistance.

“ I hear that Lieutenant Campbell is arrived at Rhode Island and I shall soon see him at Cambridge.

“ Mr. Hayes the Surgeon informs me that he has your Excellency's Permission to go for England, he being not included in the Convention but an Exchanged Officer. I take for granted he has reported justly in saying he has your Excellency's leave and I shall, therefore, allow him to go when he has settled the Hospital Accounts : Indeed one Surgeon General is sufficient and Mr. Wier will remain.

"Of the variety of matter with which I have been obliged to trouble Your Excellency by Mr. Clark, I will hope to receive orders upon soon, and that with that Gentleman's return I may know your Excellency's sentiments of those Publick Transactions referred to in my letters."

MAJ.-GEN. WM. PHILLIPS to MAJ.-GEN. RICHARD PRESCOTT.

1778, October 20. Cambridge.—"Immediately on the Receipt of your Letter of the 12th instant, I writ a Letter to the Count d'Estaing, respecting Passports for Flags of Truce Vessels. I send you Copies of the Letter from me to Count d'Estaing, and the Counts Answer you have, also, a Copy of a Letter from Major-General Heath, with a Draught of the Passports he means, as I suppose, to send to you. By these you will perceive that the Vessels bearing Cloathing may proceed in Safety; and I shall lose no Time in discharging of them.

"I am very sorry to hear by my Secretary, that we shall not immediately receive the whole of the Money expected, but as you were in Want for your own Garrison, it was natural you should use the Cash you had, as the Communication with New York will soon reimburse you and serve us. I beg, however, that you will send round as much as possible, and whenever the next arrives (I hope it may be already arrived), that it may be forwarded directly.

"We are in so much Want of Money here, that the Officers find Difficulty to Subsist; I shall, therefore, be much obliged to you, to send by Land three or four thousand Pounds; this may be done by Mr. Geddes, or by Lieutenant Campbell, as the one may bring the present Sum I request for immediate Use, and the other may go round by Sea, charged with the greater Sum. . . .

"Mr. Clark writ to me in Consequence of the Arrival of the Canada Vessels, to have my Orders whether the Commission he was charged with for Soldiers Cloathing, and Necessaries should be executed. It is agreed upon that they should be, and I must request you will have the Goodness to forward the Letters for Sir Henry Clinton and Mr. Clark, with all Expedition.

"Ensign Savory, who is in Charge of the British Cloathing, and the German Officer, also, will in Course, proceed with the Vessels, in which, when their Commission is ended, they may return to Rhode Island."

P.S.—"I have recollected that it may be possible for you to have received Accounts from New York of the Intention of sending Cash from thence, as I have demanded near £50,000, but I request, in that Case, it may not retard the Vessels, as we want the Cloathing at present more than money, and when the latter arrives at your Island, it may be conveyed to us by Land; I therefore request that, Money or not Money, the Cloathing Vessels may be sent to us.

“I shall take it as a great Favor if you will transmit to Sir Henry Clinton Copies of the Letters I send to you.”

COLONEL GUY JOHNSON to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1778, October 22. Halifax.—“After being forced by contrary Winds to the Capes of Virginia, we enter'd the Gulph of St. Lawrence the 4th of this Month, and on the 6th being near the Isle of Anticosti, we were forced out by a storm at North West, in which we split our fore Top Sail, Sprung the Top Mast and main Top Sail Yard; The Gale abating when we got off Louisbourg, we again stood into the Gulph, and had reached the Bird Rocks on the 11th when we were forced away a Second time, having suffer'd much in our Rigging; from the reported State of which, of the Water, the Insufficiency of the Seamen that remained fit for duty, and the condition of the German, and other Troops worn with fatigue, and almost naked, in a Northern Latitude at this advanced Season, we found it necessary to put in here last Week, where the General obligingly offer'd to procure additional Sailors, and give us all the aid in his power, if it should be deemed practicable to prosecute the Voyage; but after making the necessary enquiry's the Owners of the Ship cou'd not be prevail'd on to undertake it, neither can the General obtain any other conveyance for us this Season.

"Lt.-Col. Speht is order'd with his Corps to Lunenburg, and some of the Officers, Canadians, &c., are gone for St. John's River, being permitted to try for Canada by Land, accompanied with one of my Indians and two others of my People, and (with the Generals approbation) I have sent the Dispatches by the Officer who marches them, and the General has given me every Assurance of being forwarded as early as the Season will permit, notwithstanding which, the delay is a Sensible disappointment and mortification to me, that can only be alleviated by the prospect of some occurring Services here, and of arriving in Canada before the lesser Rivers are open, or the Commencement of Operations."

BRIG.-GEN. McLEAN to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1778, October 24. Halifax.—Extreme difficulty in procuring a sufficiency of fuel. The quantity at present in store not sufficient for the troops till the middle of January. Wood extremely scarce and risen to the enormous price of 40s. the cord. Maj.-Gen. Massey's vessels not returned from Spanish River. Sent a small vessel to experiment on cutting and procuring wood about 7 leagues to the eastward of this. Regiments still in camp. "The Nancy armed Ship, which sailed from New York on the 10th of September with a Detachment of British, and German Troops on board for Quebec, put in here the 14th Instant, by the inclosed Memorial, No. 1. The Officers on board represent the Impossibility of going up the River St. Lawrence at this advanced Season of the year, in which they are supported by the unanimous Opinion of everybody here conversant in the Navigation of that River, the more so as the Ship wants some repairs; I have therefore ordered the Troops on board her as P return No. 2, to winter Quarters at Lunenburg, where they will be well Accommodated. Some Officers and several Canadians who were on board the Nancy, presented me a Memorial to obtain leave to go to Quebec by land. Having on enquiry found that their Scheme was very practicable; I gave them all the Assistance in my Power. No. 3, will inform your Excellency of the Number of Persons." Has continued the intrenchment round Citadel Hill. Gen. Massey had erected two batteries at Point Pleasant. Chief Engineer Capt. Spry is now drawing plans of all the works around this place. Will send these as soon as finished. Captain Spry has no money. Has granted a temporary warrant for £4,000. Sends a return of the assistant engineers and overseers employed in that department. Whatever his sentiments on so great a number will not make any alteration till he receives directions. Want of powder; sends return and requests a supply. Sends also a return of the artillery mounted with quantity of ammunition at each post as also a return of the troops in the Province. Has found here a number of refugees, besides what is called a Charity List, who have and do receive provisions from the King's stores. Desires directions whether to continue them or not. Incloses return of the establishment of the General Hospital. Has received letter from Lt.-Col. Campbell as to allowing Capt. McDonald of his regiment to dispose of his commission, his health being much impaired. The Lt.-Col. also asks leave for Lt. Campbell to go to Head Quarters concerning affairs of his regiment. The Province tranquil. Harmony between the Lieutenant-Governor Hughes, Sir George Collier and himself. P.S.—"Of 500 French and Rebel Prisoners who were here, there now only remain 35 the others having been sent in Flags of Truce by Sir George Collier—the French in those that were sent to Newfound Land, in order to carry off the Inhabitants of St. Piers—the Rebels to Boston."

MAJ.-GEN. WM. HEATH to BRIG.-GEN. JAMES HAMILTON.

1778, October 25. Head Quarters, Boston.—“I have this moment received the enclosed Resolve of the Honourable Congress and a letter from His Excellency General Washington to have it carried into effect without delay.

“The orders for this movement came as unexpected to me as they will to you, but I must desire that you will immediately give notice of it to the Officers and Troops that they may be ready to move as soon as possible.

“It seems by the resolve of Congress, that the sole reason for the removing the Troops of the Convention is founded on Sir Henry Clinton’s not furnishing passports for American vessels to bring provisions to Boston for the use of those Troops, or supplying them with provisions himself, as appears by a letter received since I have been writing, brought by another express from his Excellency General Washington, in which he is pleased to observe, ‘The first request we know has never been granted, and I imagine no steps have been taken to supply the Troops ‘from New York or elsewhere; if there have, agreeable to the ‘letter and Spirit of the resolution, they are to remain where they now are, if not they are to be sent forward in the manner pointed out in mine of Yesterday.’

“As nothing of the latter has been done of any Consequence the orders by the first express must be complied with.

“I do not know exactly where Charlotteville is situated, but am certain the distance must be very considerable, you will please to determine whether it will not be best for the Vessels which came from Canada with the baggage to proceed to Virginia, which will save you a very considerable expense.

“The necessary Provisions, Waggons, &c., will be provided at different Stages on the rout, and you may depend upon every assistance in my power.”

P.S.—“I will inform you to-morrow in what Divisions the Troops are to march.”

Enclosing Resolves of Congress, 15. Oct.

MAJOR-GENERAL RIEDESEL and BRIGADIER-GENERAL JAMES HAMILTON to MAJOR-GENERAL WILLIAM HEATH.

1778, October 26. Cambridge.—Answer. “It becomes necessary for us to make only one observation upon your letter, and to do it properly it is necessary to transcribe what you have quoted from General Washington’s letter to you, He is, as you write pleased to observe

““The first request we know has never been granted, and I imagine no steps have been taken to supply the Troops from New York or elsewhere; if there have, agreeable to the letter and spirit of the Resolution, they are to remain where they now are, if not they are to be sent forward in the manner pointed out in mine of yesterday.”

“Upon this passage of General Washington’s letter you are pleas’d to make the following remark :

““As nothing of the latter has been done of any consequence, the Orders by the first express must be complied with.”

“We profess, Sir, not clearly to understand your remark, and as the consequences upon it are of a very serious nature, we wish you would be so good to reconsider General Washington’s letter. What you mention of not having been done ‘of any consequence’ we apprehend may have reference to the Provisions brought here in the Summer, and surely, Sir, cannot be considered as belonging in any part to the late resolutions of the American Congress of September and October.

“It may therefore be presumed that provisions are ordered from New York to Boston for the use of the Troops of Convention but that there has not been sufficient time for the arrival there of the Victualler Ships.

“While, therefore, there remains any doubt upon this matter, and that General Washington’s Orders are conditional, and have a reference to what Sir Henry Clinton may do on this subject, we submit to you whether it might be not reasonable that an explicit answer should be had from Sir Henry Clinton before the Troops of Convention are positively put upon a march for so many hundred miles in the severe season of Winter and in the unlucky situation you well know they are in respecting their want of Cloathing." But if the march is to take place they trust he will render each day's march as moderate a distance as the nature of the Country will admit—that he will allow the troops to halt as often as may be convenient—that they may be marched in such divisions as to be furnished with quarters in barns or otherwise as may be necessary for them, and that provisions may be so ordered to be issued upon the march that there may be no apprehension of want. Ask that the flag of truce lately arrived may be unloaded and the blankets, cloth for breeches and leggings, shoes and stockings be delivered to the troops particularly at Rutland prior to the order of march. They would certainly prefer the Canada vessels going to Virginia and desire that an officer be permitted to go to Rhode Island to detain the vessels and to forward Mr. Geddes to Cambridge. Propose Lt. Collier for this as his baggage is all on board, but to prevent any delay beg that the accompanying letter might be forwarded by express to Maj.-Gen. Prescott at Rhode Island. In a matter of such moment, they earnestly request passport for an officer (Capt. Masters) to go to New York to report to Sir Hy. Clinton.

Copy. Vol. 53. No. 38. 3 pages.

MAJOR-GENERAL WILLIAM HEATH to MAJOR-GENERAL RIEDESEL and BRIGADIER-GENERAL JAMES HAMILTON.

1778, October 26. - Head Quarters, Boston.—“Gentlemen, Your joint favor of this date inclosing a letter from Major General Phillips to Major General Prescott, is before me; my great indisposition of Body forbids my answering of it so particularly as I otherwise should do.

“The letter to Major General Prescott I have sent by express, and copy of your letter to me, to His Excellency General Washington.

“I shall have no objection to Mr. Collier's going to Rhode Island, if it should appear necessary, and any part, or all, the Cloathing (as you may choose) on board the Flag shall be landed. I cannot see any necessity of, or advantage that can accrue from an Officer's going to New York. If you wish to write to Sir Henry Clinton I will forward it to General Washington without delay and request him to send it in by a flag.

“As the resolve of Congress and His Excellency's orders are express, that the Troops should move, if no steps have been taken before a time therein mentioned to supply them, and I do not know that there have been any, and your letter only observes that it may be presumed that provisions are ordered, I dare not delay the removal of the Troops, but have given your letter at large to General Washington who will, if he chooses perhaps have time to express himself further by the time the Troops are ready to march."

GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON to COLONEL JOHN STUART, Superintendent of Indian Affairs.

1778, October 27. New York.—Has dispatched 1,000 under Brigadier General Campbell to Pensacola. Three thousand detached also under Lt.-Col. Campbell of 71st Regiment to take possession of Savannah. Encloses copies of their instructions. With regard to employing the Indians refers him to Gen. Howe's letter of 12 July 1777. Has sent orders to Prevost to march to St. Mary's river to co-operate with Lt.-Col. Campbell.

MAJOR-GENERAL BARON DE RIEDESEL and BRIGADIER-GENERAL
JAMES HAMILTON to MAJOR-GENERAL WILLIAM HEATH.

1778, October 27. Cambridge.—Receipt of his letter of yesterday's date. Major-General Phillips is totally unacquainted with whatever may have passed between Gen. Washington and Sir Henry Clinton and they themselves can know nothing of the subject but what is described in his (Heath's) letter, and as the inserted paragraph of Gen. Washington's letter gave cause for making the observation they did in their letter of yesterday they leave it there. Thanks for permission to Lt. Collier to go to Rhode Island. Consider the refusal to permit Capt. Masters going to New York as a hardship, since it is necessary Gen. Clinton should be fully acquainted with the situation of the troops. They renew their request. Are anxious that on the march daily distances be not more than 10 or 12 miles and the divisions in small bodies. Sends a few particulars upon the subject of the march of last year which they hope will prevent all complaint on this. Desire the march be delayed until the British troops at Rutland have received shoes, stockings and other necessaries.

Copy. Vol. 53. No. 37. 3 pages.

MAJOR-GENERAL BARON DE RIEDESEL and BRIGADIER-GENERAL JAMES HAMILTON to MAJOR-GENERAL WILLIAM HEATH.

1778, October 27. Cambridge.—Enclose two orders of march, one for the British, the other for the German Troops of Convention. Observations on the desirability of marching in several small divisions as the barns of the inhabitants will not be able to hold many men. Are convinced that in this winter season he means to put the men under cover. Hope that quarters will be provided for officers and horses for such as require them. Provisions will be more easily obtained for smaller divisions. Arrangements which could be made about escort. Maj.-Gen. Riedesel will incline to stay 24 hours in the rear of the march to regulate anything necessary. Should the enclosed order of march be adopted, request that the first division of the Germans move from Winter Hill the same day as the 2nd or 3rd division of the British move from Rutland. But should his sentiments be contrary to the enclosed order they still hope he will not direct large divisions, also that they may be allowed to regulate the distribution of them.

GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON to LORD GEORGE GERMAIN.

1778, October 28. New York.—Presents copy of a memorial from the Major Commandant and other officers of the Provincial corps of Queen's Rangers to the late Commander in Chief praying his intercession with the King to establish them in the rank of the army. Their signal services induce him to recommend it and request that it be laid before his Majesty.

MAJOR-GENERAL HEATH to MAJOR-GENERAL RIEDESEL and BRIGADIER-GENERAL HAMILTON.

1778, October 28. Head Quarters, Boston.—Acknowledges their favours of the previous day. The distribution, although exceedingly convenient for the troops, will be very tedious for the inhabitants. The divisions must be larger than they propose. Has formed a plan of march dividing the British into three and the German into two divisions agreeable to the enclosed schedule; in such divisions thinks they will be made tolerably comfortable on the march. Alteration of corps from one division to another may be made. List of officers and men must be given in before the troops march. Gov. Trumbull will direct their movements after they reach Enfield. They are to start next Wednesday. Does not see any advantage of Capt. Masters going to New York. However, as they appear anxious for it, consents that he may go to Gen. Washington with Capt. Bliss on condition that he pays Capt. Bliss's expenses and thence to Clinton if Washington thinks proper, otherwise he is to join the troops. Distances cannot exactly be determined, as convenience of covering must be consulted. Riedesel's request to stay behind for the time proposed is agreeable.

MAJ.-GEN. WILLIAM PHILLIPS to GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1778, October 29. Cambridge.—“An order has been given very sudden and very unexpected for the Troops of the Convention of Saratoga to march from Massachusetts Bay to Charlotteville in the County of Albermarle in the Province of Virginia.

“It is needless for me to make any Remarks upon this March as Your Excellency will perfectly judge upon the matter respecting the distance, the season of the Year, the ill condition of the Troops for such an Operation, but in a particular manner as the Order stands connected with, or opposed to, the treaty of Convention made at Saratoga between Major General Gates and Lieutenant General Burgoyne.

“I leave the whole to Your Excellency's wisdom and judgement, observing only that the Troops, both Officers and Men, have received this order as becomes them, and are preparing for this March of seven hundred Miles with the utmost cheerfulness, Alacrity, and a most determined perseverance in their Zeal and duty in His Majesty's service.

“I inclose for Your Excellency's perusal Copys of all the Papers that have passed upon this subject between Major General Heath and Brigadier General Hamilton and Major General Reidesel.

“The reason for the two latter corresponding with Major General Heath is owing to that American Officer having ceased of some time writing to me, of which I have not informed Your Excellency before, nor do I recollect whether I verbally mentioned it to Mr. Clarke.

“It has happened most fortunately that Lieutenant Campbell is just arrived with the donation from Your Excellency to the Troops which, with other Necessaries, will prove of essential service on this occasion—but the two Clothing Vessels from Canada I have stopped at Rhode Island meaning with Your Excellency's Permission to order them round to Virginia to meet the troops there at their Arrival; and I shall detain the Vessel in which Lieutenant Campbell came untill after the March is begun, as I propose to put into her all superfluous Stores and Baggage.

"This letter goes by Captain Masters of the 24th Regiment who has permission from Major General Heath to attend General Washingtons Commands at His Head Quarters for his going on to New York. I have been desirous of sending an Officer of this Rank as he will be able to answer a number of Questions which Your Excellency may chuse to make, and to give such clear reports of the State of the Troops as cannot well be crowded into a letter.

"This Officer as well as Captain England, who went into New York some little time ago on parole will receive Your Excellency's orders upon the necessary applications to General Washington for the manner in which they are to join the Troops of Convention upon their March, unless Your Excellency and General Washington shall settle that they go round by sea or otherwise as may be thought proper. Captain Masters has a request to make relating to himself and his private affairs, which he has my liberty of submitting to your Excellency's consideration.

"The return of Mr. Commissary Clarke by the most expeditious method seems absolutely necessary as the Publick Papers in his Department as Commissary General are all at Cambridge, and he will probably have Publick Accounts to settle with the American Commissaries. I will, therefore, hope you may obtain permission, Sir, for Mr. Clarke going by land from New York, and he may return to Cambridge with the Officer who conducts Captain Masters to General Washington's Head Quarters.

"Your Excellency will perceive that the Orders of Major General Heath respecting the March of the Troops of Convention are special and Positive in every respect, but as it relates to me, and as I am in close confinement under a Guard in my Quarters I apprehend Your Excellency will approve of my silently attending on whatever may be further directed on my Subject—I mean as it relates to Major General Heath; for I have taken the liberty of writing to General Washington requesting to know what directions he may have given relating to my future situation—that General being, as Your Excellency will observe, empowered by the American Congress to govern the March of the Troops of Convention from Massachusetts Bay to Virginia.

"Mr. Hayes, the Surgeon, being an exchanged Officer, will go from hence to Rhode Island, as will also Lieutenant Collier, my Secretary, by permission of Major General Heath. I shall keep one of these Gentlemen till the last moment that I may finally Report upon the Marching of the Troops."

MAJ.-GEN. WILLIAM PHILLIPS to GENERAL WASHINGTON.

1778, October 29. Cambridge.—Capt. Masters who delivers this letter has a packet for Sir Henry Clinton. Requests permission for him to carry it to New York. It is fortunate that the direction of the march has been given to His Excellency.

“In the present situation of things respecting the Troops of Convention I am led to trouble you, Sir, on a Subject which, otherwise, I should be silent upon—I mean my own Situation, and I will request to be informed whether it is intended that I should remain in my present confinement at Cambridge, or whether I am to move with the Troops of Convention. These are questions it would be improper in me to make to Major General Heath, but your Excellency having the direct and positive power over the future destination of the Troops of Convention opens to me an intercourse with you, Sir, whose Character stands admired, even by those whom Publick Calamity and the unhappy disputes between America and Great Britain have compelled to be Your Enemies, and who view your private virtues in the fairest light.

“I by no means, solicit to know how far the American Congress have entered into Major General Heath’s reasons for his Conduct towards me, nor whether at my arrival at Virginia, if I am to be sent thither, I am to be continued or not in close confinement. I only wish to know if it is intended I should leave Cambridge and, if so, when and how. I have necessarily a great deal of Baggage and a numerous Suite, and the Situation of the Aides de Camp and Staff Officers who compose my family will depend on a great measure upon what shall be done with me.

“Under this description allow me to request your orders upon this Subject.

“I will not plead inconveniences upon so long a Journey nor the want of good health; for I possess the latter so entirely as would render the journey of no Account, but I will honestly own a strong desire to visit my friends before I take my residence in Virginia which I acknowledge to view as a state of Exile that will necessarily continue for a long duration. I have, also, connections in Great Britian from whom I have never been able to hear of fourteen Months which, with a total ignorance of my private affairs, makes me desirous of settling the latter, and of communicating once more freely with my friends and relations before I am fixed in my Retirement in Virginia.

“If these reasons appear to a Gentleman of your nice feelings of any force I will hope to receive passports for myself and Family agreeable to my request. If I do not I shall still be in the opinion that a Refusal will be Painfull to you as a Private Gentleman, however, in Your Publick Character such refusal may have become necessary; and I can, then, only lament that this unhappy War will not always allow the Principles of Generosity to Operate.

“By the resolution of the American Congress, by which is given to you, Sir, an entire power over the troops of Convention, I apprehend, this application goes properly to Your Excellency; but, should I mistake, I will relie on Your goodness to refer my request to the President of the American Congress, and that you will do it so as to render my having written to you on the Subject free of any intention of disrespect for Mr. Laurens."

1778, October 31. Cambridge.—Some sick and some married officers desire to go by sea to Virginia. Requests the sick men be permitted to remain in hospital at Cambridge until further directions are received. Their number not yet ascertained. Officers sick and married amount to about five or six. Requests hospital stores be shipped on board the cartel and go under care of a hospital mate, with a conductor and the matron.

BRIG.-GEN. JAS. HAMILTON to MAJ.-GEN. WM. HEATH.

1778, October 31. Cambridge.—Nothing has been heard of Mr. Geddes and the total want of money renders the situation very critical. The Major-Generals Phillips and Riedesel mean to become responsible for the debts of the officers at their marching, but this must be very inconvenient to them. Seriously requests that Lt. Campbell may go express to Rhode Island and if possible meet Mr. Geddes. A variety of business necessitates the request that Major-General Riedesel be allowed to remain three days after the German troops leave Cambridge and Major-General Phillips set forward three days after Riedesel. Requests an answer and hopes to receive passports with parole for Lt. Campbell.

JOHN ROBINSON to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1778, October 31. Whitehall, Treasury Chambers.—Acknowledges letter of 4 August with triplicate of a requisition made 26th April for candles, neither original nor duplicate of which had before come to hand. 100,000 lb. weight of candles immediately ordered to be shipt at Cork. From previous correspondence with Mr. Wier he will have seen the constant attention paid by the Board to the state of his provisions. Refers to the enclosed. The true causes of the stock being reduced so low were that a very great consumption or loss of provisions took place last year beyond what their Lordships had information of and the detention of the Mersey's fleet in America, when promises had been repeatedly made to send all the victuallers back immediately necessitated additional expence to the public in taking up fresh ships. Their Lordships rely on him to prevent such detention, as it is for this reason victuallers are not under the direction of the admiral. Directs enquiry to be made to account for the deficiency or loss beyond the established consumption and the result communicated.

BRIG.-GEN. JAS. HAMILTON to MAJ.-GEN. WM. HEATH.

1778, November 1. Cambridge.—Was much surprised at Maj. Hopkins informing him that no orders had been given to provide waggons for the Troops as no application had been made to him (Heath). In every European service the great line of orders is given and received by general officers and details settled by subordinate departments. Makes requisition according to the 2nd distribution and has lowered demand as far as possible. Officers in Rutland in great distress for money and cannot discharge their debts. If Lt. Campbell be allowed to go without delay to Rhode Island he may return in about six days and Major-General Phillips proposes to write for a sum of money to be sent by him as it is possible Mr. Geddes may have sailed in the Canada vessels. They have no wish to delay the march, but it is requisite the officers be enabled to leave this province with an honourable name by discharging their debts and with the means of subsisting upon the march.

MAJ.-GEN. WM. PHILLIPS to MAJ.-GEN. RICHARD PRESCOTT.

1778, November 1. Cambridge.—“I writ to you on the 20th of October, I cannot but be greatly alarmed at not hearing from you; for supposing Mr. Geddes being sailed with the two Canada Vessels for Boston, my letter was of such serious Import as to require an Answer, with the real State respecting Money for the Supply of the Troops of Convention upon this unexpected Order of March from this Province to Virginia.

“All the Regulations are settled, and the Day of March both for German and British Troops from Cambridge and Rutland is fixed, for Wednesday the 4th of November, You may naturally judge, Sir, of the very painful Situation I must be in, when I declare to you that there is not Fifty Pounds among all the Troops under my Command, and that the Officers are entirely unable, not only to discharge their Debts before they go, but both Officers and Men will have no means of Subsistence upon the March, unless Mr. Geddes fortunately arrives in the Canada vessels; or that I shall succeed in obtaining Money from Rhode Island through the Liberty that has been obtained from Major General Heath, of sending Lieutenant Campbell express for that purpose.

“I am, therefore, to supplicate you, Sir, that should Mr. Geddes be still at Rhode Island, he may be ordered to proceed to Cambridge with the utmost Dispatch and with as much Money as he can procure. . . .

“Should Mr. Geddes be sailed in the Canada vessels, I must then most seriously request that you will send with Lieutenant Campbell, one of your Paymasters, with ten Thousand Pounds, or as near that Sum as you are able.

“If Mr. Geddes be at Sea, the Uncertainty of winds may keep him from Boston for some Time, and though Major General Heath may be prevailed upon to postpone the March for a day or two, it cannot be expected he will longer ; and therefore, our only hope is in the Return of Lieutenant Campbell, who has my Orders for travelling Night and Day.

“I enclose you a Duplicate of the Letter I wrote to you on the 20th of October, and I also send you a Duplicate of my Dispatch to Sir Henry Clinton, containing Copies of various Papers relating to this March of the Troops of Convention. You will be so good to read them and send the Dispatch to Sir Henry Clinton.

“I must of Necessity stay some days, after the Troops at Cambridge, and you shall hear from me by Lieut. Collier, my Secretary, who Major General Heath has granted Permission to go in the Canada Vessels to Virginia, where I shall direct them to meet the Troops, at their Arrival there, should it be agreeable to the Commander in Chief.

“I will most earnestly request that Lieutenant Campbell may return to me without an Instant’s Delay.”

BRIG.-GEN. JAS. HAMILTON TO MAJ.-GEN. WM. HEATH.

1778, November 2. Cambridge.—“Not having received an answer to my letter of yesterday, in the present painfull and critical situation of the Officers and Troops of Convention obliges me to give you this second trouble.

“Major General Phillips has received representations from all the different Corps, British and German, upon their present distress—Major General Riedesel has already written to you, as will Brigadier Gall—not that there needs any explanation upon this matter to you, who are so thoroughly acquainted with our situation.

“If the Troops begin their march on Wednesday what is to become of the situation of the Officers ? how are they to be received into houses ? how are they to be fed ? when they are entirely without money to defray any such Expences. While they remained at Rutland, Cambridge, Winter Hill and Medford they had a running Credit, as it was known the Pay Master General would be soon here with Money to enable them to discharge their debts, but upon the route, where they are entirely unknown and where they change place every day, it is impossible they can subsist.

“Lieut. Campbell set off the Instant your Passport arrived and went on to Jamaica Plains to wait for Major Rice, and I am informed that he continued his route last night at Eleven o’Clock. It is possible he may be at Rhode Island to-night, but with Certainty to-morrow. It will require one entire day to compleat his business there. Two days after that will bring him to Cambridge, and I apprehend there can be no doubt of his arriving on next Friday night. On Saturday, therefore, Money can be distributed to the Troops here and sent to Rutland. As this seems to be the real state of the Case it must be referred to your Consideration whether the March should not be ordered for next Monday, as in that time, without all doubt, these so essential matters will be settled.

“At any rate, Sir, supposing you to keep the March suspended upon the Idea that Mr. Geddes or Lieutenant Campbell may arrive sooner, it will be certainly necessary to send directions thereon to Rutland, as the Troops there are actually under orders of March and we understand that Colonel Garnish is gone forward to take upon him the Command.

“This unlucky delay is certainly more painful to us than it can possibly be troublesome to you, for at this Season of the Year Six days must necessarily make a very great difference in such a March, and you may be assured, Sir, that tedious and distressing as this long March must be, it will be undertaken very cheerfully and without any desire of procrastination or Stop.

“I shall take it as a particular favor if you will be so good to answer this, and will give your directions upon the request contained in this letter.”

MAJ.-GEN. WM. HEATH to BRIG.-GEN. JAMES HAMILTON.

1778, November 2. Head Quarters, Boston.—“Yours of yesterday came to hand the last evening. The number of Waggons applied for by the Assistant Quarter Master Gen^l of the Troops of the Convention is greater than can be allowed, and considering that the heavy baggage is on board the Transports at Rhode Island lately arrived from Canada, I cannot conceive that a greater number than what Major Hopkins has orders to take up can be necessary. If any of the Officers have Liquors or other small Stores which they wish to take on with them, the Quarter Master will assist them in procuring Teams at the usual rates, the respective Officers paying for them, but no such Stores are to be loaded on the other Waggons.

“Your representation of the present situation of the Officers I have duly considered; in every view it is embarrassing. My orders from His Excellency General Washington are to put the Troops in motion immediately. The advanced Season, if we consider the Comfort of the Troops, requires that not a moment be lost. It must, also, be exceedingly disagreeable to the Officers to think of going away without discharging their debts, and without money to supply their necessities on the road.

“Under a view of the whole I have given orders that the march of the first division be deferred until Saturday morning next, and so successively, when they must at any rate march.”

LORD BARRINGTON to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1778, November 3. War Office.—That the heavy expense of the hospitals appearing to arise from the principal members not agreeing on the duties they were severally to exercise, it was intended to send out Sir James Napier with ample powers to set every branch on a proper footing. That the order has been countermanded, but regulations contained in the instructions to him and in the letter to Sir W. Howe of the 2d March, however, are to be adopted as far as may be practicable. Some immediate regulation should be made as to the usual stoppage of 4d. a day to be made or not made for sailors, women, children and refugees who pass through, or at least that the purveyors be indemnified by authority against any demand against them. That the number of mates be reduced. Proper economy be observed with regard to servants of the hospitals. Surgeons of detached hospitals should have orders to observe the same regulations as to the purveying business as established in the General Hospitals or to leave that part to the clerks and stewards appointed and instructed by the purveyors.

MAJOR GEORGE FORSTER to MAJ.-GEN. WILLIAM PHILLIPS.

1778, November 3. Rutland.—“If we are to march on Wednesday I do not see how it will be possible for the greater part of the Officers to leave this, as the Inhabitants here are thoroughly determined to detain them if they have not Money to pay their Lodgings, &c.

“It is an universal complaint here, and, as I mentioned to you in my letter of Sunday last, I do not think there are Forty Guineas in this Army. Some Method must be fallen on, or a Number of us must be thrown into Jail. This will not be the case with me and a few others, but the greater number will be detained. I sincerely wish it was in my power to assist those Gentlemen, but that is out of my power, as I have only Five Guineas left, and in course if money does not arrive we shall be obliged to live on our Rations, and fare as our Fellow Soldiers, but this we shall not repine at.”

1778, November 3. Newport.—“Dear Sir: Your letter of the 26th October did not come to my hand 'till the 28th, and that of the 1st instant this day.

“The former from feeling much your very disagreeable situation I should have answered more immediately, had I not been detained by the hope of doing to your satisfaction, which, for many reasons, has not been in my power 'till now.

“Agreeable to your wish Lieutenant Campbell and Mr. Geddes are sent, without delay, with 10,000*l.* sterling. Should any further sum be necessary Mr. Geddes may return.

“Several European Goods for the use of your Troops having been contracted for by Mr. Geddes and others, I must beg to know your wish in that respect by Mr. Collier, when he comes here.

“No time shall be lost in forwarding your letter to Sir Henry Clinton, but the wind will not permit it at present.

“With the warmest wish for your health and, if possible, happiness in so long a march and at this disagreeable Season, I have the honor, &c.”

P.S.—“Some unavoidable official delays having hindered Mr. Geddes proceeding with the Money this day, I have forwarded Lieutenant Campbell to give you notice thereof, and to assure you the other Gentleman shall follow him early to-morrow morning, at farthest, with the sum I have mentioned above, which should have been more considerable had it been in my power to make it so.”

LORD GEORGE GERMAIN to MR. PRESIDENT CALLBECK.

1778, November 4. Whitehall. No. 4.—Acknowledges letters. “If Mr. Mellish, the Acting Provost Marshall, from feelings of false Delicacy chose rather to resign his Office than do his duty by putting the Laws into Execution, you did very right to Accept his Resignation. . . . As you Mention Mr. Robert Stewart, whom you have Nominated to the Intermediate Exercise of that Office, to have been one of the first Adventurers, and to have Expended a Large Sum of Money on the Island, I have the pleasure to Acquaint you that His Majesty has been pleased to Approve that Appointment.

“I shall Enquire into the Cause of Mr. Allanby’s long Absence, and if it should Appear that no proper Permission shall have been Obtain’d or Reason Assigned, he will be under the Necessity of Relinquishing his Office or of Returning to his Duty.

“ You have Done well in Advising the lords of the Treasury of the Sums you have Drawn for in Consequence of Sir William Howe’s Letter of the 6th February 1776, and the Services to which those Sums have been Applied. . . I have only to Recommend to you that in finishing such Barracks and in Accomplishing such Works as are to be undertaken for the Defence of the Town, you do take Care that no Works shall be undertaken that are not Essentially Necessary, and that in the Execution of them the Publick may not be put to any Expence that can be Avoided.”

BRIG.-GEN. JAS. HAMILTON to MAJ.-GEN. W. HEATH.

1778, November 4. Cambridge.—His directions for deferring the march it is sincerely hoped will have their effect, and that Mr. Geddes or Lt. Campbell will be returned in time. The inhabitants require attention as well as the officers, and they will take it themselves unless it is given. It is certain writs are prepared here and at Rutland to arrest the officers unless the debts are discharged before the march is commenced. The enclosure confirms this. Disabled and sick soldiers will be left at Cambridge as directed and with a surgeon’s mate and two officers. Requests Lt.-Col. Lind and Capt. Pilman may stay behind at Cambridge. Major Riedesel will write concerning the German troops. List of officers and men to be left behind shall be given, and he doubts not Washington will grant them leave to go by sea and probably the invalids to be exchanged. Lists of officers and men desired are in the Adjutant General's office; he shall have them immediately. "The Number of Waggons you have directed is inadequate to the Service."

BRIG.-GEN. WM. HEATH to BRIG.-GEN. JAMES HAMILTON.

1778, November 4. Head Quarters, Boston.—Lt. Maxwell shall remain at Cambridge till an answer is received from Gen. Washington. "The first division of the Troops of Convention must absolutely begin their march on Saturday morning and so successively. If Mr. Geddes or Lieutenant Campbell should not be returned, measures must be devised for paying off the Accounts of the Officers who march first; I think there can be no doubt of Mr. Geddes or Lieutenant Campbell returning before the last division are gone.

"Inclosed is copy of a letter which is just sent me, at which, I must confess, I am not a little surprized. I shall take proper notice of it.

"From this hint in Capt. McLean's letter, that the former parole would be void on leaving this place, I have enclosed a new Parole for the route, the signing of which will promote the ease and convenience of the Officers on their journey; if any refuse to sign it they must expect to march under close restriction."

RICHARD MASTERS, Captain 27th Regt., to GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1778, November 5. Head Quarters.—That he is not permitted to proceed to New York with the dispatches. That Gen. Washington has forwarded these and has also signified to him that in consequence of a resolve of Congress no officer can be permitted to go to Europe on parole. Takes the liberty to represent that a living of 500*l.* p. an. on his brother's estate and in his gift, and for which he himself has been educated, was always intended for him, and he promised his family to accept it when vacant. The living is now reserved for him, and he is desired particularly to return to England at once. Gen. Washington has given him leave to remain here till His Excellency's consent is obtained for his exchange, and would allow of Capt. Bliss being given for him if approved.

1778, November 5. Newport.—“In consequence of arrivals from New York I have been obliged to detain the 10,000l. I had before granted a warrant to Mr. Geddes for, for the use of your Army, so that I am afraid it will not hereafter be in my power to obey your commands in this way so much as I could wish.”

GENERAL WASHINGTON to MAJ.-GEN. WILLIAM PHILLIPS.

1778, November 6. Fredericksburgh, Head Quarters.—He will endeavour to confine to such as are unavoidable the inconveniences of the march of the troops. Has appointed an officer of rank to attend them and commissaries and quarter-masters to meet them. The resolution of Congress for the removal to Charlottesville includes, in his opinion, the officers of every description. The proposal made for desiring leave to visit friends first must come directly and in the first instance before Congress. Printed in Sparks's Washington, VI., p. 105.

MEMORANDUM.

1778, November 7.—By the different letters received this day from Gen. Phillips it appears that Wednesday was fixed for the march of the troops. That Lt. Collier was sent to Rhode Island. That Capt. Masters detained in Washington's camp is probably charged with messages from Phillips, and if exchanged might be of service. That Phillips has no correspondence with Heath; wishes bat and forage money and stoppage from soldiers to be taken off during the march, and has applied for leave to come to New York.

MAJ.-GEN. BARON DE RIEDESEL and BRIG.-GEN. JAMES HAMILTON
to MAJ.-GEN. WILLIAM HEATH.

1778, November 7. Cambridge.—Their surprise and concern at his letter of Nov. 4th relating to the new parole to be given by officers of Convention troops. Maj.-Gen. Phillips has ordered Capt. Maclean to explain what he meant, and he is to repair to Cambridge to await his (Heath's) decision. They disclaim the dishonourable suspicions under which the new parole is demanded and claim the liberty of appealing to Washington, and from him to be referred to Congress if he shall see necessary. . . . “Be assured that your threat of making the situation disagreeable and the restriction upon the march severe and inconvenient will have no effect; the Officers of the Troops of Convention will not be guided by accidental motives, but upon positive principles of honour. However, Sir, to mark to you how desirous we, that are at the head of these Troops, are to reconcile everything to the situation of the times, we wish to refer this matter to Maj.-Gen.

Gates, who we understand to be at Boston. That Gentleman made and signed the Convention with Lieutenant-General Burgoyne. That General Officer did not see any necessity for a Parole upon the March under the Faith of that Treaty, to which we have upon all occasions invariably adhered." Should Maj.-Gen. Gates think a parole, not springing from reasons reflecting on the officers' honour, to be necessary, there will be no difficulty in getting it signed. Declares for himself and the other officers that the Convention has been "preserved in full force."

MAJ.-GEN. WILLIAM HEATH to MAJ.-GEN. RIEDESEL and BRIG.-GEN. JAMES HAMILTON.

1778, November 8. 11 o'clock a.m. Roxbury.—Their joint letter of yesterday is just received. It shall be laid immediately before Maj.-Gen. Gates, who now commands the district. The requisition was not intended to cast any slur on the officers collectively; whenever officers have been removed to other quarters a new parole is usual. None in the present case can think the measure unreasonable after what has been wrote by Capt. Maclean. Proposed the new parole for the comfort of the officers that they might enjoy more comfort and be less restrained. Will be perfectly easy with Gates' decision on what he has done.

MAJ.-GEN. PHILLIPS to MAJ.-GEN. GATES.

1778, November 8. 3 o'clock p.m. Cambridge.—It is announced that he (Gates) has taken command of the Eastern Department. He has probably been informed that Heath and himself (Phillips) have not "of some time corresponded." Does not intend to trouble himself about the General's public conduct to himself, in which the Congress have participated. But never having had any misunderstandings with Maj.-Gen. Gates, requests his good offices to troops on the march: that he will peruse correspondence which has passed on account of it: and that he will give such directions as his good sense will dictate. Expects his final orders concerning the march and recommends to his consideration a letter of this day's date to Heath respecting the distress of the officers for want of money.

Copy. Vol. 9. No. 141. 3 pages.

MAJ.-GEN. BARON DE RIEDESEL and BRIG.-GEN. JAMES HAMILTON
to MAJ.-GEN. WILLIAM HEATH.

1778, November 8. Cambridge.—Have just had a conversation with Maj.-Gen. Phillips on the subject of the return of Lt. Campbell and Mr. Geddes from Rhode Island without money, and it appears that Gen. Prescott had granted 10,000*l.*, but it was stopped by an express from New York directing it to other uses. This is the purport of Lt. Campbell's report, and Phillips declares this is all he knows of the matter. Must allow that full time has been granted. Requests that it may be signified at Rutland and Cambridge that the officers' creditors may take drafts for the debts owing to them upon Riedesel and Phillips, who are willing to remain here until such sums as they have signed to shall be paid. Certainly Sir Henry Clinton did not know of this march, or he would have sent that and larger sums. Earnestly requests that Lt. Campbell may go to New York to obtain money to release Phillips and Riedesel from their obligations, and if possible some may be sent to reach the troops on the Hudson River. Report that waggons cannot be procured to allow of the officers quitting Cambridge to join their troops at Rutland nor for the divisions to march to-morrow. This of course he will know and give the necessary directions.

Copy. Vol. 9. No. 143. 5 pages.

MAJ.-GEN. HORATIO GATES to MAJ.-GEN. PHILLIPS.

1778, November 8. Head Quarters, Boston.—The orders given by Maj.-Gen. Heath in respect to the march of the troops must take place accordingly. Is at all times willing to give every reasonable indulgence to officers in the situation his are in; but if they are neglected by the Commander-in-Chief for the King of Great Britain in America, it is not the generals of the United States who are to blame. Will try to persuade the officers' creditors to accept their bills upon Phillips and Riedesel as requested. The parole demanded is strictly military, as the one already given is limited and local, and not meant to insult the honour of the officers. Baggage may go by water as requested.

GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON to GENERAL WASHINGTON.

1778, November 10. New York.—Considers it different from practice of nations or parties at war to refuse granting an equivalent of privates for officers. "You have ordered the Troops of the Convention to be removed from Massachusetts Bay to Virginia and I have ordered all the Officers of your Army out on Parole, to return here." These movements may in part be prevented should he agree to exchange the officers of his army now on parole or here for officers and men of the Convention Troops in customary proportions or such as may be determined by Commissioners appointed on both sides. Colonels O'Hara and Hyde should be sent on his part for this purpose. Mr. Clarke, Assistant Commissary General, will deliver this letter; requests a passport for him to return to Cambridge by land.

1778, November 12. Cambridge.—Letter delivered by Dr. Hayes. Sincerest acknowledgments for marks of their former friendship. The men ill-clothed and almost barefooted, have undertaken their march with great resolution, convinced his Excellency will procure their liberty. Acknowledges his goodness to Lt.-Col. Speth and other officers and soldiers belonging to the Brunswick troops now gone to Canada. Recommends Major Meibom and other officers lately exchanged, who are still at Rhode Island. Finds by a bill of 40*l.* some men have got safely to New York. Major Meibom might take charge of them on his arrival at that place. The American system separated the officers and men. The officers were kept at Westminster and non-commissioned officers and men scattered throughout the province, where they have been obliged to work for their bread. Captains Bartling and Fricke not sent with others to New York, but detained to collect their men at Westminster and convey them to New York. Prisoners of war still amount to five hundred and fourteen. Has directed their captains to apply at Newport when in want of money. Commends Dr. Hayes, who delivers this letter.

MAJ.-GEN. BARON DE RIEDESEL to GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1778, November 12. Cambridge.—Lt.-Gen. Knyphausen has advanced 550*l.* to Lt.-Col. Speth for subsistence for the officers and soldiers who have gone to Canada, also the 40*l.* for men arrived at New York since Speth's departure. Applied to Maj.-Gen. Phillips for bills of exchange for 590*l.* to repay Mr. Lorentz. The Major-General has proposed another mode. Requests him to order the Paymaster-General to reimburse the Hessian military fund with 590*l.* sterling and has requested Knyphausen at New York, and Lossberg at Rhode Island, to supply officers and soldiers who are exchanged, and any deserters who may get in, with necessary sums of money upon proper demands by their officers. Has begged the same favour for Captains Bartling and Fricke, exchanged and left at Westminster to collect their men, whenever they send an officer for money. Will therefore acknowledge any sum granted by Knyphausen and Lossberg for use of Brunswick troops. Requests him to direct the Paymaster-General to supply either of these officers with such sums as they demand, to be afterwards settled by the Paymaster-General and Mr. Geddes. If not, they may be liquidated by a deduction from the money due from the British Treasury to the Duke of Brunswick.

MAJ.-GEN. WM. PHILLIPS to GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1778, November 15. Cambridge.—Narrative of what was unsuccessfully done on receipt of the order for the march of the Troops of Convention as to obtaining money for their use. Imagines His Excellency could not have known. The distress very great, numbers of the officers have been arrested for hire of their lodgings and other expenses; it “has ended however with Major General Riedesel becoming answerable for the debts of the Germans, as I have for those of the British, but ultimately the whole will rest on me, and I shall be obliged to remain here in pawn, until 10,000*l.* is sent to me to discharge the Bills for which I have and shall become answerable.” Major General Gates has given leave for Mr. Geddes, Assistant Paymaster-General, to go a second time to Rhode Island and 10,000*l.* is requested of Maj.-Gen. Prescott, who, if he cannot comply, is also to send forward Mr. Geddes to New York. “The Troops began their March on Monday last the 9th Instant in Six Divisions, three British and three German; the Stages will be short, and by General Washington’s Letter to me, a copy of which I enclose, there is reason to suppose the March will be conducted with conveniency to the Troops.” Some officers and soldiers allowed to go round to Virginia by sea. MAJ.-GEN. PHILLIPS to MAJ.-GEN. RICHARD PRESCOTT.

1778, November 15. Cambridge.—Inconvenience and distress to both officers and men, but the troops have marched leaving Maj.-Gen. Riedesel and himself answerable for money borrowed for their use. Sends abstract of letter from himself to Sir H. Clinton, and requests him to send Mr. Geddes back with 10,000*l*. If it is not in his power to send this money from Rhode Island, requests him to forward Mr. Geddes to New York and send a letter through Major-General Sullivan of his being set out for Sir Henry.

GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON to JOHN ROBINSON.

1778, November 16. New York.—That the first quarter's provisions only for the year 1778 are as yet arrived. Requesting him to represent to the Lords Commissioners of the Treasury the distress they will be in should the victuallers be delayed, that in future the supplies may be more regular. During the short time he has had command they have been reduced three several times to little more than three weeks' provisions. Brigadier-General Prevost at St. Augustine has also given notice of scarcity. Acknowledges letters.

2 copies. Vol. 33. Nos. 9 and 25. 2 pages each.

W. COLLIER, Secretary, to MR. WEIR, Chief Surgeon to the General Hospital.

1778, November 16. Cambridge.—It is the Major-General's orders that he pay a professional visit to Lt.-Col. Lind, enquire into the nature of his case, and report if it be necessary to delay his march at present or in what time he might journey without injury to his health.

Copy. Vol. 9. No. 150. 2 pages.

GOVERNOR WILLIAM FRANKLIN to the EARL OF CARLISLE, SIR HENRY CLINTON and WM. EDEN (His Majesty's Commissioners).

1778, November 16. New York.—That in 1776 he was seized by an armed force and sent into Connecticut, where he was detained as a prisoner till last month. That he has been compelled to bear all his own expenses, his salary stopped, his landed estate in the hands of the rebels and his personal estate largely destroyed by fire in New York. That friends in Connecticut had assisted him, otherwise he must have starved. That he had frequently been applied to by the King's soldiers and loyalists and had endeavoured to relieve them. That all the other Governors had been previously rendered independent of the support of their Assemblies, but as such regulation in his case did not actually take place has not ventured to draw on the Treasury. Is not only in want of money for present subsistence but desirous of discharging the debts contracted in Connecticut, and requests that if they would, they can consistently with the powers vested in them advance him one year of his salary.

2 copies. Vol. 33. Nos. 11 and 26. 3 pages each.

DEPUTY ADJUTANT-GENERAL THOS. BIBBY to LT.-COL.
JOHN LIND.

1778, November 17. Cambridge.—Pointing out the reasons of his not obtaining permission to go to New York. That if the public application to Major-Gen. Heath for him to remain at Cambridge failed he had liberty to make use of private intercession. As Mr. Hayes, the surgeon, was going to New York it was an opportunity of stating his case direct. In his letter of the 15th there is a direct insinuation of partiality. This the Major-General cannot but consider as indecent, and proposes representing his conduct to Sir H. Clinton.

Copy. Vol. 9. No. 149. 4 pages.

JOHN WIER [WEIR], Surgeon, to MAJ.-GEN. WILLIAM PHILLIPS.

1778, November 17. Cambridge.—Has visited Lt.-Col. Lind. It will not be safe for him to march while the present symptoms remain. Should he have no relapse he may set out in a week or ten days under the description of easy journeys and that the exercise and removing to a milder climate will be of advantage to his health.

Copy. Vol. 9. No. 148. 1 page.

MAJ.-GEN. WILLIAM PHILLIPS to LIEUT.-COL. JOHN LIND.

1778, November 18. Cambridge.—The words of his letter of the 15th bring the affair between them to a different point of view, in which every commanding officer as he says is concerned. Cannot therefore allow him to remain absent from the 20th Regt., and directs him to repair to it and there wait Clinton's orders. From Mr. Weir's report short journeys and change of air may be of use, therefore he is on his honour to make no unnecessary delay.

LORD BARRINGTON to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1778, November 30. War Office.—Since the letter of the 3rd it has again been proposed to send out Sir James Napier as Superintendent General of Hospitals in North America, and upon his declining the office it was offered to Mr. John Adair, who, however, is not able to quit England. Dr. Nooth, Physician Extraordinary now in America and one of the Purveyors to the Hospitals, has been represented as competent. Should he (Clinton) see the necessity of the appointment and approve Dr. Nooth it is his Majesty's pleasure he should enter at once upon the duties of the office without waiting for a commission. Two Purveyors not being needed at New York Dr. Nooth may return to Great Britain should he not be approved as Superintendent of Hospitals. P.S.—Lord George Germain approves Dr. Nooth : encloses copy of his letter.

MAJ.-GEN. WM. PHILLIPS to GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1778, December 2. Cambridge.—Capt. Barrington going to New York to procure his exchange will deliver this. The troops marched from Cambridge and Rutland 9th November. His aide-de-camp saw the several divisions pass the Connecticut and reports that about 50 British and 30 Germans deserted, the rest behaved well. Major.-Gen. Gates complied with every request. Col. Bland sent by Washington superintends the march from Enfield to Virginia. The last requisition for money on Rhode Island succeeded so far as to release Riedesel and himself. Riedesel set out four days ago, and he begins on Monday or Tuesday. Will report as to the troops after his arrival at Charlotteville. Wounded, disabled and sick officers and men are permitted to go to New York to be exchanged or sent by sea to Virginia. The cartel ship is found too small for the whole, and Maj.-Gen. Gates grants permission for some to march to New York. Lt. Matthews of 62nd British and Capt. Schlagenteuffel, German, to go to Rhode Island. Fears they will die before reaching it. Requests him to waive punctillio relating to partial parole exchanges so far as concerns officers and men sent into New York, and that the whole may be exchanged for an equal number of American prisoners. Encloses lists, all of whom he desires to be included in the exchange. Requests notice of such exchange be sent to Major Harnage, who will remain here sick. Will send further news by Lt. Collier.

MAJOR-GENERAL WILLIAM PHILLIPS to MAJOR-GENERAL HORATIO GATES.

1778, December 2. Cambridge.—Concern at troubling him so often on account of those who could not prosecute the march to Virginia. The number is no more than six or eight officers and about 200 men. It is found impossible to put so many on board the cartel ship and there is but one alternative, that of suffering a part of the men under proper officers to go by land to Rhode Island or New York. Makes no doubt of their being exchanged.

Exact returns will be sent. Should they not be exchanged they shall join the troops in Virginia. Appeals on behalf of two officers, one British, one German, for liberty to go to Rhode Island attended by a surgeon's mate. They are ill, or dying, and the hope of change of air will alleviate their distresses. Should these requests be complied with, the Deputy Quarter Master General may meet Maj. Hopkins and regulate matters.

TIMOTHY HIERLIHY, Major Commandant of the Independent Cos., to GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1778, December 6. Island of St. John, Charlotte Town. No. 1. --Recounting that on 7th April he arrived at Halifax with the Independent Companies and put himself under the command of Major General Massey, who ordered him and the corps to repair to Spanish river to protect colliery there. That he dug and prepared coals, fortified a post, suppressed the piratical attempts of the rebels and recovered some property and two vessels. On 27th October he received Major-General Massey's approbation and orders to repair hither with transports not laden with coal in order to load hence with fire-wood, that on the 11th November he sailed with the Independent Companies and twenty-seven men belonging to Captain Commandant Callbeck's Saint John's Volunteers. That the vessels were separated in a storm, but he arrived 30th November with the ship and two brigs. Despairs of the rest reaching here this year. Immediately after his arrival he showed Mr. Callbeck, who is President of the Council and Commander-in-chief on this island, His Excellency's orders of 12th September, directing the discharge of the company. Recounts the surprise of Mr. Callbeck and the Council and their pressing instances to delay carrying out the orders. His difficult position and the apparent utility, even necessity, of keeping the few men together till the spring induced him to accede, and he is emboldened to submit his conduct to his benign deliberation.

PRESIDENT PHILLIPS CALLBECK to MAJ. HIERLIHY.

1778, December 3. Charlotte Town.—Immediately after the communication of Sir Henry Clinton's orders he convened the Council, the result of which is that they have resolved to apply for the postponement of the discharging of his company. Forwards at their request letter and extract from Minutes of Council, to which he adds his own; requests that it be delayed until application is made to Sir Henry Clinton. Encloses instrument of indemnification, pledging himself to pay all subsistence, clothing, &c., accounts also for rations supplied in consequence of Hierlihy's orders until his Excellency's pleasure is known.

THOMAS WRIGHT, PETER STEWART, and WM. NESBITT to MAJOR HIERLIHY.

1778, December 3. Council Chamber, Charlotte Town.—That the order to disband President Callbeck's Company has been laid before them for opinion. They hope, if it can be done with propriety, he will delay what they apprehend will expose the Island to danger until Sir Henry Clinton's resolution is received in answer to their application. Likewise that he will join them in their request and in consequence order his Quartermaster to issue rations for that Company with his own corps.

MAJ.-COMMANDANT TIMOTHY HIERLIHY to BRIG.-GEN. McLEAN.

1778, December 6. Charlotte Town.—On 27 October he received letter from Gen. Massey containing orders to repair hither with such transports as should not be able to load with coal, that they might be sent hence with firewood. Finding four small transports, he directed them to join the two assigned to carry the troops. Embarked November 1st; was kept in harbour until 11th by contrary winds. Put into St. Ann's on 13th; four vessels separated by a storm. Lt. Kelly went in search, but was unsuccessful. Men landed 2nd inst., weather prevented landing provisions. Shewed Mr. Callbeck, President of Council and Commander-in-Chief of this Island, orders of 12th September received from Sir Henry Clinton directing his company be discharged. Gives reasons for deferring compliance with this order. Mr. Callbeck and his Majesty's Council solicit his (McLean's) favourable representation in seconding their request for continuance of said company. Trusts his conduct will be forgiven if he has erred, as he had no other motive than the good of his Majesty's service.

MAJ.-GEN. WM. PHILLIPS to GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1778, December 8. Cambridge.—Received letter of 8th November. Thanks for allowance of 165 days' forage money and for remitting stoppages from the men. Supposes the effort to stop the march has failed. It is to be lamented no plan can be pursued for settling a general exchange, perhaps he might be useful in such a purpose. Repeats what he has previously said about the parole he has given as regards the sick and wounded officers and men allowed to go to New York. Hopes the exchange may take place. Earnestly requests that the promotion to a company in the 21st should go in the regiment. The officers of these troops see with concern how little likely it is they shall succeed to general promotions going throughout the army when they see accidental vacancies given away from them. Begs that his recommendations for any promotions may be successful as Gen. Burgoyne's have always been. Sends some new papers relating to Lt.-Col. Lind and must complain of that officer's conduct to himself. Has ordered him to his regiment, from which he shall never move with his consent till the regiment is exchanged, and desires his Excellency's decision on the question of the Deputy Chaplain. His last despatches were entrusted to Capt. Masters of the 24th, who forgetting he was a messenger entered into some conversation as to an exchange which obliged Gen. Washington (so it is understood) to refuse his going to New York, the American Congress having passed a resolution against partial parole exchange. Lt. Campbell carries these dispatches; requests that the money last written for may be sent by him for the Troops of Convention. Cannot conveniently send the Paymaster. Apprehends this will be the only correspondence for a long time, as he sets out on his journey the day after to-morrow. "Exile is no very agreeable point of view, every day's journey brings it nearer to me, and when I arrive in Virginia, which from distance and situation will naturally exclude me from all communication with my friends, I shall sit down a melancholy but patient example of the ill fortune of War." Does not now wish to be particularly exchanged, but to take his chance under the general description of exchange of the Troops of Convention.

LIEUT.-GOV. RICHARD HUGHES to GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1778, December 22. Government House at Halifax.—An unlucky accident having thrown the "Martha" armed storeship into the hands of the rebels, repeats the application for a certain quantity of gunpowder in case of attack. The commanding officer of the King's troops will probably mention in some of his letters the quantity required.

ADJUTANT-GENERAL LORD RAWDON to [SIR HENRY CLINTON].

1778, December 23.—In obedience to his Excellency's command he directed his deputy to enquire on what grounds

Lt. Shuttleworth was admitted to the purchase of a company above Lt. Layard. As this transaction took place before he was Adjutant-General, quotes Lt.-Col. Clarke's letter stating that he did not know of Capt. Layard's wish. Had Lt.-Col. Clarke known of Mr. Layard's desire to purchase he could not have given Maj. Brice sufficient security for the money without particular powers from him, therefore it became custom in Sir W. Howe's time to consider eldest of any rank on the spot as first for promotion.

GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON TO LORD AMHERST.

GENERAL WASHINGTON to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1778, December 26. Philadelphia.—“Inclosed I send Your Excellency Mr. Beatty’s representation of the case of Brown and Lezier, two Soldiers in the Service of these States, who it appears are suffering under a confinement of peculiar severity, without any sufficient cause for so injurious a discrimination. I am persuaded I need only call your attention to the situation of these Men to induce you to order them relief and to have them placed precisely on the same footing, with other prisoners of war. This will lead to their immediate exchange.”

Signed letter. Vol. 8. No. 177. 1 page.

Enclosing Statement by John Beatty, 9 Dec.

COLONEL GUY JOHNSON to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1778, December 28. Halifax.—Fears original of the letter which accompanies this has shared the fate of the “Martha” which carried it. The officer charged with his (Clinton’s) dispatches has arrived safe at Quebec, notwithstanding that the detachment he marched with was obliged to return to this province from the inclemency of the season and the difficulties they had to encounter.

Duplicate signed letter. Vol. 21. No. 28. 1 page.

BRIG.-GEN. FRANCIS McLEAN to GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1778, December 28. Halifax.—Encloses duplicate of letter of 24th October by the armed ship “Martha” lost on her passage. From the scarcity of lumber it was found impossible to complete the barracks; has been obliged to occupy all the block houses, garrets, and every other place he could put men; the severity of the season requiring every resource to enable him to break up camp, which he did on the 7th Novr. From the 15th to the 18th Novr. the transports arrived with Col. Seitz’s Regt. of Hessians and the Orange Rangers, one brig is missing having on board one sergeant and 18 men and all the horses of Col. Seitz's Regt. She was parted from the fleet in a gale. The Hessians are quartered on the inhabitants and well satisfied. The Orange Rangers, except a detachment of 1 captain and 50 men, are in a repaired barrack at the Eastern battery. The detachment was sent to Liverpool at the desire of the Lt.-Gov. and Council of the Province as per the enclosed memorial No. 1 [not identified]. The detachment sent to the eastward to cut wood has succeeded, much to his satisfaction. The weather prevents continuing the work on Citadel Hill. Has endeavoured to be as economical as possible in the article of fuel, to have more for New York, and has kept only such quantity as to supply them till the month of May. Made frequent applications to Sir Geo. Collier for convoy. A return of the coals is enclosed. Capt. Spry requests warrant for over £5,000 for works at the different forts. Has referred him to His Excellency, but has allowed him £2,000 for bills for lumber received. The benefits of Forts Cumberland and Howe not equal to the money expended. Refers him to Capt. Mowatt on the subject. The master of the "Nancy" armed ship which brought the English and German troops, Col. Johnson, &c., destined for Quebec has demanded freight for £1,000. Has given him warrant for £500, as the agreement to land them at Quebec was not carried through. Can in spring procure a ship for the remainder of the voyage for less than the rest of the £500. Sends letter from the commanding officers of the regular regiments for bat and forage money; also a memorial from Mr. Jeffries praying subsistence as purveyor to the General Hospital; also abstract for subsistence presented by Capt. Monk, commanding officer of the five companies of the Nova Scotia Volunteers. Capt. Monk has desired leave to go to Head Quarters to represent affairs of his corps. Capt. Skinner, 70th, also has leave to go to New York. Lt.-Col. Bayard, who arrived a few days ago, was reinstated in the command of the Orange Rangers and Lt.-Col. Campbell returns to New York. Repeats demand for powder. Having refused leave to go to New York to Major Dewindt of the Orange Rangers, is requested to forward a memorial. The province tranquil and the Indians to appearance satisfied. Suggests beating up the American quarters along the opposite coast towards Boston, in the summer. Loss of the "Gage" armed ship, constantly employed as a convoy for supplying the out-posts. Lt.-Col. Goreham has requested him to forward an account of clothing for his corps. P.S.—Urges decision on case of a man who has suffered long confinement in irons for desertion. Forwards a memorial of Capt. Maclean of the Royal Emigrants and copy of a letter from Lt.-Col. Campbell of the Argyleshire Regt. Hearing his Excellency is in want of provisions, ships for New York all the Treasury provisions here. Sends the contractors' return of provisions for the troops in this province.

GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON to MAJ.-GEN. WILLIAM PHILLIPS.

1778, December 30. New York.—No. 3. "I am favor'd with your Letter of the 8th Ins^t. by Lieut. Campbell, whom I would not detain untill I could give you a full Answer to it, lest he should be disappointed in his Expectations of meeting you on your Way to Virginia.

"Upon reflection I think it will be better to defer sending the Money you write for, untill you are able to send your Paymaster here, and can inform me exactly what Sum you may want; as the bad Road, Ferries &c^a at this inclement Season of the Year might render a charge of that Sort rather unsafe and troublesome.

"I sincerely wish you an agreable journey, with every Compliment of the Season, and am &c."

GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON to BRIG.-GEN. MCLEAN.

1779, January 19. New York.—The account received from Lt.-Col. Goreham for 300 suits of clothing furnished by Mr. Harley to the Royal Fensible American Regiment differs from the original invoice in prices of shoes, shirts and stockings. Requests him to direct Goreham to transmit account of expenditure thereof and number of suits remaining in his possession before payment can be ordered for any part, as by the Pay List it appears the regiment never amounted to 200 men. Buckles, velvet stocks and cockades cannot be allowed by Government. To direct Goreham and the officer commanding the Royal Highland Emigrants not to order any more clothing from England, as the Provincial Regiments will be furnished from here.

Copy. Vol. 21. No. 45. 2 pages.

GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON to BRIG.-GEN. MCLEAN.

1779, January 19. Head Quarters, New York.—Number of assistant engineers and overseers at Halifax may be reduced if necessary. Provisions may be granted to such refugees and poor persons as appear proper objects. Confirms appointment of Capt. Boyd to be Major of Brigade. Capt. McDonnell has leave to dispose of his Company. Two hundred days' bat and forage money to be allowed to three regiments who took the field at Halifax. One hundred and fifty barrels of gunpowder sent by the “Albany.” Disapproves appointment of purveyor to hospital at Halifax. Mr. Jefferies to continue to receive 10s. per day until this letter reaches McLean. Provisions and coal received very acceptable. The man belonging to the Artillery was tried by a Court Martial not legally constituted; he is to be released. When the money paid to Capt. McLean on account of subsistence of some recruits is properly settled he may have leave for a few months. The Secretary will write respecting Spry's accounts. A separate letter will be sent relative to Goreham's accounts of clothing. The granting of the warrant on account of the ship conveying Col. Johnson was very proper.

[GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON] TO GENERAL WASHINGTON.

1779, January 23. Head Quarters, New York.—Acknowledges letter of 26th December with its enclosure. To prevent irregularities it has been the custom in Europe that any infantry patrolling without a non-commissioned officer should be liable if taken by the enemy to be treated as spies or marauders. Brower and Lezier stood in this predicament when they killed Mr. Richards. Through consideration of the general distraction of the country and from fear the case might have been misunderstood, has neither brought them to trial nor permitted any particular severities. To evince the liberal footing of his transactions, as he (Washington) has avowed them, they are ordered to be exchanged immediately.

JOHN HILL, Refugee, to LORD RAWDON, Adjutant General.

1779, January 23. New York.—Memorial. Refers to an enclosed memorial [not now with the letter] for his character. The reason of his quitting the privateer was his bad state of health, with the bad success the "Tryon" had. Asks for some civil employ. Also that a certain Mr. Burling now asks rent for the house he and his wife and daughter were allowed to live in on Golden Hill by order of the Mayor, which rent they are not able to pay, from their many losses. His only son, Robert Hill, is surgeon's mate in his Lordship's regiment of Irish volunteers. Endorsed by Captain André, A.D.C., directing Col. Morris to enquire into Mr. Hill's situation, and, if he sees fit, set him down for half a dollar per diem, subject to the Commander-in-Chief's consideration.

MAJ.-GEN. WM. PHILLIPS to GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, January 27. Lancaster.—That he had ventured proposals of terms for the Convention Troops entering into full activity of service, which have not succeeded. Solicits pardon for not awaiting his Excellency's orders. Had he known of the meeting of Commissioners at Amboy he would not have made the attempt. His surprise at the result of that conference. There does not appear any reason for imagining exchanges will take place or any temporary cartel have force. "It must be an Opinion of all the world that American Officers Prisoners of War being exchanged go into immediate and active service, whereas the Officers of the Troops of Convention on being exchanged, procure merely change of place, but would be as entirely lost to the King's service as at present, the Corps to which they belong remaining still under a suspension of the Treaty of Saratoga, and with such glaring disadvantage on our part it must be impossible for Exchanges being made." Thanks his Excellency in the name of the Troops for attempting to procure a release, tho' they hope no measures for exchange will be pursued inconsistent with true policy and their honour.

GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON to BRIG.-GEN. FRANCIS McLEAN.

1779, February 11. New York.—Is sorry Maj.-Gen. Massey did not furnish him with the regulations regarding payment of the Provincial Forces, as the warrants granted to the paymasters and others are contrary to the mode prescribed. To acquaint the commanding officers that they are to settle with Messrs. Gordon and Crowder’s Deputy for all such. Lt.-Col. Goreham of the Royal Fencible Americans and Captain Alexander McDonald of the Royal Highland Emigrants have made many charges in their accounts that are inadmissible. No more warrants are to be granted to the Provincial officers, as Mr. Smith is fully authorized to pay their subsistence regularly on producing their accounts in the proper form.

DUGALD McMILLAN to MAJ.-GEN. WILLIAM TRYON.

1779, February 23. New York.—Petition. That he emigrated from Scotland with his family upwards of five years ago and settled in Tryon County. That he with sixty-six more Scots Highlanders had forced their way to join the royal standard in Canada. That in June 1778, he steered his course for New York, flattering himself that the army in this place would direct their march towards Albany and that he would see his reduced family. Has exhausted his little money, is reduced by age and infirmity, asks rations. The petition is referred by General Tryon to Head Quarters and forwarded to Col. Morris by Lord Cathcart, A.D.C., with order for rations.

1779, February 28. Fredericksburg.—Begg as a particular favour exchange for Capt. Bliss, an American officer who has attended him from Cambridge. The officers are somewhat dispersed. The British quarter at present at Richmond, the Germans in Augusta County. Riedesel has a house within 7 miles of the barracks, for which he pays an immoderate rent. Has himself the offer of one at rent of 30 guineas gold a month. Is setting out for Charlotteville, and means to take the chances that offer for quarters.

MAJ.-GEN. WM. PHILLIPS to GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, February 28. Fredericksburg, Virginia.—“Sir, The situation of the Troops is not what I expected nor does it correspond with those rules I had been led to imagine would govern the conduct of the persons into whose care the Troops were to be put. No Military Gentleman has been employed or, I imagine, advised upon in the placing or constructing Barracks, for they are not convenient and erected at a distance from Water, which resource even fails in the Summer. I well know that the labour of the Soldier can remedy the want of conveniency in the Barracks, but I know not how it may be possible to obtain water at that season when it will be most required.

“And I am, moreover, fearful of a want of Provisions from a variety of circumstances.

“I mention these as present evils, for I do not conceive they will continue. Mr. Harvie, a Delegate from Virginia to the American Congress, is the person employed in all matters relating to the Troops, assisted I suppose by the Governor of Virginia.

“I have written to both those Gentlemen and make no doubt but their Sense, integrity and humanity will influence them to either change the situation of the Troops or make such alteration as may prevent the direful ill which must necessarily attend the Officers and Soldiers in their present state. . . .

“Colonel Baylor has arrived in Virginia within these few days, I had heard he was to have liberty to quit New York on his Parole, and it gave me great pleasure. Liberality I know to be one of your Excellency’s sentiments and it does you honor. I had a little fear that the American Congress having refused me going on a visit to your Excellency might have prevented Colonel Baylor’s leaving New York, I rejoice it has not. This Gentleman, who I have not seen, informs that he had letters for me which he sent to General Washington as the speediest conveyance to me, but I have not yet received them. He also mentions that the Flag Ships were on the point of sailing for Virginia.

“I have written to the Governour of Virginia for liberty for the Flag Vessels going up to Richmond”

Encloses a state of the troops as sent in report to him here. They supported their march under great patience, good behaviour, and good order.

GENERAL WASHINGTON TO GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, March 1. Head Quarters, Middlebrook.—“Sir: you have herewith inclosed a passport for £10,000 St^{rs} on board the Brig Lady Howe, for Hampton road in Virginia.

“I have also transmitted a passport for the Schooner Argyle, Magnus Crosbie Master, but confined it to the same place.

“It is a much shorter passage from Hampton road to Alexandria or George Town on the Potowmack; and as either of these places are nearer to Fort Frederick and Winchester, than Baltimore—the necessaries and specie in the Schooner Argyle may be conveyed in one of the Bay craft from Hampton road to Alexandria or George Town—and thence by land to their place of destination.

“Lest the articles for the prisoners should meet with any unnecessary delay—or my letter to the Governor of the State of Virginia on the subject of receiving and forwarding them, should not have arrived before the Argyle, I send you one to Governor Henry of the same import, which will procure proper craft and persons for their safe conveyance and protection.

“I have the honor to be with due consideration.”

COLONEL GUY JOHNSON to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, March 5. Halifax.—His anxiety to get to his present destination in due time, and in a secure manner. "We have pretty clear accounts that the enemy's vessels will be early in our Rout." There are no ships left here of force adequate to the undertaking, and if some do not arrive in due season fears the General will not find it easy to fulfil his promises and wishes. Thinks his capture would be some loss to the service.

CAPTAIN HENRY MOWAT to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, March 5. Albany at Halifax.—Receipt of letter of 11th Feb. Assurances of services. Thinks an alteration of the first plan will more effectually answer the intention of Government. Has consulted Genl. McLean concerning Penobscot. Was in hopes of receiving some commands in person, as the "Albany" might before this time have been at New York had Sir George Collier put her under repairs on her arrival here, but in place of that he has taken it upon him to impede her getting fitted, and now she is ready he means her for some other service. How far he is complying with the instructions of his Admiral, time will discover.

BRIG.-GEN. FRANCIS MCLEAN to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, March 6. Halifax.—Private. In consequence of his private letter of 11 February has had many conversations with Capt. Mowat, who has given his opinion in writing. Being himself an utter stranger to all this part of the country, can only form his opinion by charts. If any dependence can be placed on those published by Des Barres, Capt. Mowat's idea of Falmouth seems very just and to promise every advantage, but many particulars are required to be known. With respect to Townshend, cannot procure any information. As to the third place mentioned by Capt. Mowat, viz. Long or Great Deer Islands, sees no difficulty in establishing a post, but its utility he cannot take upon himself to determine. Is employed in making preparations with diligence and secrecy. By an enclosed sketch will be seen the number of intrenching tools in hand. Scarcity of every species of timber. Discusses the number of troops to be spared, thinks 600. Has not at present any transports, and the taking up of vessels here is very uncertain.

BRIG.-GEN. FRANCIS McLEAN to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, March 7. Halifax.—Agreeable to directions has ordered the flank companies of the 70th, 74th, and 82nd to embark on board the transports provided by Sir Geo. Collier to proceed to New York. Is now deprived not only of a considerable part of his force, but of that part on which he chiefly relied in case of an attack by land. From the nature of this place it cannot be looked at as a garrison. No works they could make could ever cover the town and dockyard. Requests these companies might be returned later on. A disagreeable dispute having arisen between Major Dewint and Capt. Burgess of the King's Orange Rangers, ordered a Court Martial. Took same opportunity for trial of two men of the Royal Highland Emigrants to put a stop to disagreements between that corps and the Hessian Regiment of De Seitz. Mr. Jeffries discharged from office of Purveyor to Hospital. Directions concerning payment of Provincial Corps communicated to Mr. Smith. By the departure of so many ships of war the Bay of Fundy is left undefended; requests him to represent this to Adml. Gambier that a vessel or two may be ordered to that station. Want of flat-bottomed boats. Requests the "Gage" be replaced. If coals are to be brought from Spanish River, it is requisite to reinforce party there and send transports. Will send abstract of all monies issued since 1st January. Encloses proportion of field artillery necessary. P.S.—Leave granted to Capt. McDonald to go to New York to fetch his wife and family.

BRIG.-GEN. JOHN CAMPBELL to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, March 25. Pensacola.—Reporting death of Colonel John Stuart, Superintendent of Indian Affairs, on Sunday 21st. That Department is supposed to be in the greatest confusion. Gov. Chester thinks himself authorized to fill the vacancy (as far as regards West Florida) till his Majesty's pleasure is known, and intends putting the office in commission. Has offered his services, conditionally, as President of the Commissioners. Thinks it essential a General Superintendent for the Southern Department should be appointed, because whatever right Gov. Chester has, Gov. Tonym will claim, and as the Indians are not distinguished as attached to particular provinces disorder must ensue. Represents the want of ready cash. The Waldeck regiment has 6 months' pay due. Encloses recommendations to commissions from Lt.-Cols. Allen and Chalmers. Hopes his Excellency will approve the junction of their two corps rather than filling up present vacancies. P.S.—Has declined any share in the commission, Govr. Chester and himself not agreeing in the nomination of commissioners.

BRIG.-GEN. JOHN CAMPBELL to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, April 7-13. Pensacola.—Communicates intelligence received that the "Lord Townshend," a vessel chartered by the contractor of provisions for the forces in West Florida, was totally destroyed by fire in Port Royal Harbour, Jamaica, by which accident, together with the non-arrival of two other vessels, they are reduced to 14 weeks' flour. There is a small supply of Indian corn, which is ordered to be purchased. From Jamaica they can look for none, as Capt. Douglass of the "Ostrich" reports them on short allowance. Begg therefore a timely supply. Has appointed Brigade-Major Campbell paymaster.

"Our disappointment in regard to Provisions has disconcerted my Plan for detaining two Sloops as formerly mentioned to your Excellency in the Qr.-Master General's Department. We cannot now afford forwarding a Store of Provisions to Manchack as intended, and must satisfy ourselves with furnishing the Troops there with a temporary supply. On the Contrary had a Sufficient Quantity of Provisions Arrived, I designed loading the Two Sloops and sending them up the Mississippi. To avoid Expence I mean to discharge one of them the service.

"The 7th Instant I received Letters from Lieut.-Colonel Dickson Inclosing Reports from Capt. Miller of an Independent Company raised in this Province by Governor Chester, and from Lieut. Graham of the 4th Battalion, 60th Regiment, in regard to the Situation of a Fort on the Mississippi, Copies of which are inclosed together with Extracts Containing Lieutenant-Colonel Dickson's own Opinion which perfectly Coincides with the other Gentlemen, and points out the present distressed and rather Alarming Situation of the Garrison of Manchack, and will tend to Strengthen the Reasons I formerly gave your Excellency for rejecting the Situation of Fort Bute or Manchack. I cannot Omit testifying here to Colonel Dickson's punctual Attention to the Directions and Instructions given him, and to his Vigilance, Diligence and Activity in Conducting the Troops and Stores hence to Manchack.

"To give a Consequence to Captain Miller's Opinion I must observe that he was formerly an Officer in the 45th Regiment, and was employed last War both at Hallifax and Newfoundland as Assistant Engineer; besides, by all Accounts he has a Natural turn and genius that way.

"As no Works can be begun on the Mississippi for some Considerable time for want of Provisions and for want of Materials being Collected, I have inclosed the same Extracts and Opinions to The Right Honble. Lord George Germain for Directions and Instructions in Regard to the Situation of the Fort, and Expect an Answer by the Latter end of September next.

"There were three Nominal dependant Companies in this Province raised by Order of Governor Chester, two of them (a Capt. Hutchins and a Captain Symans) had few or no men at all besides Officers and Non-Commissioned Officers—which I represented to Governor Chester, who thereupon Consented to their reduction; and our joint Orders were dispatched to the Natches for that purpose. Capt. Miller's Company still remains on Foot, which I intend to Consider either as Soldiers or Batteaux Men, but chiefly the latter. They were raised and have been paid on a different Footing from the Military (either Provincial or regular). The private had Forty shillings, the Corporals Fifty, and Serjeants three Pounds Sterling per Month, and to furnish their own Cloathing. Their being considered and Used as Batteaux Men may be said to place them on another Establishment, and will remove any Ground of Jealousy or Discontent; Besides that Batteaux Men could not be purposely raised or engaged for in this Country for near that Sum.

"13 April, 1779.—An Affair that happened this Morning requires to be particularly reported to Your Excellency: Fourteen Carpenters of the Regiment of Waldeck absolutely refused working at the King's Works at the Stated Allowance for Military Artificers in North America (Viz^t fifteen Pence York Currency per Day) Alledging it was inadequate to the Wear and Tear of Cloaths, Necessaries &c., And to furnish them with the extraordinary Bread they required to support them. Colonel de Hanxleden on being sent for declared his private Opinion to Correspond with what they set forth, Judging that a German Soldier to satisfy him would eat at least two pounds of Bread per Day, And as Bread here is at the extravagant Price of 4*sh.* 4½*d.* York

Currency for four Pounds he reckoned they Spent their whole Artificers Pay in that Article only; but offered to Punish them for Mutiny or to act in whatever manner I should think proper to direct for the good of the service—Punishment would not Answer to the forwarding of the Publick Works. I therefore desired they might be informed that it was not in my Power to Augment their Allowance, but should lay their representation before your Excellency for your Consideration and Redress if thought reasonable—And should Pardon their present Unmilitary Behaviour, on Condition that they resumed working immediately: They Accepted of the Terms and Order ensued.

“It was Customary before my Arrival that Soldiers employed at the King’s Works paid Nothing for Provisions, so that Artificers had this Allowance besides their fifteen Pence York,—but this Custom I put an End to on ordering Rum to be issued; And also Abolished another Practice that prevailed here to Allow Soldiers employed as Laborers 10*d.* York Currency per Day.”

Sends home Lt. Wilkinson of the Artillery to rid the corps of a madman. Absolute expediency of a corps of skilled carpenters being sent here before any progress can be expected. Was obliged to dismiss the native carpenters on account of their exorbitant demands. The military ones are few and bad workmen, and unless some satisfaction is given to the Waldeckers they will refuse. Forwards memorial of Lt. James Robertson.

SIR HENRY CLINTON to BRIG.-GEN. FRANCIS McLEAN.

1779, April 13. New York.—“Having received the Orders of Govern^t to Establish a Post on Penobscot River, I am therefore to desire you will make such a Detachment of the Troops under your Command, as you shall judge proper and Sufficient to defend themselves against any Attempt the Rebels in those parts may be able to make, directing them to take post on Penobscot River, and sending with them all Necessary Implements for Erecting a Fort, together with such Ordnance and Stores as may be proper for its defence, and a Sufficient Supply of Provisions.

“I apprehend Lt.-Col. Goreham will be a proper Officer for this Command, and I wo^d recommend your sending his own Corps, the Orange Rangers, with such other Troops in addition as will make up 500 Men, which I should Suppose would be Sufficient ; but as you are in a Situation to get better information than I possibly can at this distance, you will be so good to send such Force as you may judge necessary, And give Captⁿ Hartcup the Engineer, to whom I have communicated my Ideas of the matter, such further directions and Assistance as you may think requisite.

“Should you think it advisable, either during the time this Establishment is making, or, after it has taken place, to proceed on, or detach an Expedition, to any part between Falmouth and Penobscot River, you are at liberty to do so, provided it can be executed in time, so as not to detain the Transports too long or to endanger the Safety of Halifax, which is always to be considered as the principal Object of your Attention.

“Should it be possible for you to give any assistance to the people of the Navy employed in Cutting Masts in Bay Verte, I am persuaded you will do it.

“I have to lament the little probability that occurs at present of employing your abilities in a more active line, but you may be assured I shall be happy to request your Assistance in that way whenever a proper Opportunity offers.

“You will be pleased to deliver the enclosed Instructions to the Officer whom you shall appoint to Command the Detachment to be sent to Penobscot, and give him such further Orders and directions as you shall Judge Necessary.”

SIR HENRY CLINTON to BRIG.-GEN. FRANCIS McLEAN.

1779, April 13. New York.—“I am sorry that the Necessity of the Service required my ordering your Flank Companies to this place, they are incorporated in the Corps of Grenadiers and Light Infantry under the Command of Excellent Officers; when they can be spared from this Service they shall be sent back to you; the loss we have sustain'd in the Grenadiers and Light Infantry of the 82^d Regiment, who were Cast away in the Mermaid in a hard Gale of Wind near Egg harbour, distresses me much. I have ordered Captⁿ. Pitcairn's return of the loss to be sent you by this Opportunity.

“I approve much of your having abolished the General Hospital at Halifax, and establishing regimental ones, for the reasons you mention.

“I understand the Commodore has ordered a proper Naval Force for the protection of the Bay of Fundy.

“With regard to the deficiency of Flat Boats you Complain of, I should imagine Battoes will Answer very well, and I apprehend you can have them built upon the Spot.

“As you represent the Necessity of having a Vessel to replace the Sloop Gage which has been lost, you will be pleased either to purchase or hire one as you may see occasion.

“Some Transports are sent you by the present Opportunity, and as I hope your Operations in the Bay of Penobscot will be finished before they can be wanted for the Transportation of Coals from Spanish River, they may be employed on that Service after the other is performed.

"You will be pleased to issue 200 days' Forage Money with the usual proportion of Bat and Baggage Money when you may judge necessary, to such Troops as actually take the Field.

"Having referred the return of Field Artillery and Stores, which you represent as wanting in your Province, to the Commanding Officer of that Department, he will give directions concerning them.

"I have accepted of Lieut. Arbuthnot's resignation, and filled up the Succession agreeable to your recommendation. And am to acquaint you that the loss of Necessaries sustained by the party employed in Cutting Wood at Jeddore may be made good to them upon the proper Certificates being given in.

"As there are some Irregularities in the Proceedings of the General Court Martial, of which Lt.-Col. Bruce is President transmitted in your last, which I now return to you) I have directed the Judge Advocate to point them out to the person who acted as such at that Court, and am to desire you will order a Revisal of the Trials of Major De Wint and Capt^r Burgess of the Orange Rangers, and direct the other Sentences to be put in Execution at the discretion of the Commanding Officer of the Regiment to which the Prisoners belong.

"As we have been in great want of Specie at this place for some time past, and I understand from Sir George Collier that a considerable Sum may be procured at Halifax, I have directed the Contractor's Agents to send a proper person thither by the present Opportunity to raise all the Money that can be spared at that place, and I am to request you will give him all the assistance you can relative to this business, which must not be publicly known; otherwise the intention of it would be defeated."

CAPTAIN HENRY MOWAT to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, April 25. "Albany," Annapolis.—Finds Admiral Gambier has gone to England. Will have to renew his suit for a better ship. Trusts it will not affect the service in view for him, and as his not being in a post-ship may prove an obstacle to his having the command, stands ready to undertake it with the "Albany" and ships of her class, provided a naval force be placed between the object of Clinton's designs and the enemy's ships on that part of the coast, with instructions to give assistance to a plan which bids fair to reduce into subordination at least all that part of New England to the east of Casco Bay. Encloses orders on a similar service by Adml. Graves [see 6 October, 1775]. A faithful person of his acquaintance from the opposite shore informs of the distress of the people there, who wish they had never revolted.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 21. No. 69. 4 pages.

MR. THORNHILL to [CHARLES JENKINSON], Secretary at War.

1779, April 25. Kinsale.—No account has arrived from General Clinton about his affair. Fears he shall lose the money allotted by Howe unless he (Jenkinson) will press to have the affair brought to a conclusion.

Original. Vol. 29. No. 68. 1 page.

SARAH MORRIS to [SIR HENRY CLINTON].

1779, April. New York.—The last page only of a Memorial. Apparently remonstrating against intrusions on the estate. That near fifty horses are on the farm belonging to the waggons and artillery, and that unless released by his authority she must abandon the estate and submit to wretchedness which her former rank and station render her ill-qualified to bear. Concludes with a wish that some officer of weight and reputation might be charged to make frequent visits to Morrisania and take such measures for her protection as it may be proper to command.

Copy. Vol. 10. No. 115. 1 page.

JOHN ROBINSON to [].

1779, April. Treasury Chambers.—Is commanded to acquaint him that on consideration the Lords of the Treasury have ordered the bills drawn by Mr. Callbeck to be paid. Desires him to move Lord G. Germain to give directions to Mr. Callbeck that he is not to draw on their Lordships for any services ordered by the Commander in Chief, the expense of which ought to be defrayed by warrants from the Commander in Chief. This is a copy certified by W. Spry, Commanding Engineer, Halifax, 27 January 1780.

Copy. Vol. 29. No. 293. 1 page.

JOSHUA GIDNEY, Refugee.

1779, May 1. Long Island.—Memorial. MAJ.-GEN. WILLIAM PHILLIPS to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, May 1. Charlottes Ville.—Has received by the flagships copies of letters from Gen. Haldimand from Quebec in August last, accompanied by lists and descriptions of American prisoners of war sent round in clothing ships to be released on parole, his Excellency intimating the exchange of these men for some part of the Convention Army. Capt. Hall, of the 62nd, who had charge of these, received Maj.-Gen. Massey's orders on their arrival at Halifax to land them there; whether they have been sent to Boston or not, does not know. Will avail himself of the opportunity to write to Gen. Washington on the subject of these prisoners for an exchange. Has written, at the request of Maj.-Gen. Riedesel and Col. de Gall, to Gen. Haldimand to send the clothing and necessaries left in Canada of the Brunswick and Hesse Hanau troops. "Among other unlucky circumstances attending these prisoners not being consigned to me as intended by Gen. Haldimand is my not having been able to procure an exchange for Capt. Willoe now in Canada." As Assistant Inspector to the German Troops, his exchange is desired to enable him to reassume his employment.

Signed letter. Vol. 10. No. 140. 3 pages.

GOVERNOR PATRICK TONYN to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, May 1. St. Augustine.—Trusts that Col. Campbell and Capt. Parker have acquainted him that he adopted every measure that could promote the object of the expedition. The troops that marched from here with Brig.-Gen. Prevost had every possible assistance granted them. If they suffered for want of provisions it was owing to their own omissions. On the ideas of a general plan of exertion took every step in order that a union of force might operate effectually for the reduction of Carolina and Georgia. Should have had the honour of transmitting some information of subsequent operations. To descend to particulars now would be officious, as he must be acquainted with them from the spot. Recommends Lt.-Col. Th. Brown to be Superintendent in place of Mr. Stuart. Disaster to the "Jason" and her convoy by the rebel privateers, Warren, Alliance and Dean. Since the reduction of Georgia this province has been tranquil, the planters busy and the merchants active in exporting goods.

SIR HENRY CLINTON to MAJ.-GEN. AUGUSTINE PREVOST.

1779, May 2. New York.—Has supplied his wants as far as possible. Satisfaction at the rebel galleys fallen into his hands. Mr. Cameron to be Superintendent though is sensible of Col. Brown's merits. Lack of shipping for communication; has had no vessel to send with dispatches. Irregularities in the general court martial sent. Deplores with him the ill-treatment of the prisoners in the hands of the Americans. Lt. Sutherland to return to this place.

PROVINCIAL TROOPS.

^{1777, May 21st}
^{1779, May 2nd.}—"As some inconveniences have arisen from the want of a proper regulation of rank between the Regular and Provincial Troops and as rank cannot be in the latter as it is the former the result of long Services and considerable Expense The Commander in Chief has been pleased to direct that all Brigadiers of Provincial Forces under his Command shall take Rank as youngest Colonels in the line.—All Colonels as youngest Lieut.-Colonels—all Lieut.-Colonels as youngest Majors, and all inferior Officers as youngest of their respective Ranks, as established by His Majesty's regulation of 17th Decem^r 1760.

2nd May 1779.—"The Commander in Chief has the King's Orders to signify to the Prov^l Troops, that His Majesty Anxious to reward their faithful Services and spirited conduct upon several occasions, has been pleased to confer upon them the following marks of his Royal Favor.

"All Officers of Provincial Corps that are or may be raised in America shall when on Service with the Regular Troops take Rank as junior of the Rank to which they belong.

"Such Officers as may be wounded in action so as to lose a Limb or be maimed shall be entitled to the same gratuity of one years advanced Pay as Officers of the Established Army in that predicament are entitled to receive—and it is further His Majesty's Gracious intention to make provision for all such Non Commission Officers and Privates as shall be disabled from Wounds received in His Service.

“In order to distinguish the Zeal of the Officers of such Regiments as shall be compleated to Ten Companies of 56 Rank and File each Company His Majesty will upon the recommendation of The Commander-in-Chief make the Rank of those Officers permanent in America, and will allow them half Pay upon the reduction of their Regiments, in the same manner as the Officers of British reduced Regiments are paid.

“The Commander-in-Chief is further ordered on this occasion to repeat the promise of grants of land upon the Terms and in the proportions held forth by Sir William Howe.”

ALEXR. McMILLAN, Capt. Independent Companies, to MAJOR (sic) GENERAL McCLEAN.

1779, May 3. Charlotte Town.—His impatience to be called to a general court martial where he hopes to acquit himself honourably of crimes laid to his charge. Incloses true copy of a letter directed to Lieut. Henderson which has fallen into his hands; the contents will convince of the spite and malice his commanding officer owes him. The situation of his company is distressing; has lost eleven men by the imprudence of Major Hierlihy ordering them on board defenceless vessels carrying hay from Spanish River to the Island of St. John. His depositions will fully show the injustice received from Major Hierlihy.

Signed letter. Vol. 29. No. 230. 2 pages.

Enclosures:—

Maj. Hierlihy to Lt. Henderson, see 11 April 1779.

1779, May 3. Charlotte Town.—Deposition of Capt. Alexr. McMillan taken before Thomas Wright, J.P. That in October last as Captain in the Independent Companies at Spanish River he had asked Major Hierlihy to settle accounts, which was refused, also his commission. Major Hierlihy said he wished to give the commission in Isle of St. John in form before the Governor and Council. That on 4th March he waited on the Major in Charlotte town, who refused to give up the commission or settle accounts till he heard from Halifax.

BRIG.-GEN. JOHN CAMPBELL to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, May 10. Pensacola.—“As I am very apprehensive that your Excellency may think my Request and solicitations to you in My letter of the 10th March (sent by the Solebay) to be rather improper at this critical juncture, permit me now to assure your Excellency that I shall cheerfully remain with the Command you have been pleased to honour me with, untill it shall appear proper and Convenient to Order a Genl. Officer to releave me. I would be sorry if any Officer is Ordered to come here against his inclination on my acct. I must own it is a troublesome Command at present, and fear it will be attended with very little credit to me. However I am determind to remain Satisfyed. Only beg and entreat your Excellency will not be unmindfull of me.” . . . His ill health.

“It will give me the greatest satisfaction Imaginable if your Excellency can spare me One British Reg^t in the room of the 16th Reg^t who are worn out in the Service, and such of the men of said Reg^t as may be judged fit for Service, with your approbation to be draughted into the 60th Reg^t as they want a Number of men to complete. And then I am confident I shall be able to repel any descent that may be attempted against this Province, whereas at present I have no Troops Under my Command that I can consider actually fit for Active Service nor indeed any that I can with safety trust at the Frontier Posts, which is a very disagreeable circumstance. I am sorry to report that the Post Ordered to be Established on the Mississippi cannot be constructed for want of Carpenters. Only seven Carpenters can be procured here (at very high wages) besides our Military artificers, who are of very little use. In my humble Opinion we shall at least want fifty good Carpenters more than we can get here, as the Fort must be built entirely of Cypress Logs, which we judge the only permanent material fit for that purpose to withstand this Climate, excepting Bricks, which would amount to an amasing expence. Therefore nothing material can be done towards erecting the New Fort and Barracks, &c. on the Mississippi, till your Excellency shall be pleased to Order a sufficient Number of good Carpenters to be sent from New York to this place in Order to carry on said Works.” I have sent this letter by sea to Georgia.

GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON to JOHN ROBINSON.

1779, May 11. New York.— . . . “In respect to the state of the Military chest here, I have the honour to acquaint you, . . . that as the Deputy Paymaster General transmitted lists of all outstanding temporary warrants regularly to the Pay Office, I imagined constant reports of them were made from thence to the Treasury Board whereby their Lordships would have known the low condition of our cash at this place.” . . .

“The enclosed State of the Military Chest, with a Copy of Mr. Barrows Letter to my Secretary, which accompanies it, will shew their Lordships the true State of our Cash to the Period therein expressed. And indeed it is impossible for their Lordships to make any just or accurate Calculation of the State of the Military Chest except from the Balances of the Deputy Paymasters General, and the Accounts of the Remitters Agents. In them there can be no Mistake, the one being an effectual Check upon the other; for when the Deputy Paymaster General receives a Sum from the Remitters Agents to discharge any of the Warrants I may find it necessary to grant, he of course gives his Receipt, with which they debit their Constituents, and the Deputy paymaster General always sends to the Pay Office an Account of the Payments he makes in Consequence of these Receipts.

“By the Letter from the Remitters Agents which is herewith transmitted, their Lordships will see that they say they are in advance for the Military Chest on Account of Extraordinaries above - - - - £80,000 0s. 0d.

By the State of the Military

Chest it appears that Mr.

Chest to the Remitters’

- - - - £71,525 15s. 10d.

And as this is the real and true State of the Military Chest after the most minute Investigation, I beg leave to submit to their Lordships whether it will not be absolutely necessary to enable me to carry on the Service that £100,000 be immediately sent out on Account of Extraordinaries (exclusive of the £100,000, which their Lordships have already ordered to be remitted) and that at least £70,000 be sent out every Succeeding Quarter. With these sums, and such as may be raised here by Bills of Exch^e. on Terms any way advantageous to Government, I apprehend the Expences that attend this Army may be provided for. . . . Mr. Wier has written fully about provisions.”

GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON to LORD GEORGE GERMAIN.

1779, May 14. New York.—“In the Plan of Operations which your Lordship has chalked out for me in your Secret and confidential Dispatch of the 23rd of January your Lordship has supposed that I shall be able to employ much larger detachments that I fear will correspond with my Force. Your Lordship seems to have rated my present numbers from the Column of effectives in my returns, the strength of the Reinforcement is to be received in the same Mode of estimation. I must here beg leave to observe that when your Lordship in the House of Commons stated the Force of Sir William Howe at Brandywine you went upon a different Rule and the number your Lordship Specified was that which actually appeared ‘Rank and file fit for duty in the Field.’ How widely the list of effectives will differ from the Files which the Battalions will bring into the Field I need not point out to an Eye acquainted with the various Clogs of Service. I therefore must take it for granted that the detachments are to be formed upon the same principle of calculation. Yet even in this View, My Lord, our numbers will fail, for as my Posts must be Garrisoned in a similar proportion, my real force for the Field will not gain by the nominal strength attributed to my Army. To force Washington to an action upon Terms tolerably equal has been the object of every Campaign during this War, the difficulty of attaining that object in so strong a Country even with the Force Sir William Howe had by this time needs no illustration. Washington has at this Instant 8,000 Continental Troops in Jersey besides Militia, a number far exceeding what we had when Sir William Howe marched against him in June 1777. I believe the Force with which your Lordship seems to apprehend that I might drive Washington from his present position and oblige him to retire to the Mountains is in my Idea by no means equal to the Task, and my opinion is supported by the conduct of Sir William Howe, who with an Army Superior to what mine can possibly be, thought the Attempt to force that position intirely unadvisable. It shall be my endeavour to draw Washington forward before he is reinforced, by indirect Manceuvres, if he gives into my views no efforts shall be wanting to strike at him whilst he is in motion. But if he persists in keeping his present Post, I must not flatter myself that it will be easy to gain any advantage over him, or to carry into extent as I certainly should wish the Measures which your Lordship appears to recommend.

“From what I have said, My Lord, you will see the part which I have taken. Since I am ordered to remain in the Command your Lordship may depend during this Campaign upon the most active exertions that my Powers can Supply, but I must lament that my happiness is sacrificed to prevent the partial inconvenience which might have arisen from a change. Had Public Opinion required that I should stay in the Command more attention would have been paid to my Situation.”

BRIG.-GEN. FRANCIS McLEAN to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, May 16. Halifax.—Private. A detachment of 500 men is ready to embark for Penobscot River with such implements for constructing forts, &c. as he has been able to procure. Observes recommendations to employ Lt.-Col. Goreham's corps and the King's Orange Rangers, but the first named is at Fort Cumberland and it would not be possible to relieve them under two months. Means that Lt.-Col. Campbell with 400 men of the 76th Regt. and 100 of the King's Orange Rangers should form the detachment. Capt. Mouatt expected to arrive from Annapolis with the Albany. Will consult with him as to the best manner to carry out his Excellency's directions, and also as to the naval force necessary to protect the detachment, as several large rebel ships are still cruising off this coast. Design of the rebels and Indians against Fort Howe (St. John's River), Major Studholm who commands has some doubts of his intelligence. Enemy proposes to establish a post at or near Machias.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 21. No. 76. 3 pages.

CAPTAIN ANDREW BARKLEY to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, May 17. "Blonde," Halifax.—Received letter by his friend Capt. Gayton. Would be happy to serve him. Hopes his ship may be ordered to the southward, or that he may be employed upon active service.

BRIG.-GEN. FRANCIS McLEAN to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, May 17. Halifax.—Acknowledges letter of 13 April by H.M.S. "Romulus." Sent the proceedings of the court martial to Lieut.-Col. Bruce with extract of his Excellency's letter, as will be perceived by enclosure No. 1. Enclosure No. 2 will inform of the impossibility of revising the proceedings; has therefore returned them for further directions. Forwarded the dispatches to Genl. Haldimand by Major Holland and Lieut.-Gov. Sinclair. The detachment of British and Brunswick troops quartered through the winter at Lunenburg will proceed for Quebec as soon as a convoy can be had. Naval Hospital removed from George's Island to allow of its defence. Lacks a Deputy Muster Master. Disaster to the transports conveying Major Hierlihy's corps from Spanish River to St. John's Island. Thinks some vessels should be sent from New York to convey coal from Spanish River. Capt. Spry has presented abstract of his account which requires some time to examine. P.S.—The Light Company of the Royal Emigrants is embarked on the "Romulus."

BRIG.-GEN. FRANCIS McLEAN to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, May 17. Halifax.—Barracks needed. There is not a sufficiency for 1,200 men, has therefore desired Captain Spry to make an estimate for one to contain 400 men. Transmits it for his Excellency's directions, but thinks it rather high. Provisions greatly needed, and the season approaches for supplying their outposts.

CAPTAIN ALEXANDER McMILLAN to BRIG.-GEN. McCLEAN (sic).

1779, May 17. Charlotte Town.—The inclosed are copies of a packet which he sent inclosed in a letter to Capt. Skinner of 70th, to be laid before Brigadier-General McClean. Begg to be excused having done so, and gives his reason. It was to deceive those who would hinder him from writing to him. Ten of his company a sacrifice to the "private view of Major Hierlihy having been put on board of his hay vessels." Begg a court martial for his trial.

LIEUT.-GOV. HENRY HAMILTON to MAJ.-GEN. W. PHILLIPS.

[17]79, May 22.—"Captain Freeman having very obligingly offered to forward my letter, I was unwilling to leave this place without assuring you of my respect, and the concern your present situation has given us all.

"For my own particular I have failed in an attempt which I had hopes would have been attended with some advantage to His Majesty's Service, and in consequence am a Prisoner of War. I had used my best endeavours to have procured the return of the Officers and men who were married, but without effect—we are now proceeding as far as Richmond, what our destiny is I cannot foresee, but as most of the private men who are with me have been entitiled to Chelsea from their Services, I must entreat your good Offices to get them sent home if practicable, a favor which General Hamilton told me had been granted to others in the like situation.

"The Officers and men who have lost their liberty by voluntarily engaging in a very disagreeable Service, have a right to expect from me every alleviation of their disagreeable situation in my power to procure them, for which reason I make no scruple to inform you that Cloath's, linnen, and Money, are at the lowest Ebb with them. Enclosed is a return of their numbers, several of the Officers, the wounded, and such of the Men as had not served 20 years, or for a term, are detained at St. Vincennes. I must beg leave to refer you to Captⁿ. Freeman for some particulars which I have not time to commit to paper, otherways should have troubled you with a detail of our failure. I have the honor to be with all imaginable regard."

MAJ.-GEN. WILLIAM PHILLIPS TO SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, May 27. Charlottes Ville.—Capts. Featherstone and Edmonstone have been granted by the American officer in command leave to go to Philadelphia for their exchanges. Capt. Featherstone will deliver these dispatches and set out immediately. Edmonstone will proceed when he has finished some business for Riedesel. The Convention Troops are healthy and behave well. The barracks are become by some labour tolerably commodious and the officers hitherto dispersed over the country are gathering round them. Clothing and stores are arrived. Superintendency of these troops transferred from Col. Harvie to Col. Bland. Has no fear provisions will fail. Has received every possible attention from the Governor and Lieut.-Governor of Virginia, Col. Harvie and Col. Bland. Will send superfluous clothing and stores by the "Argyle." Monthly Returns from December to present month are ready and will be sent by Capt. Edmonstone or in the "Argyle." Encloses General Return of effective state of the troops of the Convention as they are in Virginia.

MARY HOUX and HANNAH MORRIS.

1779, May 28. New York.—Representation that they lived at Hosick about sixteen miles above Albany; that their husbands left in July 1777, to join General Burgoyne and served with McKay's Rangers, being sent to Canada after the Convention of Saratoga; that being turned out of their farms and their stock sold they are destitute. The statement is certified by Joseph Chew, Secretary of Indian Affairs, on the date above named and addressed to Roger Morris.

BRIG.-GEN. FRANCIS MCLEAN to GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, May 28. Halifax.—On a more serious consideration of his commands as to the settlement on Penobscot River, thought it would be essentially for the good of the service if the detachment were made as considerable as the safety of the province would permit. Has therefore augmented it to six hundred and forty, 440 of which are of the 74th, under Lt.-Col. Campbell, and as the King's Orange Rangers could not nearly furnish the remaining 200 owing to their incompleat state, and a detachment of 50 men at Liverpool who could not be recalled in time, was obliged to change them, and ordered 200 of his own regiment under Maj. Craig. The 70th and De Seitz's are left. Another consideration was that the few remaining troops could not form a second detachment for further operations between the settlement and Falmouth, thought therefore by making it considerable and going with it himself he might put the post in a state of defence, and be more at hand to judge of the practicability of any attempt. Cannot fix a time for his return, but will inform of all his motions. Contrary winds having prevented the "Albany" getting round from Annapolis to convoy the detachment, was obliged to apply to Capt. Barkley, and from undoubted intelligence that two large Rebel vessels—the Providence and Boston—were cruising at the entrance of the Bay of Fundy, and that several other privateers were off this coast, requested a superior force. "I can scarce do justice to the readiness with which Capt. Barkley complied with my request, and having no other ship which he thought of sufficient force to Secure us in case of Meeting some of the Rebel larger Vessels, he is preparing to go with us himself in the Blonde, with such other Vessels as puts us out of any apprehension from any Vessels we may probably meet, however I am extremely happy to Inform your Excellency that the Albany came in last night, as I hope to derive much assistance from Captain Mowatts Abilities and knowledge of that Coast. We Embark to Morrow Morning, and mean to Sail if the Wind will permit immediately.

"I have taken such Stores and Ammunition as at present I think necessary, but as it can only be determin'd on the Spot what quantity it will be necessary to leave, I shall defer sending your Excellency the return till then."

MAJ.-GEN. WILLIAM PHILLIPS to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, May 29. Charlottes Ville, Virginia.—"I have lately had a letter from Lieutenant Governor Hamilton who has been made a prisoner of war and is just arrived at Williamsburg: he went from his Government at Detroit to Fort Sackville in Post St. Vincennes where he was attacked by an American Colonel Clark and forced to surrender. The inclosed papers will instruct your Excellency more at large upon the matter.

"This Gentleman has been much esteemed in his Government and bears a general good character. He was a Captain formerly in the 15th Regiment and a great intimate of our friend Sir Charles Hotham.

"I should imagine your Excellency may think Lieutenant Governor Hamilton a proper Officer to be exchanged whenever any opportunity offers.

"This leads me to mention to you, Sir, that reports have circulated here of a second meeting of Commissioners at Amboy for the purpose of settling a Cartel for a general exchange between your Excellency and General Washington but that it has broke up as the former had done—I really mention this as a mere wandering report upon which I cannot in Idea decide anything.

"I really do not see the policy of keeping such a number of Officers in misfortune as is done by the American Congress, at any rate, Sir, your good intentions towards the Convention Troops is felt with the greatest gratitude.

"I take the liberty of observing to you, Sir, that in the list of Warrants granted by your Excellency and charged by Captain Smith your Secretary to the account of the Troops of Convention are several charges out of my power, without an express order from your Excellency, to take into account—such as money given sundry persons for use of the 8th and Sir John Johnson's Regiments, and, as I apprehend, of the prisoners of war of the 53rd Regiment, all which belong to Canada, and are in no connection with these Troops, but immediately under the command of General Haldimand—I have directed a letter to be written on the subject to Captain Smith, and have given some memorandums to Captain Featherstone.

"I have the honour of inclosing to your Excellency the Copy of a letter I have received from his Majesty's Secretary at War, which has given more satisfaction to the Troops than I can possibly describe. The Kings general approbation of their conduct could not fail of making a deep impression on them, and it has proved most healing balsam to their weakened minds in the present situation. The assurances contained in the letter of favours and protection to the British Officers have impressed them with the utmost gratitude.

"I have nothing more to add but to mention that in a very few months I shall have to trouble your Excellency for a supply of Money, and probably of Stores for the use of the Troops.

BRIG.-GEN. AUGUSTINE PREVOST to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, June 11. Camp, St. John's Island, near Charles Town.—Had no opportunity of forwarding his last of the 21st ult. His disappointment at the return of Major-General Mathews to the northward, hoped the southern colonies had become an object of attention. Arrival of the "Perseus" and "Rose" with transports. The troops are encamped partly on this island and partly on the main at Stono Ferry. The rebel army, supposed five thousand strong, is encamped about eight miles on the road to Jackson's borough. Proposes to station the troops on Beaufort Island during the great heat. Services of Lt.-Col. Prevost in acting as Deputy Quarter Master General. Enquires as to bat and forage money for the troops that came from Florida. Desires an increase of powers as to courts martial.

ELIZABETH MCCREA, Refugee.

1779, June 13.—Letter to the Mayor of New York, stating her case, signed J. Agnew, Chaplain Queen's Rangers. That the bearer was driven away from her habitation in Virginia, where she lived on the writer's plantation, had two sons in his Majesty's service, and has no means of support. She presented a memorial a few days ago to Col. Morris, but it having been referred to the Commandant's office has been mislaid. Surely if any are entitled to support in these distressing times from government, who can have a better claim than those whose children are engaged in its defence?

JONATHAN CLARKE to DANIEL WIER.

1779, June 16. Albemarle, Virginia.—The late embarkation from New York has brought only 900 gallons of wine to be divided among 250 officers. Desires him to put into the hands of some one at New York a commission for “30 Pipes of middling commonly called York Madeira Wine, 20 Pipes of Sterling Madeira, 20 Pipes of London Port Wine and 10 Pipes of Fyal or Teneriffe if there are any at Market” for the officers of the Convention Army. Encloses letter of credit from Mr. Geddes to the Paymaster General for £1,500 sterling to be paid on the wine being shipped and insured, and Maj.-Gen. Phillips will write to Sir Henry Clinton, desiring this money to be paid. After the wine is arrived the balance shall be remitted either by draft on Paymaster-General or bills of exchange on London. If a negotiation for an exchange is going on it will be best to wait until that is finished.

MAJ.-GEN. AUGUSTINE PREVOST to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, June 16. St. John's Island.—By letter from Gov. Tonym, extract of which he encloses, the East Florida Rangers are no longer to be distinct from the rest of the Provincial troops; asks therefore that the officers may have the Provincial rank allowed them from the date of their former commissions. Recommends Lt.-Col. Brown in particular. As the 2nd battalion of Innis's is but the shadow of one, would draft it into the 1st and give commissions to the officers when they raise the proportion of men. The N. Carolina Volunteers are nearly on the same footing. In case of accident to himself has appointed Lt.-Cols. Prevost and Maitland to act instead of Lt.-Col. Porbeck.

CAPT. W. FETHERSTON, 21st Regt., to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, June 18. Philadelphia.—“ I have the honor to acquaint your Excellency I arrived in this City the 17th Instant, and immediately waited on his Excellency the President of the Congress with a letter from Major-General Phillips requesting permission to go to New York. The President this day gave me an extract from the minutes of Congress wherein I am permitted to go to the Town of Mount Holly, there to remain until my exchange is terminated.

“ I am to inform your Excellency that M. G. Phillips in his letter to the President observes my ranking as Lieutenant upon the Treaty of Convention of Saratoga and that Congress have no objection to my being exchanged as a Lieutenant, provided the principle on which the same shall be made be fully established.”

MAJOR TIMOTHY HIERLIHY to GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, June 20. Island of St. John, Charlotte [Town].—Winter setting in prevented his last letter being dispatched. The harbour filled with ice before the transports could be unloaded; they remained here for the winter. To prevent expense they have been filled with firewood and dispatched some time ago. The number of rebel privateers which infest the whole coast of Nova Scotia and the Gulf renders it unsafe to forward letters by these transports, so sends them by land through Nova Scotia. His troops in good health and well quartered. "Mr. Callbeck has taken great pains to accommodate and make the Troops comfortable, also he has been indefatigable in carrying on the Works of defence; upon the whole in my humble opinion he has great merit. I must further Observe that His Officers and Men have behaved themselves extraordinary well and have taken their part in every duty with alacrity and Chearfulness." The three transports mentioned in my letter of the 6th December have been all wrecked on the uninhabitable shore of Nova Scotia. Ensign Noble with six of the ten men with him were lost. "Lieutenant Kennedy with twenty-five Men who were wrecked on the Isle of Sable I am told got to Halifax the 7th of April with the loss of Two Men. I should not mention this did it not in some measure serve with deference to justify the necessity of keeping Mr. Callbeck's Company untill your Excellency's pleasure shall be known. Agreeable to your Excellency's Orders I have made my report, &c. to General Maclean with an anxious desire of being honored with Your Excellency's commands."

BRIGADIER-GENERAL McLEAN to CAPTAIN ANDREW BARKLEY,
Commanding His Majesty's Ships in Penobscot River.

1779, June 23. Camp at Magebiguiduce.—"The time allow'd in our Joint Proclamation for the King's Subjects in this part of the Country coming in and taking the oaths of Allegiance and fidelity to His Majesty being now expired, I think it Essentially necessary for the King's Service that the Commanders-in-Chief of His Majesty's Forces should be acquainted with our present Situation as well as with such Information relative to the State of the Country, as my intercourse with the Numbers who have come in and other circumstances have furnish'd me with. I must therefore request of you, Sir, as Commanding His Majesty's Ships here, that you allow one of them to proceed on that Service to New York."

BRIGADIER FRANCIS McLEAN to CAPTAIN ANDREW BARKLEY,
Commanding His Majesty's Ships in Penobscot River.

1779, June 24. Camp at Magebiguaduce.—"Your Letter, dated I apprehend thro' Mistake the 22nd of June, came to me late last night.

“Tho’ the remaining of the King’s Ships under your Command in the River would undoubtedly add considerably to the Effect of the Expedition we are now on, as well as be necessary for the protection of the Troops, till such time as the Post is put in a Posture of defence, which from the necessary Labour of clearing the Transports, in order that they may pursue their destination, it has not been yet in our power to do, yet the Security of the Province of Nova Scotia being of more importance ought to be the Object of both our Attentions. As I have not myself receiv’d any intelligence which could give me room to suppose it in any danger, I must request the favour of You, Sir, to inform me wether (sic) the Intelligence mentioned in your Letter relative to the Destination of eight or nine of the Enemy’s Vessells is of such a nature as to give You reason to suppose their Object to be to land any body of Men on that Coast or only to cruize and intercept the trade. In either case His Majesty’s Service would require the presence of the Ships under Your Command, but in the former it would be necessary also that a part of the Troops here should return.

“As it is out of Your power to permit any one of the King’s Ships to go to New York, I propose endeavouring to acquaint the Commander-in-Chief of our Situation by a Shallop which I mean to send off this Evening or to morrow morning. I thought it proper to acquaint you that you may if you please avail yourself of the Opportunity.”

CAPTAIN ANDREW BARKLEY TO BRIG.-GEN. FRANCIS MCLEAN.

1779, June 25. Blonde, Penobscot River.—“I am honor’d with your Letter of yesterdays date in answer to mine of the 22d. I am very sensible That the Kings Ships remaining in this River, till such time as the Post intended to be Erected here is put into a Posture of defence, must add greatly to the Service we are now employ’d upon but as I came on this Service only by a requisition of yours—and having brought with me Ships that were destined for other Services, I could not keep them employ’d on this, except I had some similar for so doing.

“I therefore purpose in consequence of Your Letter to remain here for the present with the King’s Ships untill we have certain information of the Enemys Intentions this way, which we may soon expect and I shall most heartily Co-operate with you in every respect where we think the Kings Service may be benefited, being well assur’d that our present Expedition must be very beneficial to His Majesty’s Service in this Country at this critical period.

“I entirely agree with you that the protection of Nova Scotia ought to be the Object of both our Attention’s, the information of the Rebel Ships and Vessells been seen Steering that way was given by a Mr. Fullerton in your own presence, but by the information since receiv’d, I rather think they are either gone to Boston or Falmouth, to collect all their force together, but most likely in a few days we shall know for certain. I think it very necessary that the Commanders-in-Chief should know our present situation, and knowing how precarious it is for a small unarm'd Vessel to get to New York, I think it would not be proper to trust any Dispatches that way, but I think it will be much more expeditious and safe to send a Sloop of War, which I intend doing as soon as Your dispatches are ready, which you will be pleased to let me know when that will be."

BRIG.-GEN. FRANCIS McLEAN to CAPTAIN ANDREW BARKLEY.

1779, June 25. Camp Magebeguiduce.—“I am just favour'd with your Letter of this Morning's date, it gives me concern to have reason to fear that you have misunderstood my intention in giving the Opinion contain'd in mine, to which yours in reply, that the remaining of the King's Ships under your command in this River would undoubtedly add considerably to the effect of the Expedition we are now on, as well as be necessary for the protection of the Troops, till such time as the Post is put in a posture of defence ; that this opinion is well founded with respect to the Expedition and safety of the Troops is uncontrovertible, but I have to lament that I have express'd myself ill if my words have not convey'd the Idea, than many other objects of the King's Service, might as being of more importance deprive us of that Assistance and Protection. You alone Sir can judge how far the Services for which the Ships under Your Command were destin'd, are likely to prove of more benefit to the King's service than can be deriv'd from their attendance on this Detachment. With respect to the protection of the Province of Nova Scotia, I have already inform'd You of my Sentiments. I must now beg to enforce them by recalling to Your Attention the very precarious Situation in which we left the Garrison of Halifax and the Out Posts with regard to Provisions, their stock of which was so small as to oblige me to come on this Service with a very inadequate Quantity, Vessels with provisions as well as with the Cloathing and other Stores were daily expected the falling of which into the Enemy's hands might be of bad consequence and endanger the Safety of that Province, on the whole Sir, in the uncertainty in which I think all the Intelligence concerning the Rebel fleet, we have been able to procure leaves us, I should think the probable danger to which the Coast of Nova Scotia is exposed would require every attention on the part of His Majesty's Ships of War under Your Command. The Superior importance of the Object will make us resign readily the protection and Assistance which we might promise ourselves from the Zeal and readiness which You have shewn to co-operate with us in His Majesty's Service.

"My Dispatches for Sir Henry Clinton will be ready to-morrow morning, but the many objects I have to lay before him for his consideration and the impossibility of explaining them properly by Letter, obliges me to send an Officer, I propose Major Craig for that Service, for whom therefore I must request a Passage, and who will be happy in executing any Commands you may have to honor him with.

"I have the Honor to acquaint you that the Transports are now clear'd and ready for Your Commands.

"It gives me great pleasure to find by Your Letter of the 22nd June that the Commander-in-Chief of the Naval department has appointed the Albany Sloop to remain here, as Sir Henry Clinton has in his Letter to me given me reason to hope I should have the assistance which may be deriv'd from Capt. Mowatt's knowledge of the Country and acquaintance with the people and has in many instances referr'd me to him. I should have taken the Liberty of requesting him to be appointed to remain had it not been already determined on."

CAPTAIN ANDREW BARKLEY to [BRIG.-GEN. McLEAN].

1779, June 26. Blonde, Penobscot River.—The "Hope" is to go to New York; the Commander has orders to receive Major Craig on board. Is glad he thinks the King's ships had better protect Nova Scotia. Stayed here agreeable to his wishes until time of proclamation was expired. Purposes going to Halifax.

Will leave the "Albany" here according to the Commander-in-Chief's orders. Sends man from Boston who says troops are raising there to attack Rhode Island and the British troops are beat to the southward. "I do not believe a word of it."

BRIG.-GEN. FRANCIS McLEAN TO SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, June 26. Penobscot River, Camp at Magebiguiduce.—
 "I have the honor to acquaint Your Excell^y that the detachment under my command, under convoy of His Majesty's Ships 'Blonde,' 'North,' 'Nautilus,' 'Albany' and 'Hope' sail'd from Halifax the 30th Ult^{mo}, and arriv'd off here without any accident the 12th Inst., finding no probability of any opposition, and the weather being extremely wet, I employ'd the three following days in reconnoitring the River, to pitch on the most eligible spot for carrying your Excell^y's directions into execution. Finding the neck of land pointed out to me by Capt. Hartcup as the spot which by the charts appear'd to Your Excell^{cy} best suited to the purpose, fully to Answer that Idea, I disembark'd the troops and encamp'd on it the 16th. The most advantageous part of the Peninsula being intirely cover'd with wood it became necessary to clear it before the intended fort could be mark'd out. This and the landing our Stores and Provisions has hitherto engross'd all our time, particularly the latter, which from the necessity of rolling it up a Steep hill, has prov'd very laborious. It is now finish'd, and we shall proceed to work immediately on the fort. So soon as it is finish'd, or so far put in a state of defence as to permit our detaching part of our force I propose making a post for a small number at Fort Pownall, which turns out according to Your Excell^{cy}'s Idea a situation well adapted for it, tho' not for anything considerable.

"Finding that the people had been artfully led to believe that His Majesty's troops were accustom'd to plunder and treat the Country where their operations led them with the greatest inhumanity, It appear'd both to Capt. Barkley and myself to be the most likely means to carry his Majesty's intentions into execution to remove that prejudice as early as possible. We accordingly issued the inclosed proclamation, which we made so full and comprehensive both in that Idea and also because it appear'd to us the most proper means of following your Excell^{cy}'s instructions. I am happy in informing you that the inhabitants in general seem highly sensible of His Majesty's clemency, about five hundred have within the limited time taken the Oath of allegiance and fidelity according to the form inclos'd to Your Excell^{cy} and the number would have been considerably increased but for accidental circumstances which prevented our sending to some distant settlements the Inhabitants of which requested that indulgence from the impossibility of all attending at the places appointed.

"A few days after our landing Capt. Barkley got accounts of seven sail of the Enemy's Vessells appearing off this coast. We have not been able to gain any certain intelligence of their destination or intentions, but it appears they sail'd from Boston before any account of our being here could have reach'd that place, and from some circumstances we have reason to imagine they have return'd either there or to Falmouth. However, in the uncertainty, and considering the danger to which the coast of Nova Scotia is expos'd, Capt. Barkley is preparing to sail and means to leave the "Albany" here, which gives me the greatest satisfaction, as I have every reason to expect the greatest assistance from Capt. Mowatt's abilities and thorough acquaintance with the Country and Inhabitants. As he did not join us at Halifax till the night before we embark'd, I had not the opportunities I could have wish'd of conversing with him; fortunately some offer'd during the passage and I have the greatest satisfaction in finding every article of his opinion as well as of his intelligence confirm'd in every circumstance. After doing Capt. Mowatt the Justice of assuring you that I find his Zeal and readiness fully equal to his Abilities, I cannot help deploring that the Ship he commands is of so small force and so very bad as often to prevent his good intentions taking place.

"Major Craig will have the honor of delivering you this."

BRIG.-GEN. FRANCIS McLEAN TO SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, June 26. Camp at Magebiguiduce, Penobscot River.—Private. "Having in my publick letter informed your Excell^{cy} of our transactions since we left Halifax, I have reserved for this, the entering more fully into the particulars of our present situation, and of many other circumstances which I imagine to be my duty to lay before Your Excell^{cy}; referring you for the explanation of any part, to the Bearer-Major Craig, whom I have chosen to carry it from the motives of which I inform'd Your Excell^{cy} in my publick Letter.

"I have brought here the Detachment compos'd of 640 Men of the 74th and 82d Regiments as I inform'd Your Excell^{cy} I should by my Letter of the 28th May, by which you will also have seen my motives for making it so considerable, as well as for my coming with it myself, both which I hope will not have met with Your Excell^{cy}'s disapprobation. The Post we are on is an exceeding good one for the intended fort, but is at present rather too extensive for our small force, however I am in hopes soon to entrench such part as will put us out of any apprehension but from a very superior force; that we have the more reason to expect, on account of the great Naval force, possess'd by the Rebels in these parts, and of our being left without any Ship of War except the Albany, owing to the necessity Capt. Barkley is under of protecting the Coast and trade of Nova Scotia, in which I have concurr'd with him as Your Excell^{ty} will see by the inclos'd copies of Letters which have pass'd between us on the occasion from every intelligence I have been able to procure, I do not see any reason to apprehend an immediate attack on us, but we are threatened, and notwithstanding the numbers who have taken the oaths, and who profess every good intention we could wish, yet numbers of the young men of the country have gone westward, and attempts have been made to raise the people tho' hitherto without success.

"The misery of the people to the eastward of Boston is hardly to be express'd, many during the winter having absolutely died of want, this and their having never been actively engag'd in the rebellion, gives us room to hope they are sincere in their professions, but the impossibility in our present circumstances of affording them protection from the threats of the opposite party obliges them to act with caution in shewing it; Capt. Mowatt who is extremely well acquainted with the Country and people, and in whom I find the latter place great confidence, joins with me in thinking that with a force sufficient to protect them we should find no difficulty in reducing to His Majesty's obedience the whole country to the eastward of Casco Bay or even including the Bay, the advantage of which as well as the great distress the New England provinces would suffer by it are too apparent to need pointing out to Your Excell^{ty}, however I must take the liberty of mentioning to Your Excell^{ty} that it will be impossible to do anything towards it, or even to look on ourselves as secure here without a naval force, at least superior to that which the Rebels can collect, and for the former an augmentation of troops, at all events without such a force it will be effectually out of my power to do anything in consequence of the permission Your Excell^{ty} was pleas'd to give me of making any attempt if I saw an opportunity between this and Falmouth.

"When I left Halifax the quantity of Provisions in the Province of Nova Scotia was so small that I found it impossible to bring with me so much as I could have wished. We have here now sufficient for 4 months for 900 men, on which number I am oblig'd to account, from the Artificers and other inhabitants employ'd. The supply from Nova Scotia is so precarious, both on account of the chance of its not being arriv'd, and from the difficulty of obtaining a convoy, that I should be oblig'd to Your Excell^{ty} if you could fall on some means to send in a large one from New York.

"From the "Albany" being left here alone I have been oblig'd to erect a Battery, with a view to her protection in case of a necessity, for which I find the Artillery I brought here for the use of the fort insufficient, as we have only 4 twelve, 2 six, and 2 four pounders. When your Excell^{ty} sends the supply of Provisions above mention'd, I should be much oblig'd to you if you would send a few additional Iron Guns with the requisite stores.

“I can have little to add to what I have said relative to Capt. Mowatt in my publick Letter, only to refer you to his letter, which as he has already corresponded with Your Excell^{cy} on the Subject and as my Ideas are chiefly founded on his intelligence and knowledge of the country which I have hitherto found so exact, I have desir’d him to make as full as possible. I can also assure Your Excell^{cy} you may rely on Major Craigs intelligence in giving you any explanation you may wish. I have the honor to be with the greatest regard, &c.”

CAPTAIN ANDREW BARKLEY TO GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, June 27. Blonde, Penobscot River.—“I did myself the honor of writing you a few lines by the Romulus, General McLean having acquainted me that he had your directions to Erect a Post on Penobscot River, requesting of me the Assistance of the Kings Navy then at Halifax, and having signified he intended going himself. I informed him I should with pleasure afford him every Assistance in my power, by collecting all the Ships I could—having Intelligence of several large Rebel Frigates being on the Coast. The Troops being Embark’d, we sailed from Halifax the 31st May, and arrived in this River the 13th inst. The Inhabitants informed us that the Boston and Providence Rebel Frigates had been there a little time before We came, and told them they came in quest of Captain Mowat, having had Information of his coming this way with Troops.

“The day after We got in Nine sail of Rebel Ships and Vessels appeared off this Coast. Six of them were Ships of some force, But upon finding We had got in, and hearing of the Naval force we had got with us, they retired from the Coast immediately, and by what we can learn they went for Boston.

“The Operations of the Troops since their Arrivall here, General McLean will acquaint Your Excellency with, I having sent a Sloop of War to New York by his Requisition.

“The Province of Nova Scotia being left without a Naval force, and as I had no orders from the Commander-in-Chief to remain upon this service, I acquainted General McLean that I could remain here no longer with the King’s Ships, and that I intended to return to Halifax for the protection of that Coast, but should leave Capt. Mowat in the Albany Sloop except he made a Requisition in writing of my remaining. This caused some Letters to pass between us, and to prevent any mistakes, I have sent Copys of them to the Commander-in-Chief of the King’s Ships at New York.

“I am very confident, if a Naval force had Orders to Co-operate with a Body of Troops on this Coast, great benefit might accrue from it for the good of His Majesty’s service,—I should be very happy to be employed upon a service of that nature. As the Rebels have a much larger Naval force in those parts than We have at present, General McLean's situation here will not be very agreeable, but be assured I will afford him every Assistance in my power, and shall send him every Supply he wants from Halifax, if I have ships to do it with.

“The last Accounts We have had from Boston is that they are raising Troops with great Expedition, but for what service we cannot as yet learn. I shall be happy if I could be of the least use to Your Excellency in this part.

“Major Craig who goes with the General's dispatches will deliver this to you.”

CAPTAIN H. MOWAT to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, June 27. Albany, Penobscot River.—“Since my Letter of the 15th of May by Mr. Greenhow with a duplicate of one dated the 25th of April, I have only to repeat what I already have had the Honor to lay before your Excellency respecting this part of the Country; and it gives me no small satisfaction in having so far met with the approbation of General McLean whose Military judgment will more fully explain the advantages which might be gained at this time, was a force by Sea and Land adequate to the importance of the Object appointed, without which it cannot be expected that even the well affected part of the inhabitants will publicly declare their Loyalty; therefore, in order to induce the people in general to return to their Allegiance, in my humble opinion it will be necessary not only to Offer but shew full Protection to their persons and properties, this done, I have not a doubt but the whole will become good subjects, as the power giving protection will command Submission; either of which could not have been intended on the present Service, when the Albany (the worst calculated of any vessel in the King's service) was the only Ship of War Ordered on the Expedition; had I been at Halifax on the arrival of those Orders and forced to comply with them, I have every reason to believe from the number of Rebel Ships of force now on this Coast, that not only the Albany but every Soldier on the Command must have fallen a Sacrifice, and I am not even now without my apprehensions for their Safety, as I am given to understand by Captain Barkley that she is the only Vessel to be left at the Post; how far this may be found consistent with the importance of this Service time will shew, but I should consider myself exceedingly wanting in the support of my representations, as well as my just acknowledgements to you, Sir, for the honorary part intended me of it was I to forbear acquainting you of the little support meant in the Naval department which I hope will not pass unnoticed; Major Craig who does me the Honor to carry this Letter is perfectly sensible of the advantages which may be taken of this part of New England and is equally able to give your Excellency every information respecting it.”

JAMES DUANE, for Board of Treasury, to MAJOR-GENERAL
WILLIAM PHILLIPS.

1779, June 28. Philadelphia, Treasury Board.—“ A Committee of Congress have examined the objections offered by you against the Commissary’s Accounts for supplying the Troops of the Convention in the months of March, April, May, June, July and August, 1778. Their report with the several Accounts and the correspondence between Major-General Heath and yourself are referred to our Board with power to take effectual means for closing the Accounts and obtaining Payment.

“The Board have accordingly considered the Accounts, objections and report of the Committee of Congress, and are fully satisfied that the several articles are just and ought to be paid. We have therefore authorised Mr. Milligan, a Commissioner of Accounts at the Treasury, to call upon you for payment. When you consider the inconveniences Congress have suffered by being deprived of so large a sum as Eighty-five thousand, five hundred and seventy-eight pounds $\frac{4}{8}$ Stg, ever since the month of August last, besides the debt which has since accrued for supplies to your Troops; when you further observe that we are obliged to provide for the support of the American prisoners of War principally in specie, we are persuaded you will put it in Mr. Milligan’s power to execute the Trust reposed in him with dispatch, and that he will be furnished with the money without further Objections or delay.

MAJ.-GEN. WILLIAM PHILLIPS to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, June 30. Charlottes Ville.—Requests him to peruse enclosed papers and give orders. “I beg leave to observe upon the subject of Rum that it has been an invariable principle with me to refuse it to the Soldiers in every case but that of sickness or excessive labour and during our Campaigns the soldiers of the Northern Army never received Rum as a part of their Rations. As there was not sickness nor labour during our residence in New England I took the liberty of sending back all the Rum which was sent from New York, not wishing to encourage drinking among our men as naturally productive of disputes, misbehaviour, &c., &c., but, Sir, the change of Climate seems to demand a different conduct towards the men in this Article and I, therefore, most earnestly solicit of your Excellency that you will please to give your orders that the rum be sent as demanded by Mr. Assistant Commissary General Clarke.” Recommends the proposal of wine for the officers and asks if it might be permitted to send a small American vessel to Bermudas for fruits and other refreshments.

PHILLIPS CALLBECK to CAPTAIN SPRY.

1779, July 1. Island of St. John, Charlotte Town.—No. 4. Transmits four plans of the works and buildings erected and to be erected for the defence of this town and the reception of his Majesty's troops stationed here, also an extended plan of Charlotte Town drawn by Mr. Wright, surveyor general of this Island, together with a pocket map of the Island. Detailed description of a nine gun battery facing entrance of the harbour. By plans 2 and 5 he will see the situation of Charlotte Town and the plan of defence. Describes Spry's Battery B. at the other end of the town. Proposes a citadel or fort, and has laid out the ground on the top of a rising spot on which the town stands, and which commands the harbour and town and both batteries. Does not agree with Major Hierlihy as to Fort Amherst being made tenable at a smaller expense. Nothing remains of the old fort but the ditch, and as to the situation Charlotte Town is much more eligible with easier communication to other parts of the island. Another consideration is that there are a number of disaffected French, who would make no scruple of aiding a party of Indians and they might burn the town, scalp and destroy the inhabitants without the troops, if stationed at Fort Amherst, knowing anything of the matter until the mischief was over. The plan or sketch No. 4. of the buildings already executed will show how far they are capable of quartering the troops. The troops are Major Hierlihy's Independents, one field officer, four captains, one doctor, and nine subalterns and some of his own corps, also 160 men including non-commissioned officers. Describes the barracks; the rooms laid out for the captains are 15 feet 10 inches by 13 feet 10 inches, together with glass closets 3 feet 6 inches by 5 feet 4 inches, and bedrooms 9 feet by 8 feet; the rooms for the subalterns are 9 feet by 18 feet, together with closets of 9 feet by 4 feet 6 inches, which are lighted and serve for bedrooms. Mr. Hardy, Qr.-Mr. of the Independents, says the quarters here are superior to those at Halifax. The ground floor of the guard house is thoroughly built with square logs caulked and payed and the first floor laid with four inch plank to make it sufficiently strong to bear two four pounders and there are holes cut to answer for port holes, etc., etc. Has a small post of observation at Tracards (?) or Bedford's Bay, and a beacon and small house at the entrance of port Joy or Charlotte Town Harbour. Submits plans for additional barracks. Has mentioned all these plans of defence to Major Hierlihy and acknowledges his ready assistance.

LIEUT.-COLONEL J. BRUCE to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, July 11. Halifax.—Thinks it his duty to inform of the present state of the province. Encloses return of the provisions and Mr. Crawford's letter. With regard to the supply for eight months demanded by Brig.-Gen. McLean thinks it only advisable to send four at least of flour. Death of William Smith, agent for the contractors and deputy-paymaster to the Provincial Forces. Before his death his papers had been officially sealed, but his brother and others had broken open the seals and ransacked the papers, where were found bills drawn by Messrs. Gordon and Crowder in the deceased's favour amounting to £45,000, also four sets of blank signed bills, and, they say, about £1,000 current money and £3,900 cut and light money. Was at a loss what to do to procure subsistence for the troops. Has effected a loan for £5,600, which falls very short of the demands by the different departments, himself, the Chief Justice and Mr. Finucane being security. There never was so mistaken a measure as that of the Contractors sending Mr. Mead to carry the money out of this province. Has employed John Newton, Surveyor of the Customs, to succeed the late Mr. Smith. Gen. McLean writes for money. Capt. Spry has stopped working for want of it. About three weeks ago sent a vessel loaded with provisions for the posts at Fort Howe, Annapolis and Edward under convoy of a small brig, of the sloop "Howe" and the armed schooner "Buckram," these will it is hoped protect her, and on their return scour the bay of a number of privateers, as well as the mouth of this harbour, where they are constantly lurking. A few days after Gen. McLean sailed, a brig privateer of 16 guns took a brig from Glasgow almost within reach of the guns at Point Pleasant. Her cargo valued at £10,000. Transmits Maj. Hierlihy's dispatches and Mr. McMillan's letter. Has encamped the 70th behind Citadel Hill.

1779, July 12. Government House at Halifax.—Col. Bruce having desired him to join in an application to the naval commanders for a ship of war express to New York to inform of the present situation, the Blonde frigate is intended for this service. His own situation as Lt. Gov. and in the absence of Brig.-Gen. Maclean renders it necessary for him to recommend their present distresses to his serious consideration and request a supply of money for service of the troops and garrison. To Col. Bruce, the Chief Justice of this Province, and his brother, they are indebted for raising the money by which the troops have now been paid. Received enclosed packets from Haldimand to be forwarded to England; sends them by way of New York.

1779, July 12. Halifax.—Acquaints of the death of Mr. Smith, agent to the contractor at home and to Messrs. Gordon and Crowder at New York. Lt. Bruce, of 70th Regt. with the assistance of Mr. Andrew Finuker (sic), has collected near £6,000 currency, and they with the Chief Justice, Mr. Finuker's brother, are become bound for the payment of this money. Col. Bruce has given to each regiment here an equal part of its demand and sent Mr. Finuker to New York to get what money he can. Has written to Mr. Barrow and to Messrs. Gordon and Crowder acquainting them of this circumstance.

GOVERNOR PATRICK TONYN TO SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, July 13. St. Augustine.—Private. Sends dispatches from General Campbell at Pensacola. "The operations of the Troops under General Prevost have not been attended with that prosperity which might have been expected, and the movements of the rebel Lincoln I am informed have been effected without opposition, to the sad ruin and desolation of all the back parts of Georgia and of South Carolina, and to the destruction and death of many loyal Subjects. He gave above Augusta a Check to the Indians and prevented their junction with the King's troops on Savannah River. General Prevost advanced to the Gates of Charlestown and has been obliged to retire to Beaufort. It is reported that great discontent prevails amongst the Officers of that Army and a relaxation of discipline. I think it my duty to intimate to you privately that such reports prevail here and that I imagine there may be some truth in the want of discipline if I can form a judgement of them from those which compose a part of that Army that marched from hence. . . .

“Mr. Shaw one of the Indian Agents at Savannah has sent me under his cover dispatches from your Excellency which he mentions are for Mr. Cameron appointed Superintendent of the Southern District, and has desired them to be sent to Pensacola, which I have done.

“As I have been informed Mr. Cameron is at present in the Creek Nation, I have acquainted him by a trusty Indian express of your appointment, and of the situation of the Army at Beaufort, and desired him to animate the Indians to a fresh exertion in their favour.”

BRIG.-GEN. JOHN CAMPBELL to GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, July 14. Pensacola.—Forwards duplicates. Has been obliged somewhat to interfere with the Indian Department. A Captain McIntosh who had furnished, by order of Col. Stuart, the Loyal Refugees under his command on the Mississippi with provisions, had stretched his credit so far that he was on the eve of being thrown into jail. Having applied first to the Commissioners, and receiving their answer, ordered a court-martial, in which will be perceived a clear opinion in favour of the captain. Has agreed to the payment of his abstracts of pay 1 Jan. to 29 March and of his provision accounts on condition of scrutiny by Captain Forster of the 16th.

“I further think it my Duty to lay before Your Excellency a Copy of my Letter of the 31st May, which I thought it incumbent upon me to write to Don Galvez, Governor of Louisiana, on Account of his tampering with, and endeavouring to Seduce the Chaetaw Indians to the Interests of Spain. The first Intelligence of this Conduct was given by Captain Simmonds of the Solebay Man of War, and confirmed by Similar Information since from the Chaetaw Nation.

“Mobile being a Place of great Consequence in this Province, from its Commanding a very extensive inland Navigation, and being the Emporium of the Indian Trade, I have therefore Ordered such repairs as are absolutely necessary to the Fort and Barracks in the Fort, the estimate of which is considered at £4,000 sterling.

“No Engineers Stores having been sent from Europe, and there not being a sufficiency to be purchased here, I have been obliged to Commission from Jamaica as many as will Amount to about one thousand Pounds Sterling.

“Various and Sundry Intelligence has been Received of the Rebels under the Command of a Colonel Clark, having succeeded in February last in an Attack on Fort Vincenne or Fort Sackville and made Governor Hamilton and the Garrison Prisoners of War; after which they were by the several Reports preparing to Attack this Province. But if the last Intelligence we have Received can be depended on they have other Employment: It is said that a Body of about one thousand Men (Regulars, Canadians and Indians) was on its March to drive the Rebels from the Illinois Country. Though I did not myself give Credit to their design of Attacking West Florida Yet I thought it prudent to reinforce Lieutenant Colonel Dickson at Manchac with the Grenadier Company of Waldeck, and intend forwarding the Whole of that Corps to the Mississippi as Transports can be procured for Conveying them.

“I have the pleasure to inform Your Excellency of the Arrival on the 2d Instant of a Provision Vessel with Beef and Pork from Cork. And she further brings the Agreeable Accounts that on her Passage she fell in with the Fleet from England for Jamaica, and spoke with one of them laden with Flour, Pease, &c. for this Place, which Vessel is (of Course) hourly and impatiently expected. But even before the Arrival of this Vessel (the Newbury) from Cork, we had been able to purchase from Private Adventurers about six hundred Barrels of Flour, though at a most exorbitant Rate, thirty Dollars per Barrel.

“I ought to have Assigned Reasons to your Excellency for not having included the Settlement of Captain McIntosh's Contingent Account along with those for Pay and Provisions. I not only was of Opinion with the Court of Inquiry that “it included Expences incurred on account of Indians,” with which (of course) I had no business to interfere; but likewise (in one Instance at least) Contained a Charge which could only be placed to Colonel Stuart's private Account; and besides the Whole appeared such a Medley and Contained some such uncommon Charges, that perhaps may be admissible in the Indian, though (in my opinion) not in the Military Line, that I resolved to leave the Consideration of it to that Department when they can take Cognizance thereof.”

MAJ.-GEN. AUGUSTINE PREVOST TO SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, July 14. Savannah.—“Tho’ I think it my Duty to communicate with y^r Excellency by every Opportunity that offers, yet being arriv’d here only the day before yesterday and very much hurried since it is not in my power by this to be so very particular as I wo^d wish with regard to our Operations, since I did myself the Honour to write to you from John’s Island the 14th Ultimo, or with regard to the present State of the Service and Army. Tho’ it had been determin’d to retire the Army to Port Royal and the neighbouring Islands, it took some days to move our Sick, Baggage, &c. Lt.-Col^o. Prevost with the Augustine Grenadiers had been sent to Georgia on the Report of some Comotions in that Province. The Light Infantry and Battalion of Wissenbach had been relieved from their hard Duty at Stono Ferry by the first Battalion of the 71st and the Battalion of Trumbach, which the North and South Carolinians made the Number at that Post eight hundred strong, under the Command of Lt.-Col^o. Maitland. It had been almost the daily Custom of the Rebels in smaller or greater Parties to fire at our Sentinels, and at seven O’Clock Sunday Morning of the 20th a similar Popping began in our front, and very soon afterwards our Piquets being forced in gave Col^o. Maitland immediate reason to believe the Enemy meditated a serious attack. The best Disposition was therefore made of the Troops to give them a proper Reception. They now appear’d in great force all along the front, to our left in particular, where they afterwards made their Principal Efforts. They began the Attack with the fire of eight Pieces of Cannon, and advancing commenced a very heavy fire of Musquetry, which was kept up for a considerable time, but they were rec^d. with such steadiness and Spirit that they everywhere gave way before any reinforcements arrived to sustain; tho’ the most prompt Alacrity was shewn by the Corps order’d for that Service. On hearing the firing I Immediately put the Light Infantry in motion, as did the Second Battalion 71st themselves agreeable to Orders being the nearest to sustain, but we only arriv’d time enough for this last, who were immediately advanc’d a little way into the Woods to exchange some shots with the Rebels, who ran on the arrival of the Light Infantry. We pursued them about two Miles, but the Rebels had then got too far the start for us to be able to come up with them. Inclosed you will please to receive a Return of the Kill’d and Wounded on that occasion; that of the Enemy we cannot certainly say. We buried about seventy on the field, but they were perceiv’d from the Redoubts during the Action to be carrying off their Dead and Wounded, and by Acc^{ts}. of Deserters and Prisoners many Waggons loaded were carried off brought with them empty for that purpose, a Proof was that only two wounded Men and them mortally were found on the field. We hear they acknowledge the loss of several Officers, some of Rank and about 180 Men. The Numbers of the Rebels before our Lines by the least Acc^{ts}. exceeded five thousand, certain it is they had collected (even to the Silk Stock^s. Company) from Charlestown all the force they could muster. Tho' it had been determin'd to give up the Post at Stono, yet for Appearance sake we remain'd there 'till the 23rd, when the Troops were drawn to John's Island in the middle of the day without having one shot on our Rear. On the 25th our Sick, Wounded, &c. being already sent off and embark'd we began our march for Simmonds's Island, from whence next day and the following we were employ'd in crossing to Edisto. Here the Honourable Capt. Elphinstone and the Fleet were most chearfully and effectually assisting. On Edisto we remain'd till the 3d. Instant, when we began our passage by Otter Island to St. Helena, Lady's Island and Beaufort, at w^{ch}. from the difficulty of passing a Sound eight Miles over, thro' strong tides and shoals and two Ferries, our Rear did not arrive 'til the eighth. In all these passages we lost only one Man drowned by accident, and some Horses. On my arrival at Beaufort finding that a number of the back Inhabitants of Georgia, many of whom had taken the Oaths and Protection, taking advantage of the absence of the Main Body of the Army and the almost general sickness of the Troops left for the defence of the Province, and supported by Plunderers from the Back-parts of Carolina, had taken Arms and infested the lower Settlements; and that a party of about fifty Men detached under Captain Mullar of the 2nd Battalion 60th to Watch the fords of Ogeechee had been cut off, and the Capt. kill'd by imprudently crossing the River and going too far without Intelligence and without reconnoitring and so getting into an Ambuscade, the Battalion of Wissenbach with Brown's Rangers were order'd immediately to Savannah, to be followed by the York Volunteers, Second Battalion Delancy's. The former of these is now arrived, and to be followed by the Hessians of Trumbach, as soon as a Vessel co^d. be got ready for them. These I hope will be quite sufficient for the defence of this Province and enable me to leave Col^o. Maitland with the 71st and Light Infantry for the defence of Beaufort and the other Islands where the people have almost all submitted, and where there is a good chance of keeping that part of the Army in tolerable health, these Islands being reckon'd the Montpelier of this Country, from which therefore it will be with extreme reluctance if I am oblig'd that I shall remove them. Keeping hold of those Islands also gives no very indirect security to Georgia, as the Enemy will be constantly jealous of an irruption from thence into the Continent of Carolina, and we have every Reason to believe that they are at least as tired of the summer Campaign as we are. But indeed, S^r, it is not very easy saying what number of Troops may be sufficient for the defence of this most unhealthy Province. If we can rely on the Acc^ts. of the Inhabitants or Judge from the present unpromising Appearances, we have reason to fear that we shall every one of us fall sick before the End of next Month. The Post of Ebenezer in particular, tho' it has been relieved weekly, never fails in the Course of that Week, to return us two thirds of the Men sick. If we sho^d. move up in force and take post twenty or thirty Miles higher up where the Climate is reckon'd rather better, the inconveniency of keeping the field without Equipage sufficient or other accommodations to Guard against the inclemency of the Weather will be severely felt, and even then the intermediate Post, or strong escorts necessary for the security of our Convoys, wo^d harrass us all to pieces. The heat for these three weeks past has been from 90 to 98. At Ebenezer it has been once at 103. In short, S^r, I cannot but foresee great difficulties in our situation if the Enemy sho^d chuse to be active through the Summer. Endeavouring to save the Army and the Province I may thoroughly succeed in neither; but what can be done shall be done to the best of my Judgment and the best assistance in Advice I can procure, and one comfort we have, in all human probability the Enemy will at least be as sick as we, if they attempt to keep the field. Nor do I entirely think they will get their Militia in which their force principally consists to be very active through the Summer." His ill-health. Wishes the command in abler hands. Need of money for payment of the troops. Has established a hospital in Canada; will, if approved, send Mr. Hill as physician. Lack of officers particularly 3^d battalion 60th Regiment.

COLONEL THEODORICK BLAND to [MAJOR-GENERAL PHILLIPS].

1779, July 17. Charlottes Ville.—“I have only to inform you in answer to yours of to-day by Captain Bibby, your Deputy Adjutant General, that my last to you was officially as Commander of this post to introduce to you Mr. Milligan. That Gentleman's particular instructions from Congress and the business which will be consequential thereon needs not my interference or concurrence, his being a special Commission for a particular purpose. All matters, therefore, relating to his business will be transacted between you and him in such mode as you two may think proper to agree upon.

“I will add that any proper requisitions from you that concern any of the departments acting under my command which can facilitate the completion of the business which Mr. Milligan is sent to adjust shall be most chearfully complied with by, Sir, your most obedient, &c.”

MAJOR-GENERAL PHILLIPS TO COLONEL THEODORICK BLAND.

1779, July 17. Col. Carter's House.—Mr. Clay and Mr. Milligan have called and delivered a letter from Mr. James Duane concerning sundry accounts for supplying the Troops of Convention with provisions, &c., and a variety of other matter. “I have already informed Mr. Milligan as I now do you, Sir, that I shall without delay prepare my answers upon this subject.

“The British Commissaries are present and ready as usual to examine into any deliveries of provisions which may have been made to the Troops of Convention and to explain upon any particulars which may seem doubtful. This mode of conduct I have invariably directed to be pursued from a principle of equity, thinking it just to assist the American Commissaries in settling their accounts which, in course, would be laid before their superiors. I am ready to enter upon the same business in the manner you, Sir, or Mr. Milligan shall prefer and so soon as may be convenient to you.”

MAJ.-GEN. WILLIAM PHILLIPS TO JAMES MILLIGAN.

1779, July 17. Col. Carter's House.—“I have perused with great attention the letter you delivered me yesterday from Mr. Duane dated from Philadelphia, June 28th, 1779, and as the answer to it will contain a variety of publick matter I shall take leave to write upon the subject to Mr. Jay, the President of the American Congress, and I shall do so immediately.

“In the latter part of Mr. Duane's letter is this Paragraph.

“I am very ready, Sir, to confer with you upon any subject which you shall please to propose, and will do so with yourself personally or with any Gentleman in company with you as you shall prefer.

“As to settling all further accounts of supplies for the Convention troops I will assure you of my chearfully assisting in examining the several accounts which your Commissaries and other Officers may have to produce to you for the delivery of provisions to, or any other matter concerning the troops of Convention of which I am at present the Senior Officer. I shall do this, Sir, in as full manner as I did in New England, except that there I made objections to a variety of Articles which did not seem to me necessary or indeed proper for the British Commissaries or other Officers to be connected with as belonging totally to the pleasure of Major-General Heath who was in the military Command in the Massachusetts Bay, but, Sir, I shall not in future make any objections to accounts which may be thus brought into discussion, and the British Commissaries and other Officers shall have orders to confer with you, Sir, or any other person you shall appoint for an examination into the deliverys of provisions, &c., &c., to the Troops of Convention, and they shall give receipts or Certificates accordingly.

"I will after this at your instance, as I did at the request of Major-General Heath, send the several specific accounts thus examined and certified to his Excellency General Sir Henry Clinton, the King's Commander-in-Chief in America, to whom it will belong finally and ultimately to regulate and settle these matters, as I apprehend, with the American Congress.

"I have before observed that I should write to Mr. Jay, the President of the American Congress, upon the subject of Mr. Duane's letter, but not to leave you, Sir, in any doubt concerning payments of money I will assure you that I have not £2,000 Sterling in the military Chest, nor were in it my power to procure Gold in this Province or in America altogether I should not have authority to draw Bills upon Great Britain for the publick service other than for the mere supply of a certain portion of pay for the Officers and Soldiers; thus, Sir, you will perceive that my being a subordinate General Officer renders me, as I conceive to be the case in all Armies, submissive to the pleasure of my Commander-in-Chief, and that, although I may assist and even direct the examining of publick accounts, it is not for me but for that efficient Officer to judge of the propriety of such accounts and of the final and ultimate settlement of them with the several parties concerned.

"At the time you propose to send an Express to Philadelphia I will request to trouble you with my letter to Mr. Jay, and I hope it will not be before next Wednesday as the publick Officers with whom I must confer upon the subject of Mr. Duane's letter live at distances from each other, and it will require a day or two to bring them to me."

JAMES MILLIGAN to MAJOR-GENERAL WILLIAM PHILLIPS.

1779, July 19. Charlottes Ville.—“I have to acknowledge the receipt of your favour of the 17th to which I have paid due attention.

“From the manner of your mentioning the letter I had the pleasure of delivering you signed by Mr. Duane of the 28th June, I am apprehensive you do not fully comprehend the nature and intention of it. I therefore beg leave just to inform you, Sir, that it is an official letter from the Board of Treasury of the United States, and signed by Mr. Duane as President of that board; the intent of it, I conceived, was to introduce the business I came upon, as well as to set forth the justice and necessity of the demand I am to make.

“It will give me pleasure to confer with General Phillips on any occasion, but as the business to be transacted is entirely of a publick nature, and it may be necessary to commit to paper the substance of what passes on the subject, if it is agreeable to you, Sir, I would prefer in general the latter mode to that of personal conference. I am the more inclined to this as from the nature of the business between us I am induced to believe there will be no necessity for a tedious or frequent correspondence.

“I am happy in finding General Phillips so chearfully disposed to forward a settlement of the Accounts and that the necessary steps for that purpose are taken.

“It is now my duty to inform you, Sir, that I am instructed to demand of you immediate payment of the account for provisions, &c. supplied the Convention Troops by the United States in the months of March, April, May, June, July and August, 1778, as settled at Boston, amounting to Eighty five thousand five hundred seventy eight pounds 4s. 8d. Sterling. The time that this money has been due, the equity and reasonableness of the demand, and the necessity the States are under of supporting their prisoners within the British lines with specie, are reasons sufficiently strong I hope to plead my excuse for urging immediate payment and likewise to induce you to use every means in your power to discharge the debt.

“Should I have occasion to send an Express to Philadelphia I will take care to give you timely notice.”

MAJOR-GENERAL WILLIAM PHILLIPS to JAMES MILLIGAN.

1779, July 20. Col. Carter's House.—“I have received your letter of yesterday's date and am to assure you that my informing you of my intention of corresponding with Mr. Jay, the President of the American Congress did not carry with it any the least idea of a slight to Mr. Duane, a Gentleman with whom I have not any acquaintance and to whom, therefore, I cannot possibly mean any offence. I have been in the habit of writing to Mr. Jay, and as he is at the head of that body which at present governs America, I thought it not inconsistent with my situation to write to that Gentleman my answer upon your publick Commission to me.

“But, Sir, having entered into your idea that the intent of Mr. Duane’s letter to me was to introduce the business you came upon, and having carefully perused the Copy of the Warrant under which you act, the Original of which you were so good to allow me to read, I am to inform you that I shall not think it necessary to trouble either Mr. Jay or Mr. Duane with my correspondence and shall give my answer to your demand of immediate payment of the Account of Provisions, &c., supplied the Convention Troops in the months of March, April, May, June, July and August, 1778, to you, Sir, who I conceive to be perfectly authorised to receive such answer from me.

“In my offering a readiness to confer with you personally I intended to mark to you the fairness of my way of thinking and that I was willing to meet that part of Mr. Duane’s letter, which I mentioned in my former letter to you, with openness and ingenuousness, desirous of assisting to the utmost of my power the purpose of your Commission. As it is, Sir, I entirely acquiesce in your idea of committing to paper what ever may be necessary to pass between you and me upon the occasion.

“In regard to the collecting, and examining the several accounts which you may have to produce for Articles furnished the Troops of Convention I do assure you, Sir, there shall be no delay on our parts. I will instruct and direct the British Commissary General and other Officers to confer and enter upon this business with your Commissaries whenever and in what manner you shall please to propose, and the British Commissaries and the proper Officers shall give the customary receipts and sign the Certificates usual upon these occasions. I will then forward these Accounts to His Excellency General Sir Henry Clinton the King’s Commander-in-Chief in America for him to judge of, and to act upon, as he shall see proper. It will depend, as I have observed in my former letter to you, Sir, on Sir Henry Clinton and the American Congress to finally settle these matters, my authority extending no further than to give operation to the Accounts being collected, to receipts and certificates being given by the proper officers, and sending them, as I have already offered to do, to the British Head Quarters in America.

“My answer to the first part of your Commission will necessarily require two or three days to make, during which time you may, perhaps, fix with Colonel Bland the mode of proceeding in settling the future Accounts.”

MAJOR-GEN. WILLIAM PHILLIPS to JAMES MILLIGAN.

1779, July 24. Col. Carter's House.—A long letter in answer to his demand for £85,578 4s. 8d. for provisions issued to the Troops of Convention from March to August, 1778. Will not take upon himself to judge of the spirit or letter of that article of the Convention of Saratoga which marks that "The troops to be supplied on their march and during their being in quarters, with provisions by Gen. Gates's orders, at the same rate of rations as the troops of his own army." Nor how the suspension of that treaty at large by the American Congress may have changed that article, supposing it originally intended for a charge for provisions during their march from Saratoga to Boston on their way to Europe. Nor has he presumed to give an opinion on the resolution of the Congress which directed Maj.-Gen. Heath to receive no payments from these troops but in specie, altho' the charges were in Continental currency. Remarks on the papers enclosed and maintains that he has neither money nor authority to pay such a sum but that it must be settled between the American Congress and the British Commander-in-Chief.

JAMES MILLIGAN to MAJOR-GEN. WILLIAM PHILLIPS.

1779, July 27. Charlottes Ville.—"Your favour of the 24th with the sundry inclosures are now before me, in which you have been pleased to treat largely, and with much attention and industry upon the subject matter of the demand made by the United States for supplying the troops of Convention. . . . What is now suggested appears to me to be much of a similar nature with the objections you heretofore made in your letters on the same subject to General Heath before you left Cambridge. These objections, Sir, have been by Congress referred to a Committee of that body, who after full and mature deliberation thereon, reported 'that the objections are ill-founded and inadmissible,' which report was approved of and confirmed, and Congress directed their Treasury to take immediate measures for obtaining payment of the Accounts; it is in consequence of this, Sir, that I have the honour now to address you on the subject. . . . Convinced that the first object of my Commission is to insist on the payment of the Account mentioned, I think it my duty once more to urge the demand, and at the same time to acquaint you that in case of non compliance I have reason to believe that Congress are determined to adopt such measures as appear to them the most likely to procure justice to these States. Permit me to add, that whatever Answer you may be pleased to return, will be considered by me as closing our correspondence on the subject of the settled Accounts. The American Staff Officers at this Post are preparing the subsequent Accounts for settlement, in effecting which I hope there will be no difficulties. . . ."

MAJOR-GEN. WILLIAM PHILLIPS to JAMES MILLIGAN.

1779, July 29. Col. Carter's House.—In answer to letter of the 27th, reiterates that he has not gone into arguments on the subject. Will forward the present accounts to Sir Henry Clinton in any manner preferred. Repeats that he has neither money nor authority to answer his demand. "As to what you mention of the measures which the American Congress means to adopt upon this subject I can give no answer, as it relates to the matter at large. If what you write, Sir, be pointed at me and the Troops of Convention you may be assured that we are prepared to meet the event with patience and, if required, with fortitude."

Copy. Vol. 14. No. 176. 4 pages.

MAJ.-GEN. AUGUSTINE PREVOST to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, July 30. Savannah.—Explains the positions held by the troops British, German and Provincial. Supplies of money for subsistence of the troops not having arrived, has been obliged to use that for the contingencies. The rebel army has taken its position at Sheldon, a place near Docotaligo, to watch our motions and make us jealous for Georgia, but their army is decreased and the militia will not stay. It is said General Lincoln is going away and one General Scott with reinforcements is arrived on the frontiers. Arrival of Sir J. Wright to take civil administration. Want of horses, harness, &c. prevents him keeping the plundering parties at a distance. Deficiency of Artillery officers and men. His own ill-health; would wish the management in hands more equal to it. Again recommends rank to be confirmed to Lt.-Col. Brown. Indian services are not proportionate to the large sums expended, &c., &c.

Signed letter. Vol. 15. No. 201. 4 pages.

Extract in the Public Record Office, America and W. Indies 136, fo. 441.

GOV. SIR JAMES WRIGHT to GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, July 30. Savannah, Georgia.—Refers to letter of 14th inst. The state of affairs in the province is not so pleasing as he expected. Has been told of the intentions; an early movement will promise everything. October is as fine a month as any.

Signed letter. Vol. 15. No. 200. 2 pages.

Extract in the Public Record Office, America and W. Indies 136, fo. 427.

TROOPS OF CONVENTION.

1779, ^{January 1.}_{July 31.}—Account of expenses of waggon hire and forage for the teams employed by the regiment of Guards under Col. Bland at the Convention Barracks, near Charlotteville, £21,144 12s. 0d. (See another account under 13 August.)

Vol. 14. No. 198. 2 pages.

JOSEPH DOMETT to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, July. New York.—Memorial. Was Comptroller of the Customs at Falmouth, Casco Bay; has resided on a small estate at Boston since its evacuation by the British; was lately taken from a sick bed and committed to the common gaol. This led to his petitioning to be admitted to bail or to go into voluntary exile. The latter they have thought proper to comply with as appears by the accompanying resolve (see 4-5 June). Submits his circumstances for such relief or assistance as may be thought best. Transmitted by Gov. Franklin, by the direction of the Commander-in-Chief, to Col. Morris, 14 July.

Signed. Vol. 14. No. 190. 3 pages.

THOMAS FLOOD to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

[? About 1779, July.]—Petition. That he lived eighteen years in the service of Sir William Johnson and some time in the employ of Col. Guy, with whom he was going to Quebec, but in getting the Colonel's baggage on board he dislocated his hip and has been in hospital ever since. Is reduced to the utmost distress and begs relief.

Vol. 14. No. 185. 2 pages.

JAS. MILLIGAN and MAJOR-GENERAL PHILLIPS.

List of 15 letters between or with reference to, entitled "Heads of the Letters contained in this Packet." No date, supposed those in July 1779. Begins "No. 1 Letter from Col. Bland to introduce Mr. Milligan to Maj.-Gen. Phillips."

Vol. 12. No. 80. 1 page.

MARY PRICE to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

[Endorsed 1779, July.]—Memorial. Is widow of Joseph Price late surgeon, 2d. battalion 60th. Her property in New Jersey sold by the rebels; has two children and her mother to support; has had some relief, but it is far from being sufficient. Testified by Stephen Skinner, Sam. Kemble and Gov. Franklin.

Original. Vol. 54. No. 4. 2 pages.

CANADA.

1779, July-August.—Paper containing extracts of letters from the upper posts and Indian country, viz.:—From Captain Alexander Fraser, Oswegatchie, 29 July; Major Butler, Canadasega, 23 July, 2 and 3 August; Capt. McDonell, 20 miles from Fort Wallace, 24 July, and Tioga Point, 5 August; Joseph Brant, Oghwage, 29 July; Capt. Parke, Detroit, 30 July; Intelligence; and letter from Nicholas Lorraine, 18 July.

CIRCULAR OF THE COMMISSION.

 CHANCERY LANE,
 LONDON, W.C.

HIS MAJESTY THE KING has been pleased to ratify and confirm the terms of the Commission issued by Her late Majesty, appointing certain Commissioners to ascertain what unpublished MSS. are extant in the collections of private persons and in institutions which are calculated to throw light upon subjects connected with the Civil, Ecclesiastical, Literary, or Scientific History of this country; and to appoint certain additional Commissioners for the same purposes. The present Commissioners are:—

Sir R. Henn Collins, Master of the Rolls; the Marquess of Ripon, K.G., the Earl of Crawford, K.T., the Earl of Rosebery, K.G., the Earl of Dartmouth, Lord Edmond Fitzmaurice, M.P., Lord Alverstone, G.C.M.G., Lord Hawkesbury, Lord Lindley, Lord Stanmore, G.C.M.G., Sir Edward Fry, and Sir H. C. Maxwell-Lyte, K.C.B.

The Commissioners think it probable that you may feel an interest in this object, and be willing to assist in the attainment of it; and with that view they desire to lay before you an outline of the course which they usually follow.

If any nobleman or gentleman express his willingness to submit any unprinted book, or collection of documents in his possession or custody, to the Commissioners, they will cause an inspection to be made by some competent person, and should the MSS. appear to come within the scope of their enquiry, the owner will be asked to consent to the publication of copies or abstracts of them in the reports of the Commission, which are presented to Parliament every Session.

To avoid any possible apprehension that the examination of papers by the Commissioners may extend to title-deeds or other documents of present legal value, positive instructions are given to every person who inspects MSS. on their behalf that nothing relating to the titles of existing owners is to be divulged, and that if in the course of his work any modern title-deeds or papers of a private character chance to come before him, they are to be instantly put aside, and are not to be examined or calendared under any pretence whatever.

The object of the Commission is the discovery of unpublished historical and literary materials, and in all their proceedings the Commissioners will direct their attention to that object exclusively.

In practice it has been found more satisfactory, when the collection of manuscripts is a large one, for the inspector to make a selection therefrom at the place of deposit and to obtain the owner's consent to remove the selected papers to the Public Record Office in London or in Dublin, or to the General Register House in Edinburgh, where they can be more fully dealt with, and where they are preserved with the same care as if they formed part of the muniments of the realm, during the term of their examination. Among the numerous owners of MSS. who have allowed their family papers of historical interest to be temporarily removed from their muniment rooms and lent to the Commissioners to facilitate the preparation of a report may be named :—The Duke of Rutland, the Duke of Portland, the Marquess of Salisbury, the Marquess Townshend, the Marquess of Ailesbury, the Marquess of Bath, the Earl of Dartmouth, the Earl of Carlisle, the Earl of Egmont, the Earl of Lindsey, the Earl of Ancaster, the Earl of Lonsdale, Lord Braye, Lord Hothfield, Lord Kenyon, Mrs. Stopford Sackville, the Right Hon. F. J. Savile Foljambe, Sir George Wombwell, Mr. le Fleming, of Rydal, Mr. Leyborne Popham, of Littlecote, and Mr. Fortescue, of Dropmore.

The cost of inspections, reports, and calendars, and of the conveyance of documents, will be defrayed at the public expense, without any charge to the owners.

The Commissioners will also, if so requested, give their advice as to the best means of repairing and preserving any interesting papers or MSS. which may be in a state of decay.

The Commissioners will feel much obliged if you will communicate to them the names of any gentlemen who may be able and willing to assist in obtaining the objects for which this Commission has been issued.

R. A. ROBERTS, Secretary.

INTRODUCTION.

THE introduction to the first volume of this calendar having described the whole of the collection, little remains to be said of a prefatory nature to the present volume.

The manuscripts being calendared in chronological order, this second volume begins with the month of August, 1779, and ends with that of June, 1782, shortly after the departure of Sir Henry Clinton from New York for home and the arrival of Sir Guy Carleton to take his place. It includes within these dates such events as the occupation of the post at Penobscot by Col. Maclean and the destruction of the American fleet by Sir George Collier in August, 1779 (pp. 12-19), the expedition to which place was recounted at the end of the first volume; the siege of Savannah by the French fleet under Comte d'Estaing and the American land forces under Maj. Gen. Lincoln in September and October of the same year—a siege successfully withstood by Brig. Gen. Prevost; the expedition to Charlestown, South Carolina, undertaken by Sir Henry Clinton and Admiral Arbuthnot from New York at the beginning of the year 1780; the siege of that town, and its capitulation on the 12th May. In June, Sir Henry returned to New York, leaving the command in the south to Earl Cornwallis, whose march through South and North Carolina into Virginia and its disastrous ending at Yorktown are indicated by numerous entries throughout these pages. The outbreak of hostilities with Spain was signalized in America by the proclamation of American Independence at New Orleans (p. 31), and followed by the invasion of West Florida by the Spaniards under Don Bernardo de Galvez and capture of the forts on the Mississippi in the autumn of 1779, the taking of Mobile in March 1780, and the surrender of Pensacola to them in May, 1781, all of which are described in the letters from the military commander there—Maj. Gen. John Campbell.

The correspondence with the post at Halifax is continued from the previous volume, as is that with the Governor of Georgia—Sir James Wright, and of East Florida—Governor Patrick Tonyn, while the letters of Lt. Gen. Alexander Leslie, who succeeded Earl Cornwallis in the southern command at Charlestown, record the progress of events at the latter place.

In March and April, 1782, the question of assisting the West Indies, and especially Jamaica, attacked or threatened as they were by the French and Spanish forces, led to discussions in the council of general officers at New York as to whether detachments should be made from New York or Charlestown. The decision to detach from Charlestown met with opposition from Gen. Leslie and the inhabitants of that post generally, and when finally a detachment under General O'Hara sailed, Rodney's victory over the Comte de Grasse on the 12th of April had for some time been an accomplished fact. An attempt on Jamaica was still, however, fully expected (pp. 490, 525 and 526).

The resolution of the House of Commons against continuing the war (p. 407) leads, towards the close of the volume, to preparations for the evacuation of the southern provinces, but the retention of East Florida as a refuge for the loyalists of the neighbouring provinces is being ardently pressed.

As already stated in the introduction to the first volume, this calendar was well advanced before the death of Mr. B. F. Stevens, and is seen through the press by his successor, Mr. Henry J. Brown.

VOL. II.

MICHAEL FRANCKLIN to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, August 2. Halifax, Nova Scotia.—Sends extract of letter from Lord G. Germain by which he is directed to dispose the Indians of his department to co-operate with the King's troops.

“The Indians of Nova Scotia consist of about five hundred familys, all Roman Catholicks, containing near three thousand persons, who are scattered throughout the whole province, and live entirely by hunting and fishing.

“In 1776 The Council of the Massachusetts Bay by means of presents and the adress of several enterprizing rebels, prevailed on the Indians to enter into a treaty by which they engaged to furnish six hundred men to join Mr. Washington's army; that year some of them joined the rebels, in an attack on Fort Cumberland.

“In 1777 I was appointed Superintendant of the Indian Affairs in Nova Scotia, in the Spring, the rebels have taken post at St. John's River; the Indians were assembled, and on the point of joining them, when I accompanied Brigade Major Studholme to that river with troops, and detachments of my own, and Col. Butler's Militia; the rebels were defeated and dislodged, and the Indians obliged to separate from the rebels.

“In 1778 the Americans prevailed on the Indians of St. John's River, to return the British flag to Fort Howe, and send in a declaration of war, and even went the length to take several vessels, and to commit other acts of hostility; it was then judged necessary I should repair there, on my arrival, they came in, and were prevailed upon to accomodate their differences, and to deliver up the treaty they had entered into with the Massachusetts to give me some of their commissions, and medals, they had received from the Americans, and to take an oath to remain quiet, a copy of which oath I have the honor to inclose.

“ In 1779 This year the Congress Agent who resides at Machias, has provided a French Priest for them, and he is now actually hovering on the frontiers, from whom several manifesto’s of the Count D’Estang have been circulated ; but the measures I have taken and am about to take I trust will prevent their breaking with us : but how far they can be prevailed upon to act against the people of New England, out of the Province, is a matter of much doubt : It is possible with a good deal of management, and proper rewards, they may be brought to surprize some of the small privateers and whale boats, that infest and plunder the harbours of the whole sea coast of the province.” . . . Is persuaded the numbers who actually would march to co-operate would not be considerable and “ the expence attending it very great, for in addition to the presents they will require before they set out, for themselves, and their friends, all the familys will expect to be clothed and fed, for as they do not generally plant corn, when the able men are sent from home the family must be clothed and victualled.

“ And as their attachment to the French interest is yet very strong and their regard for the rebels much strengthened by their alliance with France, it requires the greatest attention and address, to keep them quiet, and I have my apprehensions that when they are once generally rouzed to arms, there is a possibility, that on the appearance of any French squadron or ships on our coast, they may suddenly think of acting against us.”

His own situation. His allowance of £300 per annum insufficient. Has struggled with great difficulties and represented the necessity of providing a proper fund for the purposes of Indian affairs. Could not attend public meeting of the Indians at the beginning of last month, as it must have been attended with the expenditure of provisions and other articles which he had no way of obtaining. The same reason prevents his proceeding to the R. St. John having already incurred a debt of £200 and 3,000 rations of provisions borrowed from Mr. Butler and taken from his own family in the country. Begg the contingent expences may be defrayed and necessaries supplied. Maj. Studholme at Fort Howe has done much to keep the Indians near him quiet.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 21, No. 102. 8 pages.

Enclosing Ld. G. Germain to Michael Franklin 3 May 1779.

Copy of Oath taken by Indians of Nova Scotia 19 Jan. 1779.

WILLIAM LIVESAY to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, August 2. New York.—Petition. That his property in Fairfield, Connecticut, was destroyed in Tryon's expedition; that he was obliged to leave with his family to avoid the resentment of the Americans and they are destitute of everything. With certificate by Jeremiah Leaming and John Sayre.

Original. Vol. 25, No. 260. 2 pages.

MAJ. GEN. AUGUSTINE PREVOST to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, August 2. Savannah.—Arrival of Creek Indians. Had ordered Lt. Sutherland to go to New York according to orders but Captain Moncrieff expecting daily leave of retiring and leaving for home, the want of an engineer would not permit letting Sutherland go till representations were made. Major General Lincoln applies for mutual resident commissaries of prisoners. Asks permission. Scarcity of money. Check to the Indian Department by the late Mr. Stuart's bill being returned protested. Refers to his Excellency the Commissary of Indian Affairs, and begs commands. Has been obliged to furnish that Department with £500.

MAJ. GEN. WILLIAM PHILLIPS to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, August 7. Charlottes Ville.—“An American Commissioner of Accounts Mr. James Milligan is arrived here with a demand upon me for payment of between eighty and ninety thousand pounds sterling for provisions &c. &c. supplied the troops of Convention in New England, as, also, to liquidate several subsequent accounts of the same nature.

“I have had some conversation with that gentleman and much paper correspondence has passed between us which is now ended.

“The accounts to be liquidated, and for which it may be necessary to give receipts and certificates, are in some forwardness, and when compleated and delivered in to me shall be forwarded to your Excellency to whom I have informed Mr. Milligan all accounts must necessarily be referred by me.—At the time I shall send you, Sir, these accounts I shall, also, transmit to your Excellency copies of all the papers which have passed between Mr. Milligan and me.

“Has written several letters; has received none since 10 March. The officers in great distress for wine and rum; begs a flag of truce for these commodities.

Signed letter. Vol. 14, No. 165. 2 pages.

MAJ. GEN. AUGUSTINE PREVOST to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, August 7. Savannah.—Inconvenience arising from want of money. Renews application for a nomination to the vacancies as the service suffers much. The rebels give out intention to attack Georgia. Complaints of officers for want of bat and forage money.

SIR HENRY CLINTON to MAJ. GEN. AUGUSTINE PREVOST.

South9, August 10. New York.—“Respecting your late move into 177 Carolina I can say nothing except lament that I had not the least notice of your intentions as I had no Idea of sending you reinforcement at that time or making any solid co-operation.” . . .

Flatters himself General Prevost is an officer of too much service to act decidedly on vague reports of reinforcements being intended. The spirit that seems to prevail does them great credit.

By newspaper sees that Lincoln has been repulsed in an attempt on Maitland's post at Stono. Takes it for granted he (Prevost) has fallen back to a safer post nearer Georgia. La Motte Picquet has sailed from France probably for this continent.

LT. ALEXANDER MACLEOD to LORD NORTH.

Memorial. Settled in North Carolina in 1774. Had already served twenty-two years, at Quebec, Pondicherry and Manilla. Was appointed captain in 1775 of one of the companies of Highlanders of Major Macdonald of the Royal Highland Emigrants and in services expended £278. After reverses, and living six weeks in woods and swamps escaped to Sir Henry Clinton. Rewards were offered for him, his wife, children and servants scattered and his property destroyed and carried off to the amount of £1,500. Followed the fortunes of the army for two years but on reaching New York found that even his company under Major Macdonald was not available to him. Prays some bounty.

Accompanying this is an account of losses of his effects—as horses, cows, farm utensils, household furniture, and wearing apparel—six men servants indented for four years each indenture equal to £20, six women servants indented for four years at £12. Total £1,500.

SIR HENRY CLINTON to MAJOR GENERAL JOHN CAMPBELL.

1779, August 12. New York.—Acknowledges letter of 7th April. Finding it impossible to send him provisions from this place has written to Gen. Grant and Gov. Dalling to give as much as possible, but as Mr. Robinson states the troops in W. Florida are victualled by a separate contract, hopes the other victuallers are arrived. As he (Campbell) has written to Lord G. Germain about the intended fort supposes he will receive his Lordship's directions. Approved reduction of the Independent Companies. Carpenters cannot be sent; he must endeavour to raise a company or make the best shift he can. Has applied to Adml. Byron for a frigate to be stationed at Pensacola. Approves issuing rum to the troops: refers him to Mr. Wier for contracts. Clothing will be sent for the Provincial Troops. Demands of Lt. Cols. Stiel, Dickson and Capt. Johnson shall be paid. On arrival of Arbuthnot's Fleet the commanding officer of artillery may probably be able to send some officers. not before. Incorporation of Allen's and Chalmers' Corps cannot take place. Capt. Durnford ought to give up some of his employments if they interfere with his duties as Engineer. The two prisoners mentioned may be released. Will transmit Dr. Lorimer's memorial to the Secretary at War. Capt. Barbut, commissary, ought to pay his deputy. Declines approving appointment of a particular paymaster.

Enclosure :—

MAJ. GEN. PHILLIPS to JAMES MILLIGAN.

"1779, August 12. Col. Carter's House.—As you hinted the other day at Colonel Harvie's that a delay in settling the Accounts your Commission is charged with had been created by the Officers of the troops of Convention, altho' you afterwards confessed it was a mistake, I have been very attentive in watching the progress of this matter and the reports made me yesterday are that the account of Provisions is nearly, if not entirely examined—Mr. Commissary General Clarke being at the Barracks ready to receive them when delivered to him.

"Captain Vallancey reports that he had not received any papers from the American Quarter Master General's department, so that it rests with your Officers, Sir, any delay there may be in this matter.

"As you seem resolute for setting out for Philadelphia I have thought proper to trouble you with this letter not chusing you should quit Charlottes ville with an impression of the British Publick Officers which your mind seemd stamp with the last time I had the pleasure of conversing with you.

"I shall take it as a favour if you will trouble yourself with a letter from me to the President of the American Congress to whom I send my dispatch to Sir Henry Clinton containing Copies of all the papers which have passed between you and me with a letter to Sir Henry, a Copy of which I send you.

"I shall deliver this letter to you sealed or unsealed as you may prefer or as the respect due from you to Mr. Jay may prompt of which you, Sir, are the best judge.

"I am very sorry the bad weather yesterday prevented me from the pleasure of receiving you at dinner."

SIR HENRY CLINTON to MAJ. GEN. WILLIAM PHILLIPS.

1779, August 13. New York.—"Dear Phillips, I have the pleasure to inform you that an exchange on parole is agreed on, the officers which the enemy are to receive for you and General Riedesel are already gone. My dispatches consenting to this and other arrangements concerning prisoners are sent out, as soon as they come to Philadelphia you will probably receive intimation of it, and be allowed to repair to us. It will be with no less satisfaction I shall see you than you will pay us the visit. I am My dear Generals Most obed^t and Most faithful Serv^t.

"With respect to your final exchange we must talk of that when we meet."

MAJ. GEN. PHILLIPS to JAMES MILLIGAN.

1779, August 14. Charlottetown.—The British Commissary General Mr. Clarke announces that he has examined with the American Commissaries the issues of provisions to July and signed the receipts. The British Quarter Master General has received a/c from the American Quarter Master General and reports thereon this morning. Must agree with Capt. Vallancey in his reasons for not being able to certify this a/c; it contains such a variety of charges on different subjects that it would be utterly out of rule to sign accounts of which he knows no particulars. When the clothing and baggage arrived at Richmond country waggons could easily have been hired to convey them to the barracks and would have been paid for but it was thought proper that the American Quarter Master Genl. should furnish waggons for the purpose. “There is . . . a charge made against me for forage for my horses upon Receipts given by Captain Bliss the American Officer who attended me upon the March from New England to Virginia. There must be some very particular mistake in this matter for I expressly refused to receive forage from the public American Magazines without paying for it. . . . I constantly supplied Captain Bliss with money upon the March and when he left me at Fredericksburgh all his Accounts to a considerable amount were paid him by me.” Will forward these accounts with the reports on them to Sir Henry Clinton, and requests he will take charge of the dispatch as far as Philadelphia.

SIR GEORGE COLLIER to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, August 19. “Reasonable” in Penobscot Bay.—“Dear Sir, I was fully impress’d with the belief when I left your Excellency that I should give a good account of the rebel armament at Penobscot; those hopes have not proved illusive for we have taken, blown up and destroy’d them all, not even a single vessel escaping.

“I left the Hook on the 3d instant with the squadron, consisting of the Reasonable, Greyhound, Blonde, Virginia, Galatea, Camilla & Otter Sloop; nothing particular happen’d in the passage except two privateers taken by the Greyhound & Galatea:—the thick fogs entirely separated the Squadron, but they all rejoined me in a few hours after I arriv’d off the Island Monhagen, (the place of rendezvous) except the Otter Sloop, whom I have never seen since.—We lost no time in immediately proceeding up Penobscot Bay, & about 11 in the morning the rebel fleet presented themselves to our view, they were drawn up in a crescent across the river, & seem’d inclinable to dispute the passage; but their resolution soon fail’d them, & an unexpected & ignominious flight took place:—the Blonde, Galatea & Virginia were at this time advanced 3 or 4 miles ahead, nevertheless without waiting to form the squadron, I made the signals for battle, & for a general chace; the King’s ships followed them with all the eagerness which a desire of destroying their enemies could inspire; two of the rebel fleet viz. the Hunter & Defence, attempted to get off by the West Passage of Long Island, but without success; the former then run ashore with every sail standing, & the Defence got into a small inlet where she anchored; both intending to push to sea when it was dark: I sent a lieutenant & 50 men to board the Hunter, which he succeeded in without loss, tho’ many popping shots were fired at him by her crew in the woods; she is a very fine ship of 18 guns, & is said to be the fastest sailing vessel in America.

"I directed the Camilla to proceed into the inlet & take the Defence, but she prevented that measure being carried into execution, by blowing herself up. She was a new brig, & carried 16 six pounders.

"The King's ships continued their pursuit of the Rebel Fleet up the River Penobscot, & considerable hazard attended this part of the chase from the extreme narrowness of the river; from the shoals; & from the flaming ships on either side; the Hampden of 20 guns finding herself so closely beset as not to be able to run ashore, surrendered: all the rest of the Rebel Fleet, amongst which was the Warren of 32 guns, 18 & 12 pounders, together with 24 transports were all blown up & destroyed.

"The Nautilus, Albany & North which had been left for the protection of the garrison, soon got themselves in condition & joined in the chase.

"General Lovel who commanded the Rebel Army & Commodore Saltonstall the Fleet, had fixed on this day to have made a general assault on the fort & ships, which our appearance happily prevented.—

"The remains of their army & sailors are now exploring their way thro' thick woods, and desart wastes, where probably many of them will perish with hunger.

"I am informed that since their landing, they have fallen out amongst themselves, & fought, whereby between 50 & 60 are killed.

"We have taken a great many cannon, & some of 18 & 12 pounders, but I cant at present ascertain their number; many of the ships guns will be saved & I have sent the Albany sloop up the river for the purpose of weighing them.

"I congratulate your Excellency upon this very complete defeat of the Rebels, and I fancy they will be very cautious in future how they attempt expeditions."

BRIG. GEN. FRANCIS McLEAN to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, August 23. Camp at Majebigwaduće.—“By my last letter of the 26th June I had the honor to acquaint your Excellency that we were then employed in the necessary preparations for constructing a fort, to contain about four hundred men; Major Craig informs me he acquainted your Excellency with the difficulties which prevented our beginning the work before he sailed from hence, these continued, so that it was the 2d of July before the engineer had mark'd it out. The fort was designed to be a square of two hundred feet interior side, with four bastions; on the 21st I received intelligence that a fleet and army of considerable force, had sailed from Boston for this place, at this time tho' we had exerted every effort we were capable of to forward our work, Your Excellency will easily conceive it was far from being in a situation to afford us any security against a vigorous attack such as the strength of the enemys armament gave us reason to expect ; two of the bastions were untouched, the other two with the curtains were in general, from four to five feet high, and twelve thick, the ditch in many places, not more than three in depth, and no artillery mounted, or platforms laid ; I had however some time before thrown up a battery of four twelve pounders on a height near the river for the protection of the ships, and had entrenched the border of the swamp, so that I had no apprehension of the enemy's getting a footing on the peninsula from that side.

“From the moment I received intelligence of the sailing of the enemy's fleet from Boston ; I laid aside all thoughts of finishing the fort, and I can scarce do justice to the ardor, and diligence with which I was seconded by all ranks in my endeavours to put ourselves into some tolerable posture of defence. On the 25th the enemy's fleet to the number of thirty seven sail of all sizes, made their appearance, and at two in the afternoon began a heavy canonade, tho from a good distance on the ships and battery ; The warm return that was made them by both, soon obliged them to retire, and anchor opposite the West Point, the 26th the attack was renewed with the same success : during both these days, and on the 27th they made several attempts to land their troops on the West Point, but were constantly repulsed by our picquet (which consisted of a captain and eighty men) and a party of seventy men who were in a fleche near the point, and at hand to support the picquet, however, on the morning of the 28th they, to my great surprize, effected their purpose under cover of a heavy canonade from their shipping, and forced the picquet under the command of Captain Archibald Campbell of the 74th Regiment, to retire to the Fort, before I had received the least intelligence of their being landed, owing to the serjeant who was sent by Captain Campbell to inform me of it, having missed his way in the wood : it now became necessary to withdraw the posts, we had along the swamp. And the enemy having erected a battery on an island at the entrance of the harbour, which the Captains of the men of war, as well as Lieut. Colonel Campbell and myself, were of opinion made it necessary for the ships to move higher up the river ; I brought the four twelve pounders from the battery on the river, into the fort, and replaced them with three six pounders out of nine which Captain Mowatt had at my request, landed from the ships for our use ; The enemy's shipping made several other attempts during their stay to anchor within the river, but were constantly prevented by the fire from our shipping and batteries.

“On the 30th the enemy opened a battery in the wood of two eighteen pounders and one twelve pounder with a 5½ inch mortar at the distance of 750 yards from the fort, and a few days after another about 50 yards nearer, of two eighteen pounders from whence they fired on us with great briskness, notwithstanding which our men continued their work with such unremitting diligence that platforms had been early laid in the bastions, by which we were enabled to return their fire ; And we every moment increased in strength, the canonading continued on both sides, together with several skirmishes without the fort, (occasioned by the necessity we were under of supporting our battery, and keeping up the communication with the ships of war, which we did the whole time) until the 12th when a deserter came in and assured us the enemy intended to attack the ships and storm the fort the ensuing day, for the latter we were under no apprehensions but as we thought that their great superiority in point of numbers might engage them to hazard another attempt on the former: I threw up a small work about 150 yards from the post towards the river on which I mounted five six pounders for the assistance of the shipping supported by 100 men for whom there was a good position under cover from the enemy's fire: with these, and from the experience we had already of the resolution of the officers and seamen of our little fleet; I should have been under no apprehension for the success had they carried their design into execution, which however they did not, and to our great astonishment on the morning of the 14th about 4 o'clock being without the fort reconnoitring we observed an unusual degree of quiet in the enemy's works, and on a closer examination found them abandoned; About 80 men which had been appointed from the two regiments to act as light infantry under the command of Lieut. Carthrae of the 82d Regiment were immediately ordered into the wood and another party was sent across the swamp in hopes of cutting off their rear but to no purpose. They had embarked during the night, and carried off all the artillery except what was on the Island at the entrance of the harbour viz. 2 eighteen and one twelve pounder, these were spiked but will be soon rendered serviceable again, one of the eighteen pounders being so already.

“At the time the enemy fled, and for some time before we had increased our strength so as to be under no apprehension of their attempting to storm us, the damage they did us in the day time, we repaired every night, one of the gorges of the unfinished bastions was filled up with logs, and the well for the fort being in the other, it was enclosed with a work of earth and fascines ten feet thick, a sort of cheveu de frise had been carried round the Fort, and a tolerable abbatiss without that again.

“From the point we were observing the confusion of the enemy's fleet which we were endeavouring to increase by bringing down two twelve pounders to play on them when the appearance of His Majesty's fleet under Commodore Sir George Collier, of which we had as yet no intelligence, informed us of the true reason of the enemy's flight, as soon as the tide would permit they attempted to escape up the river, but being closely pursued by His Majesty's ships (in which the activity of Captains Mowatt, Farnham and Selby in getting their Ships ready enabled them to join) I am happy to inform your Excellency that their destruction has been complete not one having escaped being either taken or burnt.

“On the 15th at the desire of Sir George Collier I embarked 200 men on board a transport who proceeded up the river after the shipping. The light infantry were already on board the three ships that joined Sir George from this harbour, the whole were intended to land in case the enemy had made any stand.

“I have nothing to add to the above account but the inclosed list of killed and wounded, and to endeavour to do justice to the chearfulness with which the officers, and men underwent the excessive fatigue required to make our post tenable, the greatest part of our work was carried on after the Enemy's batteries were erected, and with a spirit and alacrity that would have done credit to the oldest soldiers, indeed from the time the enemy opened their trenches to that of their departure, the men's spirits, and contempt of their opponents increased daily, so that our chief difficulty was to restrain them. To Lieut. Colonel Campbell, I am much indebted for the most unwearied diligence in every part, And I must request the liberty of also mentioning to your Excellency the great service I received from the particular activity and conduct on every occasion of Lieut. Carthrac of the 82 Rt. Permit me likewise to acknowledge the readiness with which Captain Mowatt, and under him, Captains Selby, and Farnham, assisted us on every occasion; The greatest harmony has subsisted the whole time between the navy, and army, there being no other contest between them, but which should contribute most to their mutual safety.

“Most of the inhabitants on both rivers notwithstanding their oath of allegiance, and fidelity to His Majesty were compelled to join the enemy on their arrival here, most of them were employed in working tho some of them were in arms; inclosed I have the honor to send your Excellency General Lovell's proclamation. Your Excellency is too well acquainted with the nature of those publications, and the purposes the chiefs of the rebellion usually put them to—to be surprised at the falsehoods contained in it only I must beg leave to assure you, that the compulsion, and violence insinuated to have been made use of by us, is particularly so, not an article having been taken by either the navy or army since our arrival, without payment, not the smallest injury offered to any inhabitant: however on the Enemy's flight, being informed, that the dread of our resentment for their conduct had induced many of them to withdraw from their habitations with an intention of going to the westward: Sir George Collier concurred with me in opinion to issue another proclamation a copy of which is also inclosed, which together with the conduct observed by the Rebels in their flight, we are in hopes will undeceive the people, and prevent the breaking up of the settlement.

“As I have received no provisions since my arrival here, and a part of what we brought was destroyed by the Enemy's fire, we are now reduced to about the quantity necessary for four weeks, Sir George Collier has sent a Sloop of War to Halifax by whom I have wrote for a supply sufficient for the garrison that will remain here for ten months, but as we have no account of the victuallers being arrived there, I am afraid they will not be able to send us anything near that quantity, And as the supplying them during the winter will be impossible; I must still request you would order some from New York.

“I propose leaving here under the command of Lieut. Colonel Commandant Campbell, that part of his regiment now here as per inclosed return, unless I receive directions to the contrary from your Excellency before I leave this which I propose doing with the part of the 82d here and returning to Halifax as soon as the Fort which we are hard at work on, is in such a posture of defence as to be secure against any future attempts.

“I beg leave to return your Excellency thanks for your attention to our wants by sending £3,500 by Mr. Finucane which I have received. I have the honor, &c.”

SIR GEORGE COLLIER to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, August 24. “Reasonable” Penobscot.—Private. “My Dear Sir, The raging fever with which I left the Hook grew to that height, as to make me believe I was on the point of setting out on a much longer voyage than to Penobscot.—I am however (I thank God) recovering fast, & have no other complaint but weakness: our great successes here, have much contributed to my return to health.

“You remember I long ago mentioned my strong disapprobation of establishing a post at this place; that opinion is much more firmly established now for I cant perceive one single end a settlement here will answer; all the inhabitants are rebels who take an oath to the King to day, and another to the Congress to morrow, & all assisted the Rebels in every thing they cou’d during the siege.

“The face of the whole country is as dreary as can be imagined, & the greatest part uncleard & fit for nothing but wild beasts; the fort too I think ill placd, & I fear wont be in a state of defence by the time the winter sets in.

“That fellow Nutting whom y^r Exc^y remembers at New York, has just been with me on a message; I asked him what could possibly induce him to recommend the establishing a settlement in such a place, & what advantages might be expected from it? He denied his having ever recommended the measure to Lord G. Germaine, nor could I learn from him what particular benefits would accrue to us, by keeping possession of so infernal a spot.

“I suppose Gen^l Mclean will give you the necessary particulars of his garrison; I must beg to mention however their great want of provisions, & how very necessary it is to send a victualler here immediately, as they have not more than a month remaining—Cap^t Barkley has my orders to convey it here, as soon as possible, if you Sir, are pleas’d to give directions for its being got immediately ready.

“Gen^l Mclean tells me he proposes returning to Halifax in about 3 weeks, & to leave Lt.-Col. Campbell & 400 men in the garrison; it is really too few—the least they should have is 600—and tho’ I believe the Rebels won’t be very fond of expeditions for one while, yet so weak a garrison might induce the enemy to give them fresh disturbance.

“I consider myself (my Dear Sir Henry) as writing to a friend, & I am persuaded you will have the goodness to forgive my expressing my thoughts freely, on subjects in which I can have no right to concern myself.

“The measure of withdrawing the posts at St. Johns River, & at Cumberland, Gen^l Mclean most highly wishes, & is impatient to receive your orders for a measure so salutary.

“I have sent no other account but yours to York of the defeat of the Rebel fleet, & I shall therefore beg the favor you will cause y^r Secretary to make such extracts as you may judge proper, & send it to Rivington’s paper.

“I hope e’er this all y^r expected reinforcements are arriv’d, & that your mind is a little more at Ease, than it has been for many months past—I am sure nobody deserves better of their country than you do, Sir, nor nobody has been us’d worse! May every happiness be yours; I do assure you I have that strong attachment to you that I can’t express it; my heart will ever sincerely rejoice in your successes & deplore any cause which may arise to give you uneasiness.”

BENJAMIN HEYWOOD, Capt. Lieut. 6th. Mass. Regt., to MAJOR GENERAL WILLIAM HEATH.

1779, August 25. Highland's Camp.—That having arrived at the enemy's pickets, the commanding officer Col. Wormb (sic.) was summoned and came up at a gallop accompanied by his brother, and having seen the papers fell into a violent rage, swore he could not receive any persons on a pass from rebels and rascals and tore the flag and permit to pieces throwing them under his horses' feet. He then gave orders to carry them off as spies, but revoked the order and said they should go with him. Something was then said to him in the German language by his brother, upon which the Colonel ordered them to turn about to a small house, gave orders they should stay there all night, and seemed much more mollified. He left them and returned in half an hour very affable and good-natured. In the morning an officer came with the Colonel's compliments and ordered them to return and that a flag would be sent in a day or two to the American lines with an answer.

MAJ. GEN. AUGUSTINE PREVOST to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, September 6. Savannah.—Since he wrote by the "Experiment," Sir James Wallace, nothing material has happened till the day before yesterday when four French ships of war and two small sloops appeared off the bar. Being uncertain whether they were part of a large force, orders were sent to Lieut. Col. Maitland to evacuate Beaufort and come in to this town but yesterday morning the ships disappeared. Has since directed Maitland to keep fast but he is in readiness to move at the shortest notice. Thinks the rebels in the back country find at present amusement enough from the Indians. The enemy are preparing for a vigorous winter campaign. They are raising 1,500 recruits in North Carolina and forming a body of 3,000 blacks in South Carolina. They lately endeavoured to get a law passed in South Carolina making every fifth man a continental soldier but the law failed as did every other attempt to give value to their currency.

Copies. Vol. 15, No. 209, and Vol. 16, No. 5. 4 and 2 pages respectively.

CAPTAIN WILLIAM SPRY to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, September 6. Halifax.—Letters received from England make his return indispensably necessary. Repeats his solicitation for six months leave of absence. In case it is granted he desires one or more engineers may be ordered hither to take care of this Department as he will have an opportunity for a passage to England early next month.

SIR HENRY CLINTON to MAJ. GEN. AUGUSTINE PREVOST.

1779, September 9. New York.—Acknowledges letters. Lieut. Col. Maitland’s repulse of the rebels at Stono does him great honour. “He acted very much like himself.” Is pleased to find that notwithstanding the threats of the enemy he is under no apprehensions of an attack. Has at his repeated request appointed Brig. Gen. Garth to relieve him but as he mentioned no desire of quitting the service altogether hopes it will be agreeable to go to St. Augustine and take command of the troops in East Florida.

Has ordered all officers belonging to his corps to join as soon as possible. Could not send money before arrival of Adl. Arbuthnot. Sir J. Wallace now carries £30,000. The Minister has signified that the Florida Rangers and refugees are to be considered as Provincial Troops. Lieut. Sutherland to remain with the Southern Army. Does not see the necessity of a Commissary of Prisoners as requested by Gen. Lincoln and cannot give his consent. Every proper encouragement to be given to the Indians. Gen. Garth is ordered to issue 200 days' forage money and the Florida Rangers are to receive the 165 days due to them last year.

MAJ. GEN. JOHN CAMPBELL to GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, September 14. Pensacola.—"I am sorry to have to inform your Excellency, that the fears expressed in my letter of the 11th instant have partly proved true—A dispatch I this moment have received from Lieut. Colonel Dickson informs me, that on the 20th ultimo the Independence of the American States was publickly declared by beat of drum at New Orleans; That on the 29th of the same month, two of our transports that were returning from the Amit River, where they had landed a detachment of the regiment of Waldeck were seized at Galvez Town, and it would appear that they intended to have kept this last transaction a secret from Colonel Dickson, and Governor Galvez was marching with a considerable force towards Manchac, under pretence that our collecting troops at that place, rendered such a measure on his part, absolutely necessary ; but at the same time professing the greatest cordiality and friendship, and expressing his hopes that satisfactory reasons would be given him for our movements ; his intentions would appear to have been an endeavour to lull Colonel Dickson into a state of confidence and security that he might the more easily surprise him : whatever might be his intentions they were fortunately frustrated by a deserter from the enemy (an Hibernian) who gave information as above, and put Colonel Dickson on his guard : however I am sorry to add that I find he has considered himself under the necessity of destroying a vessel load of provisions, that had been lately sent for the troops under his command, and which he had not had time to convey to Manchac, in order to prevent its falling into the enemy's hands ; and as his store at Manchac was nearly expended he is left almost destitute of salt provisions and must depend on what he can procure from the inhabitants : Colonel Dickson further informs me that a redoubt and some lines that have been lately thrown up at Messrs. Watt's and Flower's plantation on Baton Rouge intended for a post for the regiment of Waldeck—being much more tenable and secure than the insignificant Fort at Manchac, he intended to desert and destroy the latter, after removing his stores and small remnant of provisions and to take post at the former place, which undoubtedly is strong by nature and has a better command of the Mississippi.

“ Other misfortunes have happened on this occasion, a vessel laden with 300 barrels of provisions and a considerable quantity of rum, on her way to Manchac by the River Mississippi, has unquestionably fallen into the enemy's hands ; and I dare not hope a better fate to two transports forwarded by the Lakes,—One with 55 officers and men of the regiment of Waldeck, the other with provisions : in short the troops under Colonel Dickson's immediate command and at the Natches consisting (besides officers) of 16 sergeants—12 drummers and 429 rank and file are disagreeably and critically situated ; the communication whereby to supply them with provisions entirely cutt off, and the choice of methods of relieving them left for me to take one and all of them dangerous and uncertain in the execution : besides even Indians, for want of presents to make them, and for want of provisions on the Mississippi, cannot I'm afraid be employed for their relief ; moreover the Indian Department is in confusion for want of Mr. Cameron the new Superintendent's arrival from the Cherokee Nation (for which he was Deputy) and after the alterations it has lately undergone, it has not yet recovered its wonted vigour.

“ Since the date of my letter of the 11th I have had an account taken of the number of troops the vessels in this harbour fit for transports in the Lakes can carry, and the report made to me is 200 men with ease—and perhaps fifty more by crowding them ; I have sent to Mobile to take up what vessels can be found there, for this service and shall at all vents proceed with as many troops as transports can be found for, to ship. I stand and act from thence as circumstances may direct or necessity require : but I have to prepare your Excellency for an event that will (if our conjectures prove true) frustrate and disappoint every plan we can project, either for the annoyance of the Enemy, or for carrying relief to Colonel Dickson; I have certain information that a large schooner was seen entering Lake Pontchartrain on the 9th instant—and, as there can be no idea formed of her, but being an Enemy's vessel, the West Florida armed sloop (our only force on the Lakes) carrying only four 3 & 4 pounders must fall a prey to her superior force, besides the Spaniards can now arm the four vessels they have taken as before represented and which are at Galvez Town, which will render them stronger on the Lakes than any force we can fit out against them.

“I have to report to your Excellency a step I have taken which perhaps may meet with censure, and may occasion some inconvenience, but as it proceeded from a perswasion and desire of thereby promoting the good of His Majesty's service; I hope (even if disapproved) that it will meet with the most favorable construction;—The Carteret packet boat being a ship of force carrying 18 Six pounders and 60 men, And there being no ship of war serviceable on this station, I made application to Governor Chester in Council for an order to detain her, and which his Council having unanimously approved, he has complied with, And I expect she will sail in a few days for the Balize to discover whether any of the Enemy's ships are on that station or on this coast, and to endeavor finding out whether reinforcements have been sent them from the Havannah. This intelligence will be absolutely necessary to regulate my future conduct.

“Your Excellency will, from the full representation of the military state of this Province contained in this and in my letter of the 11th instant and from the knowledge of the other important objects of your command, be the best judge whether a reinforcement to me is proper or expedient.”

LIEUT. COL. JAMES BRUCE to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, September 18. Halifax.—That he had managed to hire vessels to bring off some coal from Spanish River, manning one of these ships with an officer and 18 men, which was able to beat off (by superior fire of small arms) a rebel brig of 18 guns. Was obliged to send two of these vessels to Gen. McLean with ten months' provisions. The ships now going will bring off about 700 chaldrons. The coast between this and Spanish River is infested with privateers, according to intelligence enclosed, which came yesterday. Yesterday a rebel schooner of 12 guns took a brig loaded with provisions. All the rest of the victuallers expected are arrived. Transmits return of provisions in store. Ships at Spanish River have to lie off the coast, which retards the loading. Advises vessels to be sent for what is necessary as soon as possible. Cartel arrived from Boston with 303 prisoners: an equal number was sent back. There only remain 30, most of whom are in hospital.

MAJ. GEN. WILLIAM PHILLIPS to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, September 21. Tuesday. Tawney Town in Maryland.—“The permission for my going from Virginia into New York upon my parole was signified to me the evening of the 7th instant at which time Major General D’Reidesel being at the Berkely Springs and the British Assistant Pay Master General at Willimburgh I was necessarily delayed from setting out untill my expresses reached them and that they could return to Charlottes Ville.

“I set out, however, accompanied by Major General De Reidesel on the 16th Instant, and we are persuing our journey with all manner of expedition and imagine we shall reach Elizabeth Town in about eight days.

“I have received two days ago, in a manner merely accidental by hearing that a paquet directed for me was at a person’s house upon the road, the letter from Mr. Loring of the 4th of August signifying to me that I was to name certain number of the officers of the Troops of Convention to go into New York upon their paroles in exchange for several American officers who have already received a liberty of visiting their friends—this business must now be necessarily transacted at Elizabeth Town and I shall take it as a singular favour of your Excellency to direct that Mr. Loring may meet me there in order to regulate this matter or any circumstances which may arise in consequence of Major General De Reidesel and my arrival with our families at that place.”

But having no money for carrying on the works proposed and knowing your zeal for His Majesty’s service, I am under the necessity of applying to you and hope you will be so kind as to undertake to pay the negroes employed at the King’s works, and at the same time furnish me with what money may be wanted for other purposes, for which I will from time to time give you bills on Sir Henry Clinton, & at the same time lay before his Excellency proper accounts and vouchers for what may be expended, as I intended to proceed with as much economy as possible having resolved to have nothing to say to your town people who are all Jews, but to employ the tradesmen of the Regiment, I hope to be able to confine the expence within two thousand pound, which sum I hope you will be so good as to supply. LIEUT. COLONEL L. v. FUSER to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, September 25, October 2 and 24. St. Augustine.—“By the inclosed copies Your Excellency will see my situation and my want: I expect very little assistance from this place; fine promises; pompous writing; and nothing done, is what I have experienced these three years past.

“Notwithstanding Your Excellency may rest assured that everything in my power shall be done for the preservation of this place.

“I have wrote to Major General Campbell (my only resource for the present) to send forthwith what men and powder he can conveniently spare—also to Governor Dalling for some powder.

“No Artillery Officer or Engineer having been left here, I have appointed Captain Burrard to act in both capacities, and Lieutenant Hesselberg to serve as his assistant.

“I am left without money to carry on the works, Governor Tonym promised me some, but when it came to the point he said that he had none, consequently I have employed Mr. Penman (a creditable merchant) to get me all the money he can that the service may not suffer—We are hard at work.”

P.S.—2d October.—“Since my last Mr. Penman went by my desire to St. John’s River in order to get what intelligence he could from Georgia, also to settle with the inhabitants there the means of protecting themselves from depredation from small parties of the Rebels: in consequence he wrote the enclosed letter of which I gave the Governor the perusal.

“I think Your Excellency should be informed that from the time

Major General Prevost left this place, the Lieutenant Governor Mr. Moultrie (a gentleman of South Carolina) has made it his constant business in all companies, even before officers, to say that Major General Prevost being in Georgia, his authority over the troops did not extend to this Province, and no Brigadier being here, the command devolved of course to the Governor.

“ I took no notice of such absurdity (thinking it proceeded from ignorance) until I found that it began to produce a bad effect amongst some of the staff officers.—I hope and wish that Your Excellency would be pleased to explain that matter.

“ One hundred and thirty negroes are at work (I expect more every day) and as they must be paid and I have no money Messieurs Penman and Man have undertaken to furnish me with the money requisite for that and other purposes, and will take bills drawn on Your Excellency.”

24 October.—“ Monday last an express came from the Nations who informed us that the Indians rec^d from the Spaniards presents of great value, amongst which were some casks of rum ; that the Indians listened with pleasure to their Talk upon which the Spaniards invited some of the Chiefs to the Havanna, with promises to send them soon back with three ships loaded with goods for them.

“ If this report be true it is more than probable that they will re-establish that Fort (which is a better one than that at Pensacola) in order to have an Harbour in the Bay, and to be at hand to indispose the Indians against us.

“ Not a man came from Savana since the express which brought me the letter from Major General Prevost of the 11th of last month, and all the report we have heard since from that quarter by people coming from Georgia is only hearsay and not fit to be transmitted to your Excellency.

“ One hundred soldiers & three hundred negroes are at work and I have the satisfaction to tell your Excellency that the covered ways and the glacis are almost finished, and that the artillery and stores are in good order, my greater want is powder & men. No preparation made yet by the Government here, except three insignificant galleys.”

GOV. PATRICK TONYN TO SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, September 25. St. Augustine.—Since receipt of letter of 20th October 1778 has written several to his Excellency. A report that Count Destaing and the French fleet were upon this coast has been confirmed by letters from Maj. Gen. Prevost and Sir James Wright. Encloses copies of those letters. Accounts of the rebels collecting at Augusta, that a General Scot is arrived from the north with continental troops that they expect to amount to near 4,000 ; their flying parties have spread over the whole of Georgia. Province greatly weakened by the help given to Maj. Gen. Prevost. Col. Fuser has undertaken repairs to fortifications of St. Augustine.

Expresses sent to Jamaica and Antigua to acquaint the Commanders in Chief of this event tho' he hopes Adl. Byron will have earlier intelligence and that he may have removed the Count from the "Languedoc."

JAMES PENMAN to LIEUT. COLONEL L. v. FUSER.

1779, September 26. Jericho.—“Dear Colonel, last war it was my lot to pay away millions of the publick money for carrying on the service in Germany, in this, I have had the honour to advance some thousands of my own, for the same purpose in America ; I leave you to judge which was the most profitable employment.—However, notwithstanding I am at this moment, independent of other services, almost £3,000 in advance for the Carolina Royalists, and have been so for more than a twelve month ; Your endeavours for the protection of the Province shall not be frustrated, and you may command my purse and credit as far as it will go.—I beg however to explain to you, that having no use for money at New York, I must request of you, to prevail upon Sir Henry Clinton to furnish me with bills upon London for those you may draw upon him in my favour.—You know enough of this country to be sensible, that a large sum in specie cannot be raised here, therefore if any considerable works are to be carried on, it will be absolutely necessary that Sir Henry Clinton should supply you with money from New York.—In the meantime I have ordered my people to honour your drafts for the sum you mention ; and I shall remain here in order to keep people quiet upon their settlements, to do everything in my power for the security of their properties, and to give you the earliest intelligence of the motions of the Enemy, if they should attempt anything against us whilst the siege of Savannah is depending.”

MAJ. GEN. WILLIAM PHILLIPS to GENERAL WASHINGTON.

1779, September 30. Elizabeth Town.—“ Sir, I take the opportunity of Mr. Commissary Mersereau’s express to inform you, Sir, that Major General De Reidesel and myself with our respective families are arrived at this place.”

“ To my great surprise I have received notice that we are to be detained and not suffered to go into New York agreeable to the tenour of the agreement settled, as I suppose, between Your Excellency and Sir Henry Clinton. . . .

“ I cannot express my feelings on this event, and acknowledge

I did not expect to be thus made to journey through the country under the expectation of receiving by your permission and participation, in which I am at last disappointed, a similar indulgence to what has been granted for some months to Brigadier General Thomson and Colonel McGaw who are the officers, as I understand, opposed to me in the parole exchange as approved of by Sir Henry Clinton and Your Excellency.

“I do not allow of any conduct of mine or Major General De Reidesel deserving this treatment and I am to hope, Sir, from Your known candour and honour an explanation.”

GEORGE ROME to JOHN ROBINSON.

1779, October 1. John Street, Adelphi.—Postponed calling again immediately after last appointment on account of the threatened invasion. Enclosed are the paragraphs in the letter then alluded to [not all identified]. Requests that the Commissary General might be instructed to co-operate with his own agents at Rhode Island in the choice of proper persons to adjust the amounts of rents, wharfage, etc., to be paid. When their Lordships are informed it is a custom to pay rents of stores and wharves so employed at New York he is sure he may expect speedy relief for it would be unjust if the Deputy Commissary at Rhode Island should enjoy emoluments of the remains of his (Rome's) estate saved from the Rebellion when those emoluments are insufficient to support himself. Does not wish any use to be made of last paragraph of enclosed copy at present.

THOMAS GOLDTHWAITE to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, October 2. New York.—“Since my arrival from Penobscot I have been in hopes of having the hon^r of an interview with your Excellency to lay before you the state of that country, & the importance of it to the crown, which by many years experience I must have a more adequate idea of than the cursory acquaintance of gentlemen who may differ from me in opinion.

“If it is of any consequence of the crown to subjugate Boston, Salem, Newbury &c. those principal seats of rebellion, the way to effect it is to cut off the eastern part of that province which is their only source for fuel, masts, spars, lumber of every kind &c.

“The post taken at Penobscot is a long step towards it, & if it shou^d be soon seconded by taking another post at Casco-bay or somewhere thereabouts, it wou^d compleat it; but if this shou^d be impracticable at this difficult time, it is of the utmost consequence, that the post already at Penobscot is secured. If the present arrangement of his Majesty's troops wont permit of a reinforcement there, at this time, I myself will undertake to raise a Battalion out of the militia of that country, which notwithstanding their seeming delinquency in their late unhappy situation, I'll pledge myself for it, that they will make as good subjects as any the King has got. 'Twas I, principally, y^t settled them in that country; I commanded them, & I fully know their principles, & have estate enough to carry into execution what I propose. Their numbers in this new settlement before these troubles came on were more than 2400 able men & whom I dare vouch, are principally our friends but if we neglect them & throw away that post, they most probably will become our enemies. I will enter into particulars & more fully explain those matters if your Excellency will be pleas^d to give me opportunity. I have the hon^r. &c.”

MAJ. GEN. WILLIAM PHILLIPS to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, October 5. Chatham in New Jersey.—Refers to two previous letters relating his arrival and detention at Elizabeth Town. Major Skinner has just informed him of an order that Riedesel and himself with their respective families should proceed back to Easton, Bethlehem or Reading in Pensilvania. Major Skinner has given permission for Lieut. Bibby to carry this letter to New York. Enquires if it might not be well to detain the flag ready to sail to Virginia until something is determined, as they would require to send every material for living if they are to return there having sold off all their furniture not conceiving it possible any obstructions could be made. Resolves of Congress upon which they are detained are of 27th and 28th September; is entirely ignorant of the motives. Is sorry for Riedesel as he has need of medical advice. Proposes to request an explanation and suggests if it would not be more proper to return to Virginia than to linger for the decision of the American Congress who so often alter their way of thinking upon the subject of his situation. Awaits the return of Lieut. Bibby with his Excellency's commands to set out from this place.

MAJ. GEN. WILLIAM PHILLIPS to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, October 6. Chatham in New Jersey.—Major Skinner accompanied Lieut. Bibby to Elizabeth Town to assist him in getting permission to go to New York, but on their arrival at Elizabeth Town, Major Hay, the Commandant, judged proper not to allow it. Had proposed to send in his baggage that it might be sent to Virginia in a flag if necessary; this, also, refused unless submitted to a strict search. Requests permission for an enclosed list of articles required by Madame de Riedesel to be sent to Elizabeth Town where an officer will remain to receive them. Should the flag sail immediately he begs only £4,000 may be sent and requests him to order Mr. Smith the Secretary to write an account of their situation to Virginia. Major General de Riedesel and himself set out for Easton to-morrow morning.

SIR HENRY CLINTON to MAJ. GEN. WILLIAM PHILLIPS.

1779, October 11. H[ead] Q[uarters] N[ew] Y[ork].—"My Dear Sir, I have your letter from Chatham & as you may well imagine am no less surprised than chargined at your disappointment. I trust yet, that as you were exposed to this very troublesome journey & allowed yourself to be elated with pleasing hopes from Gen^l. Washington's immediate orders, he will by his interposition on the occasion prevent your having any ground for complaint against him.

"I have given directions for your being supplied with the articles you ask for.

"You will from public report become acquainted with the measures which this & other circumstances have made me take with respect to prisoners. I am, with every wish for your welfare &c.

"I shall be much obliged to you if you will recommend Cap^t. Featherstone to succeed to Cap^t. Craig's Comp^y. in the 47th. I mean to interfere as little as possible in the promotions of the Convention Army, but I think he is intitled to a Company & I cannot give one any where else, he is besides an older Cap^t. Lt. than the gentⁿ. of that rank in the Reg^t."

SIR HENRY CLINTON to BRIG. GEN. FRANCIS McLEAN.

1779, October 20. New York.—Secret. “It was my intention in the uncertainty we were in what might be Count d’Estaing’s destination, and upon some conjectures gathered from intercepted dispatches, that Halifax was his object, to have reinforced you with (sic) men. These under General Stirling were embarked and waited the Admiral’s motions with the fleet to sail with him. I now am informed by him that the season is too far advanced to proceed with this expedition. He likewise represents to me that any design of the Enemy against you must e’er this have succeeded—have failed—or have been again set aside, as the same reasons which now influence him wou’d keep the French Squadron out of your seas at this time. No time was lost on my part from the hour that we had cause to be apprehensive on your account. I am happy to have no confirmation of the grounds on which we became so, and with less reluctance now yield to the necessity of withholding the reinforcement.

“You will have learnt that a reinforcement intended for Quebec on Gen^l. Haldimand’s requisition had been dispersed at sea. I shall be much obliged to you, if possible, to convey information of this disagreeable incident to him, and to give him assurances that as soon as the season of the year will permit it, another expedition shall sail to replace the former ; a measure I wished to have taken before the winter, but which the Admiral told me prudence would not have justified. I have however the satisfaction to believe that one of the causes which weighed for strengthening the Canadian Army is removed, Sullivan having by credible accounts relinquished his designs upon Detroit for this year & being it is said returned to Washington's Army."

BRIG. GEN. FRANCIS MCLEAN to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, October 20. Camp at Majebigwaduice.—Interruption caused by the last visit of the rebels and the necessity of destroying part of what had been before made, prevents the works for defence of the fort being completed this season. Garrison is to be huttet. Expects tranquillity of this Province may be disturbed, as a force is collecting on the coast and an armament fitting out at Boston : this place or Nova Scotia can only be their object. Is inclined to believe it is against this place from the clamour in New England raised by the British occupying it. Cannot determine anything relative to his return to Nova Scotia or the force to be taken until the enemy's intentions are decided. Two provision ships arrived from Halifax. Clothing for the 74th and 82nd Regiments required. Force in Nova Scotia very weak. Notwithstanding the lenity with which he has made it his study to treat them and the oaths of allegiance and fidelity taken by them, he cannot promise himself the assistance of ten inhabitants on the whole river ; the upper part is even in arms and had a skirmish with some of his people a few days ago. No assistance will be given by inhabitants on the river. Has given Capt. A. Campbell of 74th leave of absence to complete cure from a broken thigh. Hopes his Excellency will approve.

SIR HENRY CLINTON to BRIG. GEN. FRANCIS MCLEAN.

1779, October 28. New York.—The Admiral and himself have been induced to consider the improbability of an attack on Halifax at this season and have decided that the reinforcement shall not sail. D'Estaing may attack it in the spring. Recommends him to put his post in the best state possible and withdraw any detached posts he thinks may be of the least use; suggests that of Fort Cumberland.

MAJ. GEN. AUGUSTINE PREVOST to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, November 6. Savannah.—Death of Lt. Col. Maitland of the 71st, much and justly regretted. Encloses petitions for the vacancies. Hears from South Carolina that the rebels have no post of any consequence nearer than Sheldon. The greater part of that province in arms is collected at Charlestown which is being fortified. Is informed also that in the upper parts of this province they have nothing beyond a flying party lower than Augusta. Has heard nothing as yet of the Indians, their services always mercenary and precarious. In compensation for the work of the soldiers on the late occasion has ordered them a shirt a piece or other articles not exceeding two dollars per man. Captain Patrick Campbell requiring a sea voyage carries this dispatch. By real emergency of service, in particular to pay the Hessians, is obliged to draw bills on his Excellency. Arrival of the "Vigilant" and convoy, also ship with French officers and fifty men and a rebel galley which had surrendered. Sends letters from the Creek Nation and memorial from Major Graham.

PHILLIPS CALLBECK to CAPTAIN WILLIAM SPRY.

1779, November 9. Island of St. John, Charlotte Town.—Receipt of and thanks for letter of 20th Sept. Mr. Wright's thanks for his appointment as acting paymaster. Since receipt of last orders

Major Commandant Hierlihy gave orders for five additional embrasures to Pattison's Battery, also a small breast-work, in view of an invasion. Has been proceeding in an economical way with the barracks. The engineer's stores demanded are much wanted especially nails, window glass and hinges. Return of stores in hand shall be forwarded with other papers. The masons, Deane and Snigs, shall be paid and sent across through the country. Is preparing his accounts and intended to have proceeded to Halifax with them but was stopped in consequence of arrival of 200 Hessians under Col. De Borche. Their destination was Quebec but bad weather drove them back. Had to get them quartered and procure provisions. Will send accounts and attend him next April. As he is detained here proposes to discontinue the overseer and acting paymaster from last of November to 1st of May and prepare materials for works: desires orders on this head. Draws drafts in favour of Saml. Gay Esq. and Mr. Petr. Hall who have supplied him with cash. Certified true copy by W. Spry, Commanding Engineer, Halifax 27 Jan. 1780.

GENERAL VON SEITZ to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, November 10. Halifax.—That he had a letter from Col. de Bork announcing that owing to contrary winds, he had with the advice of Capt. Collins of the man of war, his convoy, landed with his men on the Island of St. John, and was setting about building huts. Lt. Col. Bruce has informed him that the vessel sent with provisions for that island before the arrival of the Hessians, was taken, having separated from her convoy. An armed vessel is now hired and loading with provisions, bedding, &c., for the Hessians and rest of troops. If a sufficiency cannot be sent it is suggested that 50 or 60 men should return in the transport.

JOHN ROBINSON to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, November 17. Treasury Chambers.—Acknowledges receipt of various letters. The fleet of victuallers with the last four months' supply was ready to sail on 6th October and only waited for a fair wind. It is proposed to send out four months' further supply early in the spring and continue the same in the months of April and July for the next year. Contracts have been entered into for this purpose for 53,000 men in New York. As to money the large remittance in specie by Admiral Arbuthnot would it is supposed be an ample supply and there has been issued, to answer bills, £350,000. Their Lordships wish to keep him sufficiently supplied but these demands are for a very large amount and he is desired to conduct this as frugally as possible.

LIEUT. COLONEL L. V. FUSER to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, November 21, St. Augustine.—“Since my last by the Rosebud privateer dated the 30th of last month a schooner came from Savanna with some private letters, who informed us that Monsieur D'Estain was gone, and that the coast was perfectly clear.

"Yesterday the Blonde Frigate anchored at the Bar and this morning I waited on Major General Leslie; he being anxious to know the fate of Savanna, I gave him the perusal of the copy of my last letter to your Excellency; I informed him also of the state of this place: what I had done: and what I was doing. I acquainted him also of the mode I took to pay the expences, by bills on your Excellency.

"He seemed perfectly satisfied and assured me that your Excellency would approve of that method.

"I could not have the satisfaction to see him on shore the wind blew fresh and fair; and Captain Barkeley was anxious to sail for Savanna, in order to return to York as soon as possible. The General told me that any information of what was necessary to be done for the security of this Province would be received kindly by your Excellency; consequently I take the liberty of inclosing a copy of a letter I now send to Major General Leslie, with a sketch of the inhabited part of this Province: happy shall I be if it meets with your Excellency's approbation.

"The works go on but not so briskly as I wish; since the news of the raising the siege of Savanna: most of the planters have retaken their negroes; and I am sorry to tell your excellency that the Governor's negroes were the very first who went away: I sent an officer to acquaint him with it; his answer was that he knew nothing of it, and that he would order them back, but he has not done it yet: The Lieutenant Governor and the Attorney General retook theirs also. So goes every thing here."

BRIG. GEN. FRANCIS MCLEAN to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, November 25. Halifax.—“Having remained at the new Settlement of Penobscot as long as the season would allow me, with any prospect of returning here with safety, and as long as I thought necessary for putting the post in the best posture of defence possible for this season;—I have the honor to acquaint you that I arrived here under convoy of His Majesty’s Ship Albany on the 23^d instant; I have brought here the detachment of my Regiment, except some artificers who were necessary to finish the huts, and some men who had been some time attached to the Artillery.

“Your Excellency will see by the inclosed return what that garrison now consists of, and as the Albany will return to that station in a few days, I propose sending by that opportunity 70 men of that part of the 74th Regiment here which will compleat them to about 500 men. I have the satisfaction to acquaint you that I have left the works in that forwardness that with the above garrison, I shall remain without any apprehensions for their safety.

“The fort is also well provided with every necessary, but as a considerable number of inhabitants have taken refuge on the peninsula, whose distressed situation renders it absolutely necessary that they should be supplied with provisions from the King’s stores,—I propose sending by the Albany a further supply of provisions to compleat their stock to the end of May allowing for the additional consumption on the above account.—The shortness of the time allowed me by the present opportunity will I hope appologize to your Excellency for my not sending, as I proposed, plans of what has already been done there, and of what I propose doing further. I shall have the honor of transmitting them by the next favourable occasion.”

Acknowledges letters. Has not yet been able to have any conversation with Mr. Bridgeman relative to the proposed plan for the Provincial Corps in this province. H. M. ship “North” sailed with three transports for Spanish River; believes there is a considerable quantity of coals dug there. Begs money. Will communicate to the troops and officers His Excellency’s acknowledgments, &c.

P.S.—In my last I acquainted your Excellency that the inhabitants on the river Penobscot were not so well inclined to afford us assistance as I could have wished; I have however now the satisfaction to inform you that the Rebel parties being all withdrawn; and an Order from the General Court at Boston forbidding any person being molested on account of the assistance they might afford us, everything was in perfect tranquillity when I left it, and I have great reason to believe the garrison will be well supplied with such necessaries as the country produces.—F.M.

On enquiry for the plan for the arrangement of the Provincial Corps in this Province mentioned in your Excellency’s letter of the 22^d October, I find by some mistake it was not inclosed as mentioned, as I have therefore no instructions on that head I am obliged to delay the putting it in execution till I hear again from your Excellency.—F.M.

MAJ. GEN. AUGUSTINE PREVOST TO SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, November 25. Savannah.—Would have wished the order to give over the command had been in Gen^l. Leslie's name instead of Brig. Gen^l. Garth's. Would have wished also to retire from the country, Col. Fuser being in his opinion a very proper person to defend St. Augustine. Ammunition and provisions both wanted there and actually but 200 of the King's troops in that province; 300 more would be wanted to defend it effectually.

Signed letter. Vol. 15, No. 230. 2 pages.

GENERAL VON SEITZ TO GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, November 25. Halifax.—That Brig. Genl. McLean arrived at Halifax 22nd inst. That he gave over command of the garrison to him this day. The troops behaved well in McLean's absence. The battery at George's Island finished and in complete order.

Signed letter. Vol. 53, No. 22. 1 page.

LORD AMHERST to LORD GEORGE GERMAIN.

1779, December 4. Whitehall.—Does not find any Captain André of the 54th Regt. There is a Capt. John André of the 26th who has been a captain twenty months and a Mr. Lewis André of the 44th. Cannot say either of these come under his (Germain's) description to merit the King's approbation as an old Captain, and though the rank in the Adjutant or Quarter Master General's Department does not go by seniority in the army yet some regard is supposed to be had to an officer's time of service.

[GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON] to JOHN ROBINSON.

1779, December 11. New York.—By the loss of the “Experiment” man of war taken by Count d’Estaing’s squadron we have lost £30,000 sterling which was sent in that ship for the subsistence of the troops and contingent expenses of the army in Georgia. It is some consolation however to think that the French and rebels have since paid dear for their late attempt on that brave garrison.

LIEUT. COLONEL L. V. FÜSER to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, December 12. St. Augustine.—“By the inclosed your Excellency will see that Lieutenant Colonel Dixon has been taken with all our troops on the Mississippi River by Don H. Galwas Governor of New Orleans; but by Captain William Thompson commander of the privateer brig the Gayton we learn that Lieutenant Colonel Dixon was obliged to capitulate for want of provisions; he told us also that Don Galwas’ army was composed for the most part of militia, blacks, and mullattoes.

“Should we receive a similar visit from the Havanna . . . I shall do what ought to be done; but I have not the gift to perform miracles. General Prevost . . . seems deaf to all my representations.—I have wrote him by this opportunity. . . . In my last I acquainted your Excellency that most of the planters had retaken their negroes from the King’s works, I have made a new application to the Governor; he promises that he will procure me some next week: I long to see the works finished as they ought to be.”

LORD CATHCART to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1779, December 17. New York.—In answer to the three questions : “ 1st. Upon what footing the waggons employed in the Quarter Master General's Department stood at the first landing on Long and Staten Islands in 1776 ? 2ly. What alterations have since been made upon that arrangement ; and by whom ? And 3ly. Upon what footing and by whom waggons are now furnished for the use of the Quarter Master General's Department ? ” To the first he replies that they were furnished by Lt. Col. Shireff who hired them from different contractors and paid them by the day. To the 2nd. that the train of waggons and horses brought over from England never having been adequate to the exigencies of the army or calculated for the service of this country having been reduced to a small number of worn out horses and unserviceable waggons they were set aside and that both were hired by Sir Wm. Erskine. To the 3rd., he states that the regulated hire which he pays is “ for one small waggon with one driver and two horses p. day £0 6s. 9d. sterling ; for one large waggon with one driver and four horses p. day £0 11s. 9d. sterling ; for a single horse p. day £0 1s. 8d. sterling.” That when he joined the Department he found the Regiments, Staff, Hessian Artillery, pontoon train &c. complete ; likewise a train equal to transporting 21 days provisions for 10,000 men. So great a number of regimental waggons and horses had been worn down this autumn that he was obliged to draft the lightest horses from the train to supply some of the troops from Rhode Island and has ordered strong horses to replace them. A marginal note is here inserted that "The good order in which the Foreign Corps keep their waggons and horses is a proof that the frequent deficiencies that happen in the British Corps are owing to want of care."

CHARLES JENKINSON to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, January 3. War Office.—Application having been made here for the pay of the garrison officers mentioned in the annexed list, which are borne on the garrison returns of North America but not provided for on the Establishment, desires that in case he should think it proper to continue them in their respective employments they may be paid out of the contingencies of the forces in America. Is of opinion that such appointments having hitherto been considered as temporary, they should not become a permanent charge on the Establishment. With respect to the claim of Mr. Goldthwaite whose commission as Barrack Master of Castle William is mentioned as dated the 16th. April 1775, though by some omission he has never been entered on the monthly return of the staff &c. he is totally uninformed, but must presume that his demand, if allowed, should be satisfied in like manner with other local and temporary employments in North America.

Magaw, and to acquaint you, that for the reasons assigned by your Excellency, the gentlemen therein mentioned have my permission to remain until the business they went out upon is compleated, as you say it will only detain them a very little time longer than was originally intended.”

BRIG. GEN. FRANCIS MCLEAN to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, January 25. Halifax.—Nothing of a private nature has happened except the loss of H.M.S. “North” and one of the transports of this harbour on their return from Spanish River. Capt. Selby and most of the crew of the “North” lost, also Capt. John McLean of the 84th and some men of the 70th. Gen. Haldimand does not mention any interruption of the tranquillity of that province. By an officer from Penobscot Lt. Col. Campbell reports everything quiet; the “Albany” with stores, provisions and a detachment of the 74th had arrived and the garrison consists of upwards of 500 men. The Provincial Corps has been successful in recruiting in Newfoundland; about 200 have arrived here. Will evacuate Fort Cumberland early in the spring. It will be necessary to keep Fort Howe, H.M. Commissioner having entered into contract for masts to be delivered under the fort. Clothing and camp equipage of the 84th and 74th gone to New York—distressed in consequence. Being without any ship of war expects to be blocked by rebel privateers. Capt. Spry has delivered his accounts for 1779. They appear enormous, amounting to £34,548 10s. 5¼d. but he produces copies of vouchers for every article. Expenses in the Quarter Master General's Department also heavy; thinks transports should be sent from New York to load coals at Spanish River.

Signed letter. Vol. 21, No. 163. 4 pages.

ABRAHAM STEVENS to GENERAL WILLIAM TRYON.

1780, January 25. New York.—Memorial. Since his discharge from the Queen's Rangers has been employed as a pilot in the Sound and was taken prisoner. MAJ. GEN. AUGUSTINE PREVOST to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, February 13. Savannah.—“ In my last I had the honor of acquainting you with the Death of Lt Colo^l Fuser since which Br General Patterson having made application to me for several requisits to enable him to proceed up this River, I immediately order'd a return to be given in to me of what remain'd in our several magazines, when I found that Captain MonCrieffe had taken away every carpenter—one excepted—all the intrenching tools and others that could be of any use—all the waggons with our best horses. That our large cannons have been taken off the batteries and our best artillery men taken with them. In short little or nothing remains in any of our publick stores that cou'd be of service in the diffence of this place or to assist in fitting out the expedition under Gen^l Patterson. I do not imagine there is any immediate apprehension in this quarter—but shou'd your Excellency propose pushing forward—I think it incumbent on me to lay before your Excellency the exact and actual state of both St. Augustine and Savannah for your Excellency's consideration.

Wishing that your Excellency's undertakings may meet with every success, that your most sanguine wishes can expect. I have the honor to be.”

1780, February 18. Head Quarters, Fenwick.—“Dear Sir, The Rebels seem to have collected their whole force for the defence of Charlestown which renders it expedient that I shou'd be prepared for every opposition they will be able to make.

“I find it therefore necessary to reverse my plan of operations in the back country for the present and to request that the 71st Regiment, the light Companies, the Legion Infantry, Ferguson's Corps, N. & S. Carolinians & York Volunteers may be in readiness to join us under B. Gen' Paterson.

“ But as I wou'd not abandon the advantage we may derive here from an invasion being supposed to impend the back settle^s I request you will let the publick and the troops remain in that opinion, and let every arrangement seem to tend to the movement first intended.

“ I shall send you back vessels for the conveyance of the above troops.

“ Yet as we are possessed of Stono Ferry & shall probably be in a short time on the Neck of Charlestown, I submit it to you whether the march by land would not be preferable, in which case all the cavalry you have might join us. You will be pleased to decide which is best and act accordingly.

“ I likewise desire you will if you think it advisable add more troops to what I have required or diminish the number if you find that necessary by striking off any corps, beginning with the N. York Volunteers which are last mentioned and so backward in the order I have written them down.

“ I think it necessary in case you move by land to inform you of certain regulations I have made to discountenance marauding, to gratify the soldier with an ample supply of provision and to prevent embezzlement of captured property.

“ To this end I enclose you an Extract from Gen. Orders—and I appoint Mr. — to attend you who will receive from Capt. Moncrieff and Major Hayes the instructions they have themselves in this business.—You find by this that no captured property whatsoever is to pass thro' the hands of any department but according to the arrangements alluded to.” Marked :—“ Copy to Gen^l. Prevost to be delivered first.”

Copy. Vol. 15, No. 237. 4 pages.

SIR HENRY CLINTON to [SIR JAMES WRIGHT].

1780, February 19. Head Quarters. Fenwick.—Similar to the first two paragraphs of the foregoing to Prevost. In the meantime he is to be so good as to hold out the movement to Augusta as still in contemplation. Col. Innes will inform him of wishes with respect to other operations on which he has not time to enter.

Signed letter. Vol. 15, No. 240. 2 pages.

GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON to [COLONEL INNES].

1780, February 19.—“ Dear Sir, As I know your zeal for the service I will make no apology for requesting you to proceed with my dispatches as quick as possible on board to the Admiral who will be so good to give you a safe conveyance in some armed ship to Savanna. By the inclosed letter to Gen^l Prevost you will see that I wish all the troops that can be spared may join us, as soon as possible; tis the opinion of all here particularly of Capt. Moncrieff that the shortest way will be by land, Gen^l Paterson will command, and if I mistake not you will be next, the position we shall have taken will cover your march. I do not think it right to send a positive order for their march by land, but I am clear that Gen^l Prevost from a conversation I had with him will think it right they should, and if you and G. Paterson should think with me, you may, if he hesitates, produce this in more positive order for that purpose. For God's sake keep your troops under regulation during the march, particularly the Creeks, what think you of bringing an old sachem and Creek young warriors with you, I wish them to see our army, and operations; reconcile Col. Brown to remaining behind with the Indians; the instant Charlestown is ours he shall have my orders respecting them, in the mean time, as I told him, I would do everything to keep them in good humour. I do not recollect that I have any thing else to say to you but to wish you a good voyage & speedy junction with us upon the Ashley. Your ob^t St H. Clinton."

"You will of course bring with you all the cattle you can get, but for God's sake no irregularities. Col. Brown will in proper time explain to the Indians the reason of our changing our plans."

MAJOR GENERAL AUGUSTINE PREVOST to The Commander in Chief [GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON].

1780, March 2. Savannah.—“On the 28th ult^o I had the honor to receive by Colonel Innes your Excellency’s letter of the 18th and in consequence of your wishes, every thing is fixed for proceeding by land, and on the 4th instant the troops destined will march with Brig^r General Patterson to Ebenezer; and as they are to go higher up the River about ten miles for the facility of getting their artillery and horses across—there is not the least doubt but that the Rebels will suppose the rout of these troops to be towards Augusta.

“In compliance with the orders through Captain MonCrieffe to the Dep^y Quart^r M^r Gen^l—and further at the desir^e of B^r G^l Patterson, they have taken the remaining part of the Field Artillery that was left here, with it what was in store for their Service—as also all the musquet cartridges we had. Your Excellency will observe that by rendering this place undefencible—that the troops in it will be in the greatest danger—for want of ammunition artillery engineers &c —St. Augustine is in the same predicament—I therefore judge it my indisspensable duty to represent the same to your Excellency—as I make not a doubt that if it is in your power you will send to both places enough to prevent that the troops there shou^d afford a triumph to our enemies without shame to themselves. The death of Lt. Col. Fuser more particularly calls for assistance in that quarter.

“Your Excellency’s orders about marauding I will give to General Patterson and I have appointed () to attend him and to receive the instructions from Major Hay’s & Captain MonCrieffe that they are furnished with on that business.

“The Indians being in great dread of the small pox—which at present rages in all the lower part of this Province are desirous of going away which it will be difficult for me to prevent—if we wish them to remain our friends—they are not people to be employed in the diffence of a place; they can not suffer the appearance of being shut up. More of them were expected but I think that expresses shou^d be sent to detain them. . . .

“P.S.—I beg your Excellency will be so good and give me an answer about the necessary appointment of D^r Hill as Inspector of Regimental Infirmaries agreeable to Doctor Roberts’ requisition.”

Signed letter. Vol. 15, No. 243. 2 pages.

MAJ. GEN. AUGUSTINE PREVOST to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, March 2, Savannah.—Reminds of the liberty given him to return to England. The time of the year is come when he is rendered unfit to be of any essential service particularly in a place where no skill can keep off the enemy.

Signed letter. Vol. 15, No. 245. 1 page.

[SIR HENRY CLINTON] to MAJ. GEN. AUGUSTINE PREVOST.

1780, March 8. Head Quarters, James's Island.—“D^r Sir, I have received your letter of the 2^d March, and am satisfied to learn that the troops will be in motion the 4th. I am sorry you should think the state of Savannah and Augustine so critical from their being so drained of artillery and stores. You shall receive supplies as soon as they can be procured. In the mean time I hope you will agree with me in the little probability there is of any attempt on these places, particularly on Savannah, and you will also permit me to observe that the situation of this last is far less precarious than at the time of the former incursions into the province.

“You will be so good as to act w^h respect to the Indians as you propose & only retain their goodwill & let them understand they are to expect to be called upon shortly.

“Should you wish to repair your redouts or as I recommend it to you to contract your defences by forming a kind of citadel at the Bluff where the old battery stood, an engineer whom I shall send will undertake that work.”

MAJ. GEN. AUGUSTINE PREVOST to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, March 8. Savannah.—“B^r Gen^l Patterson was not in readiness to march with his Brigade—consisting of the Troops order'd by your Excellency before the 5th instant which day he left this place—since which we have had a great deal of rain and by a letter I this instant receive from the Brigadr of yesterday's date he informs me from Ebenezer—that the country was over flow'd and that the roads would for some days be impassable.

“It is my opinion that if your Excellency is in immediate want of this body of troops—that transports ought immediately to be order'd round to embark them—least the present weather shou'd retard if not altogether prevent his crossing the River particularly having such a train as he has. When I advised they shou'd proceed by land, I expected they would have been ready sooner—and I was confirmed in that determination by Colonel Innes intimating that it was also agreeable to your Excellency's intentions—and it wou'd have been most eligible—had they crossed before the rains.”

P.S.—I have the honor to acquaint your Excellency that L. Col. Tarlton with the dismounted troopers are gone in boats with Mr James Frazer, appointed Commissary of Captures, to go through the Islands in order to endeavour to remount themselves—but am unacquainted with the instructions given them by B. Genl Patterson.

GOV. SIR JAMES WRIGHT to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, March 18. Savannah in Georgia.—"Sir, As I have some reason to believe that a letter I had the honor to write to your Excellency on the 3^d instant, did not get to your hands I now send a copy—Viz.—‘It is with the utmost concern that I have learnt your Excellency has altered your plan with respect to the route & operations of the troops in this Province, & that instead of going to Augusta, they are to cross this River & proceed towards Charlestown, and I can only lament that this Province will be exposed to the utmost danger, and the Rebels I presume command the whole country within twenty miles or less of Savanah—and with respect to the Indians, the Cherokees, Sir, you may depend will not stay here, & I wish may not go away in disgust, and the Creeks being stop’t and sent home again, most like may be disgusted also, and however these people may be thought useless in the field—your Excellency will be pleased to recollect that I had the honor to mention to you here my opinion of the consequence of Indians, and that if they were against us they would harass the King’s Troops in any march, & receive the Rebels amongst them, and I feared we could never subdue the rebellion.

“ ‘We have no naval force here (unless the Fowey is at Tybee)—we have no works constructed at Cockspur as was agreed & intended to be done—and almost any trifling force may come up the River, and destroy everything in it and I consider this Province as left in such a state as it may easily fall a prey to the Enemy—especially if any small foreign force should come on our coast & we have little or no cannon & ammunition, and His Majesty’s royal instructions and intentions with respect to the civil government & department in this Province (which I had the honor in part to acquaint your Excellency with) are totally frustrated.—It is very painful to me to mention these matters, but my duty to the King, to the people here, & to myself, compel me to do it. I most heartily wish your Excellency all possible success & that you may be laureled & long live to enjoy the honor of them. I have the honor to be with perfect esteem,’ ” &c.

MAJ. GEN. AUGUSTINE PREVOST to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, March 30. Savannah.—The store ship of ordnance will be taken away to-morrow under care of Capt. Henry. The Governor alarmed by rebels appearing on the south side of Ogeechee river. "I immediately order'd a detachment of one Captain & sixty men to march and endeavour to find out what they were and if practicable to intercept them. Capt. Conclin of the 1st Battn. of Genl. Delancy's Brigade who commanded, by too much zeal brought his men to a place where the Enemy had concealed themselves who upon giving their fire wounded him and one of the subalterns with six men, the Captain is since dead, and likewise two of the men. Receiving information that the Enemy were 300 strong and well mounted I sent another party of the King's Rangers with the remainder of the 1st Battⁿ. of Delancy's which has obliged the Rebels to retreat, but not before they had burned all the barns of rice belonging to the Governor's farms in that district, and carrying away as many of the negroes as they could. Our detachment is not as yet returned and I this moment received information from Lt. Governor Graham that he was threaten'd with the like visitation at his plantation called Monteath, but as they are on horse back and we have none, they will by all appearance likewise here make their retreat. On their way they met with a small party of Indians, kill'd four men and one woman and took one man two boys and a girl prisoners." These depredations might have been avoided if the volunteers had not been dispersed. Requires warrants for holding general courts martial.

[GENERAL KNYPHAUSEN] to GENERAL WASHINGTON.

1780, April 6. New York.—I have had the honor of receiving your Excellency's letter of the 27th ultimo respecting Mr. Pintard ; Any restriction in point of time exacted from him appears to be inconsistent, as his return does not wholly depend upon me ; I cannot, however, but be of opinion, that as far as his parole may have extended to restrain the freedom of speech, it was a necessary precaution, as his avowed intention was to return to N. York. It rests with you, Sir, to allow this to take place whenever you please ; but if it is expected that Mr. Pintard will be allowed to reside here in a public character, I must again beg leave to acquaint you that a claim of this nature is inadmissable. I have the honor to be, &c.

GOVERNOR SIR JAMES WRIGHT to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, April 6. Savannah in Georgia.—Sir, yesterday I had the honor to receive your Excellency's letter of the 25th ulto. by which you are pleased to refer me to General Prevost for information relative to the arrangements made for the security of this Province. What they may be, I am yet unacquainted with—the only posts which General Prevost has acquainted me with or that I know of, are at Ebenezer & Abercorn, till very lately a small party was sent to Oggechee Ferry, after the Rebels had been down and broke up and destroyed all my plantations and some others in that neighbourhood.

I have received petitions from the very much distressed and loyal inhabitants who have been drove from their settlements in St. George's Parish and downwards to St. Phillips—Conoochee &

Medway, for assistance & protection, all which have been laid before General Prevost, but he says it is not in his power to fix posts anywhere to the southward of Ogechee—In short Sir, this Province is or will be broke up and totally ruined if something is not speedily done—And I know of nothing but what I formerly proposed to your Excellency, and a party of horse that can give us any tolerable peace or security here.

I am very clear that your Excellency will do everything in your power for His Majesty's service in general, and I well know the great consequence of the object before you—but how far it may not be expedient to take care of what you have got is submitted.

On the 6th of Novem^r last, I wrote Lord Geo. Germain that a body of about 150 horse would be of the greatest use in scouring the country and routing any parties of Rebels that might attempt to disturb us—for those who come to do mischief are generally on horseback—and before any detachment on foot can get near them they are gone off, and that I thought 150 horse would be more serviceable than 500 foot.—And yesterday I had the honor to receive a letter from his Lordship of the 19th January wherein he writes—“The utility of a corps of horse for scouring the woods “and covering the frontiers of the Province (Georgia) is very “evident, and I have the satisfaction to acquaint you that Sir “Henry Clinton is so sensible of it, that in consequence of his “requisition, accoutrements for 300 horse are sent out to Georgia “by a ship that sails with the vessel that carries this dispatch”—So that I hope it will soon be in your Excellency's power to take care of us—and I am still clearly of opinion that 150 to 200 horse will have a better effect in the Province than 600 foot—But Sir there will now be a grand difficulty in getting horses—for I fear there are none to be got anywhere near town—and people will not venture to go far back—in fact Sir, all the horses, boats & waggons that could be found or got at were pressed and taken when your Excell^y moved into Carolina—and when General Paterson went there was another sweep made and every brute that could scarce walk was carried away, but everything in my power shall be done to the utmost—And when your Excellency may be pleased to embody a party of horse for the service of this Province, I hope every gentleman, met, will exert to assist in getting horses for them.

When your Excellency was here I gave you a few hints with respect to my ideas—and I am still of the same opinion, and much wish it had been possible to have sent a party into the back country to have gone down towards Charles Town. And the more I think of it, the more I am confirmed in my opinion, that your Excellency would have found it of infinite service towards the reduction of that Province—I shall be very happy to give your Excellency any intelligence in my power—and have the honor to be, with perfect esteem, Sir y^r Excellency's most obed^t serv^t.

MAJ. GEN. AUGUSTINE PREVOST TO SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, April 7. Savannah.—Acknowledges two letters of 24th ult. The rebels are gone off after carrying away several negroes and burning the rice and barns, and as the inhabitants are apprehensive of another visit has it in view to form a corps of cavalry composed of MaGirt's people and to employ himself. Has received £12,000 from the contractors for payment of troops under his command but as he has none here but the Hessians, if some of the receipts for pay of 71st regt. were sent he would make a charge against them and apply what he has to other purposes.

MAJ. GEN. AUGUSTINE PREVOST to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, April 12. Savannah.—Encloses extract of a letter sent by express from Mobile to the Indian Commissary to persuade a number to repair to Pensacola to assist in repelling the Spaniards. Recommends Lieut. Law late of the 60th regt. who has been obliged to sell his commission to pay his debts and to whom he has given a warrant to raise a company in Brown's corps. A second party of rebel cavalry has been in the neighbourhood; in consequence another corps has been stationed between the Ogechee and the Savannah. If his Excellency will order some receipts to be sent such as have been given for payment to the troops he will appropriate the £12,000 (sent for that purpose) to defray expenses for new works and payment of forage money for 1779. P.S.—Forwards copy of a letter from Capt Campbell to Major Glasier.

GOVERNOR SIR JAMES WRIGHT to LT. GOV. JOHN GRAHAM.

1780, April 20. Savannah.—They are again pestered with plundering parties of rebels. All John Fox's (?) negroes reported taken and the negro houses burnt. The same who burnt his own barns are said to be coming down again to burn destroy and lay waste the whole country. "The grand objects are negroes and to destroy all our provisions, and pray what is to hinder them? My opinion is still the same that nothing can save this Province, but a post at Augusta and a strong corps of horse. I understood General Prevost last night that he would send immediate orders to McGirt to collect what men he can and come over Ogechee River and he has consented that I give authority to Capt. Ferguson (who you may remember offered to raise a party of horse about a month ago) to raise what men he can without delay." Does not write to Sir Henry Clinton as his time and thoughts are otherwise employed. Respects to Lord Cornwallis.

MAJ. GEN. WILLIAM PHILLIPS to LIEUT. COL. MARSH.

1780, April 22. New York.—In answer to letter of the previous day states that Sir Guy Carleton in Canada signified in his public orders in the campaign of 1776 that all officers upon short pay were to be paid their full pay. There are officers of the Convention troops in this predicament and the difference of pay is charged in the half yearly contingent bills. Cannot say if Sir Guy gave this order at his own particular instance or authority or by his Majesty's commands. If he did it from motives of generosity it has been, he would imagine, approved of by the King.

MAJ. GEN. AUGUSTINE PREVOST to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, April 22. Savannah.—Forwards dispatches received from Pensacola. Suspects the enemy's next attempt will be against St. Augustine. Reminds him of the unprotected state of that garrison of which the Spaniards are well apprised through some of their own nation and the disaffected Minorcans residing there. Transmitted to Gov. Dalling and the Commander in Chief of H.M. squadron on that station (Jamaica) the declaration made by the captain of the packet that brought the dispatches from Pensacola. As soon as the captain is refitted he will proceed to that Island.

GOVERNOR SIR JAMES WRIGHT to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, May 10. Savannah in Georgia.—Thanks for approving of Genl. Prevost's raising a corps of horse and allowing the militia pay and subsistence while on actual service. Sees that it will be difficult to get proper officers to command whose loyalty can be depended on, likewise that it will be difficult to get horses. If his son may add a troop of horse to his foot, there will be trustworthy officers and the gentlemen will assist in furnishing horses. P.S.—Has received information of the capture of the Crown galley with saddles and accoutrements on board and that she was afterwards retaken by a Bermuda privateer.

GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON to BRIGADIER GENERAL FRANCIS McLEAN.

1780, May 12. Charles Town.—Receipt of letters of 25 and 26 January. Charlestown surrendered this day upon proper terms. 7,000 effectives made prisoners of war and all the shipping, artillery, ordnance stores etc. have fallen into his hands. Hopes the rest of the Province will soon be reduced. Requests an account of monies issued to the commissaries in the district under his command in accordance with directions of the Treasury. Desires he will assist Maj. Gen. Robertson by sending coal from the mines on Spanish River. If reinforcements are necessary for the defence of Halifax he is to withdraw some of the outposts. Marked:—"Sent to Sir Andrew Hammond by Serjt. Pascow of the 23rd Grenadiers at one o'clock the 13th May."

Two copies. Vol. 21, Nos. 127 and 128. 3 pages each.

CHARLES JENKINSON to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, May 12. War Office.—Col. O'Hara of the Coldstream Guards appointed to command the detachment of Foot Guards vice Genl. Mathew who returns to Europe. He is also appointed to serve as Brigadier in North America from 30th of last month.

Copy. Vol. 20, No. 104. 1 page.

MAJ. GEN. JOHN CAMPBELL to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, May 13. Head Quarters Pensacola.—Contrary to expectations, Pensacola remains still unattacked. Accounts for this by the fact that the enemy's fleet finding that Don Galvez was not here stood to the westward and was, it is supposed, deceived by the appearance of two sloops of war with merchant and transport vessels from Jamaica all of which it is said were taken for frigates and sloops of war. The Spaniards give out they have 7,000 land troops, but private intelligence reduces this to 4,000. The delay may also have been intended to weary out a large body of Indians assembled here for its protection and who cannot be confined long to any one place. Their numbers are daily diminishing and they have positively fixed their departure at the end of five or six days. In default of presents they carry off horses and black cattle. On the 11th ult. a proposal was received from Don Galvez for the neutrality of the Indians. Copy of that and answer enclosed. By Capt. Addenbrooke's arrival from Jamaica received duplicate of letter of 12 August with accompanying papers. Neither original nor orders referred to have arrived. Thanks for his attention to this post as appears by letters to Gov. Dalling and to Admirals Byron and Sir Peter Parker, but only provisions have been received. Observes that he has not answered directly the prayer of Lt. Col. Stiell and Dickson and Capt. Johnstone. The Regiment of Waldeck think themselves particularly aggrieved in being detached to so disagreeable a part of the world, with dear provisions, and harassed in erecting works and without bat and forage money. As he counts on a favourable answer to his application begs that a state of the allowance be sent from the Quarter Master General's Office. Having despaired of receiving an answer to his letter of 10 February 1779 took upon himself the junction of the Pennsylvania and Maryland Loyalists. Will wait further answer before replacing them on their former footing. Their conjoined number at present is only 267 rank and file. Trusts his providing clothing for the Provincials will be approved as none has been received from New York. The pay of Capt. Barbur, commissary general for Pensacola, does not pass through his hands; cannot therefore stop allowance for a deputy. Is sorry to learn his disapprobation of the appointment of a paymaster. It is not trifling; the yearly accounts will not fall short of £36,000; thinks Major Campbell not only capable but worthy of confidence and justly merited 10/- a day. Lt. O'Connor of the 37th has leave to go to Savannah. Recommends him for compensation for baggage lost two years ago. Recommends Lt. Hugh Mackay Gordon of the 16th and Lt. Heldring of the 3rd Regt. Waldeck. 15 May.—Yesterday arrived the "Mentor" man of war, Capt. Deans, from Jamaica, lately purchased by Sir Peter Parker, formerly the "Who's Afraid" privateer. Marked:—"Received by Lt. Gordon the 1st August 1780."

MAJ. GEN. JOHN CAMPBELL to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, May 18. Pensacola.—Private.—Dear Sir, By my publick despatches of this date to your Excellency, you will plainly perceive the disagreeable situation we are in here at present. The monthly returns of the forces under my command are transmitted you by this opportunity. I sincerely hope I shall prevail with your Excellency to order such a reinforcement as you may judge proper for our relief as soon as possible,—at the same time give me leave to assure you, that every exertion in my power shall be used in defending our works on Gage Hill, to the last extremity, against any force that Don Galvez can bring to attack us.—It only grieves me I have not sufficient strength to act offensively, I therefore earnestly beg and entreat your Excellency will be pleased to reinforce me with such troops as shall enable me to retaliate, which will afford me real pleasure & satisfaction, and more than probable may be the means of gaining honour & glory to His Majestys arms in this quarter of the continent. Otherwise permit me to solicit your Excellency for permission to join the army, rather than remain here, with such troops as compose my pitifull command, without the least chance of serving with credit to myself or with honour and advantage to my royal master,—pestered with innumerable difficultys, and a multiplicity of perplexing business—you may therefore conceive my feelings in my present situation, which I humbly submit to your serious consideration.

That you may keep your health at all times be fortunate in success is the ardent wish of, dear sir, your very faithfull & most obedient servant.

GOVERNOR PAT. TONYN TO GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, May 27. St. Augustine.—Private. Hopes for success. "I cannot doubt of your Excellency's having heard that a desperate faction did greatly disturb this province, who have exerted themselves in execrating every measure of Government, and in opposing and censuring every step taken by me to distress the rebels, and endeavoured by every infernal artifice to dash this province into the same rebellious state with the other colonies. I happily however in great measure broke this faction, although not entirely extinguished. The principal leaders were Mr. Drayton the Chief Justice, Mr. Penman, Doctor Turnbull, and Mr. Mann, and some of our military were not blameless.

"Upon an invasion September 1776, General Prevost and Lt Colonel Fuser from that faction waited upon me; they proposed to bind this province in a neutrality with the rebels in Georgia. . . . I treated it with detestation.

"Mr. Penman, who was a clerk to Peter Taylor in Germany, has been invariably the first and most insolent in this opposition, and chief gladiator to Drayton: I shall mention only one instance which I think ought to preclude him from any office of trust or emolument under Government. Upon another invasion in 1777, of this province by the rebels, at one of their factious cabals on Saint John's River he proposed to go in person with a flag of truce from the inhabitants, and to enter into terms of capitulation by which they were to pay a stipulated sum to the rebels. I take no notice of the repeated insults he means to offer me. . . . Even to this period Penman, Turnbull and Man at their meetings and in conversations reprobate the measures of Government adopted to suppress the rebellion, thereby brooding mischief in the minds of the people.—Drayton's suspension was confirmed by the King.

"I have presumed to acquaint you thus briefly, because I understand these gentlemen have expectations of employments in the army departments, and from Mr. Penman's being appointed to act as a commissary."

GOV. SIR JAMES WRIGHT to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, May 27. Savannah.—Congratulations on the capture of Charlestown. Is happy that steps are to be taken for the security of this province. Will be pleased to give any advice or assistance in his power to Colonel Clarke.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 15, No. 274. 1 page.

LT. COL. ALURED CLARKE to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, May 28. Savannah.—Arrived on 25th and delivered his Excellency's letters to Maj. Gen. Prevost and Sir Jas. Wright who had not made any provision of boats nor did he find any in the public departments. The removal of the Trumbach regiment is therefore deferred till further orders. This place totally divested of every convenience necessary for transporting provisions with Lt. Col. Brown's detachment which occasions a short delay. Lt. Col. Brown proposes crossing the Savannah above Ebenezer and going to Augusta by the road on the Carolina side of the river, assuring that his progress will be equally quick and secure. Prevost's departure has so fully occupied the gentlemen in the different departments that the necessary enquiries into their situations have not yet been made.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 15, No. 275. 4 pages.

[SIR HENRY CLINTON] to MAJOR GEN. JOHN CAMPBELL.

1780, May 28. Head Quarters, Charlestown, S.C.—Acknowledges various letters with copy of the capitulation of Fort Charlotte, Mobile and other enclosures. Hopes Sir Peter Parker has sent assistance to Pensacola. This place capitulated on 12th inst. with 6,000 prisoners and a large depot of stores and artillery. Encloses copy of capitulation and proclamation since issued. Cornwallis will be left in command of this district. 5,000 men marched on an expedition to the back country where a favourable disposition shows itself.

Draft. Vol. 13, No. 112. 1 page.

GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON to EARL CORNWALLIS.

1780, May 28. Charlestown, Hd. Qrs.—Major Ferguson is appointed inspector of militia and Major commandant of the first battalion that shall be raised. Sends blank commissions for militia.

SIR HENRY CLINTON to GOVERNOR PATRICK TONYN.

1780, May 28. Head Quarters, Charlestown.—Acknowledges letters of 17th and 18th ult. Thanks for his assistance. Will replace by the earliest opportunity the ordnance stores spared and as far as possible other supplies. Has no power to send provisions having but a scanty supply himself and 4,000 more mouths to feed. Has ordered Captain Campbell of the corps of engineers to Charlestown and has appointed Maj. Moncrief to superintend and inspect the fortification in the Southern District. Will be happy to favour his wishes with regard to Mr. Lovett. This place surrendered by capitulation on the 12th by which 6,000 prisoners and a large depot of stores and artillery are acquired. P.S.—Will leave in a few days leaving Cornwallis in command.

Copy. Vol. 17, No. 103. 2 pages.

CAPTAIN WM. SPRY to BRIG. GENERAL FRANCIS McLEAN.

1780, May 28. Halifax.—The leave of absence signified in the Commander in Chief's letter of 25th Decr. is not the leave solicited of his Excellency. The request was for six months in the fall of the year, after the campaign was over, meaning to return in the spring. Is concerned the application should have been misconstrued. Begg to remain in his command as his reputation would suffer should he leave now an attack is expected. Requests him to communicate the purport of this letter to his Excellency and obtain six months leave when the service will admit.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 21, No. 170. 2 pages.

Enclosed by Brig. Gen. McLean to Sir H. Clinton 19 June.

LIEUT. COLONEL THOMAS BROWN to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, May 29. Savannah.—Mr. Moore, commissary and store-keeper of Indian presents and provisions at St. Augustine, has laid before him sundry accounts of expenses incurred by order of Gov. Tonym for subsistence and presents for visiting Indians, amounting to £1,005 7s. 2d., which accounts not coming within his estimate he cannot discharge without His Excellency's approval. These Indians being accustomed to go frequently to St. Augustine it was impossible to wean them all at once, especially last winter when there was almost a famine amongst the Lower Creeks, and the Governor thought it more proper to incur expense to keep "our red allies in a good temper than to send them back disgusted." Mr. Moore is directed to wait and receive orders. Marked:—"Opened by Genl. Paterson Command^g in Charles Town and referred to His Excellen^y the Commander in Chief. G. Benson M.B. 17 June 1780."

Two copies. Vol. 30, Nos. 147 and 190. 3 pages and 2 pages. Enclosed by Gov. Tonym to Sir G. Carleton 13-14 Nov. 1782.

SIR HENRY CLINTON to GOVERNOR SIR JAMES WRIGHT.

1780, May 29.—When at Savannah there were communicated to him some regulations which had taken place in Georgia respecting the appropriating of rebel property towards relieving and rewarding "Friends of Government." As some such measures may become necessary in this province asks a copy to be forwarded to his assistant secretary Capt. Russell, who remains at Charles Town, for the information of Lord Cornwallis who will have the command there. P.S.—Thinks steps should be taken to prevent Friends of Government coming hither from Georgia.

GOVERNOR SIR JAMES WRIGHT TO SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, June 1.—Savannah.—“ In November last I took the liberty to inform Lord George Germain that during the siege it was thought necessary and for his Majesty’s service, that my barn, rice machine, overseer’s house, and other buildings on my plantation, adjoining the town common, should be pulled down, and that they were so, and the materials used for making platforms, &c., &c., and I mentioned that I conceived I had reasonable claim on Government to have satisfaction or a recompence for the same, to which his Lordship, in a letter to me of the 19th of January last, writes that “ the damages the King’s loyal subjects have sustained by the execution of measures judged necessary to be taken by the King’s troops for the defence of the province, appears to deserve consideration, and I should think the officer who caused the injury to be done ought to appreciate the damage, and report it to the Commander-in-Chief, who, if he thinks it a proper military contingency, has it in his power to make compensation to the sufferers, and this course I should recommend to be followed by all who have had the misfortune of sustaining losses in that way.”

“ I therefore have the honor to enclose your Excellency Major Moncrief’s certificate, and the valuation of my buildings by three gentlⁿ of character here, who were well acquainted with them, and competent judges of such matters.

“ I hope to be favoured with your Excellency’s answer, and that you will be of opinion that it is a proper military charge or contingency, and that you will be pleased to admit my claim.”

GENERAL WASHINGTON to LIEUT. GENERAL KNYPHAUSEN.

1780, June 2. Head Quarters, Morris Town.—“I beg leave to acquaint your Excellency that Congress have been pleased to empower me, by a late resolution, to authorise an agent or commissary of prisoners to be appointed on your part, to reside in these States, with powers similar to those which may be granted to and permitted to be exercised by a like officer appointed by us, to reside within your lines. As this is a business very interesting to humanity—and particularly so to the prisoners in our respective possessions—it is with great pleasure I make the communication, and it will rest entirely with you to place the matter on the most liberal footing. Your Excellency has only to inform me that such an agent will be allowed on our part to reside with you, and of the powers he will be permitted to exercise, and you will be at liberty to appoint one to reside with us, at any place except Philadelphia, with the same privileges. I know that difficulties have attended the overtures which have been made heretofore to effect this humane purpose, but I trust they will no longer exist, as the proposition is founded in equality, and must be mutually interesting to both parties.

“If the proposition I make is agreed to, and on which I request your Excellency will favor me with an early answer, Mr. Lewis Pintard will immediately return to New York as our agent. If it is not, your Excellency will be pleased to permit Mrs. Pintard and the rest of Mr. Pintard’s family to come out, as he does not incline to return unless it is in a public character.

“Should Mr. Pintard be allowed to return as our agent, it is proposed that he shall take with him several sets of exchange, with a view of negotiating them for the benefit of our officers who are prisoners. I should hope that this measure will not be objected to, as it is usual in like cases, and as the indulgence has been permitted by us. I shall be obliged by your Excellency’s answer also on this subject.”

GOVERNOR SIR JAMES WRIGHT to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, June 2. Savannah.—Refers to previous applications relative to establishing a corps of horse for the protection of the province. Received Mr. Graham’s letter of 29 April acquainting him, by his Excellency’s directions, that upon making application to General Prevost, whatever number of horse should be deemed necessary for that service would be embodied and paid if they could be raised in the province and by proper persons. Wrote to Gen. Prevost, who answers that he had directed Col. Brown to prepare officers and men to be in readiness to mount two troops whenever proper appointments should arrive, and thus, he believes, that matter rests. Mr. Graham also wrote that there was no objection to employing parties of militia as a temporary service, and as they were persons generally who had suffered by the rebellion they should be paid and subsisted while on actual service. In consequence of this has embodied three small parties of about 24 each. The first party consisted of people from St. George's parish who had been driven in from their settlements. As soon as they heard a part of the army was going into the country they asked to be discharged and return home. Their pay amounts to £35 16s. 1½*d.*, which he has paid out of his own pocket. Asks directions thereon. Desires protection of a ship of war.

GOVERNOR SIR JAMES WRIGHT to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, June 3. Savannah.—Your Excellencie’s letter of the 29th of May I had the honor to receive just now, & have sent a copy of the Secretary of State’s letter to me relative to the appropriation of Rebel property to Capt. Russell as you desire. [See this under 9 July, 1779.] And it makes me very happy to hear that your Excellency has the greatest reason to believe that every inhabitant from Pedee to Savanah are in the interest of Government, & ready to take up arms in its support.

It has always been clearly my opinion that the greatest part of the inhabitants have all along wished to return to their allegiance, but were over awed and prevented. And I have told Col. Clark, since he came here, that I should be exceedingly disappointed if great numbers did not come over, and think themselves happy in having an opportunity so to do. And on this great event I most sincerely congratulate your Excellency.

With respect to the friends of Government now here, & who are going to Charles Town, I have not heard of any but merchants

& people who have business to transact there, but if others are going I conceive that I have not any right, nor is it in my power to restrain or prevent the King's loyal subjects who have committed no offence from going to Charles Town or elsewhere.

LIEUT. COLONEL JOS. GOREHAM to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, June 18. Halifax.—“Sir,—I obtained permission from Brigadier Gen. M'Lean to leave Fort Cumberland in December last, but the severe weather setting in could not march for some weeks, and after 14 days on snow shoes I arrived here, the 20th of February last, after being at that remote outpost for near four years, that part of the province being now reduced to an entire state of tranquility, and the inhabitants of all ranks behaving with the utmost circumspection & industry. The post is left with a captain's command only.

Soon after my arrival I delivered in to Brigadier Gen. M'Lean the enclosed copy of crimes I had to exhibit against Major Batt of my regiment, on which a Court Martial was ordered, & sat for several days, but thro' the interposition of the General and others a plan of accommodation was formed, and the whole at length submitted to the decision of a select number of the members of that Court, whose final award has been publicly read & concessions made accordingly. As it appears there has been the most virulent, unjust and groundless representations against me, designing to prejudice my character in the highest degree, some of which perhaps may have reached Head Quarters, if they should I flatter myself no ill impression may take place with your Excellency against me.

I have now been from England about five years, the principal part of my time at an outpost where it has not been in my power to recruit. Other regiments, who have had opportunities & indulgencies, have been put on the establishment; younger Lieut. Colonels in the army I see acting as Brigadier Generals. When I first came out I was in expectation and could wish to have served with the Commander in Chief, where I presume from my particular knowledge of great part of the continent I should have been able to render myself serviceable in general, and in particular by raising a number of good men. Brig. Gen. M'Lean has some time since communicated a design of forming a junction of the young regiments in this district, which, if executed, will compleat about two battalions, and thereby entitle the officers to a certain rank & half pay. I look upon this plan as an exceeding generous offer from Government, & very advantageous to most of the officers, but the arrangement is still deferred.”

Does not mention these as complaints. Asks leave to proceed to

BRIG. GEN. FRANCIS MCLEAN to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, June 19. Head Quarters, Halifax.—Received letter of 12th May. Congratulates him on taking Charlestown. Has given orders for account to be made out of the issues of money to the Commissary's department here from 20 Nov., 1770, to 15 February last. Promises to assist Gen. Robinson [Robertson] to provide fuel for New York. From his first hearing of a French fleet intending to sail for North America has put this place, as well as he could, in posture of defence. Want of cash. Has to pay five per cent. Receipt of letter of 24th Dec. by Capt. D'Aubant. Informed Capt. Spry of what related to him, and received the enclosed answer. Wishes further orders about this affair. Transmits proceedings of two general courts martial. Requests more warrants for holding such courts. In order not to detain the "Robust," he will send accounts by next ship. Marked "received p. the Robuste, the 4th July, 1780."

Signed letter. Vol. 53, No. 16. 2 pages.

BRIG. GEN. FRANCIS MCLEAN to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

Enclosing Wm. Handfield's memorial to Brig. Gen. McLean, 25 Feb.

BRIG. GEN. FRANCIS MCLEAN to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, June 19. Halifax.—In consequence of orders of 24 December, 1779, has made the different arrangement of the provincial corps. Returns will be sent by the next opportunity. Detention of the 15 invalids of Royal Artillery until determination of French fleet is known. The enclosed [not here] memorial from Lt. Col. Bayard, of the King's Orange Rangers, was presented to him, but could not postpone his Excellency's orders respecting that corps. P.S.—Lt. Col. Rogers, lately arrived from Canada, is imprisoned for a considerable sum, about £600. Is afraid his corps will not be completed.

CAPTAIN SPRY to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, June 19. Halifax.—Refers to letters on the subject of his leave of absence. Requests his Excellency will reconsider his application and grant him the six months solicited. Also that he will signify to McLean that Capt. D'Aubant shall take charge of the department during his absence only, as he intends to return early in the spring.

SIR HENRY CLINTON to BRIG. GEN. FRANCIS McLEAN.

1780, June 28. Head Quarters, New York.—His arrival here the 17th inst. The reduction of Charlestown was followed by the submission of most of the inhabitants of South Carolina, from Pedee to Savannah, as far back as Camden. "At Wacswa, forty miles beyond that town, a detachment of Lord Cornwallis's Army, under Lieut. Col Tarleton, of the British Legion, after a pursuit of 105 miles in 54 hours, had the good fortune to overtake the debris of the rebel force under Colonel Buford, and, upon their refusing to accept the terms given to the garrison of Charlestown, put to the sword about 250, and took 50 prisoners, two brass six pounders, two royals, three stand of colours, and 28 waggons loaded with arms, clothing & baggage, fell into our hands by this important blow, which I have every reason to flatter myself will be succeeded by the most happy & extensive consequences. I have left Lord Cornwallis in the command of the Southern District." The Duke of Argyle having transmitted resignation of Capt. Alex. Campbell, his commission is to be sold; desires Col. Campbell will recommend the succession. Promotion of Lt. Duncanson and Mr. Finucane will take place; also exchange between Lt. Murdock McLean and Lt. Adj. Wellwood. Men to be sent to New York to level the flank companies to strength of the battalion companies. Returns memorial of Lt. Campbell and Lt. Fraser, as to lost baggage, etc.

Encloses extract of a letter from the War Office on the subject of such losses. Bat and forage money to be granted to the troops at Halifax and Penobscot. Corps under his command to receive 200 days' bat and forage money for this year. The Barrack Master sends to Halifax the camp equipage and clothing of the barrack regiments under his (McLean's) command.

Copy. Vol. 21, No. 129. 4 pages.

BRIG. GEN. FRANCIS McLEAN to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, June 28. Halifax.—Sends duplicates of dispatches of 19th inst. Quotes letter from Gen. Haldimand accusing Lt. Col. Rogers of disgracing the service. Will not now interfere about his enlargement until he receives instructions. Agrees with Haldimand that Rogers will find it almost impossible to complete his corps. Canada tranquil; Col. V. Borck preparing to embark on the Island of St. John with his detachment for Quebec. The last advices from Penobscot bring nothing new, and affairs in this province are perfectly quiet.

Signed letter. Vol. 21, No. 173. 3 pages.

JOHN SMITH to LIEUT. COLONEL CLERK, B.M.G.

1780, June 28. Secretary's Office, New York.—Circular. "The Commander in Chief, having taken notice of the very large sums which have been lately expended in the Barrack Department, and which his Excellency observes are every quarter encreasing to an alarming amount, has directed me to request that you will be pleased to state to me, for his information, the occasion of so great an expence, and the reasons why the disbursements for that service are larger now than they were formerly."

Copy. Vol. 35, No. 175. 1 page.

MAJOR GENERAL DALRYMPLE to JOHN SMITH, Secretary.

1780, June 29. New York.—Informing him there is no increase of expense in his Department [Quarter Master General's] except that arising from the additional troops occasionally assembled here. To this must be added the value of stores sent on the Southern expedition, and presents for Indians, materials for building and repairing batteaux, gun boats, whale boats, the fitting up berths in transports and horse vessels, building of huts on New York, Long and Staten Islands. The utmost economy has been observed. Will try to furnish further information should his Excellency wish it.

Copy. Vol. 35, No. 176. 2 pages.

JOS. LORING, commissary of prisoners, to JOHN SMITH.

1780, June 29. New York.—Conceives the purport of circular letter of 28th inst. could not extend to him as the expenses in his department have rather decreased than otherwise. It has been his constant study to be as frugal as possible.

Copy. Vol. 35, No. 180. 1 page.

ALEX. MERCER, Commanding Engineer, to JOHN SMITH.

1780, June 29. New York.—Explaining that the works carried on in the Engineer Department under his direction are on a much larger scale and much better than anything hitherto done for the defence of this place and its dependencies. They have required the constant labour of a number of artificers, and the purchase of lumber, plank, materials, intrenching and other tools. The prices of materials are advanced “many hundreds per cent.” The retailers of this town sell common boards at the rate of £100 the thousand feet. Wages are advanced. The general payment of working parties is attended with a very great additional expense; submits whether it would not be better to put a stop to it.

Copy. Vol. 35, No. 177. 2 pages.

H. ROOKE, Dep. Inspector Gen. of Provincial Forces, to CAPT. SMITH.

1780, June 29. Inspector General’s Office, New York.—Does not know of any increase of expense in the Inspector General’s Department. The clothing purchased for the provincial forces was absolutely required, and attention paid to get it at the lowest rate.

R. LAWSON (Bridge Master) to CAPTAIN SMITH.

1780, June 30. New York.—In answer to circular letter, he means to wait on Capt. Smith with his accounts. When he took charge of the Department very considerable sums were owing to tradesmen; since then expenses in general are lower than formerly. When the Department was ordered for the Southern Expedition, thought it necessary to be supplied with all that could be expected either for floating or standing bridges. Did then engage a number of carpenters for the expedition, which he did not imagine could have lasted more than three months. The disasters at sea he could not foresee. However, but for these carpenters, none of the stores could have been saved when the ship sank. They assisted all the different departments, and were a considerable saving to Government. Many were discharged after the siege, and the department is now lower than it has been for three years.

GOVERNOR WALTER PATTERSON to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, July 1. Island of Saint John.—Congratulates him on the conquest of Charlestown: thinks it will be attended with glorious consequences: his strict discipline will restore the character of the British troops “in that single point wherein alone it was ever tarnished.” Hopes he will restore peace to his own country and happiness and freedom to deluded America.

JAMES SIMPSON to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, July 1. Charlestown, S. Carolina.—Disappointment at being unable to visit his Excellency before he left. Hopes his voyage has been agreeable. Wishes him further success. Is confirmed in his opinion that numbers of people here will support the King’s Government. Transmits copy of the voluntary Association of the Orangeburg Militia, which, if generally followed, will contribute to give stability to Government and peace to the country. Must expect to be harassed with a plundering banditti for some time. Necessity of rigorous measures against some men here. “Nothing but the evidence of my senses would have convinced me that one half of the distress I am a witness to could have been produced in so short a time in so rich and flourishing a country as Carolina was when I left it. Numbers of families, who, four years ago, abounded in every convenience and luxury of life, are without food to live on, clothes to cover them, or the means to purchase either. It hath appeared to me the more extraordinary, because until about 12 months ago it had not been exposed to any other devastations of war except the captures made at sea. And as I knew there was a great deal of circulating specie, which disappeared on the first emission of paper money, I concluded there were many hoards which would now be produced, but I was mistaken, for none of it was left. I shall most concisely make your Excellency comprehend the causes which have produced this intollerable distress by repeating the account Mr. Lowndes gave me of his particular case, which may fairly be concluded to be amongst the best, as from his experience and situation his estate was as likely to be either preserved or improved as any in the province. 'For several years before the troubles (says he) I annually made, at least, 1,000 barrels of rice, worth £15,000 currency; I had as much money at interest as yielded £8,000 currency more. My houses in town, exclusive of repairs & the one I inhabited, brought in £3,000, so that my annual income was £26,000 currency, upwards of £3,700 sterling, which I was sure to have punctually paid. But upon an average for the four last years my plantations have not produced upwards of £250 sterling a year; my houses have been taken from me for public uses, and are gone so much to decay they are not fit to be let, and my money at interest hath been paid into the public Treasury; add to which I have from various causes lost upwards of 80 of my best slaves, and as for the money which was in the province, it hath occasionally been sent to Statia or the West Indies, and the wretched and precarious returns it hath produced have rather been a mockery of than a supply to our wants.'"

Return of Lord Cornwallis to Charlestown in good health. Everything quiet to the southward. Trusts the quiet of this country will not be upset by occurrences in Tryon County, N. Carolina. The capitulation of Genl. Williamson bodes well. It will be expedient to protect his property so as to secure his influence. Is impatiently waiting news from all parts.

CHARLES JENKINSON TO GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, July 3. War Office.—Transmits a/c of £87 13s. to be repaid Messrs. Ross & Gray, for advances to subsist a party of Maryland and Pennsylvania loyalists under Lt. Inglis. Also copies of two a/cs from the Lord Lieut. of Ireland of expenses incurred for a party of the 2nd Battalion 84th Regt. and of the Orange Rangers driven there by stress of weather. Has directed Messrs. Cox, Mair and Cox, agent to the 84th, to repay this to Ireland. They are to be reimbursed for what they advance for the Orange Rangers, as these have no establishment nor fund in Great Britain; the remainder of a/cs to be charged against the 84th Regt.

[SIR HENRY CLINTON] to BRIG. GENERAL MCLEAN.

1780, July 5. Head Quarters, Philipsburg.—“As I find that the King’s Orange Rangers are much stronger now than when I had the honour of sending you the plan for a new arrangement of the Provincial Corps at Halifax, and that the Officers of that Regiment have not only been at a considerable expence, but have also exerted themselves much to compleat it, I am to request that nothing further may be done in the matter of incorporating the Royal Fencible Men and this Corps until you hear again from me." Major Handfield to receive pay as Assistant Quarter Master General if he has done the duties. Is unable to relieve his want of money. "The Contractors' Agents here have paid ten p. cent. for every shilling they have been able to collect for these last six months." Capt. Spry may go to England next fall if he still wishes, and Capt. D'Aubant will remain at Halifax until his return. Capt. Goreham requests leave to come to New York at the end of the campaign; as he (McLean) has not noticed it in his letter must refer him back, but has no objections if the Brigadier approves. P.S.—The French armaments supposed destined for Canada. Arbuthnot will be reinforced. Requests him to forward enclosed to Haldimand. MAJ. GEN. BENJAMIN LINCOLN to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, July 5. Head Quarters.—"Sir,—Immediately on my arrival in Philadelphia I addressed Congress on the subject of a general exchange of prisoners, and yesterday his Excellency General Washington on the same head.

"I hope an exchange upon the ' footing of liberality and equality ' will never meet an impediment on either part—it is a measure I have much at heart, and, untill executed, shall not fail to give it every influence in my power. But, as digesting and fully settling a plan will necessarily expend considerable time, I have again to solicit that my exchange for an officer of like rank might be agreed to by your Excellency, which, I am authorised by his Excellency General Washington to assure you will be assented to by him. I have the honor to be your Excellency's most obedt. hble servant "

MAJ. GEN. WILLIAM PHILLIPS to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, July 12. Denyse's on Long Island.—“I have the honour to report to your Excellency the arrival from Virginia of Mr. Hoakesley, Waggon Master General, belonging to the Troops of Convention; this gentleman was exchanged during the meeting of the Commissioners at Amboy.

“I inclose to you, Sir, the report made to me by Mr. Hoakesley of the present situation of the Troops of Convention, which report is confirmed by letters I have received from Brigadier Generals Specht and Hamilton, with some small variation as to the number of days wherein meat has not been delivered to the troops, and the addition of a failure of flour and meal for between thirty and forty days.

“It is my duty, Sir, most respectfully to represent to your Excellency the very particular state of the Troops of Convention under the reports made to me of their situation, not only as it stands at present, but under the greatest apprehensions that their distresses will considerably increase except some means are fallen upon to supply the deficiencies in provisions for them, which has occasionally been the case in Virginia, whether arising from want of method, carelessness, ignorance or premeditated design I cannot pretend to say:

“Such severities and hardships upon the Troops of Convention will force them to disperse and desert, and in doing so quit the abiding by the treaty of Saratoga, which the Americans, perhaps, wish to have dissolved. By thus starving, as it were, the Troops of Convention they, by that means, are driven to seek refuge in the country or by deserting to become prisoners of war under the supposition that, in detached and scattered parties, they may be able to procure provisions, which seems to be denied them in a collected body.

“I will not presume to offer anything more to your Excellency's consideration than whether it may not be eligible to call upon General Washington for some explanation upon so serious a matter, wherein a difference of conduct betwixt the treatment of American prisoners of war and the Troops of Convention will so evidently appear.

“I will not take up more of your Excellency's time than to observe that the evil is of so severe a nature as to require immediate redress, the weight of it growing daily heavier and will increase so enormously towards the winter as to be scarcely equal to a remedy.”

GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON to LT. GEN. EARL CORNWALLIS.

1780, July 14. Head Quarters, Phillipsburgh.—His arrival here, 17th ult. Has taken a position on North River to give the troops a rest. Desires him to send, as soon as possible, what troops can be spared. Thinking he may spare 2,500 men, has kept back baggage, &c., of that number, but if his Lordship thinks it necessary to detain them will, of course, forward it. Has no reason to doubt the intention of the enemy when the French fleet arrives to send two very powerful expeditions against Canada. Washington has not as yet been able to recruit to any great amount, but if the French shew a force here cannot doubt of its influencing the whole continent. Should they succeed in Canada, expects a great effort on this side. Is under no apprehensions while we are superior at sea. Sends a list of the force that came out with Adml. Graves. That of the French is said to be no more than 7 ships of the line (6 of which are of 64 guns) and only 5,000 troops of the first embarkation, but a second is talked of to Chesapeak, which may frustrate our views. "Indeed, without I am reinforced considerably I dare not go there in force, & without I do nothing can be expected."

JAMES SIMPSON to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, July 16. Charles Town.—Crops and private interests occupy the greater part of the community, whilst some restless spirits are busy to create mischief and discontent. It is a spirit by no means prevalent throughout the country, and in the town a proper example would prevent any bad consequence. “Our police hath begun to act for Charles Town district.” The people who have been before us appear to have a confidence in our justice. This is the critical period in which, if possible, it would be expedient to restore criminal jurisdiction and legislative authority in the Province. Sends copies of letters referred to him by Lord Cornwallis, from Dr. Houston to Col. Clarke and from the Attorney General of Georgia to Sir Jas. Wright. Wrote to Sir James by his Lordship’s desire. A malignant fever has broken out amongst the negroes, who have loitered in and about Charlestown, which sweeps them off in great numbers. It does not attack white people. Some white people have fallen victims to the small pox, but the army is healthier than could be expected. Cornwallis has desired him to consider regulations under which rice, which is superabundant here, might be exported to Gt. Britain. Enclosed is a copy of report to his Lordship. Expects, if it takes place, Charles Town will recover its former prosperity. The removal of prisoners will contribute to it; therefore hopes a successful negotiation has been concluded. Is anxiously expecting news.

ALEX. CAMERON to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, July 18. Pensacola.—Congratulations on the submission of Charlestown. Already mentioned his intention of calling a Congress of the Chactaws and Chickesaws at Mobile, and for that purpose sent off part of the presents sent out in the Earl Bathurst store-ship. The very day they left this harbour they fell into the hands of the Spaniards on Mobile bar. Gen. Campbell ordered about 50 Chactaws to be kept continually under a proper leader at Mobile, in order to scout and reconoitre, but finding the expense of provisions and presents very high he ordered them to be discharged at the very time they were most needed, although he did not know it. On the approach of the Spaniards to Mobile, Mr. Charles Stuart sent express to the Chactaws to order Mr. Bethune, their commissary, to collect all the Indians he could and march them for its relief, but the place was given up before they got half way, on which two thirds of them returned home, only about 200 following Mr. Bethune to this post. Parties of Creeks have continually been coming here through the winter for provisions; as nothing was allowed him to gratify their demands Gen. Campbell advised him to apply to Gov. Chester, who had an annual allowance of £1,000 for entertaining Indians. Encloses letter to Gov. Chester, who furnished them with provisions for a few days. Dissatisfied, they began to commit irregularities, and he was then asked, both by Gov. and Council and by Gen. Campbell, to take the management of them, but it was out of his power to wholly restrain them. At the same time will venture to say that the possession of this place is owing entirely to the great numbers of Indians who repaired here to assist, and who waited near a month for the Spaniards; then getting impatient wished to go and look for them. Refers to an enclosure which would show that General Campbell disapproved of this, and they got drunk and riotous. The General was so sensible of the advantage of their being here that he overlooked their faults and rewarded them handsomely for their service. The Chickesaws firm and loyal. The Chactaws, divided, and were likely to have a civil war among themselves, taking sides against Spainards and English. These are the most mercenary of Indians. Has represented to Gen. Campbell the desirability of raising a troop of 50 men to direct and lead the Indians. Encloses this and his answer.

“ The Loyal Refugees, which were raised by Col. Stuart, were disbanded because of the great expence of keeping them up at 40/- per month each man, and General Campbell would allow me neither pay or provisions for them before they were discharged; they found their own horses, saddles and cloathing out of their pay. But General Campbell is upon a more economical plan; he gives one shilling and five pence to each man per day, which will amount to £2 2s. 6d., at the same time they are furnished with horses, saddles, cloathing, &c., they also received bounty money, and their officers have near double the pay of the officers of the Loyal Refugees, upon the whole, Sir, General Campbell's troop of Royal Forresters will cost Government, annually, near double the pay of my troop of Loyal Refugees, reduced the 30th Nov. last; and this I explained to him, but he would not be convinced, nor would he approve of my raising a troop on a much cheaper plan, altho' there was an absolute necessity for having one troop at least to act with the Indians of my Department. I mentioned to your Excellency already that General Campbell allowed me to retain in pay four good men to lead and act with the Chactaws if required, but as he is apt not long to keep in the same mind he wrote me to discharge them. His letter on that subject, as well as in regard to the mode that he has hitherto adopted and persisted in defraying the extra expences of my Department, I now enclose.

The Indians sent for here in March last for the defence of this post, and white men necessary to conduct and manage them, have cost Government £6,000. But unless Indians are supported we cannot expect that they will be of service to us. The Indians of this Department seem well disposed to support the English at present, and if care is taken of them, and they have some troops to act with, they will convince the Spaniards how little they value or regard them, altho' they take every method to alienate their affections from us by flattering talks, what presents they can spare, as well as medals, gorgets & commissions, &c., one of which I inclose for your perusal. I will presume, however, to say that hitherto I have had always the good fortune to keep the Indians in my charge staunch and well affected to Government, and if I am supported with proper means I think that I can keep the Spaniards from having much influence with the Indians in my charge at present. But I am limited to a pittance, and General Campbell means only to listen to calls or supplications of Indians when he wants their aid.”

[GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON] to GEN. LINCOLN.

1780, July 19. Head Quarters.—“ I have had the honour to receive your letter of the 5th July, and trust there will be no difficulties attending your exchange. As it must, however, involve that of M. Gen. Phillips and Riedesel, as there are many circumstances relative to exchanges which cannot be discussed with more propriety than by two gentlemen who must necessarily interest themselves very warmly in what concerns the troops they have served with, & whose personal situations have so great an affinity, I propose that either at Amboy, Elizabeth Town, or at Gen. Philips' Quarters on Long Island, you should meet and confer on the means of redeeming the Troops of Convention & those of your army.

“Should the issue of your Conference require the prolongation of your absence on parole, I shall with pleasure acquiesce in it for any reasonable time that exigencies may require.”

[GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON] to GENERAL WASHINGTON.

1780, July 19. Head Quarters.—“In answer to the letter you addressed to H. E. Gen. Knyphausen on the 2nd June last, and of which you have been so good to enclose me a copy in yours of the 5th inst., I have the honour to inform your Excellency that I have no objection to receive, at New York, under your appointment, Mr. Pintard or a person you may nominate as Commissary in behalf of prisoners.

“With regard to my sending a person of a similar description in the manner you propose, I shall, of course, be happy to fix one with you, and, Philadelphia being excepted, to chuse Lancaster in Pensilvania as his residence.

“To give this arrangement the beneficial effects to be expected from it, I hope to be assured from you, Sir, that Lancaster or its neighbourhood will be made as much as possible the place of confinement of British prisoners, that they may be near the person who is to give his attention to them.”

Draft. Vol. 20, No. 74. 2 pages.

[GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON] to GENERAL WASHINGTON.

1780, July 19. Head Quarters.—“I have the honour to enclose to your Excy a report concerning the situation of the Troops of Convention in Virginia, not doubting but it will attract your attention & procure them redress.

“You cannot but be informed, Sir, that our conduct towards your prisoners here is humane & liberal, and I am persuaded your wish must be to maintain this system of benevolence towards men who have the misfortune of enduring captivity.”

MAJ. GEN. JOHN CAMPBELL to GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON

1780, July 22. Pensacola.—The Spaniards have laid aside their designs on Pensacola till the fall of the year, before which time he hopes a reinforcement will be sent to effect a recovery of the territories lost, and to add Louisiana to British dominions. Is in a dilemma by there being no contract this year for supplying the troops with fresh beef, and must draw bills on the Treasury. Complains of the situation in general with regard to money. In carrying on military works in this province every transaction passes through what is called a Board of Ordnance; their mismanagement. Advices sent to Sir Peter Parker at Jamaica. Sends quarterly accounts of staff and contingent expenses, and extra expenses in the Indian Department for the amazing amount of which he trusts his Excellency is prepared. Sends also demand for ordnance and ordnance stores and monthly return of troops.

WILLIAM MARTIN, Lt. Col. Commanding the Royal Artillery.

1780, July 24. New York.—“Thoughts on an expedition against the French Fleet at Rhode Island.” Recommending first the possession of Conanicut Island in preference to Rhode Island, next that of the Dumplins. This taken, the fleet could embrace the opportunity of a fair wind to enter the western passage, and, having doubled the north point of Conanicut, bear down towards the enemy’s ships. This is only proposed in case the Rhode Island side be too dangerous to attempt a landing. Advises descents on other parts of New England, also visits at New London and Norwich, very mischievous places. Next to the destruction of the French Fleet the most salutary plan at this critical juncture would be to establish a post on George’s Island, at the entrance of Boston Harbour. Discusses advantages of possessing Boston Harbour and difficulties of obtaining possession of George’s Island. Signed at foot by Lt. Col. Martin as a true copy, 24 July, 1782, and, on the back, addressed to Sir Guy Carleton.

LIEUT. COL. JOS. GOREHAM to BRIG. GEN. McLEAN.

1780, July 26. Halifax.—In consequence of orders lately issued relative to officers serving in provincial corps, finds there are doubts as to his taking rank and command as Lieut. Col. in the army. Explains that a similar order was given out here in 1776, on which several officers of his regiment resigned their commissions and returned to former rank and duty in the respective corps. He himself was not called on to relinquish other commissions, and when Sir Wm. Howe came here in April, 1776, he took his tour as field officer of the day, and did other duties conformable to rank as Lt. Col. in the army. Requests this point may be settled, as he would not by any means relinquish the rank conferred by his Majesty.

JAS. SIMPSON to LIEUT. GENERAL EARL CORNWALLIS.

[1780, July.]—In obedience to desire, has attentively considered of such regulations as would be best calculated to prevent imposition, and promote the good purposes intended by opening the trade of this Province. Thinks it would be well to fix the mode of exportation on a plan agreeable to the spirit of the several Acts of Parliament which before the rebellion regulated the exportation of rice. Proceeds to quote these, and suggests modifications. If his plan is adopted would draw up the bond, certificate, etc., required from the masters or shippers, in such a form as to prevent bad consequences.

JAS. SIMPSON to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, August 13. Charlestown, S. Carolina.—Receipt of letter of 15th July. Little to add to letter of 18th about commotions in the back country. Cornwallis has sent an account of Gates' arrival. "Two months ago I had little doubt but by this time the tranquility of Carolina wou'd have been re-established, and the rebel cause entirely relinquished. I then knew that both Laurens & Rutledge were meditating how they should make their peace. For what reasons they have been diverted from their purposes I am a stranger; but it is very visible that the hopes of the rebellious faction here are elevated by something which they either know or apprehend to be in agitation. Mr. Laurens has not long since with great confidence asserted that in a very few months America would be abandoned by the British troops, and left to her Independency. Where he hath his intelligence I cannot tell: I do not suspect him to be so weak as to think it is likely to happen from the efforts of the Americans. He must, therefore, either be the dupe to his own folly by listening to reports he would willingly credit; or with a peculiar malignity of heart he would wish to render as generally as possible the ruin in which he hath involved himself." Satisfaction at receiving an intimation that it might be proper for him to be at New York, but matters are so circumstanced that many inconveniences would result from his leaving. Has consented, at Cornwallis's request, to remain until some officers in the civil line arrive to take the duties, or the police of the country is reduced to system. Is informed by Capt. Lutwitche that letters must be ready this evening, and he is thus unable fully to inform his Excellency of the business in which he is engaged; but states that he has to direct the extensive trade of the province which it has been found necessary to subject to very particular rules and restrictions, has his duty as Counsel to the Commandant and the Police in which every week there are causes of weight and nicety, that he is constantly recurred to by every magistrate who finds himself at a loss for rules to regulate his conduct, that he has to watch over the behaviour of some of the most dangerous, hardened and perverse rebels that ever existed, and is pestered all day with outside applications. Has neither time to eat nor sleep. Promises an official account if the "Triton" is delayed; otherwise hopes in a short time to submit it in person.

MAJ. GEN. W. DALRYMPLE to MAJOR HENRY BRUEN & CAPTAIN ARCHD. ROBERTSON, Dep. Q. M. Generals.

1780, August 14. New York.—Has received orders from the Commander-in-Chief to depart for Europe. Informs them it is his Excellency's intention that all horses, waggons, etc., employed in the Quarter Master General's Department remain on their present footing, except particular instructions to the contrary are sent. Three months' notice will be given to the proprietors of the train of the army before their property is discharged the service. The six armed vessels and two express vessels lately taken into the service are to be fitted out as quickly as possible. When money is wanted to defray expenses they are to make a requisition for temporary warrants from his Excellency, which are to be accounted for to himself, that they may be included in his accounts.

MICHAEL FRANCKLIN, Supt. of Indians in Nova Scotia, to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, August 21. Windsor, Nova Scotia.—Sends extract of letter received by Sir Richard Hughes. Meeting of Indians on the River St. John, 24th June, as the Lieut. Gov. had ordered presents to be made to them at the expense of the Navy Board, for them to protect the workmen employed in cutting masts. Refers to enclosed speech. Until last fall provisions had been drawn from the military stores, but the Lt. Gov. says no provisions can be received without orders from the Commander in Chief. Intreats him to give orders for this purpose to Brig. Gen. McLean. The Indians will go to the rebels if they are not attended to. This necessitates expense which he has borne himself, hoping to be reimbursed from the Treasury. Must now stop or ruin his family. A rupture with the Indians would put a stop to cutting masts for the King's ships. Encloses extract of Germain's letter of 4th November, by which he will see that Indian presents promised were shipped on board the "Vernon," but they have not arrived at Halifax.

LIEUT. COL. JOHN CAMPBELL to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, August 23. Fort George, Penobscot.—Has received letter from the Duke of Argyle of 14 February respecting the resignation of Capt. Alexr. Campbell, of the 74th, and requesting the company might be sold. In answer to his (Clinton's) desire he sends enclosed list of officers recommended for the succession. Is informed by Lt. Col. Goreham that Lt. Col. Leland has been appointed a Brigadier General. Reminds his Excellency that he is an older Lt. Col. and older Major than Leland, and hopes no injustice will be done to him. Considers it unfortunate to be confined to this place, and would be happy to be employed in a more active line. At the foot is the list of officers alluded to.

EARL CORNWALLIS to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, August 23. Camden.—Capt. Malcolm, of the 33rd, is killed

Recommends to the succession. Would be glad if Capt. Ingram, promoted to the 70th Regt., returned to the 33rd, and let Lieut. Nichols go to the 70th. Thinks there is a lieutenantancy vacant in the 33rd by promotion of Lt. St. Leger at home. If any notification should come, he recommends Ensign Fenwick to succeed.

EARL CORNWALLIS to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, August 23. Camden.—According to directions has transmitted to Lord G. Germain accounts of the event of the 16th; encloses copies. Has not yet any accounts from North Carolina . . . The diversion in Chesapeak will be of the utmost importance. The troops here have gained in reputation, but have lost in numbers. . . . It is difficult to form a plan of operations; thinks he should get to Hillsborough, assemble friends, and endeavour to form a magazine of flour and meal, etc., for the winter. All will depend on the operations his Excellency may think proper to pursue in the Chesapeak. Lt. Col. Innes deserted by the militia and wounded. Fears Major Harrison will fail in attempt to raise a corps. Great sickness; the officers particularly affected; doctors and surgeons laid up; every public officer of the army incapable of doing his duty.

JOHN ROBINSON to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, August 23. Whitehall, Treasury Chambers.—Two transports with parties of provincials having been blown off the coast of N. America and arrived in England and Ireland, money has been advanced by warrant according to the enclosed a/cs. Desires him to give directions that the two corps shall be charged with the sums so advanced, and the money deducted from the subsistence a/cs.

JOHN TROTTER to MAJOR GENERAL MORRISON.

1780, August 23. Frith St., Soho.—Having made canteens of several kinds of wood it is found when they are filled with water it penetrates through the heads of those made of beech, and it is also liable to warp. Foreign oak or wainscot will answer the purpose much better, and is made use of here for small vessels. Submits this to Lord Amherst's opinion.

1780, August 25. Government House at Halifax.—The difficulties in procuring such supply of provisions from the military stores in the garrison for the use of Indians in order to preserve them in their allegiance to his Majesty render it absolutely necessary to apply to his Excellency. Requests him to give directions to Brig. General McLean to cause to be issued from the army stores the requisite quantity of provisions and ammunition to prevent their going over to the Americans. Congratulates him on the success at Charlestown. Promises to prevent any improper use of the indulgence requested for the Indian tribes.

GENERAL WASHINGTON to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, August 26. Head Quarters.—“ I find, by General Lincoln’s letter to myself, that he proposes to meet General Phillips on the 12th of next month at Elizabeth Town, which will be perfectly agreeable to me. I shall direct our Commissary of Prisoners to be there at the same time, who will be instructed to execute, with the Commissary on your part, if your Excellency shall think proper to send him, an exchange of officers, prisoners of war, on the footing of equal rank or composition, as far as the number in our hands will admit, and to include also the whole of the officers of Convention now on parole at New York or in Europe. I wish the measure may meet your approbation, as it will afford relief to many individuals.

“ On the 26th ulto. I had the honor of addressing your Excellency and of inclosing some propositions relative to the agents to be appointed for prisoners, to which I have not been favoured with your answer. I shall be happy to receive it.”

CAPTAIN WILLIAM SPRY to BRIG. GEN. FRANCIS McLEAN.

1780, August 29. Halifax.—Has been served with writs by persons who have claims on the Engineers' Department. "Since your declaration leaves me no hopes of paying them myself, I am under the painful necessity either of exposing the credit of Government, & being taken into custody and remaining there, or turning the course of the suits to you as the chief representative of Government, on account & for the service of which the debts have been incur'd: I, therefore, with all respect possible, acquaint you that the process of law will now be directed to you, according to the opinion and advice of my counsel, assuring you at the same time it is with great concern I find myself constrained to take a step so very much

GOV. PAT. TONYN to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, August 31. St. Augustine.—On 2nd May transmitted by Col. Moore the particulars of expenditure for Creek Indians, which necessarily fell upon Col. Moore. The accounts were perused at Charlestown by Maj. Gen. Pattison, and a note of reference put on the cover of Mr. Brown's letter. As this business is of importance to Mr. Moore, he represents it that justice may be done to his zeal for his Majesty's service.

1780, September 4. New York.—“In consequence of General Washington's acquiescence in the meeting proposed, General Phillips will be at Elizabeth Town on the 19th instant, whither the two gentlemen of your family may attend you as you desire. [GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON] to GENERAL WASHINGTON.

1780, September 4. New York.—“I have received the honor of your letter of the 26th ultimo, and but for General Phillips's indisposition, which made the proposed meeting uncertain, I should have sent my reply sooner.

"General Phillips hopes his health will permit him to be at Elizabeth Town on the 19th instant, where my company of prisoners shall attend; and, at the same time, the propositions which I think necessary to offer respecting a resident commissary will be transmitted. I have the honor to be, &c."

CHARLES JENKINSON to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, September 5. War Office.—Acknowledges letter of 15th July last. "In order to bring the numbers of the old regiments (except such of them as were under the Convention of Saratoga) to one and the same establishment, his Majesty directed that, for the service of the year 1779, the several corps should be augmented so as to consist of seventy men per company, with an additional corporal to each company. Had the recruiting service met with the expected success and enabled the several regiments to send out sufficient recruits for this purpose, I should not have failed to make you acquainted with the proposed addition to their establishment, that the returns made up in North America under your directions might have been regulated accordingly.

"As this could not be effected, it has been thought proper to apply to the service of the current year a considerable part of the saving arising by the non-effective subsistence, and it is probable that Parliament will think it expedient to do the same for the succeeding year, or to reduce the companies of the several regiments abroad to the former numbers."

CAPTAIN WILLIAM SPRY to BRIG. GEN. FRANCIS McLEAN.

1780, September 6. Halifax.—“Since you have not been pleased to take notice of the several applications I have done myself the honour of making to you for the settling of my accounts at this place, permit me to represent the peculiarity of my situation; my accounts & copies of vouchers for last year have been near eight months before you, those for March & June since the end of July; they are still before you, accompanied with a memorial for the balance. You have not enabled me to pay the claimants on the Department, nor done me the honour to send me your objections. I have been served with writs, & others are coming out daily by persons who were restrained hitherto by their confidence in the credit of Government, which never before had been arraignable. You have informed me if I am taken into custody I may remain there. In this distress my counsel has advis’d me to turn the course of law to you; the creditors of Government have proved their debts, the decision of the Court will be for them, & the costs of such numerous suits, with the damage on bills you have constrain’d me to protect, and which now you are paying by your own hand (as your Secretary informs me), with other damages, will make a considerable sum, and should it be set to the account of Government I must observe, with due submission, it will be a charge unnecessary & unprofitable. You are pleased to intimate an intention of referring my accounts to Head Quarters. They have already been there; the Commander in Chief, with great judgment, sent them back to be finally settled here. Here the expenditure was made, and here it should be verified, nor will a second reference produce any other effect than the prevention of my taking the benefit of his Excellency’s indulgence of leave & the frustrating his appointment of Capt. D’Aubant. All this discredit, needless expence, delay and disappointment may be repress’d if you will be pleas’d to signify to me in writing the objections you have to my account, and when I have removed them to enable me to pay the balance. If I do not obviate them to your entire satisfaction, I have to request you would then, upon your reference to Head Quarters, send along with your objections my answers to them. And I entreat it as a justice that, after so long a detention of my accounts you would not send them back under the character of inaccuracy without allowing me the opportunity I solicit of proving them to be correct and faithful."

SIR HENRY CLINTON TO BRIG. GEN. FRANCIS MCLEAN.

1780, September 10. New York.—“In my last dispatches (duplicates of which you will receive herewith) I had the honor to acquaint you that a French armament was expected upon the coast, and that there was great reason to believe it was destined for Canada.

“This armament arrived at Rhode Island on the 12th of July, where it still remains. Admiral Graves arrived here on the 13th following with 6 ships of the line to reinforce Admiral Arbuthnot who is now cruising with his fleet off Block Island.

“I acquainted General Haldimand that I thought it was not probable the French & Rebels would attempt anything against Canada this year, but that their principal efforts would be directed against this place; and this is still my opinion; however, I think it highly probable that they will renew their intentions of attacking Canada by No. 4 and the Lakes as early next year as the season will permit.

“The arrival of the French reinforcement to the enemy, and their expectations of another, to consist of four ships of the line and a considerable body of land forces, has greatly facilitated Mr. Washington’s success in completing & augmenting his army. However, if the good news from the southward (which the inclosed paper contains) proves true, and of which there is little doubt, I hope Mr. Washington, even with the assistance of his French friends, will not be able to attempt anything serious this season.

“As the army in this district is likely to be soon reduced to great distress for want of provisions, and as the Commissary General has informed me that there are 5,000 barrels of pork at Halifax, more than is necessary for the use of the garrison, I have applied to the Admiral for shipping to be sent for this supply, as our only resource; and I beg you will be so good to give directions to the Deputy Commissary to have it in readiness for shipping upon the arrival of the vessels at Halifax.” Marked “Sent to the Admiral, to be forwarded by the Camilla.”

JAMES SIMPSON to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, September 13. Charlestown.—The “Grenville” packet from Falmouth arrived three days ago. Private letters bring intelligence that the public-officers of this Government are coming out with all speed. The riots in London seem to have engrossed the attention of all except during the interval of rejoicing at the arrival of Lord Lincoln with news of the reduction of Charlestown. Has received the Act of Parliament which regulates the trade to those places in America protected by his Majesty’s arms. Every regulation it prescribes has been already exactly followed, so there is no cause for alteration unless it shall be judged expedient to permit exportation to the West Indies as well as to Europe. Rebel privateers infest this coast. Three of our ships taken, one called the “Glasgow.” This event has furnished the rebels in North Carolina with ammunition. Unless the coast is kept clear several of our rich ships may fall into their hands. Capt. Garner has fixed the 26th for the convoy to sail. The vessels will have more than £100,000 value of produce of this Government. Will rejoin his Excellency by the first ship of war.

CAPTAIN WILLIAM SPRY to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, September 13. Halifax.—Submits the enclosed, which he hopes will justify his procedure when distressed by writs served by claimants on his department. If the debts already proved must be established by civil judicature so much time will be taken up he will be unable to go to England. To obviate this, and his opposing in court his commanding officer, he requests his Excellency to direct Brig. Gen. McLean to state the objections against the a/cs, that they may be answered to his satisfaction.

BRIG. GEN. FRANCIS MCLEAN to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, September 14. Halifax.—Private. The intelligence of a French armament coming on this coast has engrossed all attention. No pains have been spared to put the place in defence; batteries repaired and constructed; Citadel Hill entrenched, the ditch pallisaded, an abbatiss carried round, and bomb proof magazines sunk. But for any tolerable protection, either to town or dockyard, new works will be necessary. The smallest appearance of an attack in the spring would oblige him to set about them immediately. Great want of powder. Provisions and other articles are pretty ample.

BRIG. GEN. FRANCIS MCLEAN to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, September 14. Halifax.—Receipt of letters of 28 June and 5 July. Battalion and flank companies shall be put on a level. Provincial corps remain on the same footing. Has issued bat, baggage and forage money to the troops and staff. Accounts will be sent to the Quarter Master General by his deputy here. The inspection of Spry's accounts has caused a procedure on his part very unjustifiable. Is only prevented by the present situation of affairs from suspending him or placing him under arrest. Will send the whole for his consideration by the "Charlestown." Scarcity of money. Discount on bills 7 %. Transmits list of warrants from 1 Jan. to 30 June; the vouchers shall go by the "Charlestown." Requests blank warrants for holding general courts martial. Last letters from Haldimand 16 Aug.; everything quiet. The part of the Knyphausen Regt. which wintered at St. John's was arrived. Sent off to Quebec eighty recruits from Newfoundland which had wintered here: hopes they will arrive safe, as they have beaten off two rebel privateers. Requires clothing and camp equipage for four companies of his regiment. It is nearly thirty months since they were clothed.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 21, No. 198. 3 pages.

BRIG. GEN. MCLEAN to CAPTAIN WILLIAM SPRY.

1780, September 14. Halifax.—In answer to the letter of the 6th inst., he acknowledges he has had the accounts for the time mentioned, except the cash account, which arrived 29 July. Reminds him that on many occasions he expressed astonishment that the enormous expense exceeded the value of the works, and that he could not sign them as approved, but should refer them to the Commander in Chief. Points out the extraordinary expense of carpenters during the short and inclement days in December, &c. Heavy expense of truckage. Extraordinary purchase of lumber. Recalls his answer to a question as to how the £4,400 in lumber was disposed of—that he did not know. Instructed him to carry on no works in the summer of 1779 during his (the Brigadier's) absence in Penobscot, yet £8,466 appears expended during that time, yet no additional works worth notice appeared. No suit at law would induce him to approve accounts to which there are so many solid objections. Informs him no public money passes through his hands; the bills alluded to are drawn by Major Studholme. Will state his objections in writing, and they, with the answers, shall be sent to the Commander in Chief. His disrespect renders him liable to suspension from duty, however, he may continue the business of his department.

BRIG. GEN. FRANCIS MCLEAN to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, September 16. Halifax.—Transmits memorial of Lt. Col. Commandant Goreham relative to his rank and the establishment of his regiment. With respect to the former, Lt. Col. John Campbell, at Penobscot, is in similar circumstances, though unable to solicit attention to his pretensions. Also transmits Major Batt's memorial. Mr. Morris's appointment in the Loyal Nova Scotia Volunteers, and other circumstances set forth, happened before he (McLean) arrived in this province, but he believes the facts well founded.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 21, No. 199. 1 page.

BRIG. GEN. FRANCIS MCLEAN to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, September 16. Halifax.—Transmits returns from the 70th and 82nd Regts. of officers desirous of promotion by purchase. Ensign McDonald, of the 84th Regt., is the only officer willing to purchase.

Signed letter. Vol. 21, No. 200. 1 page.

GENERAL WASHINGTON to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, September 17. Head Quarters.—Concerning enclosure relative to the exchange of John Burke, of Antigua, for Lieut. Morris, of the Georgia Artillery. Should this be agreeable, will transmit a release for Mr. Burke discharging him from any obligation of parole he may have entered into.

Signed letter. Vol. 15, No. 12. 1 page.

Enclosing Gov. Burt to Maj. Gen. Prevost, 15 Jan., 1780.

GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON to GENERAL WASHINGTON.

1780, September 19. Head Quarters.—“Major General Phillips, who goes to Elizabeth Town to meet Major General Lincoln, is intrusted & instructed from me with everything relating to a general exchange of prisoners of war, as well as of the Troops of Convention, and also with all matters relative to the commissaries of provisions & their instructions, who it is intended should reside with the respective armies.

“It is probable Major Gen. Lincoln will have your instructions to confer upon all these matters with Major Gen. Phillips, but should that not be the case, I take it for granted you will immediately send a proper officer for that purpose to Elizabeth Town. I have the honor to be, &c.”

Copy. Vol. 20, No. 49. 1 page.

1780, September 23. Head Quarters, New York.—Proclamation. Announcing pardon to deserters who should surrender to any of H.M. troops before 1 Dec. next.

Two printed copies. Vol. 15, No. 128. 1 page.

[BRIGADIER GENERAL ARNOLD.]

1780, September 26. New York.—In reply to message why Adj. Gen. André is detained, apprehends a few hours must return him, as he is under the protection of a flag of truce. Maintains that commanding at West Point he had undoubted right to send flag of truce for him, and that after the conversation he handed him confidential papers. Thinking it proper that he should return by land, directed him to make use of the feigned name of John Anderson, and gave him passports. He cannot fail, therefore, of being immediately sent to New York. (Printed in Sparks's Washington VII. 534.)

TIMOTHY HIERLIHY, Major Commandant Independent Cos., to BRIGADIER GENERAL FRANCIS McLEAN.

1780, September 26. Charlotte Town.—The bearer, Capt. Osborne, carries returns and accounts, which he hopes will be passed. Requests a general court martial for Capt. McMullen. Desires to go to New York to endeavour to get his family from among the rebels. This island being surrounded with ice in winter has little to fear from the enemy. Capt. Curgenvin is capable of complying with any commands he may receive during Hierlihy's absence.

GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON to GENERAL WASHINGTON.

1780, September 30. New York.—Has this instant received letter of this day's date in answer to his of the 26th. It does not express what time the Board of General Officers delivered their report, or whether the letter from Gen. Arnold to himself (Clinton) was offered to their consideration. Indeed, no intimation is given of its being received, yet it contains declarations of the most serious consequences in what relates to Major André. Must take the liberty of assuring him that he differs entirely in opinion from the decision of the American General Officers, nor can he consider Major André, according to the custom of armies, to have been a spy, and consequently by no means liable from the law of arms or nations at war to suffer death. "I have not the least doubt but your Excellency will be cautious of putting to death an officer of the British army, and I am perfectly convinced of the real honesty which governs your conduct on all occasions, and it will assuredly lead you, Sir, to not suffer too sudden an operation of so violent a measure."

Proposes meeting of three persons from each side to discuss the subject. Will send Lt. Gen. Robertson and two gentlemen to Dobbs' Ferry in a flag of truce, where they will wait for a message and passports.

J. CURGENVEN, Captain, to BRIG. GEN. FRANCIS MCLEAN.

1780, October 6. Charlotte Town.—Memorial. Requests leave of absence for six months to go to England to settle accounts with Government, as Collector of Newhaven and Receiver for Greenwich Hospital, for near £2,000. By the removal of the Board of Customs, and other vicissitudes, is unacquainted with the mode of getting them liquidated by writing. Has been in America thirteen years. If this interferes with Major Hierlihy's absence he would rather remain on the island until he returns.

GENERAL WASHINGTON to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, October 7. Head Quarters.—“I find by the report of our commissary of prisoners of the proceedings which lately took place between him and Mr. Loring at Elizabeth Town on the 21st ulto., that he was willing, on the part of your Excellency, to accede substantially to my propositions respecting an exchange of officers, provided the exchange should be extended to the privates, prisoners of war, then in your hands at New York. This is perfectly agreeable to me, and I have accordingly directed our commissary to take the most immediate measures to carry into execution, as well the exchange of those privates as of the officers.”

THOMAS DESBRISAY, Lt. Gov. and Commander in Chief of the Island of St. John, to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, October 8. Charlotte Town, Island of St. John.—Refers to a letter of 23 Sep., 1779, inclosing his memorial offering to raise at his own expense a battalion of three or four hundred men. Proposes to make it 500 men if he approves. If not, he desires to be appointed Lieut. Col. Commandant of Hierlihy's Independent Company, and he will engage to raise and form them into a corps. If neither of these proposals is acceptable, offers to command an independent company raised by Mr. Callbeck, the Atty. General, for the defence of this Island. Hopes he will be thought a more proper person to command it than Mr. Callbeck, who was bred an attorney in Ireland. He himself has been an officer thirty years. Is but forty-three, and perfectly fit for service.

GOV. WALTER PATTERSON to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, October 13. Halifax.—Brig. Gen. McLean has promised to forward the letters and papers written to him respecting the government of St. John. Apologizes for their prolixity. Desires to receive orders or instructions directly from his Excellency, the government being distinct from Nova Scotia. But, as there is no money chest nearer than Halifax, he suggests the commanding officer at Nova Scotia be informed of the extent of his (Patterson's) powers.

GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON to LORD AMHERST.

1780, October 16. New York.—Acknowledges letter acquainting him that Capt. Barry, of the 52d Regt. has leave to serve with this army as Deputy Adjutant General. Refers him to his aid-de-camp, Capt. St. George, who presents this, for particulars respecting the present situation. "On the eve of a very important stroke (concerted with the rebel General Arnold) it was discovered:—The General has made his escape to us, but we have lost our Adjutant General. As it is painful to me to enter into the particulars of this unhappy affair, I am sure your Lordship will forgive me if I refer you to Captain St. George."

JONATHAN KETCHUM to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, October 18. New York.—Petition. Is from Norwalk, Connecticut. Represents his losses for his loyalty. That he came off with Governor Tryon in the year 1779 quite destitute. Has been sick at Huntington, Long Island. Proffered a memorial to Gen. Pattison, but that, being improperly made, brought no relief. One son has died in H.M. service, another has been taken prisoner. Asks his clemency and charity. Recommended by Jeremiah Leaming and John Sayre.

Original. Vol. 25, No. 269. 2 pages.

LT. CALEB WHEATON to BRIG. GEN. FRANCIS MCLEAN.

1780, October 19. Halifax.—Memorial of Lt. Wheaton, of the Independent Company, under Timothy Hierlihy, Major Commandant. Asking his full pay as Lieut., having only received half pay. His services in the Independent Company. Previous to that was nineteen months prisoner with the Americans, during which he received no pay.

Original. Vol. 53, No. 17. 2 pages.

SIR HENRY CLINTON to MAJOR GENERAL CAMPBELL.

1780, October 21. New York.—Receipt of dispatches. Bat and forage money is a bounty granted only to troops who take the field, but in consideration of the fatigue borne by the troops in West Florida the officers of troops actually present may have the allowance for 1779, and 200 days for present year, according to enclosed distribution. Withholds consent to the union of the Pennsylvania and Maryland Loyalists on account of injury done to the commanding and other officers. Lt. Gordon brings clothing for provincial corps. Suggests application to Mr. Rigby for a Deputy Pay Master to the troops in West Florida, and has no doubt his recommendation of Maj. Campbell will have due weight. Thanks Capt. Heldring for his services as engineer. Concern at the weakness of the garrison, since it is impossible to send any reinforcement. Is happy that Galvez has returned to New Orleans. The enclosed copies of intercepted Spanish dispatches show the reason of that measure. Laments his want of money, but cannot relieve him. Hopes by now Sir Peter Parker has sent a naval force to Pensacola. Necessary to keep Indians in good humour. Mr. Cameron has written several long letters on the subject. Has referred the said Mr. Cameron to him. Hopes he has received ordnance and stores from home. Letters from Mr. Robinson and Gov. Chester referred for consideration must have been founded on a mistake, as no governor can have command over troops while an officer of superior rank to a colonel is present. Appointment of Maj. McDonald is right. Sends summary lists of prisoners tried by court martial, with confirmation of their sentences; also two execution warrants, if one will be sufficient the other is to be destroyed.

LIEUT. COL. JOHN BAYARD, Commdt. King's Orange Rangers, to
BRIG. GENERAL FRANCIS MCLEAN.

1780, October 22. Halifax.—“Having exerted every effort in my power to recruit the Battn. of King's Orange Rangers, and in part succeeded, I find myself so greatly embarrassed in private affairs by the expences accrued from the last recruits got, that absolute necessity obliges me to solicit in the most particular manner your indulging me with leave to go to New York for the purpose of adjusting my matters, the omission of which must involve me in a very unhappy situation, as I shall be exposed to the caprice of the civil power; which I have in my power to prevent by obtaining yr. leave for a short time of absence from his province; and, as I have a wish of exerting myself again to recruit for the Regiment, I beg leave further to request you'll be pleased to permit Lieut. Dawson, of the K. O. Rangers, to go round to New York also, by this opportunity, as I am assured he has it in his power to procure many men in that province. I pray you'll not have any objections to his going, as also myself being so critically situated."

GOVERNOR WALTER PATTERSON TO BRIG. GENERAL McLEAN.

1780, October 22. Halifax.—No. 1. By the answer to his memorial finds his (McLean's) power in money matters respecting the Island of St. John so circumscribed and undefined as to make the situation unpleasant to himself and wretched to the few troops stationed on the Island. Thinks this should be altered. Half of the men are in miserable huts, not fit to be inhabited by human beings. The manner in which they are paid is also a great grievance, the paymaster having to travel to Halifax, and then, being unable to take the risk of conveying the cash, has to invest it in necessaries in a very dear market. Mutinies and desertions frequent. Proposes to write to the General on the plan he proposed to McLean for defending the Island. Requests cash to be sent, sufficient to pay the six companies till next June; also that he will order barracks to be built for lodging the men. "Justice, prudence and humanity, in my judgment, declare those measures necessary, and you were good enough to say your powers extended so far."

GENERAL WASHINGTON TO GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, October 22. Head Quarters.—In answer to his proposals for a resident commissary, General Phillips transmitted another set substantially the same, except that these commissaries are to be appointed by the commanders-in-chief, each by his own authority. Cannot enter into such an agreement as his power is derived from Congress. Sends a new set, which, if agreeable to his Excellency, shall be signed and interchanged.

Signed letter. Vol. 15, No. 20. 1 page.

Enclosure:—

Articles of agreement for the appointment of a commissary of prisoners to reside with the American and British armies respectively.

[GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON] to [JOHN ROBINSON].

1780, October 27. New York.—In answer to letter of 29 July, there is no detention of the victualling transports by the commissary here. Fears they are often delayed for a convoy, as several applications were made to the Admiral for the last before it was ordered. No news yet of the Cork fleet. The King's stores are exhausted, and the measures taken several weeks since to obtain a small supply from Halifax are in some degree frustrated by the convoy not having yet sailed in spite of the Admiral's promise to dispatch it immediately. Requests him to represent to the Lords of the Treasury the need of keeping up supplies for this army.

BRIG. GEN. FRANCIS McLEAN to GOVERNOR WALTER PATTERSON.

1780, October 27. Halifax.—Letter of 26th inst. received. Repeats that he is unable to grant money for the public service in the Island of St. John without his Excellency's direction, to whom he will send the letters and memorial. "Having received instructions to furnish the troops on the Island of St. John with provisions, pay, and cloathing I shall give the necessary orders they shall not suffer in those respects; but, as I cannot allow myself to consider that Island as being in any other respect within the limits of my command, I regret, and shall lay before the Commander in Chief the very bad situation in which you represent the barracks to be." The paymaster shall receive two or three musters in advance on his representing by memorial the risks attending frequent journeys from the Island. Is concerned he cannot comply with the several requisitions made for the service of the Island, but can only obey his instructions, and keep himself as clear from public accounts as the nature of his situation will admit.

[GOV. WALTER PATTERSON] to BRIG. GEN. FRANCIS McLEAN.

1780, October 27. Halifax.—No. 2. "I have the honor to inclose you herewith a memorial from Capt. Callbeck. After the difficulties I have experienced in every thing relating to my Govt. since coming hither, I was determined to wait in silence the result of our joint representations to the Commander in Chief; nor could any consideration, less alarming than the present, have induced me to break through my resolution, or to have given you any further trouble on that subject. Capt. Callbeck's intreaties, the intreaties of his creditors, the distress and cruelty of his case, his merit, nor the service which his company hath been of to the Island; all these considerations together (however I might have felt them) could not have prevailed. But, Sir, when the lives and properties of the people intrusted to my care, together with my own, are at stake, though my hopes of success may be ever so small, my duty to my King, and every consideration that is dear to man, obliges me to say something on the present occasion.

"In the letter which I had the honor of writing to you on the 22nd inst., I represented the discontented and distressful situation of the soldiers upon the Island, for want of pay and proper quarters. But I still hoped that the attachment of Capt. Callbeck's Company to the Island, and its orderly behaviour in general, would enable me to preserve peace and good order during the ensuing winter. That only resource is now cut off by this unexpected stroke. They will be without subsistence for seven or eight months, and without any certainty of being paid even then, for who will venture to say they shall, when it is known that to be enabled to fulfill his promise he must take a voyage to Head Quarters, at the risk of his life and to the ruin of his fortune. I will venture to pronounce, no man will be found; you cannot yourself, sir, for if that is in your power, it is also in your power to pay them in the first instance. The men will be told they are not intitled to pay, consequently not soldiers. Judge then, yourself, what will follow, and let me entreat you to place yourself for a few moments only in the situation I must remain for the whole winter. If you can, I flatter myself you will do all you can to relieve me. I do not ask it as a favor; I ask it as your duty to our master, and I know what I ask is in your power. I know more. It is right. The existence of the company is acknowledged by the Commander in Chief, by his taking notice of it in the general arrangement of the new corps. It has been acknowledged by yourself, by being victualled and cloathed by your orders. You have as much power to pay them as you have to order them provisions and cloathing. You were pleased to say you thought they were militia. There has been no instance in America (within my knowledge) of a company of militia being kept imbodyed for five years. But granting it to be the case, when the militia in England are imbodyed for any extraordinary time, they are fed, cloathed, and paid as his Majesty's other troops. In short, sir, the matter appears so clear and so proper to me that I cannot account for the hesitation. I am so much concerned in this business that you will be good enough to excuse the earnestness of my language, and I flatter myself if you can you will alter your opinion. But should it prove otherwise, that the soldiers are not to be paid, but are to be kept imbodyed in a state of uncertainty whether they are to have pay or not, I shall sum up the whole by requesting, and I do it most earnestly, that you will give immediate orders for withdrawing the troops, as we shall be in a much happier state if left exposed to an accidental attack of an outward foe than if kept in continual terror by a domestick enemy. I have the honor to be, &c."

BRIG. GEN. FRANCIS MCLEAN to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, October 28. Halifax.—Everything quiet. Empty transports sent to New York for the Admiral's disposal. Bogs some may be sent early next year to bring coals, &c. Received from the "Garland" £26,000 designed for Quebec. Mr. Thompson appointed deputy paymaster, vice Turner, deceased. Recommends Lieut. Jas. Dunlop to succeed Captain Alex. Campbell by purchase; he is now a prisoner with the rebels. Requests him to try and exchange Lieuts. Rutherford, Maxwell, Dunlop and Anderson, who have been prisoners since March, 1779. Major Craig sent to New York to settle the recruiting and subsistence accounts of the 82d Companies there, after which he is to go to Europe on the same errand and his private affairs. Refers to him for information respecting the post, &c.

BRIG. GEN. FRANCIS McLEAN to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, October 29. Halifax.—Encloses letters which have passed between Governor Patterson and himself. In all his replies has been influenced by the consideration of having no instructions whatever relative to St. John as connected with his command, and the impropriety of granting money for services in another civil government. Begs to mention the difficulties attending the supplying that place with provisions—it might be done better from Europe.

BRIG. GEN. FRANCIS McLEAN to [CAPTAIN WILLIAM SPRY].

1780, October 29. Halifax.—Stating objections to his account; the general grounds being that a survey of the works in no way justifies so large a sum; that part of it was under General Massey's term of command, for which he is not responsible; and that, though receipts are supplied, no detail of the expenditure or application of the materials is supplied. GOV. WALTER PATTERSON to BRIG. GEN. FRANCIS McLEAN.

1780, October 29. Halifax.—No. 3. Acknowledges answers to his letters of 26th and 27th. Quotes from the first "having received instructions to furnish the troops . . . with provisions, pay and clothing I shall take care they shall not suffer," and points out that the second letter, saying it is not in his power to pay Capt. Callbeck's Company, is contradictory. Is at a loss to account for his refusal. Is mortified his last letter merited so little attention; did not ask any favour for Capt. Callbeck; placed the matter on what he thought would weigh with every servant of the crown—his duty.

MAJOR GENERAL JOHN CAMPBELL to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, October 31. Head Quarters, Pensacola.—. . . “The Chactaw Indians appear at length to be gained over to espouse our cause . . . the Spaniards having failed in furnishing the presents they had promised. . . . In the first transport of their zeal they committed some acts of cruelty on French inhabitants . . . but they are now made thoroughly sensible that friendship and alliance with us are not to be cemented by barbarity, and will, I flatter myself, demean themselves hereafter with more humanity.” Works begun at Red Cliffs. Are still uninvaded; some disaster must have befallen the expedition from the Havannah, but no news can be had. Scarcity of rum. Difficulty of clothing the provincial troops.

CAPTAIN WILLIAM SPRY to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, October 31. Halifax.—Transmits duplicates of letters. "General McLean not having been pleased to send me his objections to my accounts till yesterday, and the Charles Town frigate being to sail to-morrow, leaves me so short an interval of time as puts it out of my power to make the answers to those objections I might otherwise have done, and, therefore, can now only request permission, in general terms, to assure your Excellency that I can, with the utmost facility, remove every one of them when the accounts come to be proved before the Court, where they are now depending; and that they might, with equal ease, have been removed long ago if the General had been so good to give me the opportunity, by stating the objections in writing, which I had so often intreated of him to do previously to my being arrested. But as he has now thought proper, by his counsel, to file an emparlance to my suit till the next term, which is not before April, and I have been oblig'd to find special bail for my appearance then, or be sent to jail, I am deprived of taking the benefit of your Excellency's leave to go to England, or even to Head Quarters, personally to explain my accounts to your Excellency, and am therefore under the necessity of signifying my intention of remaining in America another year. At the same time, I beg your Excellency will accept my most sincere thanks for the indulgence you had been pleased to grant me."

1780, October 31. Halifax.—Sends the enclosed. Had Gen. McLean examined and settled his accounts quarterly, as given in, any objections might have been easily removed, but after two or three years it is impossible to produce the original evidences of all. Maintains it is impossible for any one to estimate the value of works by walking over them. Refers for evidence to Capt. Johnston, of the 70th, going to New York. Has regularly applied for money in advance, and presented memorials when the quarters closed. Was always put off with a want of money in the garrison, not with any objections to the accounts. Could not agree to pay off Major Studholme's or Mr. Williams's a/cs in preference to others equally just, though Gen. McLean offered from four to six thousand pounds to pay off these.

BRIG. GEN. FRANCIS MCLEAN to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, November 2. Halifax.—Takes the liberty of laying before him what has passed here relative to the a/cs of Capt. Spry, Commanding Engineer. The extraordinary procedure already mentioned was that gentleman's suing him in the Courts of Common Law for the balance due. The Atty. and Solicitor General say that a final hearing cannot take place till April next, at which he is concerned, since Capt. Spry insinuates that it deprives him of the leave of absence granted by the Commander-in-Chief. Is doubtful whether the permission to keep him in the command after such a step will be approved. Has only to add that the works constructed here appear so very inadequate to the enormous sums expended that he must hesitate to affix any signature implying approbation.

Enclosures :—

CAPTAIN WM. SPRY to BRIG. GEN. FRANCIS McLEAN.

1780, November 11. Halifax.—In answer to his objections, reminds him first he had already signed and approved the accounts to 30 September, 1778, to the close of Gen. Massey's command; that by reason of delays nearly £400 had been expended as interest. Cannot admit that any survey long after the services were performed could be a sufficient cause for reprobating his accounts, as many of the works had gone to decay. Complains of the delay in examining the a/cs, and in his being forced into having recourse to the civil law merely to obtain the protection of government from the suits brought against himself. Lt. Col. Bruce can testify to the works carried on in his (McLean's) absence at Penobscot, as he gave the orders. As for the boat's crew, has always, with other commanding engineers, had the same allowance; indeed, has charged by mistake currency instead of sterling. The lumber has been carefully issued and applied. As for the winter employment of trucks, they do not amount to quite three, and the carpenters were scarcely sufficient for the making and repairing intrenching tools. Will endeavour to remove any further objections if they are stated to him. True copy, W. Spry, Commanding Engineer.

CAPTAIN GEORGE GAYTON to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, November 19. "Romulus," Hampton Road.—"Since my last, of the 5th instant, his Majesty's ship Iris arrived from Charlestown with Lt. Gratton, charged with dispatches from Lt. Genl. Earl Cornwallis to Major General Leslie. In consequence of which letter it was judged for the good of his Majesty's service that Portsmouth shou'd be evacuated, and the troops removed to Cape Fear, which was strongly recommended by his Lordship if it could be done consistent with Major Genl. Leslie's instructions from you. Part of the troops was embarked immediately on board of the transports under pretence of an expedition up James River.

"Nov. 12th.—Dispatched his Majesty's ship Blonde to Charlestown with an answer to the Earl of Cornwallis's letter, committed to the care of Lt. Gratton; when I wrote to the Commanding Officer by sea to give us every assistance in his power, such as pilots, crafts, provisions, &c., as we are much in want of all.

"Do. 16th, at noon.—The troops marched out of Portsmouth to the old fort, place of their final embarkation.

"Do. 17th.—Early in the morning the troops being all embarked, light airs southerly down the river, got under sail with the fleet, & very fortunately anchored all safe in Hampton Road about noon. The rear of the fleet had not been long at an anchor here before the wind came to the northward, and blowed hard for 24 hours. Luckily no damage done to the fleet, except 2 empty sloops & a small schooner driving on shore.

"Every place that we have been at, found best part of the inhabitants had left their houses & taken their furniture with them, except a few women & children & old men.

"Do. 21st—At 8 o'clock in the morning; just going to get under sail, wind at south, light airs. Hope to get the fleet down to Lynhaven Bay to-day; but I shall not stop there if the wind comes favourable, but proceed to the southward for Cape Fear. I mean to leave a ship off the Capes for a few days in case any thing shou'd be dispatched from New York."

MAJ. GEN. ALEXANDER LESLIE to GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, November 19. On board the "Romulus," Hampton Rd.—No. 4. Recounts the leaving Portsmouth in order to reinforce Lord Cornwallis. Left the works entire; hopes the ground may still be taken up, as it is the key to the wealth of Virginia and Maryland. Laments weakness in ships of war. The Hessians a most respectable corps. Loss of the provincials by desertion. The people seem tired of the war. P.S.—Is afraid the move up the De'aware has not taken place. The want of small craft and light armed vessels cramped them much. In regard to provisions, refers him to Mr Wier. Gov. Hamilton is driven back to Hampton, something having happened to the sloop in the late gale. (Printed in the Clinton-Cornwallis Controversy I. 297.)

THOMAS MONK to COLONEL W. TONGE.

1780, November 28.—To be explicit upon the subject mentioned yesterday respecting the regiment, acquaints him that in a late memorial he informed the Commander-in-Chief that the expense incurred in raising recruits (for which the regiment is still in debt) was in expectation of the appointment of field and staff officers agreeable to orders of the Commander-in-Chief in June, 1776, and of consequent vacancies being filled. Hoped he (Tonge) would succeed Lt. Col. Denson. Has expressed a readiness to try and complete the regiment, if it is desired by his Excellency, and would be glad to be helped by him as Lieutenant Colonel. Wishes him success.

CAPTAIN W. TONGE to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, November 30. Windsor, Nova Scotia.—Refers to a memorial of a year ago, in which he set forth his long services, and the wishes of all the captains of the Loyal Nova Scotia Volunteers that he might succeed Lt. Col. H. D. Denson. Was informed that his Excellency had referred his pretensions to Brig. Gen. McLean, who in answer to the enclosed memorial, had not yet received any orders on the subject. The officers have used their utmost exertions to recruit the Regiment. Refers to Capt. Monk's letter. Hopes his own supplication as an old soldier will not be in vain. Lt. Gen. Robertson may recollect him when at the siege of Louisbourg.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 21, No. 255. 4 pages.

CHARLES JENKINSON to GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, December 5. War Office.—It having been found impossible to fill up the augmentation voted in 1778, by obtaining recruits sufficient for that purpose, it is now directed that every battalion now on the establishment of seventy privates p. company, which had not, according to the latest returns, so many effectives as w th the recruits of their additional companies would complete the ten companies on service to five hundred and seventy effective rank and file, shall be reduced to the establishment of fifty-six privates p. company, similarly those on the establishment of one hundred privates p. company which would not complete to eight hundred and sixty effectives, shall be reduced to eighty-five privates p. company. The regiments under the Convention of Saratoga appear to be so lowered that their companies are to be reduced from fifty-six rank and file to thirty privates, but the number of non-commissioned officers is to continue as before.

MAJ. GEN. ALEXANDER LESLIE to GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, December 20. Charlestown.—“On my arrival here I found two letters from your Excellency, the one by Gen. O’Hara, the other by Col. Watson. I did myself the honor to write you on our leaving Hampton Road, dated the 22nd ult., where we were some days detained by violent & contrary winds. We had very bad weather at sea. The Galatea met us with orders to proceed to this place, where we fortunately got the 14th instant, all in health, without a missing ship; most of our horses suffered: only one sloop taken; the two gallies are not arrived, I fancy they are drove to the southward.

“Commodore Gayton took infinite pains to keep our fleet together, & has much merit in bringing us to port so handsomely. I felt latterly great anxiety, for our provisions were very scanty, & Lord Cornwallis shewed a strong inclination for our arrival.

“For want of horses and waggons we were detained here until the 19th, when the troops disembarked and pursued their march for Camden.

“I cou’d not comply with your Excellency’s directions in regard to the 17th Foot & Light Dragoons, nor the gallies, having only received your letter here.

“The Camilla met us at sea from Gardiner’s Bay, with orders from Admiral Arbuthnot to carry home any accounts of our operations.

“I took the liberty to write to Lord George Germain, informing him of the reason of leaving Virginia. I also told him of our arrival, but referred him to Lord Cornwallis for particulars.

“The Camilla being unfit to go to sea, Captain Gayton has ordered the Blonde to go home.

“I go off to-morrow to overtake the troops, who cannot go fast, the roads being very deep. I have the, &c.

“N.B.—To do justice to Mr. Walters & Mr. Bradly, the agents, they paid every attention to the public service.”

JOHN ROBINSON to GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, December 23. Whitehall, Treasury Chambers.—I am commanded by the Lords of the Treasury to transmit the enclosed letter to Major Drummond, relative to his appointment as Commissary of Accounts to the army in America. Acknowledges receipt of letter of 13th May, promising to exert himself to reduce public expenditures, and directs him to give to Major Drummond the necessary orders relative to accounts.

Duplicate signed letter. Vol. 20, No. 8. 1 page

Enclosure :—

JOHN ROBINSON to MAJ. DUNCAN DRUMMOND.

1780, December 23. Whitehall, Treasury Chambers.—His letter of the 30th August, desiring to be authorized how to proceed as Commissary of Accounts attending the army in America, has been laid before the Lords of the Treasury. They are surprised he has not acted pursuant to the powers vested in him. The "orders, rules, and directions" in his commission refer to such as may be given as circumstances arise, and not those necessary to be given at time of appointment. He is therefore to proceed in the execution of his commission and examine and audit, &c., the accounts of the departments of the army under Clinton. He is to endeavour to curtail improper charges, and see that the respective services are carried on with economy.

JOSEPH HITCHCOCK to LT. GEN. JAMES ROBERTSON.

1780, December 27. New York.—Memorial. Describes himself as late inhabitant of Fredericksburgh in this province, a refugee residing in Long Island. That for his attachment to Government he was imprisoned for a long time; that, having escaped, he has supported himself by his labour, but being advanced in years and rendered, by a fall from a waggon, incapable of maintaining himself he is absolutely without the necessaries of life, and begs rations or other subsistence. Certified by Jeremiah Leaming as having suffered as described, and as really an object of compassion.

Autograph signed. Vol. 31, No. 187. 2 pages.

LORD AMHERST to GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, December 29. Whitehall.—Signifies his Majesty's approval of Captain Forbes Champagné having leave to come to England to attend to his private business if the service will permit and there is no objection.

Signed letter. Vol. 4, No. 199. 1 page.

EARL CORNWALLIS to GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, December 29. Wynnesborough.—“When the numerous and formidable bodies of the back mountain men came down to attack Major Ferguson, & shewed themselves to be our inveterate enemies, I directed Lt. Col. Brown to encourage the Indians to attack the settlements of Watoga, Holstein, Caentuck & Nolachuckie, all which are new encroachments on the Indian territories. The good effects of this measure have already appeared. A large body of the mountaineers marched lately to join the rebels near King's Mountain, but were soon obliged to return to oppose the incursions of the Indians. I have the honor to enclose to your Excellency copies of letters from Lt. Col. Brown, Major Gen. Campbell, & Major de Peister, with the intercepted ones from the Governor of Virginia to Don Galvez and his answer.

Copy. Vol. 20, No. 5. 1 page.

Enclosing Lieut. Col. Brown to Earl Cornwallis, with three enclosures, see 17 December.

JAMES MONCRIEF, Engineer, W. GRATTON, R. POWELL and WILLIAM GREENWOOD to GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, December 29. Charlestown.—Acknowledge letter of 6th November, with petition of merchants trading to province of South Carolina. Represent they have never been possessed of books or papers of accounts of property as therein set forth, save what are set forth in enclosed return (? not found). Have not considered themselves trustees of captured property, as the Commissaries of Captures exercise their commission, and have sold property brought from the country to a considerable amount.

Signed letter. Vol. 54, No. 34. 1 page.

MESSRS. GORDON, CROWDER and BIDDULPH.

1780, September 30 and December 31.—Statement of cash for these dates.

GOVR. RICHARD HUGHES to GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1780, December 31. Government House, Halifax.—Mr. Francklin, Superintendent for Indian Affairs, having represented that the sum of £500 laid out in presents for those tribes of Indians who withdrew from their alliance with the rebels in 1778, and renewed their oaths to his Majesty, were actually shipped on the “Vernon” transport and sent to New York to be forwarded to Halifax, and consigned to the said Superintendent, as will appear by the enclosed copy of the bill of lading. By mistake they have been sent to the Deputy Quarter Master General of the Army at Halifax, and Brigadier General McLean will not permit them to be delivered without orders from Head Quarters. Entreats therefore, in the most earnest manner, that Brigadier General McLean may be authorised to deliver them to the Superintendent, as disappointment to the Indians may be attended with serious consequences, since the rebel agent at Machias is using every possible means to corrupt and bring them over to the American cause. Commends Mr. Francklin’s loyalty and attention to his duties.

Signed letter. Vol. 13, No. 177. 3 pages.

GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

N. D. [perhaps 1780.]—Two paragraphs in Clinton's hand, beginning:—1. "This I take to be the purport of your letter, altho I confess there is some part of it I do not understand, nor will I ask an explanation of lest it should impede what we have, of course, so much at heart" [some words crossed through].

2d. "If according to the plan proposed in ——— (sic) I of course concert (?) and will (?) . . . authorised by you. As to your sovereign and mine, Sir or Gentⁿ apointed under the powers of what you call United States, I know of no sovereign for either of us here, but George the Third of Great Britain, Scotland and Ireland, & what you call United States, I consider as colonies in wanton rebellion against their sovereign."

LEONARD MORSE to BENJAMIN THOMPSON.

1781, January 1. Whitehall.—In answer to a letter of the 11th ult. by Lord G. Germain's directions containing copy of a letter from Qr. Master General Dalrymple, Lord Amherst is of opinion that the English officers serving in America as general officers should be promoted to keep pace with the German officers, and if any promotion of German officers has lately been made to the prejudice of the English officers a local promotion in America only should be immediately made of these English officers. The command of Provincial troops should be given to an officer from among themselves. If Lt. Col. Sheriffe has resigned the office of Deputy Qr. Master General his Lordship has no objection to the appointment of Major Bruen. On the subject of the want of gun-powder quotes Report received from the Ordnance 16 Dec., 1780, that every demand of Sir Henry Clinton had been complied with except the last one of 28 Octr. With regard to Clinton's wishes for service of Col. Medows and Sir Hy. Calder the former is named for the command of the expedition now fitting out and the latter is gone with his regiment to Ireland.

MAJOR GENERAL JOHN CAMPBELL to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1781, January 5. Head Quarters, Pensacola.—That this place has once more providentially escaped a formidable invasion. Six King's ships and 51 transports sailed from Havanna 16 October to be joined by transports with provisions from La Vera Cruz and Campeachy. A fleet of observation is said to have also sailed at same time. A violent storm the next day totally dispersed them. Having already assembled the Indians, proposes to attack the enemy at Mobile village on Sunday morning next. Arranges ships to appear in the bay at the time of the attack. Describes the redoubt at Red Cliffs. Defences at Fort George. Is at a loss. Desires decisions on Courts Martial and some blank warrants. Is distressed for answer to request of troops for bat and forage money.

Signed letter. Vol. 16, No. 44. 3 pages.

EARL CORNWALLIS to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1781, January 6. Wynnesborough.—Has written several letters ; fears they are all still at Charlestown. His difficulties not occasioned by the opposite army, but by constant incursions of various parties and by perpetual risings within the province; the invariable successes of these parties against the militia keep the whole country in continual alarm and render the assistance of regular troops everywhere necessary. Will begin his march to-morrow to the Catawba and the Yadkin. Has directed Lt. Col. Balfour to apply for a force to be sent to Cape Fear immediately. The expression made use of by Lt. Col. Balfour to Maj. Gen. Leslie "was only meant to convey his private opinion of the necessity of his complying with my request," and of the danger to which the province would be exposed if again left destitute. He had no apprehensions while the army remained on the frontiers. Requests answer as to whether Lt. Gov. Graham's charge of 20s. a day as inspector of refugees in Georgia is to be allowed. LIEUT. COL. ALURED CLARKE to LIEUT. COL. BALFOUR.

1781, January 24. Savannah.—My Dear Balfour,—Some time ago Governor Töynyn intimated to me his intention of sending a Flag of Truce to the Havannah when a convenient opportunity should offer. This he has done by an intelligent young man (a Mr. Forbes) who left that place on the 7th & arrived at St. Augustine on the 14th of this month, with the intelligence contained in the Governor's letter to me, and the paper of questions and answers sent by Lt. Col. Glazier, copies of which I enclose for your information [22 January] in order that you may give me every assistance towards the defence of E. Florida, which I am confident will be attacked after the reduction of Pensacola; and also that you may forward such parts of their contents to the admiral or officer commanding the Navy as you may think useful to him. I am in constant expectation of accounts from Genl. Campbell, & shall set off for Augustine the moment he announces the appearance of the Spaniards before him. Whilst you were very weak in So. Carolina, I never made a difficulty about the numbers being too small for the defence of the place, because I foresaw the distress it would be to Lord Cornwallis to part with any more troops, but as the case is altered in some degree by the arrival of Genl. Leslie, & will be considerably so, in all probability very soon, by the arrival of the three regiments from Europe, I must request that you will contrive to spare me at least one hundred men; & as my motive is merely the service immediately in question, if you was to let it be a detachment composed for the purpose, there would be no probability of their being detained longer than the business now before us requires. It surely is requisite that another artillery officer should be sent, and I do suppose one might be spared from Charles Town without any great inconvenience; therefore, pray speak to Traile about it, and also that some articles may be supplied that are absolutely necessary and of which I will send an account. The garrison of St. Augustine at present consists of about 450 men—100 I propose taking from hence—which, with what I have requested of you, will only make 650, a number by no means equal to what it ought to have; but with which, and such of the inhabitants as may be scraped together, I would endeavour to make the best defence possible. Pray speak to Moncrieff on this subject, and I am convinced you will find his opinion coincide with mine. The article of provisions is also so necessary to be attended to that I must beg of you to speak strongly to Mr. Townsend on the subject, and beg of him not to neglect keeping up the stock as complete as possible, advertising always to the number of prisoners, when he sends supplies. I shall write a few lines to Lord Cornwallis which I request you will forward to him with copies of the papers of intelligence that I send you. I will mention to him my application to you for the men above requested, and make no doubt of its meeting with his lordship's approbation. The two 36 pounders at Augustine are guns of infinite importance and there are very few shot for them; therefore beg some may be sent, as I am informed you have them at Charlestown. I cannot conclude without again begging you will press Major Traile & Mr. Townsend to do everything requisite. I am, &c.

Although I write to Traile I enclose the ordnance returns for you to give him, thinking that may assist matters. One of them is sent from Augustine, and the demand such as to complete the garrison to its full allowance. The other I have made out here and hope that may be complied with if the other is beyond your abilities.

P.S.—I have mentioned to Lord Cornwallis that you would send a copy of Governor Tonym's letter and the other paper to him, so beg you will do it.

GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON to GENERAL WASHINGTON.

1781, February 2. New York.—“I have received your letter of the 25th ultimo, and have communicated to Major General Phillips that part of it which relates to him.

“With respect to the admitting Mr. John Franklin to reside here as agent, I am to inform you, sir, that his conduct was so very exceptionable when he lived in this city before, that the Commandant found it requisite to remove him & his family without the lines.

“The naval prisoners being entirely under the direction of the Officer Commanding the King's Ships on this station, I took the earliest opportunity of transmitting your letter to Vice Admiral Arbuthnot, through the Naval Officer Commanding at New York, and I am persuaded His Excellency will immediately direct the grievances complained of to be redressed, if, upon enquiry, they are found to exist.”

MAJOR GENERAL JOHN CAMPBELL to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1781, February 15. Head Quarters, Pensacola.—Acknowledges, by Lt. Hugh Mackay Gordon, letter of 21st October last and of 28th May previous. Thanks for gratuity of bat and forage money. Will follow his pleasure with regard to the Pennsylvania and Maryland Loyalist corps. Plan for vacancies, etc., therein. Would not have appointed a paymaster had he not thought it requisite. Suggests promotion in the Royal American Regiment for Lieut. Henry Heldring, of the Regt. of Waldeck. Is concerned at his Excellency's inability to send reinforcements. Gen. Dalling writes he can give no succour. The failure of the attack on Mobile village was due to the early death of Col. de Hanxleden, for the Waldeck soldiers could not then be induced to advance. The other troops forced the intrenchment, and were even in possession. Ebb tide and weather prevented the ships proceeding up the bay as proposed. Trusts the great expense of the Indian Department will be considered necessary. His endeavours to prevent the emigration from this province of the late inhabitants of the Natchez and Mobile districts by requiring their personal services and offering them provincial pay and provisions. Has granted leave to Lt. Col. Stiell. Prays appointment of Capt. Andrew Rainsford as Deputy Commissary of Musters. Lt. H. M. Gordon prays allowance for baggage lost.

P.S.—Sends staff a/cs and expenses in Indian Department for quarter ending 31st Dec., with return of troops.

LT. COL. NISBET BALFOUR to GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1781, February 24. Charles Town.—Sends Rawdon’s letter. Post at Congarees invested by 7 or 800 men under Sumpter. Hopes Rawdon will relieve it. Depeyster and 25 men of Fanning’s Regiment submitted to the enemy. Consulted Capt. Barclay as to relieving the fleet and army in the Chesapeake, and forcing French ships from thence. Thinks it inexpedient to attempt anything that way, and the “Chatham” with her convoy will go to New York. Capt. Barclay thinks it well to retain the “Galatea,” &c., until the “Camilla” is ready for sea. Arrival of victuallers for New York; on being watered the fleet will proceed. Col. Bruce arrived in the “Assurance” from Cork.

CAPTAIN WILLIAM SPRY to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1781, February 27. Halifax.—Capt. Callbeck will deliver this and explain why the accounts for expenditure at the Island of St. John have not been given in until now; he will carry authenticated duplicates of the original vouchers, and plan of the works executed. Was ordered by Lt. Col. Bruce to accept and pay some of Callbeck's drafts, but Gen. McLean would not allow these to be charged against his warrants. Has therefore drawn on his Excellency by the Dep. Paymaster here for two amounts, and transmits memorial praying his Excellency's warrant. Encloses copy of memorial to McLean and account current. To prevent further prosecutions he has had to draw on his Excellency. By Gen. McLean's directions encloses copy of demand for intrenching tools, he having forbidden any to be made or repaired here. Desired to visit Clinton at New York, but McLean denied leave of absence. Callbeck will explain the present state of works here.

BRIG. GEN. FRANCIS MCLEAN to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1781, February 27. Halifax.—Mr. Turner's death prevented him obeying earlier the orders of 12th May, but he now transmits a correct list of monies paid in the Commissary Department to the 20th February, 1780. Encloses copy of warrant granted by Lt. Col. Bruce, which was omitted by mistake ; a balance due to the 70th Regt. : also memorials from Major Batt and Capt. Bruce of the Orange Rangers, and copy of resignation of M. De Wint ; has permitted the latter to go to the West Indies. Convoy will be wanted for victuallers for Quebec in the spring. Transports and convoy to bring coals from Spanish River. Everything quiet in this Province, but if the enemy make an attempt in the ensuing season the enclosed return shows the force here is inadequate. Provincial corps have many men unfit for service. Recommends Lt. Col. Campbell, who complains of junior officers getting rank in preference to him. Vessel sent hence to Campbell is arrived safe, also money in the "Allegiance." His own health is in a declining state. Sends Capt. Smith lists of warrants granted for the December Quarter, 1780.

BRIG. GEN. BENEDICT ARNOLD to CAPTAIN MCCOLLUCK [Capt. Kollock.]

1781, March 10. Head Quarters, Portsmouth.—Sir,—I have this minute received yours of the 6th inst. and am much obliged to you for the intelligence you send me. I had been informed of Mr. Washington being on his way to the southward some days before and pressed the Commodore to send ships up the bay to intercept him, which he has refused, alledging that he has orders to keep the ships in shoal water, which I believe he is heartily inclined to do, whenever he thinks there is danger. I have, however, pressed him again to send up two frigates immediately ; whether he will comply with my request or not is uncertain.

An express boat arrived here last night, which left New York with a fleet of transports and men of war, bound to this place, having on board between two and three thousand troops, who are expected hourly. You need be under no apprehension for your own safety. I wish you to load your ships and return as soon as possible, as I will have occasion for your vessels as soon as the troops arrive.

You will please to send an express boat to me immediately on receipt of this provided you have any further intelligence of Mr. Washington, which you will communicate to me from time to time. I wish you success and am, Sir, your obedient, humble servt.

JOHN ROBINSON to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1781, March 12. Whitehall, Treasury Chambers.—Their Lordships have considered the letters of 5th July, 1779, and 13 August 1780, respecting the appointment of an inspector and prover of rum, and desiring to know what salary is to be allotted. They cannot form an opinion on the subject, and if the office is necessary they request him to make a reasonable and just allowance.

JOHN ROBINSON to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1781, March 12. Whitehall, Treasury Chambers.—Acknowledges letter of 18th December, 1780. In pursuance of the requisition therein 10,000 rugs, 5,000 blankets and 80,000 lbs. of tallow candles one-third part to be mould for the use of the officers and two-thirds dipped, ten to the pound, and 500 iron pots have been ordered for the Barrack Master General's Department. Their Lordships have also considered the letter from Mr. Wier dated 16th December, relative to four ships for Quebec, and also desiring supply of 50,000 quarters of oats. The oats shall be sent out; and his resolution to forward the ships to Quebec as soon as the season will admit is approved.

JOHN ROBINSON to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1781, March 13. Whitehall, Treasury Chambers.—The Lords of the Treasury have considered several letters from Mr. Wier relative to the state of provisions for the troops under his Excellency's command. They have ordered supplies for 37,000 men in the New York Department and 15,000 in Georgia, North and South Carolina, East Florida and Bahamas. Calls his attention to the great increase in the demand for provisions. My Lords have heard that the department of the army under Lord Cornwallis at Camden, returned at 6,400 rations, have not consumed salt, but have been chiefly supplied, while in the interior part of Carolina, with fresh provisions, and their Lordships hope that the garrisons of Charles Town, Savanna, and St. Augustine, and the detachments at Ninety-six, and Augusta, might also, in a great measure, be supplied at those places with fresh provisions. My Lords also cannot help observing that the number of rations daily issued is very great in proportion to the number of troops; that they increase almost by every return; and that the number of horses in the New York department is likewise very greatly increased. The expence to the public in sending out all these supplies from Great Britain is very heavy. Their Lordships therefore do most earnestly recommend to your Excellency to turn your serious attention to this business; that you will examine into, regulate and properly direct this branch of service; and state to my Lords your opinion what can be done therein so as to carry it on with proper economy for the benefit of the public, and at the same time give proper and ample supply to the troops, and their Lordships direct me to assure your Excellency that my Lords will take the proper means to send out what shall be fully sufficient for this purpose, and will be at all times ready to concur with you in every measure, that you may think to be proper and effectual for executing this service for the benefit of the public.

JOHN ROBINSON to DANIEL WIER.

1781, March 13. Whitehall, Treasury Chambers.—Orders have been given to send out 50,000 quarters of oats. All directions relative to provisions will now be given by the Navy Board. Instructions respecting deficiencies. My Lords are at a loss to account why the proportion of butter is not equal to other species of provisions. Hopes that supplies unavoidably bought in America have been purchased with all possible economy; and that all live stock captured has been brought to the credit of the public. Directs him when sending return of provisions to state how many days the provisions in store will supply the numbers victualled.

LIEUT. COL. JOHN CAMPBELL to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1781, March 15. Fort George (Penobscot).—Received a letter from the Duke of Argyle relative to Capt. A. Campbell continuing in his regiment as his health is recovered. Approves this.

“The 17th of last month a party from this place commanded by Lieut. Stockton of the King’s Rangers, landed near to George’s River, marched five miles through the woods to Thomastown, and about one in the morning attacked the house where the Rebel Brigadier General Wadsworth (who commanded all to the eastward of Cape Ann) was quartered with a guard of six men, and took him and two of his men prisoners and carried them to this place where he still remains.

“We had three men wounded, one since dead. Brigadier Wadsworth intended to have gone for Falmouth the next day to take charge of the fortifications of that place, which the Rebels are carrying on with all dispatch. I am informed they have already twenty four cannon mounted, of which some of them are 32 pounders. Wadsworth says they are to make very strong works there, as they were informed it is to be attacked by some British troops next summer, and they will be well prepared to receive them.” Recommends John Campbell for the Lieutenancy as Lt. Cheap has never joined the regiment, and John Russel to be Ensign. The inhabitants have no attachment to the King. Requests the 74th Regiment may be recalled as the people are acquainted with the soldiers and have enticed some to desert.

LORD RAWDON to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1781, March 23. Camden, South Carolina.—"I have the honour to transmit to your Excellency the copy of a note which I have this day received from Lord Cornwallis. In obedience to his Lordship's command, I have likewise sent a copy to Lord G. Germain.

"From the information of the messenger (who is a person well acquainted with our army), I can mention to your Excellency some additional circumstances of this most important victory. Lord Cornwallis having been exceedingly distressed for provisions was moving from Guilford County to Cross Creek: General Greene considering this movement as a retreat and confident in his numbers advanced in hopes of making some favourable stroke against the rear of his Lordship's army. On the night between the 14th & 15th Lord Cornwallis ordered the baggage escorted by the Royal North Carolina Regiment & all the Militia to proceed towards Cross Creek, whilst he returned to Guilford (11 miles distant) with the rest of the army and 2 pieces of cannon. The enemy having notice from their Light Troops were drawn up in readiness to receive the attack. The action began about 10 in the morning and lasted about 2 hours. The enemy were very strongly posted, and, I believe, fought with obstinacy; but they were at last completely routed and dispersed. The messenger thinks the enemy lost about 2,000, but in this he speaks very much at random. Our loss, however, bore very little proportion to that of the enemy; General O'Hara, Col. Webster, Lt. Col. Tarleton, Lord Dunglass are among the wounded, but none of them were in any danger. Lord Cornwallis had two horses shot under him but fortunately was not hurt. Upon the 2 days following the action a considerable number of the continentals came in to Lord Cornwallis & surrendered themselves. They reported that Greene was wounded. As the person who gave me this account has been with the army ever since we came into this part of the country, I imagine his story is pretty accurate.

"Your Excellency has, I doubt not, from time to time been informed by Lt. Col. Balfour of every material occurrence in this province. My situation does not admit that I shou'd either have timely notice of the departure of vessels for New York, or that I shou'd with freedom describe the state of the district. Indeed, I shou'd have nothing in general to report but operations of too inferior a nature to interest your Excellency's attention. Generals Sumpter and Marion, commanding district corps, have made some efforts to excite insurrection in this province and to interrupt our supplies from Charlestown. Hitherto they have done little mischief. The enemy have been defeated in several skirmishes and in detail have suffered considerably, with little loss on our part. The provincial Light Infantry, the R. S. Carolina Regiment, and in particular the New York Volunteers, have distinguished themselves much. As the enemy are all mounted we have never been able to force them to a decisive action. They are still in the field; but the destruction of Greene's Army will have a serious effect upon their spirits."

R. ADAIR to CHARLES JENKINSON.

1781, March 28. Argyll Street.—Having been informed that Mr. Laurie a young mate in the hospital had been appointed surgeon in the room of Mr. Jefferies by purchase, enquired of Mr. Jefferies and was informed he had received £600 to resign his commission having been refused leave of absence to settle his private affairs; he added that the transaction was carried on without Clinton's knowledge. This is the only sale ever known in the hospital. Thinks his Excellency ought to know how he has been deceived into this appointment.

NAVY BOARD (J. Williams, Geo. Marsh and others) to the Secretary of the Treasury [ROBINSON].

1781, April 2. Navy Office.—Observe by the return of the transports from America that there are at different ports eleven ships employed for prisoners, hospitals and store ships, amounting to near 4,000 tons, and which at a moderate calculation exceeds £29,000 p^a annum. Submit whether some other means than employing transports for such services should not be recommended to the commanding officers, so as to prevent so heavy a charge on the public. "These ships are hired at 12 p^a ton p^a month, whereas those hired by us for services of this kind at home having very few men and less wear and tear do not exceed 6s. p^a ton, and the "Hope" hired at New York purposely for this service was procured for seven shillings. If therefore no other method can be adopted but keeping them in ships we would submit whether our agents may not be authorized to take up ships on purpose for these services."

[GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON] to JOHN ROBINSON.

1781, May 15. New York.—It is reported to him that a quantity of claret had been brought here in the ordnance ships, which it is said some merchants have been permitted to send free of freight and duty under the idea it would come cheaper to the officers. Believes it is sold at as high a price as if it were imported in usual way of trade and therefore the officers reap no benefit. Should such indulgences be granted in future he suggests confining them to cheaper Portugal wines which are more used than the French, and to guard against the contrivances of the merchants here.

MAJ. GENERAL JOHN CAMPBELL to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1781, May 21. Pensacola.—His private dispatch—that it is with the utmost concern and pain he has yielded a province to the arms of Spain. He came to this command at his Excellency's request, and on arrival represented it as in want of cannon, ordnance, artillery stores, yet not a single article was furnished in two years. Trusts its defence against such a formidable armament has preserved the honour of the garrison and will not diminish the splendour of his Excellency's command. Trusts also that the terms of the capitulation will soon restore them to the King's service. Asks that Lt. Gordon (16th), his aid de camp, may convey the dispatches home.

SIR HENRY CLINTON to LIEUT. COL. NISBET BALFOUR.

1781, May 24. New York.—Supposes that Lord Cornwallis will have left orders with Lord Rawdon relative to his evacuating Camden should it be thought necessary. Must request from Lord Rawdon a report of his victory over Gen. Greene, which has been most important. Is sorry to find that a spirit of revolt should be kept up by the officers who are prisoners at Charlestown. Has proposed an exchange for part of them and thinks he should endeavour to rid himself of as many of them that way as possible. Being anxious to have Lt. Sutherland of the Engineers here, wishes a duplicate of the order for his coming had been sent since it might have reached him. "Having approved of the sentence of the General Court Martial held at Charlestown on the trial of Lieut. Allaire of the Royal American Regiment for the wilful murder of Ensign Keating, of the Prince of Wales's American Regiment, you will be pleased to signify the same, and direct the prisoner to be released from his arrest." The long delay of the "Speedy" packet has occasioned an enquiry. Requests that in future should it be thought necessary to open at Charlestown the mails directed for New York, the greatest care might be taken of the public dispatches and as little detention as possible be given to the packet.

TROOPS.

N. D. 1781, May.—Memorandums relative to the Quarter Master General’s Department—given to General Robertson, May, 1781. Lord Cathcart on succeeding Sir Wm. Erskine, 30 June, 1779, reviewed all the horses and waggons, the provision train, the pontoon train, etc. Found a train equal to transporting 21 days’ provisions for 10,000 men. Explaining that the train has been usefully employed in providing fuel for the town, and in the service of the other departments, and by Brig. Gen. Dalrymple’s orders has been kept complete and on the best footing for immediate service, and in 4 years has been brought to the perfection it now stands in, and if a diminution is thought of it would be almost impossible to augment it again.

PETER CHESTER, late Governor of Pensacola, to LORD GEORGE GERMAIN.

1781, June 2. Charles Town.—Translation (having been inserted in the "Madrid Gazette"). West Florida has surrendered to Spanish arms. The enemy appeared the 9th March, and a few days after entered the harbour. Begs to defer giving a particular account of the siege till his return to England. They were obliged to capitulate the 8th May. Sends copy of capitulation signed 9th. It would not have happened so soon but for a bomb falling on the powder magazine, which blew up and carried away the principal part of the advanced works. Believes Maj. Gen. Campbell was of opinion the other works could not hold out and hoisted a white flag. Maj. Gen. Campbell and Capt. Dean sent to the Havannah and Major of Brigade Campbell to New Orleans; the other prisoners of war sailed for New York.

LIEUT. COL. BRUCE to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1781, June 12. Halifax.—Acquainted him in letter of 6th May that Brig. Gen. McLean died on the 4th inst., that the command of the troops in the province devolved on De Seitz, and the British and Staff on himself (Bruce) by Brig. Gen. McLean's orders, as he conceived Lt. Col. Goreham to have Provincial rank only. Is repairing Citadel Hill and Fort Massey. Troops at St. John's Island and Spanish River in want of provisions. Intends unloading transports with provisions for Quebec and sending them for coal. Should the provisions be wanted there they can easily be reloaded.

Begs him to send a British officer senior to Col. De Seitz, otherwise it will be impossible to carry on the service, "he is so unacquainted with ours, so jealous . . . that it makes my situation most disagreeable, fortunately my understanding a little of his language makes things go on better." The 82nd Regt. and Provincial Regts. in want of clothing. Sent memorial from Surgeon Leightheizer to Maj. Gen. Tryon, 23th Jan., 1780, to be presented to his Excellency, for disposing of his commission through ill-health. Recommended Mr. Kay to succeed him. Hopes this was approved.

LIEUT. COLONEL JAMES BRUCE to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1781, June 13. Halifax.—An inhabitant from Fort Howe informs that a French frigate of 36 guns has been at Machias conveying provisions from Boston and at Passamaquaddy, where she sounded the bays and took heights of adjacent grounds. Received letters from St. John's Island about provisions; will try to supply them. The Governor and military by no means agree. Capt. Curgunven and Lieut. Henderson have had a duel in which the latter was killed; the Captain to be tried on the 8th. His letter of yesterday shows necessity of a Brigadier to command here. Presumes to lay his own long services before his Excellency.

BRIG. GEN. JOHN CAMPBELL to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1781, June 22. Fort George, Penobscot.—Refers him to letter of 21st ult. Received commands of 9th inst., and will be able to leave this place in three days in the “Allegiance” for Halifax. Capt. Hartcup will take command of garrison and Capt Campbell, jr., command of regiments. Enquires what Field Officers and corps shall be sent to relieve the 74th. “This Fort will be, six weeks hence, in exceeding good posture of defence, when the three principal bastions will be finished with casemats in each of them, and a good ditch round the whole fort . . . Before the end of September next, there will be eight rooms for officers, and good barracks for three hundred and fifty men, which I humbly think is a sufficient garrison for this place.” Wishes to know if bat and forage money is to be allowed the officers this year. Recommends to the succession if account of Capt. Donald Campbell’s death is true. Has given leave to Lt. Colin Campbell to join the Grenadiers as Lt. MacFarlan is in Europe. On the 19th, the rebel Brig. Gen. Wadsworth and one Burton made their escape from a barrack room here by cutting a hole in the ceiling although two sentries were constantly posted at the door and a window cut in it for observation.

[SIR HENRY CLINTON] to LIEUT. COL. BRUCE, 70th Regt.

1781, July 4. New York.—“Having in vain applied to Vice-Admiral Arbuthnot for a convoy to Halifax, or an opportunity of sending a letter there, I fear you will not have received that which I sent by an unarmed vessel some time since, wherein I acquainted you that I had appointed Brigr. Genl. Campbell to the command of Halifax, and directed him to repair thither immediately. But lest any accident should have prevented his arrival there, I do hereby authorize and appoint you to act as Brigadier-General in the Province of Nova Scotia, until you are joined by him, or another officer senior in rank to you, on either of which events taking place, this appointment of Brigr. must cease.

“I shall immediately apply to Rear Admiral Graves for a convoy to Halifax; the victuallers for Quebec should therefore be held in readiness to go thither as they are much wanted in Canada.

“Having received directions from the Minister to remove Hierlihy's Corps from St. John's to Halifax, and leave the protection of that island to Captain Calbeck's company, which is to be augmented to 100 men, you will be pleased to signify these intentions to those officers should you have any opportunity, that they may be prepared.”

GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON to JOHN ROBINSON.

1781, July 7. New York.—Is glad to receive the approbation of the Lords Commissioners of the Treasury of his having appointed Commissaries of Captures. Has directed Cornwallis to revive the appointment on his taking the field in Carolina. Refers to returns of the Commissary General as to cattle taken from the enemy and issued to the troops. Mentions that Germain desired Mr. Hay to continue as Commissary of Captures ; but as he was only 2nd in the Commission has requested his Lordship to recommend Col. Bev. Robinson on account of the losses he has sustained by his loyalty and as being the originator of the plan.

COLONEL H. E. (?) DE SEITZ to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1781, July 10. Halifax.—Transmits Returns of Troops for May and June. Has "the more motives for it," as he saw complaints in a letter to Brig. Gen. Campbell of 9th June of his reports not having reached His Excellency. Has "sufficient justification that nobody can make the least complaints against his own conduct and the officers under his command." Hopes he will have no suspicion of him and recommends himself to his kind protection.

ANTHONY FARRINGTON to [BRIG. GEN. JOHN CAMPBELL].

1781, July 13. Halifax, Nova Scotia.—Represents that the Company of the Royal Regiment of Artillery in this garrison is insufficient to manage the artillery mounted for defence of this place, and that it is much weakened by detachments to depending posts, though the posts, particularly Fort George, Penobscot, are not furnished with the proper number of artillery men.

Copy. Vol. 13, No. 206. 2 pages.

1781, July 14. Halifax.—Return by Anthony Farrington, Major of Royal Artillery, of number of officers and men (exclusive of Royal Artillery) necessary for management of cannon on the several batteries in the Garrison of Halifax in case of an attack by sea. Addressed to Brig. Gen. Campbell.

Return of Major Farrington's Company, 4th Battalion Royal Artillery.

ABRAHAM VANDERBECK to GOVERNOR JAMES ROBERTSON.

1781, July 15. New York.—Petition. Has been compelled to fly hither for refuge, having two sons in his Majesty's service. Attested by Lt. Col. Ab. Buskirk, John Zabriski and Thos. Outwater, and with note by Thos. Murray, aide de camp, dated 8 August, that Col. Morris will issue rations to petitioner and family for twelve weeks.

Original. Vol. 29, No. 52. 1 page.

BRIG. GEN. JOHN CAMPBELL to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1781, July 16. Halifax.—Sends duplicate of letter of 22nd ult. Embarked at Penobscot 24th ult. and arrived on the 8th inst. Repairs of fortifications here in great forwardness. Finds no magazines for provisions on Citadel Hill. Has directed Capt. Spry to build two. Has directed the engineers to prepare and will send plans of works constructed prior to his command. Thinks they are too extensive for the number of men as he will see by Major Farrington's returns [13 and 14 July]. Sends to the Adjutant-General returns, &c., for the last six months. Forwards proceedings of two general Courts-Martial. Deputy Judge Advocate has no more warrants. Gen. Haldimand having sent for his provisions, the four victuallers are reloaded for Quebec [see Haldimand's letter, 12 June]. Ships to be sent for coal. Transmits copy of McLean's letter of 31 October, 1780, respecting his secretary, Mr. Finucane, who is appointed to that department. Encloses copy of McDonald's letter and his answer [11 and 13 July]. Has given leave to Lt. Col. Goreham to go to New York as he thinks himself aggrieved by Lt. Col. Bruce being put before him in the roster of duty. Requests to be allowed to send some of his officers on the recruiting service.

Signed letter. Vol. 13, No. 207. 5 pages.

EARL CORNWALLIS to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1781, July 16. New York.—That the bearer, Russell Bowen, has been turned out of the Almshouse for improper behaviour, and is to be allowed one ration.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 31, No. 207. 85 words.

MAJOR GENERAL JOHN CAMPBELL to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1781, July 17. New York.—Explaining that he had allowed the inhabitants of the Natchez (a district already ceded to Spain) commissions to captains or leaders, and directions to make a diversion in his favour. Fifteen days after the surrender the not delivering up the fort at the Natchez is brought up as a principal accusation. Lays before him the correspondence with Gen. Galvez.

Hopes the detention of his secretary Maj. Campbell and Capt. Deans will be considered a stretch of power and violation of the laws of nations, and requests some steps may be taken for their release.

Signed letter. Vol. 16, No. 56. 3 pages.

ANDREW ELLIOT to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1781, July 17. Superintendent's Office, New York.—The enclosures contain his report upon facts set forth in two memorials of Nicholas Ashton & Co. to the Lords of the Treasury.

1781, July 19. New York.—Desiring him to pay amount of Lt. Gordon's loss by shipwreck.

Signed letter. Vol. 16, No. 52. 1 page.

GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON to JOHN ROBINSON.

1781, July 19. New York.—Acknowledges letter of 19th December, with copies of Ashton's memorials and papers relative thereto. Has ordered an enquiry, and enclosures shew that the memorials are founded upon misrepresentation, which must have been made by the agents of the firm here. No application has as yet been made to him in behalf of Messrs. Ashton and Co.'s claim, and he could not have paid any such without knowing it to be their Lordship's intention to make similar allowance to others who might make like claim. Other merchants in the garrison have cheerfully submitted to necessary regulations.

Copy. Vol. 33, No. 113. 2 pages.*

MAJOR DUNCAN DRUMMOND to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1781, July 19. New York.—From small investigation as yet into the accounts and expenditures in one or two departments, represents that the only way of reducing the expenses seems to be by taking the vessels, horses and waggons out of the hands of departments and placing them in those of the Government. Foresees objections. Proposes a Board of General Officers to enquire whether it is practicable.

2 copies. Vol. 22, No. 147 and Vol. 53, No. 96. 4 pages and 2 pages.

LIEUT.-COL. NISBET BALFOUR to SIR JAMES WRIGHT.

1781, July 20. Charlestown.—Only the uncertain and distracted affairs of this country have hitherto prevented him from answering his letters. Understands that the boundaries of British possessions are nearly determined, and that Lord Rawdon has found it necessary to quit the back country, bringing along with the army all the loyalists who wished to follow. That boundary, all which can be protected, will run from near the Cord's Ferry on the Santee towards Orangeburgh, and across by the Saltketchers to the Savannah. Thus the richer parts of the province will be covered, and the loyalists placed on the lands of those revolted. Has written to Col. Clarke to make his arrangements for Georgia. "As to covering a country by a post, it is impossible; a moving body of light troops only can effect the purpose." The King's stores cannot supply the militia. Regrets to say the revolt is universal. The minds of the people are bent on their former principles, and the efforts of friends, feeble and pusillanimous. Fears the country must be ruined without a single advantage hereafter to be reaped from the boasted loyalty and extensive possessions enjoyed in South Carolina. Whatever can be gained by strong representations will be done.

On same paper.—Charlestown, 24 August. Acknowledges dispatch of the 16th. Has detained the boat three days in hope of Lt.-Gen. Leslie's arrival, as he will probably bring with him a new arrangement for the Southern District. Things, therefore, are much at a standstill. Thinks same line of conduct would be best with him, but does not presume to interfere with any resolutions taken by him and Col. Clarke.

SIR H. CLINTON to BRIG. GEN. JOHN CAMPBELL.

1781, July 24. New York.—Received letter of 22nd ult., and is happy to find he was to set out for Nova Scotia three days later, as the enemy are desirous of getting possession of Halifax and Penobscot, and may attempt one of them. Though he is appointed to the command at Halifax, there is no necessity to remove the 74th Regiment from Penobscot. Capt. Hartcup may go to Europe when the works at Penobscot are finished. Directs him to enquire concerning Indian presents detained by the Assistant Quarter Master General at Halifax, and order them to be given to Mr. Fran(c)klin if intended for him. Usual supply of provisions to be granted to the Indian inhabitants of the Province.

[SIR HENRY CLINTON] to LIEUT. GOVERNOR HUGHES.

1781, July 25. New York.—As it is evident the detention of Indian presents by the Assistant Quarter Master General is owing to some mistake, has sent to Brigadier General Campbell to order them to be delivered to Mr. Fran(c)klin. Has desired the Brigadier to issue provisions for use of Indian inhabitants as customary.

CAPTAIN JOHN SMITH to BRIGADIER GENERAL CAMPBELL.

1781, July 26. New York.—Received letters of 21st May and 22nd ult. The Commander-in-Chief approves Capt. Dugald Campbell to be his Major of Brigade, but the one appointed by McLean must cease to do the duty. No commissions as Brigadier are granted by the Commander-in-Chief, as he only appoints until the King's pleasure is known. Should his troops take the field they will have bat and forage money. His Excellency desires him to give Capt. D'Aubant permission to come to New York. Hopes Mr. Finucane is continued in the office he held under Genl. McLean.

1781, July 26. Secretary's Office, New York.—Received his letter by Capt. Callbeck. His Excellency does not consider the Island of St. John within his command, and must refer him to the Board of Ordnance for payment of works of defence. Encloses extract of a letter from Lord Germain respecting works to be constructed on St. John's Island as it shows this business is under control of that Board. His vouchers and accounts transmitted here will be laid before Major Drummond, auditor, as far back as 1779, and when returned with his certificate annexed will, it is hoped, be finally settled.

GOV. SIR JAMES WRIGHT to LT. COL. NISBET BALFOUR.

1781, July 27. Savannah in Georgia.—Received letter of the 20th in answer to his of 11, 18 and 27 June. Observes the reasons given for not answering, but the ignorance in which he has been kept is greatly prejudicial. It has been with great difficulty that he has been able to keep the back country militia from quitting Ebenezer. Wishes he had allowed them to do so. “It is with the utmost concern that I see the very narrow limits the King’s troops in So. Caro^s are reduced to & that two such valuable Provinces should be ruin’d & lost in the manner they have . . . surely as soon as your representation of the situation of affairs to the S^oward is known, a sufficient force will be sent to our relief . . . By what I learn of Col^o Clarke with respect to the limits proposed to be held in this Province, I consider them as next to giving it up, have therefore met the gentlemen of the Council on the matter, and with their full approbation, I beg leave to say, that the re-establishment of a post at Augusta & that as soon as possible, I conceive to be a matter of such consequence to His Majesty’s service, and to the King’s loyal subjects in this Province, that my duty to the King, to the inhabitants here and to myself, all unite in compelling me to state the necessity of re-establishing a post there—and in the most serious manner to require the same to be done.” Augusta is the key to this Province, seat of government, place of supplies, &c. Reckons that 7,800 inhabitants, mostly loyal, whose habitations lie above Augusta, will be lost to the King, and will make their peace with the rebel powers. They have given the strongest proofs of their loyalty, seeing relatives put to death solely on that account. Thinks to give them up is the height of cruelty and the worst policy. 500 troops might be sufficient to save the Province. “It is my duty to represent what I judge to be for his Majesty’s service, & to demand that assistance which I think necessary for that service, and when I have done this, I have discharg’d my duty to the King, and to the greatly distress’d & suffering loyal subjects in this Province, and let the consequences be what they may, I conceive they will not lye at my door.” An enemy’s force at Augusta may mean the loss of Savannah and the whole province. Requests him to communicate this to the Commander-in-Chief, and begs a clear and positive answer.

P.S.—Has ordered the bearer, a pilot, to wait for an answer.

LIEUT.-COL. NISBET BALFOUR to SIR JAS. WRIGHT.

1781, August 1. Charlestown.—“The operations in South Carolina have hitherto been carried on at such a distance from hence, and the communications been so precarious, that my own informations have been frequently imperfect; such, however, as came to me and cou’d in any way concern the Province of Georgia, I regularly transmitted to Col. Clarke, as the officer intrusted with the charge of His Majesty’s troops there, and I doubt not thro’ him your Excellency got every essential information he was impower’d to give. With your Excellency I regret the loss of the back country, especially Ninety-Six and Augusta, and the more so, as the manner of it was a general revolt of the inhabitants.

I must assure your Excellency that a full proportion of provisions and stores have from time to time been sent to the troops in Georgia, and I am fearfull the Commander-in-Chief and Lord Cornwallis may be displeas’d at the very large quantities detain’d by me for the supply of this, your Province and East Florida, and which has always precluded any want. Such has been the scarcity of guns here, that on the Commanding Engineer’s representation of there not being a sufficient number for the works now constructing to defend this town, we have been obliged to purchase some. You will therefore see the impossibility of my sending any to Savannah, but I am in hopes you will be able to procure what are wanted, in the same way we have done here.

“I truly feel the disagreeable state to which many of His Majesty’s loyal subjects in your Province are at present reduced, which I am the better enabled to judge of, from the similar situation of many deserving persons in this.

“Not having received from Lord Cornwallis any directions for reinforcing your Province, it is Lord Rawdon’s opinion, as well as mine, that it would be improper to do it, untill we hear from him; but your Excellency may be assured that when such orders come here there will be no delay in executing of them.

“In respect to re-establishing the post at Augusta, I must beg leave to refer your Excellency to Col. Clarke, to whom I have wrote on the subject, and who must be the best judge how far with his present force he is capable of doing it.”

GOVERNOR SIR JAMES WRIGHT to LIEUT.-COL. BALFOUR.

1781, August 16. Savannah in Georgia.—“I had the honor to receive your letter of the first inst., and am extremely sorry it is not in your power to send the reinforcement I requested untill you hear from Lord Cornwallis, but I am well persuaded if you saw and knew the consequences of not taking post at Augusta, you would strain a point to do it, and if you could only send 250 I believe it might do for the present, and probably save this Province, and depend upon it, if once the rebels get Georgia, those on each side will not stand long. Possibly Georgia may be considered as of little consequence. But be assured if America is recover'd it will be one of the first colonies on the continent, and the consequence and value of it is very well known to the King's Ministers.” Having received undoubted information of a plan against Augusta and Savannah, it has been decided to raise a body of militia and send them up country, and he has written to Col. Clarke desiring to know what assistance he could give. Quotes from Col. Clarke's answer promising 200 of the King's troops. On the whole it is concluded to go up the country. “I think there is little doubt but 400 militia will be collected at Ebenezer, and it's expected 200 more may join on the march, but this will depend on circumstances. Certainly it is a small force to undertake so long a march, and without being altogether clear of the enemies' force, and altho' we shall be ready by the 25th, yet we shall wait your answer before any movement takes place, as much will depend on your giving us some assistance, and also co-operating. But if nothing is done, I shall expect the consequences I have mention'd. These, Sir, “are new matters which (I presume) have happen'd since you wrote to Lord Cornwallis, and are circumstances his Lordship could not know when he might answer your letter, and as I apprehend this to be a very serious affair, not confin'd to Georgia, but extending to Florida, So. Carolina, and the King's cause in general; therefore I cannot avoid once more representing it to you, before it may be too late.” Enumerates the objects of the movement—to take post again at Augusta—to destroy the provisions on Beech Island—15,000 bushels of corn of last year's growth, and a good crop on the ground very essential to the enemy, but this being in Carolina is submitted to him (Balfour); third, to give the back country people an opportunity to collect their families and effects, and remove this way; and lastly, to disconcert and prevent the enemy forming their government or collecting their forces there. Begs him to communicate this to Lord Rawdon, or any other in command, and to dispatch the boat in answer as soon as possible.

LIEUT. COL. NISBET BALFOUR to MAJOR GENERAL GREENE.

1781, August 18. Charles Town.—Received letter of the 2nd inst., and will reply to its remonstrances with candour and on the authority of authentic documents. Is at a loss to know how Maj. Hyrne has represented the detention of the persons mentioned, but the enclosed letter to him and Dr. Fraser will show it was done by the advice of mutual referees and confirmed by their joint approbation. The 'allegments' against these persons were either atrocious breaches of civil institutions or violation of military paroles. Must hold them still as prisoners on parole and require them to be returned. "I am sorry that the appeals you make, to our officers, for the humanity of their treatment when prisoners, cannot be extended to those of the Militia, in the same situation, many of whom, especially those taken at Black Mingo, I am warranted to say, are now languishing in the goals of North Carolina, tho' in direct violation of that cartel, for the rights of which, you so warmly plead. The treatment these unhappy people most invariably received from your officers, was my motive, for seizing as hostages, your Militia prisoners here, & not a view to retaliate the private animosities of inconsiderable individuals; when therefore a general exchange took place (& I cou'd not suffer myself a moment, to doubt its being fairly carried into execution) I readily consented to their being liberated, . . . As I have always deemed public faith most essential, & have carefully regarded the untarnish'd honor of my country, so it was impossible I cou'd sanction the drawing prisoners into service before the period of their paroles admitted, which I doubt not you will be convinced of in the case particularly alluded to, by the enclosed certificate, which will also serve as a future caution, against drawing warm & hasty conclusions, from unestablished facts." Demands that Lieut. Col. Grimkie, who deserted from his parole, shall be returned here a prisoner.

LIEUT. COL. NISBET BALFOUR to MAJOR GEN. GREENE.

1781, September 3. Charles Town.—Received letter of 26th ultimo and the address enclosed. Respecting the confinement of militia prisoners he refers to letter of 17th May. Letter of the 18th ultimo will account for the detention of persons here contrary to the late cartel. The execution of Col. Haynes took place by Lord Cornwallis's express directions in regard to all those who should be found in arms after being at their own request received as subjects since the capitulation of Charlestown, more especially such as should have accepted commissions, or distinguished themselves in inducing a revolt. Remarks on his threat of retaliation, and reminds him that at the very period when Lt. Fulkes, of the Loyal Militia, was publicly executed at Motts House, numbers of American officers were absolutely in his (Balfour's) power, and this, likewise, was the case when Col. Grierson and Major Dunlop fell, without attempts to secure them, by the hands of licensed and protected murderers. Capt. Barry, Dep. Adj. Genl., will deliver this letter and await a reply. He will also be ready to attend any one to discuss this matter, and the further carrying out of the cartel at present existing.

Copy. Vol. 23, No. 111. 4 pages.

Enclosed by Majors Bruen and Robertson to Lt. Genl. Robertson, 14 Sept., 1781.

H[ENRY] B[RUEN] to MAJOR DELANCEY.

1781, September 3. New York.—Answer. Promises that waggons, horses, drivers, etc., shall be in readiness to proceed when wanted.

2 copies. Vol. 34, No. 119, and Vol. 35, No. 106. 1 page each.

WM. CROSBIE, Barrack Master General, to MAJORS BRUEN and ROBERTSON.

1781, September 3. New York.—In answer to letter of 23rd ult., he acknowledges the great benefit derived from horses and waggons furnished by the Quarter Master General's Department. Is of opinion the inhabitants cannot give all the assistance required by Government. Has made enquiries and learns that it was owing to help received from Quarter Master General's Department that in the winters of 1779 and 1780 the troops in New York were kept from suffering through want of fuel.

2 copies. Vol. 34, No. 127, and Vol. 35, No. 115. 2 pages and 1 page respectively.

MAJOR GEN. NATHANIEL GREENE to LIEUT. COL. BALFOUR.

1781, September 4. Head Quarters.—Received letter of 18th August. Forwards copy of Major Hyrne's report on the detention of persons mentioned in the letter of the 2nd ult. No reasons have been offered which justify the detention. Has written to Cornwallis and will rest the matter with him. As to their violating their paroles, if they were not prisoners of war, in which light he (Balfour) refuses to consider them, is not answerable for their conduct, but if they were, then they might with reason think themselves discharged from their paroles by the subsequent proclamation signed by the commissaries of prisoners of both armies, which liberated all the militia. If any of his (Balfour's) prisoners have been detained in North Carolina contrary to cartel will give every satisfaction. Sends report of a court of enquiry on Col. Grimke's escape. The matter must be left for future discussion. Mr. Fraser's certificate that Capt. Fenwick's corps was a part of the prisoners gives him no satisfaction.

Copy. Vol. 53, No. 123. 3 pages.

HENRY BRUEN and ARCHIBALD ROBERTSON to LIEUT.-GENERAL ROBERTSON.

1781, September 14. New York.—Having considered a Comparative View to purchase or to hire vessels, horses and waggons employed at present in the different departments, they are enabled to lay before him States 1 and 2, which differ, it is true, much from the Comparative View, but being founded on fact they presume will show that the present mode of hiring, rather than in becoming contractor, is the best method. Refer to the other enclosures showing necessity of keeping up the horses and waggons in the Quarter Master General's Department.

LIEUT. COLONEL JAMES MONCRIEF to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1781, September 30. Charles Town.—Received letter of 13th July, and acquainted Capt. McIntosh with what has been done for him. With regard to the state of East Florida and Savannah, had directions from Lord Cornwallis to point out to Col. Clark and Lieut. Durnford the necessary works for defence. By report of Lt. Durnford they are now in great forwardness. Since sending the plan of the neck of Charles Town a new work has been begun to flank the two advanced forts. The ruinous state of Fort Arbuthnot has obliged him to begin a closed work on the nearest point of Sullivan's Island. Would be glad to be moved to a more active situation, should there be no appearance of attack on this place.

[GEN. SIR H. CLINTON to GENERAL HALDIMAND].

1781, October 2. New York.—Letter, no names, supposed Clinton to Haldimand, begins:—"Sir, I am honoured with your letters Nos. 5 and 6." Cornwallis's situation alarming. Hopes to sail about 12th. "A very early effort towards Minisink going southward with the season, would be of great use." If Cornwallis is relieved, and the French fleet quit operations, will go on in the Chesapeake all the winter.

Here follows a note of 11 lines dated 3rd Oct., probably to Brant, beginning "Dr. Joseph. If you have no other object of importance in view I request you will make a move upon Minisink." . . .

The letter of the 2nd October then apparently continues: "Your Excellency has my consent to act as you have proposed with regard to Major Rogers," and his officers and recruits.

DANIEL WIER to MAJORS BRUEN and ROBERTSON.

1781, October 6. New York.—Ill health has prevented reply to letter of 23rd August respecting horses and waggons belonging to the Quarter Master General's Department. Has received essential assistance from them and that at a time when no others could be procured. At Philadelphia the victuallers being prevented getting up the river supplies were landed by boats on the beach at night, and thence transported to the city by these waggons; they were also employed during that fall and winter. At Long Island, etc., they have frequently transported provisions and forage and without their aid the service must have frequently suffered.

SIR JAMES WRIGHT to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1781, October 16. Savannah in Georgia.—Having already represented the unhappy situation of affairs in this province wherever he thought there was any prospect of getting assistance, but without success, it only remains for him to lay the same before his Excellency as a last resource. Refers to the enclosed letters to Lt. Col. Balfour, but to this day has not been able to get any assistance. The rebels are in possession of the whole country above Ebenezer; they have sent in the wives and children of the loyal refugees, seizing the property; they threaten to reduce Savannah by famine; and are to lay waste the country; so that the province is ruined and lost for want of a little assistance. There is great loyalty—upwards of 500 country people have fled here for refuge and taken arms, many more are hiding in the swamps to avoid the enemy, and had they had the protection which it would have been the best policy to have given them the province would have soon been able to defend itself. Less than a reinforcement of 500 will not do. Are also in need of provisions, heavy cannon and stores.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 23, No. 27. 3 pages.

Enclosing Correspondence with Lt. Col. Balfour, see 20 and 27 July; 1, 16 and 24 August.

GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON to JOHN ROBINSON.

1781, Nov. 17. New York.—Mr. Wier, Commissary General, died on 12th inst. Encloses copy of orders [see 16 Nov.] to Paumier, Senior Dep. Commissary, to take charge of the department in this quarter, and Maj. Morrison is to take charge in the southern district.

Copy. Vol. 33, No. 118. 1 page.

LIEUT. COL. ALEXANDER STEWART to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1781, November 17. Ravenels Plantation.—“I had the honor of writing your Excellency yesterday, but by a letter I have just received from Lieut. Colonel Balfour, I find my letter and dispatches to you, giving you an account of the victory I gained over the rebel General Green at the Eutaws have been lost, as also the Hope sloop-of-war that carried them. A copy of my publick letter to Lord Cornwallis was likewise sent by the same conveyance, and must have shared the same fate, tho' I at first understood the dispatches that went by the Hope sloop were all saved, as were all the people on board—otherwise I should have done myself the honor to have wrote to your Excellency long e're this. Lieut. Colonel Balfour writes me he will forward to you a copy of my letter to Lord Cornwallis by a frigate that is expected to sail soon for New York.

“I hope my conduct, and that of the officers and men that fought under me, will meet with your Excellency's approbation, and I flatter myself you will do us all the justice you think we deserve with his Majesty. The action for some time was doubtfull, but at last it ended with a totall rout of Green's army, our left flank at one time was turned by their having such a quantity of cavalry, which obliged us to retire for a small distance, on which occasion some prisoners were taken by the enemy, and our being so unfortunate as to have out our rooting partys, was also the occasion of loosing some prisoners, as those of the flank companys of the three Regts. lately from Ireland and the Buffs fell into the hands of the enemy before the action commenced, notwithstanding upon my first information of the enemys advancing, I sent to them to return to camp, which was near three hours before the action began, but unluckely the people sent after them could not fall in with them. By every information I have been able to get since the action, the enemy lost above a thousand men killed and wounded, and about fifty officers, several of which were of rank. And when your Excellency considers that that was almost as many men as I had in the field, I hope you'll allow we had some merite. Mr. Green had two sixpounders and two three pounders in the field—the two former I got, and would also have got the two latter but they had been disabled early in the action, and had been sent of along with the three pounder he got from me when my left retired. I never saw an army more compleatly routed then Green's was, and had I had cavalry I should have totally annihilated them. The returns of the killed, wounded, and missing, and the copy of my publick letter to Lord Cornwallis are all in Charles Town, as I did not choose to carry them about with me, but copys of them ali will be sent to your Excellency by the first opportunity.

“ I beg leave to refer your Excellency to my letter of yesterday for the recommendations in the 3rd Regiment, and I have the honor to be, &c.”

Signed letter. Vol. 23, No. 6. 3 pages.

Narrative of the loss of the hospital at Fair Lawn or Colleton House on 17 November, with copies of the correspondence between Capt. McLean of the 84th and Major Doyle, &c., 10 to 17 November. Form part of the proceedings of a Court of Enquiry at Charlestown, see 29 January, 1782.

CUBA and JAMAICA.

1781, November 18.—Printed cartel between the Islands of Cuba and Jamaica. Given at St. Jago de la Vega, and on board H.M.S. “ Ramillies,” Port Royal Harbour, Jamaica, the 18th Nov., 1781, signed John Dalling, Peter Parker, Francis de Miranda, commissioned by the Capt. Gen. of the Island of Cuba, and John Clement, Deputy Secretary, by command of the Vice Admiral, Samuel Hodgson. The 5th page, being a table of rations served to prisoners, bears the MS. signature of the Captain General, Cagigal.

MAJOR DUNCAN DRUMMOND to LIEUT. GENERAL ROBERTSON.

1781, November 20. New York.—In consequence of his commission as Commissary of the Public Accounts of this army, and instructed by the Treasury, he had the honour of presenting his ideas on the subject to the Commander-in-Chief, who constituted the Board over which he (Robertson) presides. An estimate or comparative view which he had laid before the Board has been contrasted with one of higher expense, and a conclusion drawn apparently in favour of the latter. Does not pretend to infallibility. The calculations in the enclosed estimate are made on the largest scale of expense and on the judgment of mechanics and men of experience. Submits them to the consideration of the Board.

Signed letter. Vol. 35, No. 104. 3 pages. Copy. Vol. 34, No. 116. 2 pages.

Enclosures:—

1781, November 20. New York.—Observations in support of the plan presented to the Board of General Officers. Marked No. 22.

LIEUT. COLONEL JAMES MONCRIEF to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1781, November 23. Charles Town.—Encloses duplicate of letter of 30th September sent by the "Hope" cast away on the coast of Georgia. Since the arrival of Gen. Leslie every exertion has been made in forwarding the defences. It has been necessary to fortify a post across the Neck of Charlestown as far up as the Quarter house. A post has been fortified on the main at Stono Ferry to cover John Island, &c.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 53, No. 121. 2 pages.

[SIR HENRY CLINTON] to LIEUT. GOVERNOR THOMAS DESBRISAY.

1781, November 24. New York.—Acknowledges receipt of letter of 11th August; is unable to comply with his request to be appointed Commandant of a Battalion or Field Officer to some corps as the incomplete state of the Provincial regiments precludes raising new ones.

Draft. Vol. 21, No. 155. 2 pages.

[GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON] to GENERAL WASHINGTON.

1781, November 24. New York.—“Sir,—I beg leave to propose that your Commissary General of Prisoners may be authorised to meet mine as soon as convenient either at Elizabeth Town or Staten Island, in order finally to adjust the exchange of Lieut. General Burgoyne, for which proposals have been made some time since; and likewise to treat for the exchange of Lieut. General Earl Cornwallis, and such other officers of his army as may be agreed on. I am, &c.

I have likewise to request you will send me a passport for a vessel, as specified in the margin: to carry medicines and other hospital stores to Virginia for the use of the sick and wounded soldiers of the British Army prisoners there.”

[SIR HENRY CLINTON] to BRIG. GENERAL JOHN CAMPBELL.

1781, November 26. New York.—Received letters of 18th August and 26th October. As it appears by a letter from Lord Geo. Germain that a number of small arms and a quantity of gun-powder destined for New York were sent to Halifax last spring, desires he will forward such of them as are not wanted for the troops in Nova Scotia. Is surprised that so great a quantity as 2,500 stand of arms should be required to supply the casual deficiencies of the regiments there. Approves of the purchase of powder, mortar, and shells taken in a French prize.

Draft. Vol. 21, No. 156. 2 pages.

CAPTAIN JOHN SMITH, [Secretary], to BRIG. GEN. CAMPBELL.

1781, November 26. New York.—Received letters of 18th August and 15th October. His appointment as Brig. General dates from 17th April last, but he is to take that rank from 20th September, 1779, to preserve his seniority to Leland. Town Major Lyons may receive pay for the time he has done duty as Commissary of Musters, but his Excellency has nominated Lt. Sweetland to succeed Mr. Turner. Cannot increase his secretary's pay. Lt. Col. Hicks or any other field officer may take command at Penobscot. Memorials of Major Monk, &c., given to the Adjutant General. Desires to know what compensation should be given to Mr. Russell. Men in enclosed summary list tried by court-martial, 4th March, 1780, are to be released as they have suffered a long confinement. His Excellency will consider Gov. Patterson's letter and perhaps send copy to German.

MAJOR GENERAL WILLIAM DALRYMPLE to LIEUT. GENERAL ROBERTSON.

1781, November 30. New York.—Remarks on the estimate and observations laid before the Board by Major Drummond. Appreciates Major Drummond's candour, but characterizes his project as visionary, and if carried into execution, more defective than and equally expensive to the present establishments. At this moment the Department almost singly supports the whole weight of the different departments who are in a great measure disappointed of the aid expected of the inhabitants whose incapacity or unwillingness to execute the demands made on them have uniformly been the same. Refers the board to all the former papers laid before them, a copy of which, with an aggregate, he has the honour to deliver, as well as some additional papers.

LIEUT. GENERAL ALEXANDER LESLIE to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1781, November 30. Charlestown.—Arrived here on the 8th, and sent for Craig's detachment from Wilmington. Their safe arrival, with all the loyalists who wished to accompany them. Found the corps under Col. Stuart consisting of 1,700 infantry and 200 cavalry posted above Monk's Corner watching the movements of Greene's army, but on the approach of reinforcements Greene has moved across the Santee, and he has directed Col. Stuart to fall down on this side Goose Creek. The army here not above 3,500 men. Intends sending a detachment to Savannah fearing Greene may attack it. Is clear that without some additional force both in infantry and artillery the greatest part of present possessions must inevitably fall. Has established posts at Stono and John's Island. Will try to keep the Islands for the sake of supplies. Enquires if the debris of the corps belonging to Cornwallis's army may be drafted into the regiments here. Requests him to appoint some person to audit the accounts of the Public Departments here. P.S.—Genl. Stuart is come to Camp at the Quarter House. Greene is advancing to Dorchester.

COMTE DE ROCHAMBEAU to GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1781, December 9. Williamsburg.—Similar letter to that of 9 November. Begg he will look upon this as its duplicate.

P.S.—When Earl Cornwallis and his army evacuated York, he made me acquainted with the need he stood in for money. I divided with him, with great pleasure, a part of what remained in our military chest, with only one condition, which was that it should be reimbursed by the military chest at New York. I put your Excellency in mind of this only because there is no mention made of it in the dispatches I have received by the Bonetta.

GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON to THE TRUSTEES FOR CAPTURED PROPERTY [Moncrief, Gratton, Powell and Greenwood].

1781, December 20. New York.—Received letter of 1st ult. Had no other design in appointing trustees but to secure captured property from waste or damage till the true owners were ascertained. Can have therefore no objections to its being restored to such, if loyal subjects, upon requisite bonds being given to guard against future claims.

Copy. Vol. 23, No. 19. 1 page.

GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON to JOHN ROBINSON.

1781, December 20. New York.—Situation of affairs in Carolina renders it impossible to obtain a supply of rice from there as a substitute for oats. Forage is issued only for effective horses and such as are judged absolutely necessary. Number of effective horses cannot be reduced. The demand for greater supply of provisions than was stated in Mr. Wier's returns was caused by the direction to supply the Associated Loyalists, as well as on account of the number of refugees. The greatest care shall be paid to the expenditure of the ample supplies sent by the Treasury.

Copy. Vol. 23, No. 158. 2 pages.

GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON to BRIGADIER GENERAL STEWART.

1781, December 20. New York.—Received letters of 16th and 17th ult.; has also received from Lt. Col. Balfour a copy of his (Stewart's) letter to Cornwallis. Has sent copy of last mentioned to the minister. Thanks for his conduct in the action of Eutaw Springs, and requests him to signify his approval to the officers and men. Appointment as Brigadier General is confirmed.

GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON to LIEUT. GEN. LESLIE.

1781, December 22. New York.—No. 2. Desires, in spite of Lord Cornwallis's directions, that the Staff Officers of the garrisons in the district under his (Leslie's) command may receive only the same rate of subsistence which similar officers receive here. Proper stipends may be granted to distressed refugees.

Draft. Vol. 23, No. 1. 3 pages.

[GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON] to LIEUT. GEN. LESLIE.

1781, December 22. New York.—No. 3. Is sorry he is unable to grant Lt. Col. Balfour's request to be allowed to go to Europe, as his services, either as Commandant of Charles Town or Lt. Col. of the 23rd Regt., are essentially necessary. Should he desire to resign the first office he (Leslie) is to appoint a successor.

Draft. Vol. 23, No. 22. 2 pages.

[GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON] to LIEUT. GEN. LESLIE.

1781, December 22.—No. 4. Has appointed Peter Russell Superintendent of Port of Charles Town vice N. Phillips, resigned, and Mr. J. Towns to be 2d Deputy Superintendent of said port vice Mr. Sweetland. Russell has received leave of absence to settle his affairs and Mr. McCullough will act in his department during his absence. BRIG. GENERAL JOHN CAMPBELL to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1781, December 23. Halifax.—Sends copy of instructions from the Board of Ordnance to the Storekeeper here [see 20 and 24 February] by which it will appear that no gunpowder was sent here for the service at New York. Sends also return of powder in store and report thereon [see 17 December]. Sends 500 stands of arms in the “Belisarius” and “Amphitrite”; will send remaining 1,000 by next safe opportunity. Is assured by Mr. Morden that Mr. Russell’s claim is just. Has signified His Excellency’s pardon to John Thomas. Recommends Mr. Lachlane to be Ensign by purchase vice Duncan Stewart, and Mr. J. Russell to succeed Donald Stewart.

Signed letter. Vol. 13, No. 219. 4 pages.

BRIG. GENERAL JOHN CAMPBELL to JOHN SMITH, Secretary to the Commander-in-Chief.

1781, December 23. Halifax.—Explains that prior to receipt of letter of 26th ult. he drew pay as Brig. General from 20th Sept., 1779. Has signified His Excellency’s pardon to men of Royal Fensible American Regiment and Nova Scotia Volunteers. Lt. Col. Hicks will go to Penobscot to take command of that post. The appointment of a Commissary of Musters was annexed to that of Town Major to enable such officer to live. The enclosed letter will, he hopes, plead for the application.

Signed letter. Vol. 13, No. 223. 3 pages.

Enclosing Charles Lyons to Brig. Gen. Campbell, 21 December.

SIR HENRY CLINTON to LIEUT. GENERAL LESLIE.

1781, December 23. New York.—No. 5. “Altho’ we are, I am persuaded, all of the same opinion, that our late misfortune in Chesapeak was owing to the want of promised naval force to cover our operations there, there seem to be certain implications in Lord Cornwallis’s letter of the 20th of October, which I thought might tend to impress the publick with an idea that his Lordship had been forced by me into a bad post, notwithstanding he had represented the defects of the ground; whereas you will observe by the correspondence that I directed his Lordship to fortify old Point Comfort; but his Lordship not approving of that, as he says, according to the spirit of my orders, took York and Gloucester; of which he owns, however, he never represented the defects. It likewise may be supposed by that letter that I had promised the exertions of the navy before the 24th of September. His Lordship acknowledges

I did not, nor did I, speaking of the sailing of the fleet to attempt to succor him, say it would sail about the 5th.

“As to intrenching tools, exclusive of those sent with you, Sir, by formal returns of the Quarter Master General and Engineer, I have sent above 3,000 to Chesapeak. All those as yet are not accounted for, but I believe it will appear that his Lordship, instead of 400, had above 1,000, when he began his works on York River. His Lordship tells me his letter was written in a hurry, and under great agitation of mind; nobody felt more for him and his gallant army, and I am sure, Sir, you will do me the justice to say that I made every exertion to succor them. Should his Lordship, on his arrival in England, find that his letter has made an impression so different from what, I am persuaded, he intended, he will have the candor, I am sure, publickly to avow the sentiments he seemed to profess when I had a conversation with him prior to his letter being printed.”

2 copies. Vol. 23, Nos. 24 and 25. 2 pages and 3 pages.

SIR HENRY CLINTON TO LIEUT. GENERAL LESLIE.

1781, December 23. New York.—Recommending Mr. Baine appointed to act as Deputy Commissary of Accounts under Major Drummond, and who will deliver this letter.

BERNARDO DE GALVEZ to GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1781, December 30. Havanna.—This will be delivered by Baron Winterfield, 2nd Lt. Irish Infantry who goes with the English families left sick at Pensacola, which was the reason of their detention. He will inform of the proceedings with Gen. Campbell and of the motives for not acceding to the convention made between Gen Campbell and the Gov. of Havannah "that the prisoners shd. be sent to New York in exchange for the Spaniards who might be at Jamaica." His reasons for suspending it are that they had no powers to make it, the governor of this place not being empowered and Gen. Campbell as a prisoner being disqualified. The French had made bitter complaints that the prisoners going there would reinforce the British army to their prejudice. "Their complaints would have been better founded if the prisoners from the foregoing settlements of the Mississippi, who had no right to expect it as they were not included in the capitulation of Pensacola, had taken the same route, wherefore I am in treaty to send them another way that will be less inconvenient on our part and they in a short time will enjoy the liberty I wish them." Again recommends the officer who bears this.

BERNARDO DE GALVEZ to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1781, December 30. Havana.—That Major of Brigade Campbell having asked permission to send the correspondence [between Galvez and Gen. Campbell] either to Sir H. Clinton or to Gen. Campbell he had agreed to that, but not to his (Campbell's) adding any explanation of his own knowing the abuse of his pen. Will cite documents referring to Genl. Campbell's actions and his own, setting aside those of the Secretary. Desires him to compare the Baton Rouge capitulation, where he will find that Natchez belonged to West Florida, next, the Pensacola capitulation, wherein not only that garrison, but all the province is surrendered, and further the letters of 25th to 29th May and the commissions given to Capt. Blomart and two others whom he (Galvez) has prisoners; they having so manifestly broken the capitulation he is sufficiently authorized to make reprisals and not allow the whole garrison to proceed. Has, however, detained only Brigade Major Campbell and Capt. Dean. Complains of the invectives and false charges of the gentlemen Campbells, General and Secretary, and their stratagems, but on his part he allowed the General and family to embark.

P.S.—Since writing, Mr. James Campbell has sent him, to forward to New York, not the correspondence with his general, but that with himself (Galvez). Has told him if he does not send the former the latter shall not go. Sends enclosed the last paragraph of a letter written by Mr. C. to Major General Espeleta.

[] to MAJOR BRUEN.

N. D. [1781.]—Extract of a letter to Major Bruen from a gentleman conversant in business to whom he had submitted the consideration of some papers for his opinion. In the paper entitled "Sketch of the Quarter Master General's Department at New York for three months from the 1st of January to the 31st of March, 1781," it is shown that when the vessels, horses and wagons become the property of Government there would be a saving of £186,802 10s. 8d. per annum in the Quarter Master General's Department alone. Remarks that there is no allowance made for wear and tear of such articles and the allowance for pay and provisions of the men is insufficient; there is also no allowance for first cost of these vessels, &c. In a "Comparative view to purchase or hire," &c., there is no expenditure for support of these expensive engines of land and water carriage. Therefore this account should be made up before the Board of General Officers determine whether there would be a saving to Government in purchasing instead of hiring as before.

LIEUT. GEN. ALEXR. LESLIE to LORD GEORGE GERMAIN.

1782, January 3.—“ Soon after my arrival here I did myself the honour to write your Lordship by a private schooner, at which time I intimated my having recalled the garrison of Wilmington. They soon after arrived here under Major Craig, whose services during his command in North Carolina do him honour and I do not doubt have been mentioned to your Lordship by the Commander-in-Chief. It is with much concern that I am obliged to inform your Lordship of the almost total revolt of this Province. Since our misfortunes in Virginia many persons in whom we placed confidence have abandoned us, and those, who by their former exertions have rendered themselves obnoxious to the rebels, or who from inclination still adhere to their loyalty, being drove with their families from their possessions, and deprived of every means of support, are now become a burthen upon us, which tho' great, cannot with humanity be avoided.

"Brigadier General Stuart fell back to a position on this neck, six miles from town, where we have constructed such works as render his encampment formidable. A strong post on the east side of Cooper River gives us a communication with the main on our right, and Major Craig, with six hundred men, holds John and James Islands, which form the left of our position.

"Your Lordship will observe the narrow limits to which we are now confined, but Sr. Henry's instructions to me were to make my first object the defence and safety of this town, which I should risk was I to extend my posts farther. I have represented to his Excell^y the absolute necessity of a reinforcement, if it is intended that the army here should act offensively. My being intirely destitute of real cavalry creates infinite difficulties, and obliges me to supply their place with mounted infantry, who from inexperience in that line must fight under every disadvantage. I take the liberty to assure your Lordship that without cavalry his Majesty's arms can never be decisively successful in this country. If an established regiment of Dragoons was sent here they could be mounted very tollerably on the horses now employed by the mounted infantry.

"The great superiority of the enemy's horse renders it impossible to procure any certain intelligence. We have been frequently deceived with regard to the troops they expect from the northward; they are now, however, near at hand, and must join in a few days.

Green's position is on the south side of Edisto, where he waits their arrival. At present his force in Continentals is not very considerable, but having the whole militia at his orders gives him a numerous army.

"I have detached two hundred men and some artillery men to Georgia, and am ready on the enemy's pointing that way to give them further succours. It is out of my power to reinforce St. Augustine, but I intend immediately to compleat it in provisions for five months; this I am enabled to do by the arrival of the English fleet under the convoy of the Astrea, Rotterdam, and Duke de Chartres, which I have the pleasure to inform your Lordship arrived safe here. The Cork fleet convoyed by the Quebeck also came off this Bar some days since, and after sending in a few vessels bound for this port, proceeded for New York without communicating with me.

"I have received many applications from the civil officers lately arrived from England requiring support, which I cannot grant them without disobeying the Commander-in-Chief's positive instructions. However they receive salaries by being appointed to the Board of Police, which is all the assistance I can at present afford them. I have the honour to be, &c.

GOVERNOR PATRICK TONYN to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1782, January 3. St. Augustine.—The state of this Province nearly the same as formerly represented, and there is every reason to expect the forces of the King of Spain early in the spring. Requests reinforcements. Adds, in a postscript, list of bills drawn to liquidate ordnance and Indian accounts, which he begs may be honoured. The bills amount to £688 2s. 4d.

BOARD OF GENERAL OFFICERS.

1782, January 6. Head Quarters.—Minutes of a meeting. The Board consisted of Sir Henry Clinton, Gens. Robertson, Paterson, Knyphausen, O'Hara, and Col. Dalrymple, Adl. Digby assisting. Peter Russel, secretary. Discuss letters from Gen. Leslie, Gov. Wright and Lt. Col. Clarke. Resolved that Leslie can spare for Savannah 500 men, but the officers judge it right that about 1,000 men should be held in readiness to embark (from New York) in case his next dispatch should contain such information as may make it necessary to send them to him.

JOHN MARSHALL AND OTHERS.

1782, January 17. Halifax.—Report of Hospital Staff and Regimental Surgeons. As to the disease in question, it appears to be the jail or hospital fever. Submit that the “Stanislaus” prison ship be destroyed. The prison ships in that harbour in the winter cannot fail to foster malignant diseases. Also that the naval and prison hospitals are too close together, and that as the disease has found its way into the regimental hospital, strict attention should be paid to space, air, cleanliness and separation between the sick and healthy.

COMTE DE ROCHAMBEAU to GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1782, January 20. Williamsburg.—Has received by Capt. Armstrong letter of 31 December and 10 January. Sends back paroles of the three officers whom he desires to exchange and to supply that of Maj. Barclay he sends duplicate of exchange proposed by Clinton with his own consent annexed. Lord Rawdon in his parole takes the title of Brig. General, and in consequence believes he can only be exchanged against one of equal grade. However, will send to Washington the list of American Colonels offered in exchange, and if he desires any of them to be exchanged for Lord Rawdon will put no opposition. Sends receipt of the Treasurer for the sum they were happy to lend to Cornwallis. “The Treasurer has found over the debt, the sum of 1,031*l.* 4 sols, which has been remitted to the captain of the flag.”

LT. COL. JAMES BRUCE AND 6 OTHER OFFICERS to BRIG. GEN.
JOHN CAMPBELL.

1782, January 21. Halifax.—Having considered the report signed by Dr. Marshal and the surgeons of the garrison relative to the sickness among the men acting as guards on the "Stanislaus," they are of opinion it would be imprudent to continue a guard on board said prison ship, and that the sentinels should be placed at a proper distance from the naval and prison hospitals.

Enclosed by Lt. Gen. Leslie to Sir H. Clinton, 2 February.

BOARD OF GENERAL OFFICERS.

1782, January 23. Head Quarters.—Minutes marked “ Extract.” Written by and signed Peter Russel. Same Board as shown above 6 January. Same subject as on 14 January. Approve measure of writing to Leslie and to Clarke that the Commander-in-Chief and every officer will pay the same attention to the interests and security of all H. M. loyal subjects everywhere as they do to those of the troops under their orders. On the impropriety and inconvenience of reviving the civil government in New York.

Vol. 26, No. 156. 2 pages.

GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON to JOHN ROBINSON.

1782, January 23. New York.—Observations on Major Drummond and his “ Comparative View ” and on the Board of General Officers. Is at a loss to know to what contracts the Major alludes in his letter of 17th December. As to the army train, the management is still in the same Department, and is still hired at the same rates as when he himself first took command of the army, but refers him to the enclosed letter. Major Drummond’s remarks on the present situation are rather foreign to the object of his commission. Will send remaining papers laid before the Board.

JOHN P. SMITH to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1782, January 28. New York.—Petition. That he left a farm in Orange County. Entered service of government in this city. Taken by the Americans when passing to Philadelphia. His sufferings in jails, etc., have brought on a rheumatic complaint "which disqualifies from labor." Seeks some relief from the royal charity. Signed also by one or two officers of the Provincial Troops, and with a recommendation by Wm. Bayard, 9 February.

Original. Vol. 29, No. 167. 2 pages.

DUKE OF ARGYLL to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1782, January 29. London.—At the earnest desire of Brig. General John Campbell, commanding at Halifax, transmits a memorial to his Excellency begging the favour of its being recommended to his Majesty. Need say nothing in favour of the services and pretensions of the two gentlemen concerned. As the corps was raised in Argyllshire and the officers are all connections and friends, is persuaded he will excuse the trouble.

LT. GEN. ALEXR. LESLIE to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1782, January 29. Near Charlestown Camp.—Receipt of letters. Sends returns of the army. The several detached corps of cavalry have been incorporated into distinct ones under Lt. Col. Thompson; from the unwearied attention and diligent efforts of that officer they are become respectable. Men of Provincial Light Infantry are sent back to their battalions or incorporated with others. Has put a stop to the purchase of horses. Appointments made by Maj. Gen. Gould and himself which have not been approved are withdrawn. Mr. Beane is announced as Commissary of Musters. Men from New York are safely arrived. Invalids are sent to Europe. The people are daily coming to seek protection, “which tho’ entailing a burden on ourselves, is not to be refused them: I regret the heavy and increasing expence of provisions and money incurred by this means and by the militia now with us; but their misery and helpless situation justifies our attention to them, tho’, perhaps, their services are not to be esteemed an equivalent. Every possible attention is paid by me to public expenditures, and to the reducing them. Constant demands are made to me for payment of expences incurred before my arrival.” The Legion and Lt. Col. Simcoe’s Corps shall be sent first opportunity. These drafts weaken his effective force, and nothing material can be hoped from offensive operations. From the large inundations made by Col. Moncrief in front of the town, apprehends sickness among the troops. The South Carolina Regiment being weak in officers he has appointed Lt. McLean to the troop vacant by the death of Capt. Campbell. Sends return of refugees fed from the King’s stores in Charlestown, return of the militia doing duty on James Island, and abstract of pay due to field officers of the militia according to rates established by Lord Cornwallis and Lord Rawdon.

LIEUT. GEN. ALEXR. LESLIE to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1782, January 29. Camp.—Reminds his Excellency of his promise that his stay here should not be for a long time. Is anxious to go away before summer to attend to his private business. Has had a fall from his horse.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 23, No. 54. 1 page.

LIEUT. GEN. ALEXR. LESLIE to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1782, January 29. Camp near Charles Town.—Sir,—Having received such information of General Marian's situation on the north side of the Cooper as to induce me to detach against him, a party under the command of Major Brereton, consisting of the cavalry, flank corps & volunteers of Ireland, was crossed to Daniel's Island, and moved from thence; a small corps under Capt. Roberts, of the 63rd Regt. marched also from Haddul's Point, the whole to form a junction and proceed against the enemy; but they having got intelligence of our design, and it being apprehended they would in consequence retire, it was thought advisable to send on the cavalry; they were accordingly pushed forward, & found the enemy to the number of 400 drawn up on horse back to receive them, seventy of the cavalry under Major Coffin charged with great gallantry, cut to pieces and took near 100 of the rebels; the whole returned to their different stations the proceeding day, with the loss of Capt. Campbell of the South Carolina Regt., killed, and Capt. Campbel of the same Regt. and two privates, wounded.

On the 13th of December I received intelligence of Mr. Green's intentions of detaching a very strong corps against Major Craig (who was judiciously posted at William Gibb's on John's Island), supported by his whole army, which had crossed the Eddisto for that purpose, and moved towards Stono. Notwithstanding their great superiority I am sensible they would not have succeeded in their attempt, which was hazardous, tho' well concerted, yet very little was to be gained by their defeat, which must have been partial, and so many circumstances concurring to induce me to prevent the attempt, that I ordered the Island to be evacuated; Major Craig crossed that night, and the following day to Perrineau's on James Island, and took post there, near to the four redoubts Colonel Moncrief had previously directed to be constructed for the more effectual security of that Island.

I must add, the quitting of John's Island, tho' under the circumstances I have described, was well conducted, and effected without any loss. A few of the enemy appeared as the rear had finished its embarkation.

"The rebels left the Island immediately, much disappointed. They lay some days near Jacksonbourgh. Mr. Greene has since moved back and recrossed the Eddisto, occupying nearly his former position; some of his cavalry and light troops are advanced towards Beacon Bridge, with a few of the former on this side, for the purpose of patrolling.

"B. General Marian's people are strongly posted on the borders of a swamp, near to Strawberry Ferry—suspicious and jealous of our intentions.

"General Wayne march'd about a fortnight past, towards Georgia, with a corps of cavalry and infantry. I sent Colonel Moncrief immediately on learning it, to Savanah to put the works there in the best possible state of defence, leaving to his excellent judgement the making such additions as he should think necessary. I expect much from the spirit and alacrity his presence will diffuse thro' all ranks in that place, & I cannot omit expressing to your Excellency the high sense I entertain, and the acknowledgements that are due to that gentleman for his very great alacrity on this occasion.

“I am to inform you, Sir, that one hundred and fifty men have been sent to Georgia, principally recruits and recovered men belonging to the corps there.

“The Garrison Company is still stationed at Fort Arbutnot, now consisting of about 170 men; they are settled with by their late corps. I have attached Lieutenant Cameron to that company—an officer from half pay; he has been often wounded, and repeatedly made prisoner by the enemy. Captain Brown having brought no subaltern officer with him, will explain to your Excellency the necessity for this appointment.

“At the request of Major Craig, commanding on John’s Island, a General Court Martial was directed to set there, for the tryal of several most desperate and daring villains, who had made a practice of plundering the inhabitants; it becoming absolutely necessary to check so violent a breach of good order and discipline, I was under the necessity of ordering one of the two condemned to die, for immediate execution. He was a Serjeant of the Legion. I have the honor,” &c.

LIEUT. GEN. ALEXR. LESLIE to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1782, January 29. Camp.—In case of anything serious here he must appoint Colonels Westerhagen and Binning to act as Brigadier Generals, they being both senior to Brig. Gen. Stewart. Is General de Bose to receive bat and forage money as Lt. General or Major General?

JOHN TUNNO to LIEUT. GENERAL ALEXR. LESLIE.

1782, January 31. Charlestown.—Complaining of a late decision of the Board of Police against him, and declaring his intention of appealing to the Commander-in-Chief, unless he will interfere and rectify this proceeding of the Board. Refers to the enclosed memorial. Remarks on the policy of the Board, which he says is calculated to strengthen the rebel interest. At the foot is a copy of General Leslie's answer of 3 Feb., that he is sorry the Board does not meet with his (Tunno's) approbation, but as it was established by Lord Cornwallis, and approved by higher powers, he cannot take it upon him to alter its form or establishment.

Signed letter. Vol. 23, Nos. 72 and 71, misplaced in binding. 5 pages.

Enclosed by John Tunno to Sir H. Clinton, 5 February, 1782.

GENERAL NATHANIEL GREENE to LIEUT. GENERAL LESLIE.

1782, February 1. Head Quarters.—Has been waiting to see whether he meant to justify and support the infraction of the cartel by Lt. Col. Balfour in the discrimination among the prisoners and in the execution of Col. Hayne. Before Cornwallis's answer could be obtained he and his army were made prisoners, and the matter has been before Congress. He would pursue the exchange upon the plan of the cartel before their final decision if those prisoners are liberated who have been subjects of discrimination. Capt. Barry is ordered into confinement meanwhile. Threatens with retaliation on the thousands of prisoners in their hands if he gives support to what is unjust. Received his letter concerning Gov. Burke; he is now in N. Carolina, and before writing to him desires to know whether he is to be considered a prisoner of war or prisoner of state.

Copy. Vol. 53, No. 125. 4 pages.

JOHN HINCHMAN, late of Gloucester County, West New Jersey, to GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1782, February 1. Brooklyn Ferry.—Memorial for increased allowance on account of the arrival of his wife. With recommendation from the Board of Directors of Associated Loyalists, signed Wm. Franklin, President, and followed by order for rations, 1 March, by Thos. Murray, A.D.C.

THOMAS IRVING to CAPT. NISBETT, aide-de-camp to General Leslie.

1782, February 2. Charlestown.—A letter he encloses for General Leslie respects the Board of Police; he has altered the beginning so that it reads simply as a letter. The Lt. Governor and some other gentlemen desire that it should be sent to the Commander-in-Chief, by the “Savage,” as there is not time to make out a joint representation as to the state of the Board in consequence of the paragraph of Sir Henry Clinton’s letter. They will take into consideration that paragraph and transmit an answer to Gen. Leslie.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 23, No. 62. 1 page.

Enclosed by Lt. Gen. Leslie to Sir H. Clinton on this day.

LIEUT. GEN. ALEXR. LESLIE to ROBERT BIDDULPH.

1782, February 2. Head Quarters Camp, near Charlestown.—Directing him to pay in bills of exchange a certain proportion of all sums issued on account of the extraordinary and contingent expenses as that must contribute to keeping the exchange at par.

LIEUT. GEN. ALEXR. LESLIE TO SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1782, February 2. Head Quarters.—Explains a paragraph in his letter mentioning the diffidence of the troops. The greater proportion of the corps here have not been inured to service and want that confidence felt by an army accustomed to victory, and the unfortunate fall of Lord Cornwallis could not fail of holding out a gloomy presage to a young army. His idea was to obtain a corps of veteran troops for this place.

GOV. SIR JAMES WRIGHT to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1782, February 16. Postscript 21. Savannah in Georgia.—Received his letter of 6 January, and regrets he (Clinton) cannot send the desired reinforcement here. In consequence of a passage from that letter he has applied to Gen. Leslie, though without much hope of his compliance. Quotes from Sir Henry's letter that if General Greene attempts an attack, and early notice were received, he would immediately endeavour to send a reinforcement. This, Sir James says, would be too late, the passages to and from New York and the embarkation would take two months, while any event or loss would happen in a week or ten days. Wishes his Excellency had been pleased to send a reinforcement, and repeats his desire for 1,000 men. P.S. 21st.—Has just received a letter from Leslie, representing it is not in his power to spare men. Has been obliged to draw on the Treasury for the expense of raising two troops of horse.

LIEUT. GEN. ALEXANDER LESLIE to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1782, February 18. Camp near Charlestown.—Receipt of letters. Since letter of a fortnight ago nothing has happened. Greene is on this side Parker's Ferry, his stores on the other. Wayne took some infantry to Georgia to distress the Loyalists. At present Colonel Clarke has a full thousand fit for duty, besides the Dragoons, Militia and 300 Chaetaw Indians. Moncrief is returned from Georgia. Hopes that able officer will not be recalled. Encloses letter for his perusal. The demands from all quarters from loyal subjects for cattle, horses, forage, provisions, &c., are alarming and seldom any receipt to show, but certified by some officer of rank. Have hitherto put them off, but they now declare if they are not paid they must starve. "I became very unpopular from my wishing to be an œconomist for the public. I beg your Excellency's directions in this matter, for I declare I am afraid of opening a door that will be difficult to shut. At the same time, there are a number of respectable families starving, who look up to the public for support; it is beyond belief and their claims are strong, from their suffering for our cause." Thanks for an ensigncy for his nephew. Desires him to continue Mr. McCaul of the 64th, who has been appointed to the 43rd, in the former Regiment and put a Mr. Wood in the 43rd for reasons stated. Provisions for 6 months and 170 men are being sent to Providence. P.S.—Colonel Berry is confined to the Commandant's house in Camden, but General Green has not yet explained why.

COLONEL BENJAMIN THOMPSON to LIEUT. GENERAL LESLIE.

1782, February 24. Drake's Plantation, Sunday Evening, 10 o'clock.—Sir, I have the pleasure to congratulate with you upon the success of the detachment under my command, in the attack, and the defeat, of a body of the rebel troops which we surprized this afternoon in their encampment upon the banks of the Santee, near Wambaw Bridge, and totally routed.

We marched from Daniel's Island at two o'clock this morning, and proceeding up the country towards Cain Hoy, at daylight we discovered that the road was intirely covered and cut up with fresh tracks of horses, which appeared to have gone up in the direction in which we were marching. Upon enquiring at the plantations we learnt from the negroes that a body of near five hundred men, all mounted, had come down from Santee the day before, and had returned in the evening. We lost no time in pursuing them, and at half an hour before sunset, after a march of more than forty-five miles, the cavalry arrived in sight of their encampment. The infantry had been left to take post at a plantation, eight miles in the rear, not being able to proceed any further from the excessive fatigue of so long and so rapid a march.

As soon as we came out of a wood upon the left of their encampment, where their advanced vidette was posted (who was killed upon the spot) we discovered their dragoons crossing in our front to the left over a causway and bridge that lay between them and their militia. We instantly charged them, and some of the swiftest horses of our militia, who were in front, came up in time to cut off a few men in their rear, and immediately, without halting, followed after their main body. As soon as the enemy had got over this bridge, and had gained the summit of a rising ground, eighty or one hundred yards from the end of the causway they came to the right about and formed in very good order.

At this instant all our force was in their sight. The head of the column (which was at full speed) was upon the causway, and the militia, which had halted within thirty yards of their line, formed opposite to them, and invited them, both by words and gestures, to come on. I expected every instant when the rebel Dragoons would have charged them, but after remaining in this critical situation about a quarter of a minute Major Doyle, who was in front of the whole, made the signal for his militia to charge. They gave a shout, and rushed on, sword in hand, with the utmost intrepidity, and the enemy fired their pistols and gave way in great confusion. We pursued them through the middle of their encampment, and along the causway leading to Wambaw Bridge; but the bridge breaking down just as we were crossing it prevented our following them any further in that direction. In the meantime several small parties that had attempted to get off by other roads and by taking to the woods and swamps, had been pursued by our militia, and many of them had been destroyed.

I imagine the rebel militia ran off as soon as they heard of our advancing to attack them (which I have since learnt was not more than half an hour before we arrived), as none of them made their appearance to oppose us. It is said they were upwards of three hundred, under the command of Colonel Macdonald. All that were found upon the field or taken prisoners were Continental troops.

I cannot exactly ascertain the numbers of the enemy that were killed and wounded, but from what I saw, and from the report of two officers I desired to go over the ground to ascertain the fact, I am confident there were not less than thirty left dead upon the spot, and many others must have perished in the swamps and rivers in attempting to make their escape. Among the slain was Major Benson, who commanded Horry's Regiment of Continental Dragoons, and two or three others who appeared by their dress to be officers of distinction. To the enemy's loss we must add ten men that were killed and two that were taken prisoners of the different parties and patrols which we fell in with upon our march.

I have the happiness to acquaint you that we had not a single man killed, and only one very slightly wounded.

We sounded the retreat in the center of the enemy's camp, just as the sun was setting, and at nine o'clock we joined our infantry at this place.

The behaviour of the troops in this affair, as well as during the whole time we have been absent from camp, has been such as merits the highest commendation. Their steady behaviour and ready attentions to the orders they receive give me the greatest confidence in them; and I have no doubt if they are ever (sic) they will do themselves great honor. But I ought to mention in a particular manner the behaviour of our two troops of militia. The spirit and intrepidity they showed in the attack of Horry's

Dragoons is deserving of the greatest praise. No men behaved with greater gallantry, and I am so well pleased with their conduct in all respects that I shall ever be happy to serve with (sic). I have the honor, &c.

COL. BENJAMIN THOMPSON to LIEUT. GENERAL LESLIE.

1782, February 25. Duxcents Plantation, Monday.—“Sir, I did not expect after the affair of yesterday, the enemy would so soon have put it in my power to congratulate with you upon another defeat of their troops by those which you have done me the honor to put under my command.

“We had the good fortune this morning to fall in with a chosen corps under the command of General Marion, in person, which we attacked and totally routed, killing a considerable number of them, taking sixteen prisoners, and driving General Marion and the greater part of his army into the Santee, where it is probable a great many of them perished.

“After resting and refreshing our horses at the plantation where we halted last night, at 9 o'clock this morning the cavalry marched back to the Santee, to the ground where we fell in with the enemy yesterday. The infantry marched at the same time for this place, and we promised to join them in the afternoon.

“As I had received intelligence that Colonel Horry was sick at a house about a mile on the right of his camp, and that Maham’s Dragoons lay not far off, we made a detour of two or three miles to our left, in order to sweep that part of the country, intending to return by the great Santee Road.

“We had advanced about nine miles from the place we left in the morning, when, coming in through a gate way to the cleared ground of a plantation, we discovered the enemy about three hundred yards distant, directly in front of us, drawn up in the area between the negroe hutts belonging to the plantation. The ground was perfectly clear between us, and the field extended at least two hundred yards to our right and to our left, without any fence or other obstacle to obstruct our motions. I observed that the river was close upon the enemy’s rear, and there appeared to be no way by which they could escape without giving us an opportunity of attacking them. I saw by the colours of their uniforms that they were not the same troops we had beaten the evening before, and suspecting by the countenance they held, as well as from the position they had taken, that they had infantry with them, I thought it prudent to form our line, which we did in less than two minutes, without the least confusion or irregularity, tho’ the gate way was so narrow that only two horses could pass it abreast. The York Volunteers, which formed our advanced guard, stood fast, and the four troops of the South Carolina Royalists formed up upon their right and left. The two troops of militia formed upon our flanks, and the Legion and Gilles’s troops formed in our rear as a reserve. While this was doing a party of the militia, with the officers’ servants, dismounted and made an opening in the fence in our rear, so that a troop might pass through in front, in case we had been obliged to retire.

“As soon as the troops were formed I ordered a charge to be sounded, and the line moved forwards. The enemy also sounded a charge, but instead of coming out to meet us they were discovered going off by their right in the greatest hurry and confusion, and attempting to gain a swamp that was upon the banks of the river on that side. We immediately charged after them at full speed, and had the good fortune to come up in time to cut off a great part of their rear. Those that gained the swamp were pursued, and many of them were killed in attempting to get into the rivers, and others were shot and drowned in attempting to swim to the opposite shore.

“We took near forty horses, many of which are capital chargers ; above twenty British muskets with bayonets, a great number of swords, helmets, &c., one officer’s esponton, one drum, the baggage of a number of officers, and among the rest General Marion’s tent and his canteens full of liquor, which afforded a timely supply to the troops.

“The loss of the enemy we could not exactly ascertain, but I think it must have been considerable, considering the situation in which they were when they were attacked, and the confusion in which they retired.

“I cannot express the satisfaction I feel at being able to acquaint that in this affair, like that of yesterday, we had not a single man killed, and only one wounded, who I am in hopes will recover.

“I learn from the prisoners that General Marion’s force consisted of Maham’s Regiment of Continental Dragoons all the remains that could be collected of Horry’s Dragoons and the militia we routed yesterday (which amounted to no more than twenty of the former and thirty or forty of the latter), a detachment of Continental Infantry, and about thirty militia General Marion had brought with him from the southward. This force had been collected for the purpose of attacking us, and General Marion had given positive orders for the cavalry to charge wherever they met with us. They had got intelligence of our having retired to Drake’s plantation, and were just preparing to follow us when we came upon them.

“After the action we collected at our leisure all the cattle from the rebel plantations in that quarter, and have sent them down the road with a proper escort. We shall follow as soon as the troops are refreshed.

“In this last affair with the enemy, as well as during the whole time I have had the honor to command this detachment, the troops, both officers and men, have behaved in such a manner as to merit my warmest acknowledgments. I have the honor to be, &c.

“Wappataw Church, Tuesday, 1 o’clock, p.m.—Since writing the above four dragoons, dressed in rebel uniforms, which I sent upon a secret expedition near twenty miles up the Santee Road, above where the last action happened, have returned, and report that General Marion had not been heard of on this side of the river since his defeat, and that they had not met with a single rebel in arms in the country through which they had passed, tho’ they had come down all the way upon the great road from Santee upon our trail.”

LIEUT. GENERAL ALEXR. LESLIE to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1782, March 12. Camp near Charlestown.—Sends copies of two of his letters to Lord George Germain. “General Greene, with his army, is on this side Parker’s Ferry; Colonel Laurens with the cavalry and light troops advanced in front. Greene has been lately joined by three hundred state troops from North Carolina; they are endeavouring to recruit in both the Carolinas, and to pay the bounty in hard money, besides giving them three slaves, of the Tories’ property, in the course of three years’ service. A report prevails that fifteen hundred French infantry with Lauzun’s Legion have marched from Virginia on their way hither, but I have no certain accounts of it.” Sends the garrison company to Providence. Encloses duplicate of a letter from Governor Bull and the Board of Police. Desires answer as to the claims on government from loyal subjects, whose property was taken for the service. The expence of the militia is great from the wonderful number of officers. Money scarce, exchange getting up to 10 p.c. Wayne is doing nothing but distressing the loyal inhabitants. Sends proclamations to encourage the British, &c., to desert. “Col. Clarke ordered out a party of dragoons to recover five Hessians who had gone off. The dragoons came up with them and killed the whole. I intend to relieve that regiment as soon as a ship of war can be spared.” The Governor and Council of Georgia want to have the country opened to cultivate their plantations. Fears the troops he can send will not be sufficient. Sends memorial of Alexander Wright. Is he to supply the departments with money equal to their demands? Gov. Tonyn pushes very hard for troops. A commodore needed. Loss of the “Alligator,” fired by a party of Lee’s troops.

General “Greene has now moved near the Ashley and is encamped two miles on the other side near Beacon’s Bridge. I apprehend his design is to cover the country to favour the removal of the negroes to the other side of the Santee and to prevent supplies of provisions from coming into the town to which purpose they have lately issued a proclamation, which I have the honour to enclose to your Excellency.” Question of arming the negroes. Proposes a detachment by water on the side of Port Royal to distress the enemy and oblige Wayne to fall back from Savannah.

P.S.—31st, on board the “Astrea.” Arrival of the “Garland” with the retaken February packet.

LIEUT. GENERAL ALEX. LESLIE to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1782, March 12. Camp, Davis's House.—Private. "Sir,—I do not find that Wayne has any force in Georgia to attempt an attack on Savannah, he from a superiority in cavalry comes at times near the town, and has lately burned a few out houses belonging to the Governor.

"From Colonel Clark's letters to me, I find the Hessian Regiment has been there too long, they desert fast, and I am affraid little dependance is to be put in them, I shall from this reason be under the necessity of withdrawing them, I am very much at a loss whom to send to replace that corps. I am sorry to observe that when the Hessian troops are sent to out posts desertion takes place, they being so long here has been the means of their forming too many connections. And the enemy have taken every care to encourage desertion as much as in their power, this together with the assistance of their friends within our walls enables them to seduce the foreigners, from the encouragement they give them. I am sorry to find some leading people of our militia going over to the enemy and persuading others to follow them, in fact to us they are of little use (a few cavalry excepted), and are a great expence to Government, but we cannot force those that have been formerly our friends out of the lines, who have come in for our protection. I have the honor to be," &c.

LIEUT. GENERAL ALEXR. LESLIE to [SIR HENRY CLINTON].

1782, March 12.—After the York and English fleets sail, will be very weak in King's ships. Has been unable to get one to carry the stores and garrison men to Providence. Some small vessels are much wanted. George Town ought to be destroyed, as the enemy are using it to get supplies for their army. Is indebted to Captain Peacock for his attention and zeal.

LIEUT. COLONEL JAMES MONCRIEF to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1782, March 13. Charlestown.—Will await further directions before going northward. "The number of slaves who have attached themselves to the Engineer Department since my arrival . . . and who look up to me for protection has been for some time past a matter of serious concern." Advantage of their labour. Asks upon what footing they are to be fixed before his departure. Advises embodying a brigade of negroes. Every exertion has been made in taking the field position of the army. Materials preparing to erect a new fort on Sullivan's Island in place of Fort Arbuthnot; also for redoubts and batteries which can be transported to any place required by the service.

SIR HENRY CLINTON to LIEUT. GENERAL ALEXR. LESLIE.

1782, March 14. New York.—Sir, Judging it probable that if Sir George Rodney's fleet should arrive in the Leeward Islands before that from Brest, the French fleet under De Grasse might be defeated or drove to leeward, and the general officer commanding there might, in consequence, call upon me for troops to assist in raising the siege of Brimstone Hill, supposing the garrison to hold out until that event takes place, I thought proper to submit the propriety of complying with such a requisition to the opinion of a Council of War, who were unanimous that not a man ought to be detached to such a distance from this post in its present threatened situation, but that 2,000 men may with safety be spared from the Southern District in the approaching season, when military operations are deemed impracticable in that climate. I have, accordingly, sent a runner to the Leeward Islands to apprise the Commanders-in-Chief of the sea and land forces there of my intentions to send thither the above number of troops for the purpose, and under the circumstances here stated, in case a requisition should have been made for them, and to inform them that I was moreover inclined to send these troops likewise to the relief of Jamaica should it be attacked and an application made to me for assistance, in case the superiority of our fleet to that of the enemy shall be such at the time as to insure them a safe passage thither and their return to me when the service is accomplished. I have therefore to request you will hold the 3d, 19th and 30th Regiments, including their flank companies, together with the 82d and 84th, detachment of Jagers and remains of the Regiment of Bose, in readiness for embarkation about the 20th of next month. For should the then unthreatened situation of the different posts under your command admit of their being detached from your district, I shall in that case most probably be desirous about that period of drawing those corps to this place to enable me to comply with any requisition for succor which may be made from the West Indies or to act according to exigences; and I am of opinion that by withdrawing the post at the Quarter House in the beginning of May, leaving the defence of the Islands to the militia and refugees, which you report to be about 500 men, and reducing the garrison of Savannah to its former number, the garrison in Charlestown may be thereby rendered sufficiently ample to secure it against every sort of danger during the summer months. But, it being my intention to send you back an adequate reinforcement from hence before the season for taking the field in Carolina returns, I am in hopes no inconvenience or danger will accrue to you from your compliance with this request. I have the honor, &c.

Endorsed :—Sent down to the Hook to go by the Garland, but was too late, though the Admiral said she should be detained for it. Sent afterwards to the Admiral's to be forwarded by the Savage.

SIR HENRY CLINTON to LIEUT. GEN. LESLIE.

1782, March 17. New York.—No. 9. Mr. Cruden's commission is of a different nature from that of Mr. Irving. The whole affair is submitted to the Secretary of State. Cannot increase Gov. Bull's salary, nor grant allowance to Mr. Irving without orders from the Treasury. Has avoided in New York any such extension of the powers of the Board of Police as seems to have taken place at Charlestown. They are to be directed in future not to take cognisance or enforce payment of bonds, mortgages, obligations or other debts contracted before the capitulation of Charlestown, as the public interest, the interest of the British merchants and the interests of the loyalists require a stop to be put to proceedings of this nature. Sends a report of proceedings of the Police at

New York, as the restrictions and regulations under which they have acted have answered every purpose.

LIEUT. GENERAL ALEXR. LESLIE to [SIR HENRY CLINTON].

1782, March 27. Camp.—You know, Sir, that my constitution is much impaired from having serv'd the whole war; besides that, the perplexity of civil matters here, independent of military ones, is so much beyond my abilities to arrange, that I declare myself unequal to the task, nor have I constitution to stand it, from morning to night I have memorials and petitions full of distress, &c., &c., before me.

Independent of my public situation, and even state of health, I have an aged mother (82 yrs.) going into her grave, and only wishing to see me.

And I have an only daughter, who I have scarce ever seen from being constantly with my regiment, her happiness now depends on my return to Europe. She may form a very good alliance, but is under promise to me to remain single until I see her.

Excuse my troubling you with these family matters, it is to convince you I don't go away because his Majesty has been pleased to provide for me in giving me an old regiment.

Dr. Hayes will inform your Excellency from sickness and accidents, by falls, dislocations, &c., my health is unfit to stand the summer."

LIEUT. GENERAL ALEXR. LESLIE to [SIR HENRY CLINTON].

1782, March 27.—Secret. Is "difficulted" in regard to Colonel Westerhagen and Colonel Binning, both senior officers to Brigadier Stewart, the former very lame and unfit for service. Both command fine regiments, but their situation prevents him bringing them into the field, where they ought to be, as they have both been too long in garrison and many of them formed bad connections. Their men let prisoners escape, &c. General de Bose does everything in his power to forward the King's service. General de Knoblauch is of no use, his health quite gone.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 23, No. 104. 2 pages.

BOARD OF GENERAL OFFICERS.

MAJOR GENERAL CHARLES O'HARA to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1782, March 28. New York.—Sends proceedings and report of Board of General Officers agreeable to letter of 25th. Has directed Mr. Seton, who acted as Secretary, to return all papers laid before them by Captain Smith, together with Winthrop and Kemble's letter of 18 April, 1777, to Sir W. Erskine and another to the Board.

Signed letter. Vol. 24, No. 1. 1 page.

CAPTAIN JOHN SMITH, Secretary, to LIEUT. GENERAL LESLIE.

1782, March 29. New York.—Received letter of 4th February. His pay as Lieutenant General upon this staff must be received by his agent at home in the same manner that this business was transacted when he was Major General. Has already sent an answer respecting loss of baggage, which he hopes has been received.

SAMUEL BEAN, Deputy Auditor and Muster Master to the Southern Army, to GENERAL SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1782, March 30. Charlestown, South Carolina.—Expresses his obligation for kind attention. Major Drummond filled up his appointment as auditor of accounts at a salary of 10/- a day, a sum disproportioned to his position, being the pay of the clerks. Requests his interest on behalf of his boy. Has mustered all the British and Hessian troops, and is now busied in going through the accounts of the different departments. Condoles with him on the death of Lord John Clinton.

LIEUT. GENERAL ALEX. LESLIE to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1782, March 30.—“In consequence of a report that the enemy were driving away the negroes from the plantations of the loyalists the cavalry were detached across the Cooper River for the purpose of rescuing them, which they were not in time to effect; they have however brought away about a hundred of the enemies' negroes, and made prisoners the Rebel Chief Justice Pendleton, who formerly broke his parole at the capitulation, and Major Hyne, one of General Green's aides-de-camp.

“I was induced to make this movement in order to convince the loyalists of my desire to do everything in my power to check the spirit and counteract the effect of the sanguinary laws lately passed by the rebel assembly against them.

“I enclose an address lately presented by them to me, and I most earnestly request your Excellency's instructions respecting the answer I am to give them, and in particular how far the measure of arming the negroes should be carried into execution, and how far it may be proper to reimburse the losses which the loyalists may sustain.

“It is an object of great importance to establish a plan upon this subject, and to determine in what manner their officers should be appointed and in what terms their freedom should be given them. I should consider Lt. Colonel Moncrief as a very proper person to be at their head, being well acquainted with their disposition, and in the highest estimation amongst them.

“If your Excellency should adopt this measure it will be very necessary I should receive your answer by express as any delay will make it impracticable.

“Col. Balfour presses me to remind your Excellency on the subject of his leave, the circumstance of Haine's execution renders his situation here very unpleasant. I have the honour to be," &c.

Enclosure :—

N. D. Address and petition of the loyal inhabitants of South Carolina now in this garrison. Signed Robert Ballinghall, Chairman. LIEUT. GENERAL ALEX. LESLIE to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1782, March. Charlestown.—“I beg leave to enclose to your Excellency copies of some letters that have passed between Genl. Greene, Lt. Colonel Balfour and me respecting the execution of Colonel Hayne, and the discrimination of prisoners in this district.

“The very disagreeable predicament which Lt. Colonel Balfour and other officers of rank in this army stand in, from this business, renders it necessary for me to receive your Excellency’s commands upon that point as soon as possible.

“I have, therefore, for your Excellency’s information, instructed Lt. Colonel Thompson fully upon the whole transaction; and I beg leave to refer to that gentleman for the particulars, and every circumstance your Excellency may wish to be farther acquainted with concerning this measure adopted by Lord Cornwallis, and under whose immediate orders Lt. Colonel Balfour was then acting.

“The necessity I shall in all probability be under of putting arms into the hands of negroes, I have also requested Lt. Col. Thompson to lay before you, and I am to beg your Excellency will be so good as to inform me what plan you would choose for them to be formed upon, as it appears to me a measure that will soon become indispensably necessary shou’d the war continue to be carried on in this part of America.

“The sanguinary laws lately passed by the rebel civil government has thrown our remaining friends here into the most distressing situation, particularly an Act by which their properties are immediately to be confiscated and sold. Many of the loyalists here being men with large estates and advanced in life, will, I doubt not, leave us and go over to the enemy.

“This I will do my utmost to prevent as long as possible, but I must request your Excellency’s instructions if you wish me to adopt any measures by which the enemy may either be deterred from carrying their law into execution, or by which our friends may be reimbursed for their losses as far as we can.

SIR HENRY CLINTON to COMMISSIONERS DALYRMPLE and ELLIOT.

1782, April 2. New York.—Received theirs of yesterday's date, enclosing powers given to Washington's Commissioners. Recommends the enclosed additional memoranda to their consideration, though not stating them as positive rules. The propriety of adopting the cartel settled between England and France for the basis of the present one will naturally occur to them. Cannot send copy of such, but believes the enemy is acquainted therewith, as de Barras mentioned it in his letter from Rhode Island.

Copy. Vol. 17, No. 80. 2 pages.

Enclosure :—

"Memorandums." Recommending them to propose that the cartel settled this war between Great Britain and France should be the basis on which the one in contemplation is to be founded. One of his Excellency's chief reasons for wishing to delay the meeting of the Commissioners until 10th April was his hope of receiving dispatches from England which might inform him respecting the cartel settled between the Courts of London and Versailles.

Copy. Vol. 17, Nos. 83–4. 5 pages.

1782, April 3. Elizabeth Town.—Answer of Commissioners Dalrymple and Elliot. Agree in the main to the 4 classes, with some explanations as to militia and marauders, &c. Agree to Tariff 1, but defer opinion on No. 2 till Admiral Digby should give further instructions. As to punishment of offenders, any discussion must be submitted to the respective commanders in chief ; also the release of citizens. The question of the quantity, quality and value of rations is too important to decide till the subsistence of prisoners comes directly into question.

Copy. Vol. 17, No. 85. 3 pages.

1782, April 3. Elizabeth Town.—Proposal by Commissioners Knox and Morris to adopt some general principle to facilitate liquidation of past accounts.

Copy. Vol. 17, No. 86. 2 pages.

LIEUT. GENERAL ALEXR. LESLIE to MAJOR GENERAL GREENE.

1782, April 4. Head Quarters.—Protesting against the inhumanity of the seizure of the property of the loyalists. To ensure a juster line of conduct was his motive in a late excursion to seize negroes, &c.

Copy. Vol. 23, No. 118. 4 pages.

Enclosed by Lt. Gen. Leslie to Sir H. Clinton, 9 April.

Copy. Vol. 17, No. 89. 1 page.

COMRS. KNOX and MORRIS to COMRS. DALRYMPLE and ELLIOT.

1782, April 6.—Repeating statement of their letter of the 4th.

Copy. Vol. 17, No. 91. 1 page.

BOARD OF GENERAL OFFICERS.

1782, April 6. Head Quarters.—Minutes of a Meeting. Question put—whether an order should be sent to General Leslie to embark the 2,000 men to proceed to this place when the convoy arrives for them—resolved in the affirmative. This is endorsed “Minutes of the Council, New York.”

Copy. Vol. 26, No. 67. 1 page.

STORES.

1782, April 6. Army Victualling Office, Cork.—Receipt for cargo of “Nancy” navy transport, Thos. Furlong, master, supplied by John Marsh, agent victualler, for New York for use of the troops.

1782, April 6. Army Victualling Office, Cork.—Invoice of beef, pork, and butter shipped on the “Nancy,” with weights and marks.

Signed. Vol. 36, Nos. 66 and 67. 1 page and 4 pages.

Both enclosed by J. Marsh to the Commander-in-Chief, 28 April.

SIR HENRY CLINTON to COMMRs. DALRYMPLE and ELLIOT.

1782, April 7. New York.—Received last night their letters and dispatches; will take the opinion of the general officers to-morrow forenoon, and communicate the result.

Copy. Vol. 17, No. 95. 1 page.

COMMRs. DALRYMPLE and ELLIOT to COMMRs. KNOX and MORRIS.

1782, April 7. Elizabeth Town.—Though the paper delivered to them yesterday by Washington’s Comms. puts an end to all treaty on that part of the first proposition which respects a general cartel, they propose to proceed as usual in the exchange of all prisoners of war, both naval and military, within their precincts—for the residue that remains they suggest that a liberal ransom may be accepted by the enemy as a compensation for their liberation and maintenance.

Copy. Vol. 17, No. 94. 2 pages.

PETER RUSSELL to CAPTAIN SMITH.

1782, April 7. Elizabeth Town.—The Commissioners have desired him to send for the Commander-in-Chief's information the copy of the above proposition respecting prisoners. Believes Washington's Commrs. will agree to no exchange or commutation, as they appear to want England to pay them a certain periodical sum for maintenance of her prisoners.

Copy. Vol. 17, No. 93. 1 page.

COMMRS. DALRYMPLE and ELLIOT to GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1782, April 8. Elizabeth Town.—Encloses copies of proposition made by them to Washington's Commissioners and their answer, by which His Excellency will perceive that all treaty for a general or partial exchange of prisoners is entirely broken off. Will wait further instructions before proceeding with the other propositions respecting maintenance of prisoners and liquidation of past accounts.

Copy. Vol. 17, No. 98. 1 page.

Enclosures :—

COMMRS. DALRYMPLE and ELLIOT to COMMRS. KNOX and MORRIS.

1782, April 7. Elizabeth Town.—Having consulted Admiral Digby on the subject, he has declared he will not object to the tariff proposed, if Washington's Commissioners consent to pay the debt to the navy by giving British prisoners in exchange. They are therefore ready to liberate all naval American prisoners by accepting British prisoners of war in exchange.

Copy. Vol. 17, No. 99. 1 page.

COMMRS. KNOX and MORRIS to COMMRS. DALRYMPLE and ELLIOT.

1782, April 8. Elizabeth Town.—In the actual situation of affairs they must decline exchanging seamen for soldiers. Any convention for liberating prisoners by pecuniary compensation would only form part of a general cartel. They think it would be most proper to suspend exchanges until the general business referred to the Commissioners be determined. At present a pecuniary compensation for soldiers cannot be accepted.

Copy. Vol. 17. No. 100. 1 page.

COMMRS. DALRYMPLE and ELLIOT to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1782, April 8. Elizabeth Town.—Since closing their dispatches Washington's Commissioners have sent an answer to the request they referred to in their private letter. They have therefore sent a boat with a copy of it for his information.

Copy. Vol. 26, No. 71. 1 page.

Enclosure :—

COMMRS. KNOX and MORRIS to COMMRS. DALRYMPLE and ELLIOTT.

1782, April 8. Elizabeth Town.—As there appears at present an insurmountable obstacle to settling a general cartel, it becomes proper to proceed to the other objects of the meeting. As fixing the articles and price of a ration appears necessary, previous to adjusting past accounts or making future arrangements, they wish to receive the answers of Clinton's Commissioners on the subject. The consideration of particular exchanges must be postponed until past accounts are adjusted. To remove every obstacle the undersigned propose to accept on the part of the United States the sum of £200,000 sterling, for the balance of all the accounts for maintaining prisoners from the commencement of the war until the last day of the present month.

Copy. Vol. 26, No. 70. 2 pages.

WILLIAM DALRYMPLE to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1782, April 8. Elizabeth Town.—Sends purport of conversation between the different commissioners. Has avoided all unnecessary discussions in the past, but Washington's Commissioners would enter into details respecting their mission. His and Elliot's situation is becoming very unpleasant, and they wish they could be certain that any useful purpose would attend its continuation.

Copy. Vol. 17, No. 96. 1 page.

Enclosure :—

Conversation between the Commissioners. Proposals by the American Commissioners on the quantity and quality of the ration to be given to prisoners, and as to liquidation of past accounts. They maintain that till these two objects are accomplished no cartel can take place.

JAMES MONCRIEF, Commanding Engineer, to LT. GEN. LESLIE.

1782, April 8. Charlestown.—According to his request has calculated the number of troops required for the defence of Charlestown and its dependencies, and thinks not less than 4,500 regular troops will be needed. With these and the help of armed ships and galleys frequent descents could be made into different parts of the country, and communication kept up with Georgia. The same quantity will still be needed if the rebel army should receive reinforcements from the North and make an attempt upon Charlestown or if the French fleet and army should arrive to act with Greene's force.

[Qy. CAPT. JOHN SMITH] to [MAJ. DUNCAN DRUMMOND].

1782, April 8.—The Commander in Chief desires to see him tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock, and requests him to consider the subject mentioned in his letter of 21 March, as he wishes to lay the same before the Treasury. The accounts of the Commissary General's department having been in his possession since Mr. Wier's death, His Excellency is desirous of receiving his observations upon them as soon as possible.

Draft. Vol. 24, No. 60. 2 pages.

SIR HENRY CLINTON to COMMRS. DALYRMPLE and ELLIOT.

1782, April 9.—Received dispatches of yesterday. Requests Mr. Elliot to come here as soon as possible to receive a definite answer to the propositions made by Washington's Commissioners, giving out as his reason that some particular business relative to the port requires his presence for a short time.

BRIG. GEN. ALURED CLARKE TO LIEUT. GEN. LESLIE.

1782, April 11. Savannah.—Extracts. "The number of this garrison decreased fifty men in the course of last month . . . nine or ten have already deserted in this—five or six of Brown's and four Hessians." Is impatient to have a certain corps relieved, for 'tis impossible to say what might be the consequence of their defection, being a large proportion of our garrison." Hears of reinforcements to Wayne. Provisions falling short. The enemy expects a foreign fleet at Tybee by the 25th.

Extracts. Vol. 23, No. 126; also Vol. 26, No. 82. 2 pages each.
Enclosed by Lt. Gen. Leslie to Sir H. Clinton, 17 April.

Accompanying the above is a letter from a deserter, Henry Pumphrey, to his brother soldiers in Savannah, advising them not to listen to the reports of the officers and refugees, but escape from bondage and tyranny to liberty and happiness. Refers to Gov. Martin's proclamation and rewards. Is now starting for Maryland to enjoy that happiness which he hopes they will soon participate in.

SIR HENRY CLINTON to LT. GEN. ALEXANDER LESLIE.

1782, April 14. New York.—No. 14. Acknowledges despatches. Is concerned to find his health will not permit him to remain much longer in command of the Southern district; hopes to find shortly some General to succeed him. Soon after dispatching his last letter requesting troops to be held in readiness to be sent to New York, he received a requisition from the Lt. Governor of Jamaica for assistance to be sent to that island, as it was threatened with a powerful invasion by the combined forces of France and Spain. It has been decided by the General Officers to send 2,000 troops from Charlestown for its relief. Desires him therefore to put the troops mentioned in the enclosed return under the orders of General O'Hara upon his arrival at Charlestown to proceed to the southward.

Draft. Vol. 23, No. 119. 3 pages.

[SIR HENRY CLINTON] to MAJ. GEN. CHAS. O'HARA.

1782, April 14. New York.—Instructions to go to Charlestown and proceed with a reinforcement to Jamaica, which is threatened with a powerful invasion by the combined forces of France and Spain. He is to return to this continent as soon as Jamaica is in safety; if before October, to proceed to New York, but if later, to Charlestown. The Adj. General will give a return of troops for this expedition. Some blank warrants and deputations for the Judge Advocates for holding general courts-martial will be sent, and he is hereby authorized to approve the sentences of the said courts-martial, excepting such as extend to life or limb and cashiering of commissioned officers.

Copies. Vol. 23, No. 120; also Vol. 12, No. 163. 3 pages each.

COMMRS. DALRYMPLE and ELLIOT to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1782, April 14. Elizabeth Town.—Transmit copies of their last proposition to Washington's Commissioners [see 13 April], and their answer thereto. As it appears that all that remains to be done will be better adjusted between His Excellency and Gen. Washington, they desire his commands for their return.

Copy. Vol. 26, No. 80. 1 page.

Enclosure :—

COMMRS. KNOX and MORRIS to [DALRYMPLE and ELLIOT].

1782, April 14. Elizabeth Town.—Answer. Repeat that a proposal to give seamen or money for soldiers cannot be acceded to. The offer to accept £200,000 was not unreasonable, for they think a greater sum due. Until the accounts be settled they cannot consent to an exchange of military prisoners. They cannot permit purchase of provisions by British Commissaries, but they agree that each party should cause provisions for their prisoners to be sent from the opposite lines.

SIR HENRY CLINTON to LT. GEN. ALEX. LESLIE.

1782, April 15. New York.—Believes that the enemy will not establish themselves at Georgetown while there is a superiority in galleys at that place, but if that should not be the case, they may store their provisions and arms there. As Cols. Stewart and Coates will embark with their respective regiments, the inconvenience of the two Hessian Colonels being senior to them will be removed. Wishes it was in his power to reinforce him. Last returns from South Carolina state 5,035 regular troops are fit for duty there. "And Dr. Hayes tells me there were not 30 sick in the General Hospitals, so that of the 600 sick specified in the last returns I flatter myself there are few that could not on emergency serve. My opinion does not altogether coincide with your observations respecting the deductions to be made for the various services enumerated by you, as I conceive that most under that description may be generally of use to an army that does not march, and there is an order for all servants to do duty when wanted. . . . I shall approve much of the reduction you propose in the department of the Quarter Master General. . . . The Lieutenant Colonels of the 3d and 19th Regiments, whom I had appointed to act as Brigadiers in this country, will, of course, embark as Lieut. Colonels with their respective corps, and cease to do duty as Brigadiers until they return. As General O'Hara wishes to take Major of Brigade Wynyard with him, you will be so good to permit him to attend him. With respect to the disagreeable predicament which you mention Lt. Colonel Balfour and other officers of rank in the Southern Army stand in, on account of Mr. Greene's threats for Colonel Haynes' execution, I shall consult Lt. Colonel Thompson and let you know my sentiments by the earliest opportunity. I have the honour to be, &c.

P.S.—With respect to the civil officers you speak of, that belonged to Lord Cornwallis's Army, I shall consider their situation and let you know by the next opportunity."

SIR HENRY CLINTON TO LT. COL. JAMES MONCRIEF.

1782, April 15. New York.—Dear Moncrief,—If at this time your post is unthreatened there is little danger of an attempt this summer, altho' I firmly believe they will try their hand next winter, but as this will depend upon what happens in the West Indies, I heartily wish it was in my power to reinforce your General to enable him to disperse Green's army. Alas! that is not in my power, and for defensive he has too much at this season at least. By his last returns he has 5,035 rank and file fit for duty in Charlestown and its environs, besides a tolerable good and numerous militia, from these he can well spare, at least so we all say here, 2,000 for the summer. I have therefore ordered that number for embarkation, 'tis not a wanton call as you will see, Jamaica is certainly threatened, and I really believe if Guichen's reinforcement is not too late, and the Spaniards from Havannah dispersed by the storm we are told they met with, that it will be attacked, to try to save it is certainly our duty, and for that purpose I detach from the only post we can, with most positive orders, however, to return to me the instant this service is performed, or this coast attacked. I fear without the refugees can keep it you must give up your post of Quarter House, which, except, perhaps, in case of serious attack, is not of consequence enough to employ 2,000 men, and which must be a very sickly station in summer. Lord Dunmore is arrived, he tells me you think that a post might be established at Old Point Comfort and Sewell's Point that would secure James River, he tells me further that looking towards it, you have already prepared a quantity of materials ; if therefore it should be in our power in better days to go there in such force and remain long enough to establish a post, and it can be kept afterwards with a small force, I request you to go on providing such materials as you shall judge necessary, and if your post of Charlestown is not threatened early in June, and a good and safe opportunity offers for this place, I should wish you to come that we may consult together as well for that as for the security of this. Believe me, dear Moncrief, ever your faithful friend.

The arming negroes requires a little consideration. I will, as soon as possible, let you know my ideas.

COMMRS. DALRYMPLE and ELLIOT to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1782, April 17. Elizabeth Town.—Received dispatch of 15th April and the Minute of the Council of War. Enclose paper No. 1 delivered to Washington’s Commissioners, with their answer, also reply No. 2, with the answer received this day, which is to be considered their ultimatum, and to which they request an immediate answer. They request His Excellency to give particular instructions upon the proposals and demands contained in the last paper, and Captain Churchill will return with them without loss of time.

Copy. Vol. 26, No. 91. 1 page.

COMMRS. DALRYMPLE and ELLIOT to [KNOX and MORRIS.]

1782, April 16. Elizabeth Town.—Explain cause of delay in answering their letter of the 14th inst. In order to make the proposal "that each party shall in future subsist their own prisoners" effective powers must be vested in persons properly appointed to purchase provisions should any accident happen to those intended for their use. They expect Washington's Commissioners will recede from their declaration against the purchase of provisions by British Commissaries; otherwise they propose the prisoners be maintained as formerly.

Copy. Vol. 26, No. 90. 2 pages.

1782, April 16. Elizabeth Town.—Answer to the above. The purchase of provisions in America by British Commissaries cannot be permitted. Danger of cross accidents may be provided against by laying up sufficient magazines in due season. The proposition that prisoners be maintained as formerly appears too indefinite for a direct positive answer. They therefore request an explanation as to the articles of rution, and propose that Commissaries duly authorized to settle past accounts meet at some place on the first of June next.

Copy. Vol. 26, No. 89. 2 pages.

COMMRS. DALRYMPLE and ELLIOT to KNOX and MORRIS.

1782, April 16. Elizabeth Town.—In answer to the paper of this date they observe that many accidents may prevent the laying up sufficient magazines in proper season; provisions might become unfit for use and be liable to be destroyed by fire and the casualties of war. In offering their proposition for the maintenance of prisoners they had in view the 5th article of Cornwallis's capitulation. Their anxiety to bring this business to a conclusion prompts this early answer. They will transmit to Clinton the American Commissioners' proposal for the meeting of Commissaries to settle past accounts.

Copy. Vol. 26, No. 88. 2 pages.

COMMRS. KNOX and MORRIS to DALRYMPLE and ELLIOT.

1782, April 17. Elizabeth Town.—It would be most agreeable that prisoners be fed with provisions sent in from the opposite lines. But they will consent to fix the value of the ration at 8d. sterling, and wood at 20s. sterling per cord, under the idea that American prisoners be furnished with like articles at the same rate. And that the accounts may be regularly settled they propose that persons be appointed by the respective generals and allowed to reside at places where prisoners are confined. Accounts to be settled every 3 months and the balance paid at Philadelphia or New York. That Sir Henry Clinton should pay £50,000 sterling on account of provisions and fuel from 1st January last until 1st June next. Prices of flesh, bread, spirits, &c.

Copy. Vol. 26, No. 87. 2 pages.

COMMRS. DALRYMPLE and ELLIOT to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

LT. GEN. ALEXR. LESLIE to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1782, April 17. Camp near Charles Town.—Is honoured with despatches of the 14th, two of 19th, 26th and 27th March. In reply refers him to the report of the board of officers respecting the sending of troops from Charlestown; considers such an action would lead to the fall of Charlestown or Savannah and that it would be better to evacuate these places than leave them in such a weak state. Encloses extract of letter from Brig. Gen. Clarke with an enclosure. Thanks for accepting the recommendation of Governor Graham; will fulfil command as to appointment of Capt. Baddely. His attention will be always towards the French troops in Virginia, and reinforcements sent from there to the rebel army. At present has heard of none coming besides the Duke of Lauzun's legion. Will send no troops from Charlestown until he has reply to this.

Signed letters. Vol. 23, No. 125; 26, No. 92. 3 and 2 pages.

Enclosing Brig. Gen. Clarke to Lt. Gen. Leslie, 11 April; with letter from Henry Pumphrey, deserter.

Report of Board of General and Field Officers, 15 April.

LT. GEN. ALEXR. LESLIE to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1782, April 17. Camp.—Has exchanged Capt. Barry; desires to know whether he or Capt. Stapleton is to continue in the Adjutant General's line here. Capt. Barry wishes to return to England to join the 52nd regt. Proposes a garrison company for Fort Arbuthnot from troops at Charlestown; requests orders on this matter.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 23, No. 128. 1 page.

LT. GEN. ALEX. LESLIE to [SIR HENRY CLINTON.]

1782, April 17. Camp near Charlestown.—Recommends for promotion Major Weymss and Brevet Major Stuart. There are other old officers whom he should like promoted. Reminds him that the two Hessian Colonels at Charlestown—i.e., Westerhagen and Benning—are senior to the three British Brigadiers in the district. Desires to receive instructions respecting the waggons and horses of the Quarter Master General's Department. Frigates or sloops of war are much needed on this coast.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 23, No. 129. 2 pages.

LT. GEN. ALEXR. LESLIE to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1782, April 17.—Has received another letter from Brig. Gen. Clarke at Savannah. On the 13th three large schooners and 2 sloops arrived in that river: they proceeded towards Beaulieu, returned and anchored at the bar, and hoisted French colours. Will send a reinforcement if necessary.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 23, No. 130. 1 page.

LT. GEN. ALEXR. LESLIE to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1782, April 17.—Sir,—I am sorry your Excellency dont yet agree to my going to Europe. I assure you, independent of my bad state of health, and ten years constant service, family matters require it more and more by every letter from home. I refer your Excellency to Genl. Robertson on this head.

There's in this Province one Lt. Genl., two M. Genls., and two Brigadiers, besides myself; if it's necessary I will return as soon as ever I get my private concerns settled; and be assured I am uncapable to manage the strange perplexed situations of things in these Provinces at this present time. I have the honor to be, &c.

GOV. JOHN MAXWELL to LT. GEN. ALEX. LESLIE.

1782, April 17. Bahamas.—Lieut. Cooper has arrived, and is endeavouring to put the two companies in order. Moncrieff has directed Cooper to assist in the Engineer Department, but has given him no plan. Is glad to find from Admiral Digby's letter that the importance of Bahamas is at last acknowledged. Temporary lodging for the troops is provided. A flag has returned from the Cape; Don Galvez encamped with 7,000 men, waiting for the French fleet to go against Jamaica, which Rodney's arrival has prevented.

2 copies. Vol. 26, Nos. 93 and 94. 3 pages and 2 pages.

Qy. Enclosed by Lt. Gen. Leslie to Sir H. Clinton, 1 May.

Enclosure:—

LT. GEN. ALEXR. LESLIE to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1782, April 18. Charlestown.—Since writing yesterday he has received a letter from Sir James Wright, in consequence of which he embarks the 30th Regiment on the 20th inst. for that Province. If the Hessian Regiment can be spared hereafter he means to remove it thence here.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 23, No. 137. 1 page.

BENJAMIN MONEY, Master of Sloop "Speedwell."

[1782], April 18. New Providence.—Report that a Spanish fleet under the command of Don Galvez had arrived at Cape François from the Havannah, and encamped while awaiting the French fleet. Hearing the latter were blocked up in Martinique by Rodney, the Spanish fleet returned to Havannah. A flag of truce from Cape François to Providence confirms the above. The Spanish fleet on its return had been seen within 30 leagues of the Havannah by two privateer schooners.

RICHARD BURKE to GEN. SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, April 19. Whitehall, Treasury Chambers.—The Treasury desire him to send the memorial from Charles Cooke requesting payment for flour purchased by him for the army, also some papers concerning his claim. They wish him to examine these and acquaint the Board if it was collected to supply the rebel forces and afterwards taken from the rebel magazine, and whether the flour ought to be paid for in England. [For the memorial referred to query see 8 April.]

Signed letter. Vol. 26, No. 101. 1 page.

COMMRS. KNOX and MORRIS to COMMRS. DALRYMPLE and ELLIOT.

1782, April 19. Elizabeth Town.—Their sentiments on the paper received the 13th are contained in those of the 8th and 14th. They repeat that the purchase of provisions in America by British Commissaries is inadmissible. They acknowledge themselves disappointed that the benevolent intentions of Washington have been frustrated, and lament the consequences that must ensue. Past accounts must be liquidated; provision for the future subsistence of prisoners must be made. Citizens of the United States of America in all parts of the world must be protected. Neither money nor seamen will be accepted in exchange for soldiers. A final decision on disputed points will be left to the British Commander-in-Chief. They acknowledge the politeness and attention received from the Commissioners appointed by Clinton. This is marked on the top, in another hand, "to Sir H. Clinton."

Copy. Vol. 26, No. 105. 2 pages.

MAJ. GEN. WM. DALRYMPLE to COMMS. KNOX AND MORRIS.

Enclosure :—

COMMS. DALRYMPLE and ELLIOT to COMMS. KNOX and MORRIS.

1782, April 19. Elizabeth Town.—In their paper of the 13th inst. they made every humane and consistent offer in hopes of effecting a general cartel. To prevent difficulties they pointed out a mode by which each party should in future subsist its own prisoners. Were concerned to find the Commissioners would not consent to the proposed exchange until past accounts were settled, and that they rejected the only alternative by which the proposed mode of supplying prisoners could be made effective. These proceedings having been laid before Clinton his Commissioners have received orders to close their mission, and to say that the enemy's demand of £50,000 on account of provisions and fuel is inadmissible. As a general cartel is not agreed to, the prisoners must continue to be supported by the captors. They acknowledge politeness and attention, and regret the benevolent purposes of the meeting are frustrated.

LT. GEN. ALEX. LESLIE to LORD GEORGE GERMAIN.

1782, April 23. Camp near Charles Town.—My Lord,—Since I had the honor to address your Lordship, on the 2d inst., nothing very essential has occurred. The enemy still keep their position extending from the west side of the Ashley towards Eddisto. Their present force may be estimated as somewhat more than two thousand five hundred men, exclusive of militia, and their hopes of immediate reinforcement five hundred to complete the Virginia line, with the French Legion of the Duke de Lauzun, about three hundred ; tho' I doubt not every effort will be made by General Greene to draw hither a larger body of French troops ; to induce which I have reason to believe Colonel Lee, with other officers of consideration, have been sent from his army to the northward. To these expectations and views may be added their prospect of soon filling up the South Carolina line, which, being nearly annihilated by the siege and many actions in this country, required thirteen hundred men to reform it. This they are now attempting in North Carolina, at the enormous bounty of three negroes for each recruit, to be paid by instalments, at the specified periods of their enlistments.

On our part, I have endeavoured by frequent excursions of cavalry, sustained by infantry, to irritate the enemy and harass their detached posts, and tho' from the nature of such operations, no decided consequences could be expected, yet, I am happy to inform your Lordship, they have been hitherto successful to the extent of their objects ; and, at the same time, that they were distressing to the rebels, gave confidence to the King's troops, and served to animate a defensive situation.

Some few days since I received from the Commander in Chief a dispatch, dated the 14th ultimo, requiring a corps of two thousand men from hence, which, from the high consequence of its object to this country and his Majesty's service, I immediately referred to a Board of the principal officers here, whose opinion being unanimous against such a measure in the present state of affairs, I shall delay complying with it, until his Excellency shall have decided on the reasons we submitted to him as the grounds of our judgment.

The circumstances of this Province in respect to provisions being the same as I stated to your Lordship in my last, and no victuallers having arrived since, I have nothing further to observe on this head, unless it is necessary to add that the troops in Georgia and East Florida are subsisted from hence, those Provinces being included in this command and for every resource dependent on it.

And as I conceive the present intentions of the enemy are, by straitening the garrisons of Savannah and Charles Town, to reduce the inhabitants to a want of every necessary, or force them to relinquish the British cause, I must recommend, in the strongest terms, to your Lordship that their wants should be considered in the supplies sent to this army, and that every encouragement should be given to the exporting provisions for this place.

It will likewise be expedient, as everything in these parts depends on a superiority in cavalry, that oats should be sent hither from England, which, in this particular, will place us out of reach of those thousand casualties to which your Lordship knows a country at war is ever subjected, and which, in the present instance, more particularly apply. I have the honour, &c.

BOARD OF GENERAL OFFICERS.

1782, April 26. Head Quarters.—Minutes of a meeting. Decided that Lippincott and other persons concerned with him in putting Huddy to death be tried by a General Court Martial. The Court to be composed of officers from the regular and provincial corps. The Board decided it would be proper for the Commander-in-Chief to write to the President of the Board of Loyalists to know for whom the three prisoners of war taken by Lippincott were exchanged, and what report he made to the Board on his return from Sandy Hook. They should also give the number of prisoners now in their custody, and in future not exchange any without the Commander-in-Chief's orders.

MAJ. GEN. EDWARD MATHEW to GEN. SIR H. CLINTON.

1782, April 26. St. Lucia.—Has received his of 11th December ; that sent by Lewis was destroyed at sea with all his despatches, but he had a memorandum of its contents. Thanks for offer of 2,000 men. Rodney's victory has placed the Windward Islands in a state of security, and he hopes his arrival will be in time to save Jamaica from all threatened attacks. Would be glad of light dragoons and negroes.

An addition to this letter, dated 8 May, refers to the enclosed letter. Has detached with Rodney the 14th and 69th regiments. His present state of forces in St. Lucia is too weak to attack any of the enemy's islands near him ; desires two schooners to be sent as soon as possible. Transmits return of troops.

Signed letter. Vol. 12, No. 146. 2 pages.

Enclosing Lt. Gov. Campbell to Maj. Gen. Mathew, 26 March.

BRIG. GEN. CORTLAND SKINNER.

1782, April 26. Staaten Island.—Instructions to the Officer commanding the detachment ordered to relieve the Garrison at Sandy Hook Lighthouse. To give a receipt for ammunition, &c., delivered by the officer commanding on this Island. The men not to stroll about the Hook, but be always near the lighthouse. He is not to leave the post without permission. To make a weekly state of the garrison to the officer commanding on Staaten Island. No expedition with refugees or others to be made without permission. Deserters from the enemy, and others coming in from the country to reside are to be sent to Head Quarters on Staaten (sic) Island. To view the Gutt, Spermeceti Cove, the Cedars, and ground in front so as to be able to follow should an enemy pass. These instructions to be delivered to the officer relieving him.

BOARD OF GENERAL OFFICERS.

1782, April 27. Head Quarters, S. Carolina.—Minutes of a meeting signed by Generals Leslie, Gould, Stewart, Coates, Balfour and Moncrief. That if the Commander-in-Chief judges it absolutely necessary to detach a corps of 2,000 men from the Southern District, the evacuation of Savannah would be a necessary measure; but the specific instructions of His Excellency would be required before such a step was taken.

GOV. WILLIAM FRANKLIN to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1782, April 27. New York.—Enclosing report by Lippincot [see 13 April], and maintaining that the Board is ignorant of the particulars of Huddy's reported death, except what is contained in the enclosed paper which Lippincot was preparing when he was seized. Complains of the murders of many loyal British subjects, who have not received the solemnly promised protection. Gives particulars of three instances of retaliation which have had a good effect, and thinks that considering how long the Loyalists have borne with the cruelties of the rebels, it is not surprising they have begun to retaliate. Disapproves of the practice, but fears if the Loyalists are not better treated they will either leave the country or join the rebels. Refers to the enclosures. Will fulfil commands concerning future exchange of prisoners; sends particulars of those now in custody.

Signed letter and copy. Vols. 29, No. 155; 17, No. 40. 8 pages each.

LT. GEN. ALEX. LESLIE to GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1782, April 28. Charles Town.—Has received his despatches Nos. 13, 14 and 15. Military and personal respect make painful his inability to comply fully with the directions to send 2,000 troops from Charlestown to Jamaica. Transmits proceedings of the Board of Officers assembled to consider this subject yesterday. Considers 4,500 men necessary to sustain Charlestown and surrounding posts, and as Green is expected to attack Savannah soon, thinks if Charlestown is weakened Savannah and that post may both be lost. Suggests that assistance be sent to Jamaica from New York, and that the troops be withdrawn from Savannah. Transports will have to be sent for the accommodation of troops and loyalists, if it is resolved to quit either Savannah or Charlestown, as there are no vessels at either of those places. The corps put under Gen. O'Hara, ready for Jamaica, consists of the 19th and 30th, upwards of 1,000 rank and file.

SIR HENRY CLINTON to LT. GEN. ALEX. LESLIE.

1782, April 30. New York.—Received this morning his four letters of 17th April, and, in consequence, assembled a Board of General Officers, who agreed that as it appeared to be his intention to delay sending any troops from Charleston till an answer was received, it would then be too late. If, therefore, no troops have been sent to Jamaica the order may be considered countermanded. If, however, 1,200 under O'Hara have been despatched, General Robertson will send him a complete battalion from New York as before proposed. The King has accepted his own resignation of his command, and he intends starting for Europe in a few days, leaving General Robertson in command. Sends copy of orders just received respecting the 71st regiment.

EARL OF SHELBURNE to LT. GOV. ARCH. CAMPBELL,

1782, April 30. Whitehall.—Expressing confidence in his abilities and zeal ; hopes his exertions for the defence of Jamaica will be crowned with success. Sends duplicate of his letter of the 8th inst. stating that reinforcements and supplies had been sent for his assistance, and that Sir Guy Carleton had orders to help him if necessary. To give Carleton particulars of his situation previous to receiving aid.

Extracts. Vol. 26, Nos. 138 and 136. 3 pages and 2 pages.

EARL OF SHELBURNE to MAJ. GEN. EDWARD MATHEW.

1782, April 30. Whitehall.—Has heard from Clinton that a reinforcement of 2,000 men had been sent to defend Brimstone Hill, but they can be used for any other emergency if needed. To acquaint Carleton of his situation and designs, as orders have been given to send assistance if necessary. Thinks from information received from Capt. Robertson (respecting the state of the enemy) that a successful attempt might be made to recover the island of St. Christopher; leaves it, however, to him to decide whether such a step is prudent at the present season.

Extracts. Vol. 26, Nos. 142 and 143. 4 pages and 2 pages.

JOHN TALLIQU to JOSHUA LORING.

1782, April 30.—Paragraph of a letter. Finds that his permission to remain at Lancaster to supply the prisoners with stores and necessaries has not yet arrived. Gen. Lincoln objects to his stay. LT. GEN. ALEX. LESLIE to GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1782, April. Charles Town.—Sends this to advise Admiral Digby of the necessity of increasing the naval force at Charlestown. Regrets to observe a change in the disposition of the people at Charlestown and in the province. The late misfortunes of the British and the acts passed by the S. Carolina Assembly unite to repress motives of allegiance to H. M. Government. Greene's army daily increasing from the number of militia which is joining him ; they are constructing boats and galleys. Some intercepted letters mention a proposed movement of French troops to the southward. In case troops may be ordered from Charlestown to the West Indies, has considered how many would be required for the defence of Charlestown and its outposts, and finds that very few can be spared from there. An English letter of marque lately brought in a Spanish transport ship with five officers, 70 men, and military stores ; the vessel belonged to the fleet of transports from Havannah to Cape François under convoy of seven ships of war ; intends sending the prisoners to Havannah and requesting an equal number of British prisoners to be sent here.

Signed. Vol. 29, No. 158. 2 pages.

GEN. SIR HENRY CLINTON to LT. GEN. ALEX. LESLIE.

1782, May 2. New York.—No. 19. Had not time to examine papers regarding Hayne or to consult with Col. Thompson before Gen. O'Hara left New York, so could then give no decisive answer respecting that affair. Has since considered it, but not having received any formal report of the execution of Hayne, and hearing that Gen. Greene's complaint has been answered by Lord Cornwallis, "under whose orders Lt. Col. Balfour is supposed to have acted," considers it improper to give any opinion thereon, especially as he is resigning his command. Refers him to his successor should he have occasion to write again respecting it.

MAJ. GEN. CHARLES O'HARA to CAPT. JOHN COLPOYS.

1782, May 6. "Orpheus" at Sea.—Suggests that owing to the advancement of the season and the small number of troops, it would be more expedient to go direct to Jamaica to relieve it against the invasion which daily threatens it, than to go first to the Leeward Islands and communicate with Rodney. Is aware that this proposition is contrary to Digby's orders, and the opinion of the Council of War, but the circumstances now are different from those under which their wishes on the subject were expressed, and he believes the above reasons will justify the proposed change in the route to be taken by the troops.

Copies. Vol. 12, Nos. 161 and 165. 3 pages each.

BRIG. GEN. BENEDICT ARNOLD to SIR^YGUY CARLETON.

1782, May 13. London.—Sir, As we have had very favorable winds for some time after you sailed, I hope e'er this you have arrived safe in New York, and found matters in a better train than our fears had painted them. I am convinced that Mr. Washington will not be able to collect a very formidable army this spring; and I hope the recruits from hence, and the troops taken at York Town (who we are told are to be exchanged for seamen), will give your Excellency a very decided superiority over Mr. Washington's army. I believe, considering the fleet which we have in the West Indies, that not much is to be apprehended from that quarter.

Lord Shelburne has very politely promised me his friendship, and has hinted his wishes to have me go to New York. But it is opposed (as I apprehend) by some one or more of the gentlemen in administration; whether he waits for intelligence to make his arrangements, or to know the success of negotiations, I am in doubt, but hope soon to have the matter reduced to a certainty, whether I am to go or not. He has assured me that my detention in England shall not in the least affect my pay or corps.

I take the liberty of inclosing a letter for Sir Henry Clinton, which (if he has not left New York) I beg the favor of you (after reading it), to seal and deliver him, as it regards the provincial corps, mine in particular, which I think have been cruelly treated by the misrepresentations and artifice of Col. Innes, who has heretofore been permitted to make such regulations, and give such orders for their government as he thought proper, which, with his frequently withholding pay and clothing from the troops, have tended in a great measure to promote desertions, and prevent recruiting, and every possible discouragement has been thrown in the way of the latter, by the treatment which the provincial officers, and soldiers in general, have received from Colonel Innes.

I beg leave to add that when I joined the British Army, I sacrificed a handsome fortune, and very flattering prospects, to what I esteemed my duty, and I am sorry to say that at present my prospects are far from being so.

I am told that the Secretary of War proposes to incorporate the provincial privates with the British regiments, and disband the officers; but I have a greater confidence in the wisdom and justice of the nation than to suppose such a measure will ever take place. I have the honor to be . . . &c.

LT. GOV. ARCHIBALD CAMPBELL to SIR HENRY CLINTON.

1782, May 16. Spanish Town, Jamaica.—Received his of the 4th and 13th inst. enclosing that of 13th March to the General Officer commanding in the Leeward Islands. Thanks for sending 2,000 men for the relief of Jamaica. Expects he has heard of Rodney’s victory over the French fleet. The beaten ships of de Grasse’s fleet have gone into the Cape, and England need fear nothing from the French or Spaniards while Rodney is near. A great number of Spanish and French troops and ships are stationed at Cape François, and these will probably attack Jamaica after Rodney has left it; desires more troops to assist his forces in this attack. Has great need of an engineer; should be glad if Lieutenant Sutherland could be spared from New York to fill that post.

Signed letter. Vol. 12, No. 195. 3 pages.

GEORGE CHERRY to [GEN. SIR GUY CARLETON].

1782, May 16. Army Victualling Office, Cowes.—Encloses bill of lading and invoice of provisions shipped on the “Thames” navy transport for use of the troops at New York. LT. GOV. ARCH. CAMPBELL to LT. GEN. JOHN CAMPBELL.

1782, May 21. Jamaica.—"Dear Sir,—The Spaniards have acted so extremely unjust in the article of your exchange and that of your late garrison by receiving from me an equivalent of officers and men without returning for these six months a ratification of that agreement that I consider it my duty to acquaint you of it." Adds list of the 15 names actually exchanged at this island.

“As the Spaniards of late have had a greater object in view than the mere exchange of prisoners of war, and seemed to have the ball completely before their feet, they have had the assurance to treat our cartels and agreements with disrespect, but I hope 'ere long to have it in my power to extort from them what at present their arrogance denies. Don Galvez's first aide-de-camp, Colol. Señor Don Roderiques, and two other officers, were actually exchanged for you, and the others in the same manner; but I have heard of late that Capt. James Campbell is still in their hands, and that they have been dancing him about the world at the will of Don Galvez. Of this circumstance be pleased to acquaint me that I may take an early occasion to retaliate upon their Counts and Marquis whatever conduct they shew to him.”

INTELLIGENCE.

1782, May 24.—Private information respecting the peculation in the public departments. Addressed to General Sir Guy Carleton.

It is plain that assistant commissaries, or clerks, on 5s. a day, with large families, cannot live in luxury and keep servants, horses, and chaises, &c. William Butler, formerly a barber to Commissary Lake, at one time had the whole victualling office under his control. His daughter married David Leard (sic), agent for transports, and as owner and agent of 50 or 75 sail, they might charge government what tonnage they pleased. The vessels ought to be measured again. Another of the junto, Stephen Kebble, on entering the commissary line under Mr. Butler, begun on nothing, has at his death left £2,000 on interest and a free house. Another of the name of Nixon went to Savannah and Charlestown, and has placed his wife and children in London on an independent fortune made in a few years. As to the Forage Department, the writer does not think it prudent that the head gentleman in any department should demean himself to go into partnership with any of his under-hands in horses and carts, and cannot understand how a collector of forage in the country can sell some hundreds of bushels of oats and do justice to his employer the King.

WILLIAM BULL to GEN. SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, May 25. Charlestown.—Has served as Intendant General of the Police for the last fifteen months according to the King’s command. Congratulates him upon his appointment as Commander-in-Chief and his safe arrival at New York. Hopes he will assist the King’s subjects in South Carolina, many of them having been banished, and their estates confiscated; the estates here consist largely of negroes, without whose labour the lands are of little value, and who can easily be removed or dispersed.

Autograph signed letter and duplicate. Vol. 23, Nos. 170 and 171. 2 pages each.

MAJ. GEN. NATHANIEL GREENE to LIEUT. GEN. LESLIE.

1782, May 25. Head Quarters.—Received his letter of the 23rd. Has had no orders from Congress concerning the cessation of hostilities. If a treaty is on foot he will, undoubtedly, receive instructions, but until then does not think himself at liberty to agree to a cessation of hostilities.

SIR GUY CARLETON to LIEUT. GEN. ALEX. LESLIE.

1782, May 27. New York.—No. 3. Has seen Capt. Elphinston relative to an evacuation of St. Augustine, and he considers it would be advisable to postpone that till after the evacuation of Savannah and Charlestown, as it would require more tonnage than is at present at their command. Elphinston also believes that if Gov. Tonyn was informed that the evacuation would probably take place next winter or spring, the people would take measures accordingly which would cause it to be accomplished with more ease and speed.
 Agrees with these suggestions, and is disposed to leave St. Augustine for the present, especially as the troops from Charlestown will greatly assist New York, while those from St. Augustine would be of little use. As he (Leslie), however, is so well acquainted with the situation of affairs in the Southern district, will leave it to him to give such orders as he considers best under present circumstances.

LT. GEN. ALEXR. LESLIE to JAMES ROBERTSON, General and Commander-in-Chief.

1782, May 27. Charles Town.—Has received Clinton's despatches Nos. 17, 18 and 19. The enclosed papers will explain the steps he took after the receipt of No. 18 letter. Should not have communicated with General Greene on the subject had not the condition of the people induced him to do so. The enemy having commenced to confiscate the estates of the loyalists, he hoped to have stopped them by the measure he proposed. The state of his army and that of the Americans continue the same as when he last wrote.

GOV. SIR JAMES WRIGHT to GENERAL WAYNE, &c., &c.

1782, May 29. Savannah.—Has received letters from the Secretary of State enclosing copies of the proceedings in the House of Commons relative to the war; also the King's answer to their address. Transmits copies, and wishing to observe such conduct as may best promote a speedy and happy reconciliation between Great Britain and America, proposes, as the best means for bringing about that desirable object, a cessation of arms and hostilities for such time as may be agreed upon.

Reply of General Wayne, dated 30th. Acknowledges letter and enclosure. "A speedy and happy peace between Great Britain and America is an object so essential to the interest of both Empires that duty and inclination will induce me to exert every power towards attaining so desirable an end, but not thinking myself vested with full authority to accede to your proposition for a cessation of arms and hostilities, I shall immediately transmit copies of all the proceedings, &c., in the House of Commons, together with your letter on that subject, to the Honorable Major General Green, and will embrace the earliest opportunity to announce his answer."

GOV. SIR JAMES WRIGHT to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, May 30. Savannah in Georgia.—"Sir,—I am to congratulate your Excellency on your safe arrival at New York, and as possibly Sir Henry Clinton in his hurry at going away might not leave my last letters I have the honor to inclose copys of them."

"Our situation is really very critical, and since the troops were sent from Charlestown to Jamaica I don't expect assistance from General Leslie. But surely, Sir, when matters seem to be drawing so near a conclusion, as the present prospect indicates, we ought the rather to be supported and protected, and not suffered to fall. For I presume the King having possession of this Province or not will make a very material difference on a treaty for peace, &c.

"Since hearing of your Excellency's arrival with full powers to treat and settle terms of peace with the Congress, or to continue the war, which is the current report and fully credited here, it is presumed there is the greatest probability that peace will soon take place. Therefore the loyalists here have applied to me to request that your Excellency will be pleased to advert to their situation—men who have been firm in their allegiance throughout from the beginning; men who have suffered every kind of distress for their loyalty: and men the remains of whose property has been lately confiscated by the rebel powers and is now under orders for being sold at public auction.

"But, Sir, they trust that, as your Excellency well knows they have not only justice and equity on their side, but also an undoubted claim to the interference and protection of Government, you will be pleased to stipulate that their property shall be restored to them.

"The King's officers in the Civil Government here are all in the same predicament, and have suffered greatly. I myself have had my property to the amount of upwards of £40,000 sterg. already carried away and destroyed from time to time by them, and the remainder of my property, as well as that of the other gentlemen, is now under confiscation and orders for sale.

"When Lord Carlisle and the other Commissioners were sent out I was then in London, and with some other refugees petitioned and obtained an instruction to them to prepare an article in any treaty which might be made in favour of the property of the loyal refugees. But, unfortunately, nothing could be done at that time. Relying on your Excellency's goodness and the justice of the claim, I doubt not but you will be pleased to take the matter up. And have the honor to be with high esteem and regard, &c.

"P.S.—On the receipt of the Secretary of State's letter, I thought it my duty to write to General Wayne on the subject, a copy of which and his answer I have the honor to inclose."

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 23, No. 174. Copy, 15, No. 288. 4 pages and 3 pages.

Copy. Vol. 26, No. 180. 1 page.

1782. May.—Minutes of Proceedings of the Board for the month ; copied from their journals. Have notified the direction that no expedition against the enemy is to take place without orders from the Commander-in-Chief. The trial of Capt. Lippincot for the execution of J. Huddy is illegal and unjustifiable. Letter sent to his Excellency stating the terms on which the Associated Loyalists would engage themselves for six months to defend the post at Lloyd's Neck. Requested approbation of Carleton relative to the proposed exchange of a rebel prisoner for an Associated Loyalist. Remonstrance against the renewal of Captain Lippincot's trial. Thomas Wainwright to be liberated for Daniel Towser. Considered a petition from Richard Martin and James Brown to be allowed part of the sloop "Sukey" ; the Board ordered them to receive one quarter part of the net proceeds : the proceeds of the captures made on the expedition to Tappan and Toms River to be distributed. The Commanding Officer at Lloyd's Neck to be requested to transmit the return of the state and strength of the garrison there to the Board that they may lay it before the Commander-in-Chief. Signed William Franklin.

GEORGE HANGER to MAJ. BECKWITH, aid-de-camp.

[1782, May].—Received letter from Captain James respecting his loss of £150, owing to the paymaster being robbed at Bergen ; he states therein that he has received no satisfactory answer to his memorial on that subject, and he desires to have the decision and advice of those officers who superintend the Board of Accounts. If payment cannot be granted to him in this country, he wishes for leave of absence from the Commander-in-Chief to allow him to proceed to England for that purpose, as he is in great need of the £150, having paid it to the troops out of his own subsistence.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 50, No. 223. 2 pages.

THOMAS PHILLIPS to LT. GEN. JAMES ROBERTSON.

BRIG. GEN. ALURED CLARKE to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, June 2. Savannah.—The state and situation of the troops in this province and East Florida, must be so fully explained to His Excellency by Lt. Gen. Leslie that he will not presume to trespass on his time. Congratulates him on his appointment.

SIR GUY CARLETON to DON BERNARDO DE GALVEZ.

1782, June 3. New York.—Received 10th May last his letter of 30th December. Is grieved at the disputes with British officers. England has no prejudice against Spain; believes the dissatisfaction has been caused through the mistakes of interpreters. Will endeavour to prevent such misunderstandings. Desires that Capt. Deans, and Major Campbell (detained owing to an insurrection at the Natchez and the capture of Fort Panmure) may be liberated, if this has not already been done. Regarding the Convention made between the Governor of Havannah and Major Campbell for the exchange of the English prisoners under the capitulation of Baton Rouge against those of Spain, at that time in Jamaica, he has consulted it, and considers it contains no reason for Campbell's detention, and hopes this convention will be fulfilled in future.

Draft. Vol. 27, No. 6. Copy, Vol. 27, No. 5. 5 pages and 4 pages.

JAMES GORDON, Major 80th Regt., to SIR GUY CARLETON.

RICHARD BURKE to GEN. SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, June 4. Whitehall, Treasury Chambers.—The Lords of the Treasury have considered his letter of March 18th to the Secretary of State, with copies and extracts of other letters stating the situation of the civil officers of Government in the province of South Carolina with respect to their allowances and distresses. These people were granted a certain sum whilst in England, but they returned to Carolina, hoping to resume their former positions; this, however, they failed to do. He is desired to pay them allowances out of the military chest. Gives list of those who are to be thus assisted, and the amount each is to receive. This is endorsed as "Received 4th September;" a copy being sent to Gen. Leslie by Messrs. Dupont and Ogilvie 10th September, and another copy by the "Assurance" 18th September.

Signed letter. Vol. 27, No. 7. 4 pages.

MAURICE MORGANN to [PETER PAUMIER].

1782, June 5. New York.—Is directed by the Commander-in-Chief to assure him that in his official capacity he makes no distinction of men or offices. The demand for an account arose from the accident of his (Paumier's) first applying for a warrant and the propriety of an early answer being given. His Excellency means that all the accounts of the accountants in the different departments shall be regularly examined into, for the satisfaction of the public and themselves. The abstract sent is not the detailed account desired, as he will now perceive.

Copy. Vol. 34, No. 32. 2 pages.

PETER PAUMIER to MAURICE MORGANN.

1782, June 5. New York.—His own two quarters' accounts to 31 March have been ready some time waiting for Major Drummond to say when he was ready to receive them. Those since that period cannot be made up till he has the money to pay them; the outstanding debts for the forage department and the cattle department are so numerous that they cannot be fully ascertained till brought in for payment, and then immediate payment is expected, which is impossible unless he is furnished with the means. Asks that his disagreeable situation may be represented.

SAMUEL HAKE.

1782, June 8. 86 Broadway, New York.—Representation of Samuel Hake to Sir Guy Carleton, that as a merchant in this city he had an opportunity of knowing the temper and disposition of the people. That he had sought safety in flight to England; that by the patronage of the Ministry he was induced to return early in 1778; was captured on his passage and carried to Connecticut. He succeeded in obtaining passports by interesting Robt. R. Livingston and his brother John in a scheme for bringing them goods from New York. On his arrival he communicated his plan, and the Royal Commissioners, Governor Johnstone and Mr. Eden, who were desirous of transmitting into the country the Declaration held forth to the rebels, pressed him to return speedily and take some with him and he was supplied with a flag and goods. Unfortunately the flag was seized, the goods forfeited, and himself detained in gaol or on parole for three years. During this time he endeavoured to disseminate principles of loyalty, and with others formed the accompanying propositions, together with two addresses, signed on behalf of 2,300 loyalists. These he brought with him, and was followed to the city by two other agents, and though the Board of Directors of Associated Loyalists endeavoured to further the scheme, the delays proved fatal, and to avoid capture one of the agents was obliged to return to this garrison.

Annexed :—

Letter from John Cook to Samuel Hake, 20 September, 1781, with an address from the Loyal subjects of Livingston Manor to Sir Henry Clinton, representing their willingness to take up arms. 5 September, 1781.

Address from the Loyal Subjects of Charlotte Precinet, Dutchess County, 5 September, 1781. That two-thirds of the inhabitants are ready and willing to bear arms and escape from injustice and tyranny. Recommending Samuel Hake.

Propositions which Samuel Hake, Esqr., is charged to make to His Excellency Sir Henry Clinton, &c., on his arrival at New York." On a given signal, with the co-operation of the British, to rise and assist in the reduction of West Point, or to rise in the different districts and seize, or put to death, some of the ring-leaders of the rebellion; convinced that if some of the most persecuting characters among the rebels were removed the remainder from fear of "retaliation would not continue" the horrid system of spilling loyal blood, which every day cries to Heaven for vengeance on account of the murders, imprisonments, and even agonizing tortures to which we are obliged to submit." Signed Samuel Hake for Loyalists. A note on the back addresses these to Maj. Delancey, 10 November, 1781.

Deposition by John M'Ginniss before William Waddell, 5 November, 1781, as to Samuel Hake, and corroborating the above plans and proposals of the loyalists.

Similar depositions of Samuel Isaacs, Robert Smith, Abraham Teller, Wynant Williams, and Nicholas Rouse.

Correspondence with regard to his attendance at Head Quarters, or at the Board of Associated Loyalists, and the introduction and interviews of Messrs. Cook and Freligh, who presented the address from the Dutchess County Loyalists. November, 1781, to February, 1782. Deposition of Messrs. Cook and Freligh, as to their treatment by Col. Robinson, and the neglect of their proposals, exonerating and praising Mr. Hake. Copy of their passports into the country. Letter from Abram Freligh to Sir Henry, 22 April, that he and Mr. Wilde left for home to convey to the inhabitants news of the reception of their address; that the long detention in New York had proved their ruin, and that having received friendly warning he escaped back into this city. Deposition of Isaiah Wilde, 26 April, as to his being a delegate of fifty-five reputable farmers' sons anxious to enlist, provided they might have the choice of their officers; that Mr. Hake was the gentleman they wished to have in command. As to his interview with Col. B. Robinson. That he was privy to the address and proposition presented by Mr. Hake, &c. That after waiting some time Col. Robinson informed them the Commander-in-Chief did not incline to give a written order or certificate, but that the Loyalists might depend on having the liberty of choosing their officers. Letter from Mr. Wilde to Sir Henry acknowledging the message, which he fears, without any written order, will have an ill tendency.

Memorial, 2 May, 1782, from 221 of the first characters and most respectable loyalists in this city desiring permission for Samuel Hake to visit England for the purpose of soliciting and stating their concerns, and that an officer might be sent out of the lines to effect his exchange.

Similar memorial of 44 gentlemen, same date.

Certificate to the authenticity of the copies of the above letters and depositions, by Robert Miller, 4 June, 1782.

PATIENCE JOHNSTON to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, June 11. New York.—Petition. Is widow of Augustus Johnston, late Judge of Vice Admiralty. Asks support and assistance for her family. Recommended by Governor William Franklin. With order of allowance for £60 by Thomas Murray, dated the 9th July.

Original. Vol. 25, No. 102. 2 pages.

LIEUT. GEN. ALEX. LESLIE to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, June 11. Charlestown.—No. 1. Received by Capt. Ash despatch of 23 May, but not the one marked No. 1. According to instructions to withdraw the King's forces from Savannah and St. Augustine, he has sent Capt. Skelly, with copies of these orders, to the commanding officers at these posts. Is uncertain whether 10,500 tons of shipping will be adequate for bringing off these garrisons, but none can be added from this post. No changes have occurred with regard to the armies since late despatch. Scarcity of rum and oats among his troops. New Providence, with all the Bahama Islands, has surrendered to Spain. Governor Maxwell has despatched a flag of truce with the accounts of the surrender; he himself and the garrison have sailed for England.

Signed letter. Vol. 23, No. 177. 3 pages.

LIEUT. GEN. ALEX. LESLIE to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, June 11. Charlestown.—Secret. Has written repeatedly to Sir H. Clinton to have the Quarter-Master-General's Department reduced. Thinks half the horses sufficient if the Army does not go about the country. Lt. Col. Browne's a/cs to be settled at New York; has given him £10,000 "at sundrys." Transmits a list of rents for houses, barracks, stores, etc., due since the siege up to the present time; desires orders to settle them. Some orders given by Adml. Digby to his officer here have raised a suspicion of an intended evacuation. Has no King's ships to protect the bar, two privateers having even captured their fishing boats; trade here has suffered much last two years for want of armed ships. Question of convoy for planters of Georgia and St. Augustine to send their negroes to Jamaica or some other island. Awaits answer as to pay for prisoners of Cornwallis's army. Major Anstruther writes from Bermudas, stating garrison is short of provisions; cannot send any from here.

At Porto Rico, there is only one regiment, and that supposed not to be half compleat. In consequence of the disturbances in Carthagena, one of the two regiments there in garrison were sent down to the continent, though greatly against the Governor of Porto Rico's opinion, who for a long time absolutely refused to part with a soldier, declaring that with all the forces he had they were not sufficient to garrison that Island. However, as there was a necessity for sending troops to Carthagena, the Spaniards thought it most prudent to leave Porto Rico in a weak state of defence than run the risk of losing one-half of the Continent, relying upon the superiority of the combined fleets for the protection of that Island. The ringleaders of the revolt at Carthagena are taken, and have been made a sacrifice to the cruelty of Spanish Policy. The Court of Spain have been under the necessity of granting a free trade to this Province with all the allied and neutral powers by which means it is given out that the disturbances are quelled.

“The revolt at Quito becomes more formidable every day, and it is the firm opinion of many people they never can be subjected.— Archd. Campbell.”

ADMIRAL SIR G. B. RODNEY to [BRIG. GEN. ARCH. CAMPBELL].

1782, June 14. "Formidable" at Port Royal.—Acknowledges receipt of letter directed to Sir Peter Parker. Was surprised to find on his arrival at Jamaica that no troops had been sent there from America, as the safety of that island depends upon the strength of forces there; "had not Providence ordained that His Majesty's arms should be successful against the French Fleet, and an opportunity given of bringing them to battle, Jamaica must have been lost." Thinks not one moment ought to be lost. The enemy has at the Cape 37 sail of the line and 24,000 troops. The Spaniards seem determined to carry on their expedition, and hourly expect assistance from Europe. Desires the matter to be laid before the Commander-in-Chief. So large a portion of the British cannot possibly remain during the hurricane months, and he cannot answer for the consequence of leaving the Island without a large supply of troops.

JOHN WETHERHEAD to the Commander-in-Chief [SIR GUY CARLETON].

1782, June 14. New York.—Has suffered much distress on account of his loyalty, and complains of receiving no rent for a stable belonging to him, and used by the Commander-in-Chief since 1776, though he has made frequent applications. Seeks redress for the injustice done to him by Captain Mercer respecting some more of his property. Refers to Delancey for the truth of his statements; considers his sufferings and losses are equal to those experienced by other people who have already obtained assistance from the Treasury.

BRIG. GEN. ARCH. CAMPBELL TO SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, June 15. Jamaica.—Congratulations on his appointment as Commander-in-Chief. The important victory obtained by Rodney over the French fleet has prevented the armaments of France and Spain from making their long meditated attempt on the Island of Jamaica. By the enclosed intelligence from Cape François and Cuba, he will find that the enemy's force at St. Domingo on the 18th of May amounted to 22,000 troops and 42 sail of the line. [See 20 May and 12 June.] Fears that after the departure of Rodney's fleet from Jamaica, the French and Spaniards will attack that Island. The enclosed return will show the troops in the Island. There ought to be a force of 4,000 regulars. He can thus judge what force should be spared from New York. Has received a letter from Shelburne granting the request for two engineers; should esteem it a favour if Lieut. Sutherland from New York could be sent as one.

GOV. PATRICK TONYN to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, June 20. St. Augustine.—Lt. Gen. Leslie's letter of 4 June, stating that preparations were to be made for the evacuation of St. Augustine, has impressed his mind with the deepest affliction for the impending distresses of the loyal inhabitants who must remain in the province. Transmits the address of the General Assembly to himself; doubts not he will comply with their requests for assistance, and send not only arms and military stores, but also troops. Has received no orders yet from His Majesty's Ministers to relinquish this province, and hopes measures will be adopted to preserve it. Desires some armed vessels to be sent for defence of the river St. John, whence naval stores are exported of great consequence to Britain.

Autograph signed letter and triplicate. Vol. 23, Nos. 185 and 186. 3 pages and 2 pages.

GOV. PATRICK TONYN to LT. GEN. ALEX. LESLIE.

1782, June 20. St. Augustine.—Received his triplicate of 4th June, two days ago, and it contained his first intimation of the intended evacuation of East Florida. Is at a loss in what words to express his astonishment and his sympathy for the greater part of the inhabitants, who must remain here. Communicated the contents of letter to the General Assembly; sends the address received in reply, and hopes their request for arms, ammunition and cannon will be granted. Has received no orders from Ministers to quit the province, and, as he is desirous of preserving it to the Crown, wishes it may be in his (Leslie's) power to do what his humanity shall dictate. Requests the enclosed letter be sent to Carleton.

GOV. PATRICK TONYN to GEN. SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, June 21. St. Augustine.—Transmits the spirited resolutions of the Houses of Assembly of East Florida, showing the determination to defend the province to the last extremity; the conduct of the inhabitants also deserves commendation. Suggests for the protection of the property belonging to the inhabitants that His Excellency should countermand the order for the removal of the garrison, and take them under his own protection. Suggests transports and a convoy for such inhabitants as wish to go to Jamaica. Colonel Moore, at the people's request, presents these despatches and awaits his reply.

BRIG. GEN. JOHN CAMPBELL to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, June 24. Halifax.—No. 1. Receipt of letter of 24th May. Congratulates him on being appointed to the chief command. Complains all the junior officers have been promoted over him, and hopes justice will now be done. In his own vindication begs to have Maj. Monk and Mr. Bridgham, Deputy Inspector Gen. of Provincials, tried by Court Martial. Has sent provisions and ammunition for Forts Howe and Cumberland. Enquires what is to be done with the "Howe" and the "Buckram," armed vessels, when they have finished their present employment of carrying provisions and ammunition for Fort Cumberland from Fort Howe. In obedience to orders Lieut. Col. Rogers' corps were sent to the Island of St. John to relieve Hierlihy's five companies, who are daily expected here to be incorporated with the Nova Scotia Volunteers. Sends returns. Here is only one field officer present belonging to the three British regiments in this garrison. A detachment is in readiness to embark for Spanish River for the purpose of raising coals for the use of the army, according to a requisition made by Brook Watson.

BRIG. GEN. JOHN CAMPBELL to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, June 26. Halifax.—No. 2. Receipt of letter of 30th May. Sends description of Nova Scotia [query, see 20 June]. Major Skinner, of the 70th Regiment, sent to Penobscot to take command of the garrison. Forwards view, plan and profile of that fort, and submits whether a strong work should be constructed on high ground, near the rebel works. Promises every attention shall be given to the security of Penobscot. If the brig "Howe" is put under his command the communication will be kept open in summer and harvest. Captain Duncan Campbell is directed to build huts for the men and officers of the detachment going for Spanish River for coals, if the barracks are insufficient. The Deputy Quarter Master General and Deputy Commissary General never had their accounts examined by McLean and himself, therefore cannot say what abuses may have crept into those departments. No reinforcement has arrived. Encloses letter from Mr. Morden, Barrack Master; has agreed to his request until he hears from His Excellency. Enquires if the officers of this district are to have bat and forage money as usual; also if any allowance is to be made to the officers for table expenses.

BRIG. GEN. ARCHIBALD CAMPBELL to MAJ. (sic) GEN. ALEX. LESLIE.

1782, June 27. Jamaica.—By undoubted intelligence from Cape François, the combined forces at St. Domingo amounted on 20th of last month to 10,000 French regulars, and 12,000 Spaniards, with 27 French sail of the line, one-third of which have been much crippled in action, and 15 Spanish in excellent order. Since then seven or eight French have been sent to Europe with the St. Domingo trade and four detached with three or four thousand troops, either for Virginia or the Windward Islands. Apprehends an attack on Jamaica as soon as Rodney leaves and weather permits, which will probably be about the end of November. Has written to Sir Guy Carleton of this, and hopes he will send the reinforcements needed to meet it, and check the progress of the enemy.

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 23, No. 204. 2 pages.

Enclosed by Lt. Gen. Leslie to Sir Guy Carleton, 2 July.

LT. GEN. ALEXANDER LESLIE to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, June 27. Charlestown.—“I inclose your Excellency some remarks I wish to have answer'd.

“Lt. Col. Balfour has my leave to go in the fleet to New York, there to inform your Excellency of the state of the miserable loyalists here of these two provinces.

“The enemy have it from the Northward of our intend'd evacuation, the people in town don't much believe it; when it happens it will be severely felt by many. I've taken no steps towards it yet, knowing the jealousy of the people. I fancy every thing could be put on board in fourteen days; but I apprehend we shall want a deal of shipping, and I am confident many of the owners of the negroes would wish them sent to Jamaica, and others to St. Augustine, or St. John's, Florida. And, of course, convoys should be thought off, if such requests are made to me, for the gentlemen of the navy are very tenacious in regard the orders they receive.

“The army begin to get sickly, the early rains this season creates it. Nothing on my part shall be wanting for the preservation of the health of the soldiers.

"I am sorry your Excellency did not think fit to permit me to go home before the autumn. It is a most unpleasant thing winding up this business, and I am very much wore down: my country has got her full share out of me, and the more so from over anxiety for the benefit of the public.

"In regard to the new arrangements in the several departments, I have answered Gl. Robertson, who wrote me on that head.—I have the honor to be, &c.

"I mentioned the want of rum to your Excellency in a former letter; it now becomes very serious. A ship loaded with Jamaica spirits was lately captured and taken to George Town.

"For want of convoy I have not had it in my power to send home the 2nd B. of the 71st Regiment, as ordered by Mr. Ellis to be drafted into the other battalion."

Autograph signed letter. Vol. 23, No. 190. 3 pages.

Enclosure:—

1782, June 27. Charlestown.—Questions. 1st. If this town is to be evacuated, what will be done with the sequestered negroes now under charge of Mr. Cruden, and employed in the different departments.

2nd. There are many negroes who have been very useful, both at the Siege of Savannah and here; some of them have been guides, and from their loyalty been promised their freedom.

3rd. I sent your Excellency a list of the house rents, &c., due since May, 1780, some partial payments have been made, but I wait your orders for the rest.

4th. If horses are wanted for the cavalry, two or 300 may be got here independent of all departments, being mostly King's horses.

5th. I apprehend many of the inhabitants will wish to go to Jamaica with their negroes; therefore a convoy ought to be ordered to take them in case such a request is made.

6th. I have ordered Brown's Corps to St. Augustine, being raised in Florida, and take away 6 Comys. of the 3rd B. of the 60th, 4 Comys. of which, I am told, are now in N. York, late prisoners of war.

7th. No hospital ship here. I am afraid they will soon be wanted if the troops are ordered on board.

LT. GEN. ALEX. LESLIE to GEN. SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, June 28. Charlestown.—No. 2. “Sir, I have been honored with your Excellency’s several dispatches by the Assurance man of war, since which the fleet have in vain made every effort to proceed on their destination, a strong south-west wind having constantly opposed them. I have been, in the meantime, informed from Brigadier General Clarke, that every preparation had been made at Savannah, against their arrival; the stores had been got in readiness for embarkation as far as was practicable, and the greater number of those inhabitants who proposed to leave the country, had removed with their effects to Tybee.

“I have the honor to enclose to your Excellency herewith the memorials and remonstrances which I have received at this place, and from Savannah and St. Augustine.

“As the fleet have been so unfortunately delayed, and it appeared to me of consequence that your Excellency’s orders with regard to the Province of East Florida should be made known to the Governor and the officer commanding the King’s troops at St. Augustine with all possible dispatch, I have endeavoured to forward them by an express boat to that place.

“I am happy to consider the relief which the unfortunate loyalists of Georgia may obtain from the King’s Government being maintained in the neighbouring Province; it will afford them a convenient refuge whither the most valuable of their property may be without much difficulty transported, and in a country where their negroes may continue to be useful to them; if the means of their present subsistence can be obtained I shall endeavour to afford them some assistance on that head, and have little doubt that the greater part of them will remove with their effects to the southward. I have desired the commanding officer of the fleet will do all in his power to accommodate their conveyance under a proper convoy, and have recommended them in the strongest terms to the protection of the Governor.

“That part of the fleet which returns to New York will sail without delay as soon as the embarkation shall have taken place. The vessels which proceed to St. Augustine shall be watered immediately on their return hither, and held in readiness for your Excellency’s further orders.

“Both armies here continue nearly in the same state.”

COMTE DE ROCHAMBEAU to SIR GUY CARLETON.

1782, June 29. Williamsburg.—"I have the honor to send to your Excellency the paroles of Brigadier General Rawdon, of Messrs. Davids, John Allen, and Tho. Stanley, Lieutenants in the troops of his British Majesty, whose exchange has been accepted for Brigadier General Scott, and Lieutenants Verdieres, Descoutures, and Brissaut, of Colonel Armand's Legion.

"My proposition to Sir Henry Clinton of an exchange of two majors for a colonel was founded upon the tariff in Europe, agreed on by our respective courts on the 12th March, 1780, and it is the only one I have any knowledge of. By this tariff, a major is equivalent to 8 men, two majors to 16, and a colonel to 12 men only. I had thought that my proposition had been, consequently, more than equivalent by half. I'll refer your proposition of giving up 44 men to compleat the exchange to General Washington, who undoubtedly knows this tariff by which you make this demand, and I shall have the honor to send you his answer.—I have the honor to be, &c.

“P.S.—Philadelphia, July 17th, 1782.—Since this letter was wrote, I have seen General Washington, and have communicated your Excellency's letter. He says that there is indeed a tariff which I knew nothing of, and which widely differs from that which we have in Europe.

“I beg of your Excellency to order that a list of the convalescents which I sent from Gloucester to New York by the last occasion, for the exchange of the French prisoners who had been taken on the Bonnetta, may be put under your eyes. The number of British convalescents which I sent exceeded 100, and the French soldiers, who were sent in return, were only 50 in number, so that upwards of 50 men were due, to whom I gave my consent to stay at New York on parole untill their exchange. General Washington approves the measure of your taking out of that number what will be necessary to compleat according to the tariff the exchange of Colonel Laumoy against Majors Green and Thimpany. If your Excellency agrees to it, we will totally finish the exchange of the land officers taken by Count De Grasse's fleet, and I shall send you the paroles of the two majors.”

HISTORICAL MANUSCRIPTS COMMISSION.

LONDON, W.C.

HIS MAJESTY THE KING has been pleased to ratify and confirm the terms of the Commission issued by Her late Majesty, appointing certain Commissioners to ascertain what unpublished MSS. are extant in the collections of private persons and in institutions which are calculated to throw light upon subjects connected with the Civil, Ecclesiastical, Literary, or Scientific History of this country; and to appoint certain additional Commissioners for the same purposes. The present Commissioners are :—

Sir R. Henn Collins, Master of the Rolls; the Marquess of Ripon, K.G., the Earl of Liverpool, the Earl of Dartmouth, the Earl of Crawford, K.T., the Earl of Rosebery, K.G., Lord Fitzmaurice, Lord Alverstone, G.C.M.G., Lord Lindley, Lord Stanmore, G.C.M.G., Sir Edward Fry, Mr. John Morley, O.M., M.P., Sir H. C. Maxwell-Lyte, K.C.B., and Mr. C. H. Firth, M.A., LL.D

The Commissioners think it probable that you may feel an interest in this object, and be willing to assist in the attainment of it; and with that view they desire to lay before you an outline of the course which they usually follow.

If any nobleman or gentleman express his willingness to submit to the Commissioners any unprinted book, or collection of documents in his possession or custody, they will cause an inspection to be made by some competent person, and should the MSS. appear to come within the scope of their enquiry, the owner will be asked to consent to the publication of copies or abstracts of them in the Reports of the Commission, which are presented to Parliament every Session.

To avoid any possible apprehension that the examination of papers by the Commissioners may extend to title-deeds or other documents of present legal value, positive instructions are given to every person who inspects MSS. on their behalf that nothing relating to the titles of existing owners is to be divulged, and that if, in the course of his work, any modern title-deeds or papers of a private character chance to come before him, they are to be instantly put aside, and not to be examined or calendared under any pretence whatever.

The object of the Commission is the discovery of unpublished historical and literary materials, and in all their proceedings the Commissioners will direct their attention to that object exclusively.

In practice it has been found more satisfactory, when the collection of manuscripts is a large one, for the inspector to make a selection therefrom at the place of deposit and to obtain the owner's consent to remove the selected papers to the Public Record Office in London or in Dublin, or to the General Register House in Edinburgh, where they can be more fully dealt with, and where they will be preserved with the same care as if they formed part of the muniments of the realm, during the term of their examination. Among the numerous owners of MSS. who have allowed their papers of historical interest to be temporarily removed from their muniment rooms and lent to the Commissioners to facilitate the preparation of a report may be named:—His Majesty the King, the Duke of Rutland, the Duke of Portland, the Marquess of Salisbury, the Marquess Townshend, the Marquess of Ailesbury, the Marquess of Bath, the Earl of Dartmouth, the Earl of Carlisle, the Earl of Egmont, the Earl of Lindsey, the Earl of Ancaster, the Earl of Lonsdale, Lord Braye, Lord Hothfield, Lord Kenyon, Mrs. Stopford Sackville, the Right Hon. F. J. Savile Foljambe, Sir George Wombwell, Mr. le Fleming, of Rydal, Mr. Leyborne Popham, of Littlecote, and Mr. Fortescue, of Dropmore.

The costs of inspections, reports, and calendars, and the conveyance of documents, will be defrayed at the public expense, without any charge to the owners.

The Commissioners will also, if so requested, give their advice as to the best means of repairing and preserving any interesting papers or MSS. which may be in a state of decay.

The Commissioners will feel much obliged if you will communicate to them the names of any gentlemen who may be able and willing to assist in obtaining the objects for which this Commission has been issued.

R. A. ROBERTS, Secretary.
